Cold wave ends But Storm Kicks 5 in Maritimes

Rain Follows Big Gale In Northeastern States

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A storm that eluded Quebec and the Maritimes with snow earlier this week and brought rain to Ontario was still hanging over the Atlantic south of Newfoundland today.

The weather office reported freezing rain over most of New Brunswick and milder rain and snow over southern Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, with winds in the 25 to 30 mile-an-hour range.

In most other areas of Canada, as well as in the United States, the weather was much milder, with temperatures in the 20s and 30s.

Northern Ontario had seasonal high temperatures of 20 to 25 degrees above, accompanied by light rain and strong easterly winds.

Temperatures were forecast for today, varying cloud conditions prevailed across most of eastern Ontario and Quebec, with rain in the 20s and 30s.

RASH FIRES TAKES 4 LIVES OVER HOLIDAY

Extensive Damage Also Suffered

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four persons died in fires in Ontario during the New Year's holiday as a rash of blazes accompanied recent breaking cold.

Two deaths were in fires in which other persons were left unharmed. A man was found dead in a Kingston home swept by fire Tuesday night and in another blaze a seven-year-old Ottawa boy was asphyxiated.

Dead were Mrs. Mary Macdonald, 62, and her daughter Theresa Macdonald, 26, both of Sarnia, and Richard Dyer of Ottawa.

Police withheld the victim's name in the Kingston fire.

Patrick Macdonald, 33, owner of the Sarnia home, escaped with his wife Rita, son John S., and daughter Theresa, 26, who fled into the street wearing only their towels, had to be rescued by the fire department.

Macdonald was taken to hospital with cuts and burns suffered in the fire. Theresa, 26, was taken to hospital with cuts and burns suffered in the fire.

Firemen Train For Testing Of Raid Sirens

TRENTON—Fire Chief C. H. Kila and the members of his staff are not taking any chances when it comes to testing out Trenton's three air raid warning sirens. Last week, two members of the department were sent to army headquarters at Fort Monmouth to learn the ins and outs of testing, and unless something unforeseen arises, the forthcoming tests should be carried out smoothly.

The sirens, made since their installation several months ago, will be tested on a modified scale, and will, it is hoped, give off a muted whistle, which will be heard only by those in the immediate vicinity. What will go wrong in this, something in the apparatus might "click" and the sirens would be given off a real, and prolonged "blast."

But the chief hopes this won't happen. The sirens are located on top of the post office at the corner of the intersection of the Highways 2 and 30, and at the corner of the intersection of the Highways 2 and 30, and at the corner of the intersection of the Highways 2 and 30.

Will Discuss Proposed Route At Meeting

TRENTON—Murray Township residents have been asked to attend a meeting in the hall town at Waterloo, tomorrow afternoon, to hear a discussion on the proposed route for the second day of the development road. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

Last Thursday, George T. Murray, consulting engineer in charge of the preliminary plans for the road, and the members of Murray township council, made an on-foot survey of the road. The survey, resulting from this survey, will be used at tomorrow's meeting.

The much-used road, running north from Highway 30, crossing Highway 2 and the Waterloo Road, is about 1.4 miles long, and has been designated "development road" by the Ontario Development of Highways. As such, it will be widened to its present width of 66 feet to 100 feet, at government expense. Adequate surveying will be provided by the government.

Once the road has been completed, it may be turned back to the township. But Murray council hopes it won't. The alternative is that the road could be taken in under the suburban road commission and if worse, the township would no longer be responsible for keeping it open.

Council isn't just sure at the present time, along the second day of the development road. The road is about 1.4 miles long, and has been designated "development road" by the Ontario Development of Highways.

There are a number of signs and signs that might be taken out of a new road. To re-route the road would be expensive, but might prove to be economical in the long run. What do the people in the township think of this? Tomorrow's meeting may decide.

New Machine Built to Battle Weeds in Bay

TRENTON—A new attempt may be made next summer to rid sections of the Bay of Quinte of weeds.

That's the latest word on the subject from Dr. Grills, M.P. for Hastings South.

Mr. Grills says that a large weed cutter, manufactured by Prescott last summer, proved to be inefficient and therefore was not brought into the bay.

The machine—built by a group of experiment—has a blower, calculated, on paper, to cope with the heavy, sodden weeds on a waiting barge.

Later, firemen fought a fire in a car, owned by F.L. L. W. Soles, of RCAF Station Trenton. The car was ignited by a gasoline car heater, while parked near its engine.

Mr. Soles was not injured, but the car sustained considerable damage to the interior.

Sustains Bump On Head in 2-Car Crash

TRENTON—A Smithfield man, Douglas Greenley, sustained a bump to the right side of his head as the result of a two-car collision at the corner of Front and Dundas Sts. in Trenton New Year's Day. A passenger in his car, Helen Gray of 13 Water St., Trenton, sustained a bump over her left eye.

Police say that neither injury was considered to be of a serious nature. The driver of the car involved in the accident, Fred Drouillard of 31 Pelham St., Trenton, escaped injury.

Police say that Mr. Squire was proceeding west on Dundas Street and that the vehicle, owned by Mr. Greenley, attempted to make a left-hand turn onto Front St.

Windsor Youth Pleads Guilty To Possessing Stolen Goods

A Windsor youth pleaded guilty, his two companions not guilty when the trio went on trial for possession of stolen goods before Hastings County judge C. Anderson in Belleville today.

The 18-year-old Windsor youth, pleaded guilty to the charge. The Police alleged that a quantity of money, cigarettes and a watch found in the car driven by Reggie Brown were stolen November 29 from Mainway's service station at the east end of Belleville.

Both brothers gave testimony as to their own belief this morning after they were called to the stand by their defence counsel, Douglas Boyle. They disclaimed any knowledge of the items found in the car.

The trial continued after a brief recess before 12.30.

Fire Dept. Answers 734 Alarms in Year

Fire Chief Gerald Vowles reported this morning his department answered 734 fire alarms during 1962, setting a record for the city of Belleville.

The major alarm, of all the alarms answered was the fire in the old Ben Safe block on Ridge Street on January 10th, 1962, causing over a half-million dollars damage to various stores, business offices and a bowling alley.

A second alarm was received at the fire department when a resident in the vicinity, saw steam coming from a rear of the building, thought it was smoke.

A. Richardson Named Wing Commander

TRENTON—Air Force Headquarters has announced the promotion to Wing Commander of Squadron Leader A. W. Richardson, C.D., of Toronto and Montreal.

At present serving at Air Transport Command, Wing Headquarters, Trenton, W. Richardson was born in Hamilton, Ont., and educated at Lashlie High School, P.Q., prior to enrolling in the RCAF in July, 1941, from Montreal.

He graduated as a pilot in April 1942 and received his wings at Summerside, P.E.I. He was transferred to Trenton to the Pilot Instruction School and thence to RCAF Station Upplands, Ont., as a Pilot Instructor.

In November 1944, W.C. Richardson was transferred to the Central Flying School at Trenton where he served until released from active service in 1945. He then completed his education at the University of Ottawa, receiving a Bachelor of Commerce in 1948.

Re-enlisting in April 1948, once again from Montreal, he was assigned to the RCAF Station, Air Transport Command, Trenton, where he was moved to Air Force Headquarters on the staff of the Directorate of Material Supply in May 1950. He was transferred to the Transport Command Headquarters at Lashlie, P.Q., and stayed with the Command to move to Trenton in August 1960.

An active member of the NATO Working Party on Air Transport and Airborne Procedures and Equipment, he is also the Air Transport Command representative on the American, British and Canadian Air Standardization Co-ordinating Committee, equipped with his normal duties as the Staff Officer Air Movements at ATC Headquarters.

The son of Mrs. F. Richardson of Verdun, P.Q., W.C. Richardson is married to the former Mary Roberts of Ottawa. They have five children: David, 18, Tony, 16, Maria, 13, Louise, 10 and Mark, 6, and are at present living in Middleton Park, Trenton.

Council Sells Building Rented to Town

TRENTON—Mayor James MacDonald says that any question of "conflict of interest" as to the 1962 council decision to sell a building to the town of Elgin Street, for the use of the probation officers, has been cleared up by the town council.

Mayor MacDonald said today that had council received a building from Mr. Weaver as a member of 1962 council, it might have constituted a conflict of interest.

MacDonald is married to the former Mary Roberts of Ottawa. They have five children: David, 18, Tony, 16, Maria, 13, Louise, 10 and Mark, 6, and are at present living in Middleton Park, Trenton.

Women's Institute

WELLINGTON — The December meeting of the Wellington Women's Institute was held Tuesday evening in the town hall. At 6:30 p.m. 30 members and 15 visitors sat down to a delicious potluck supper, including a lovely turkey which had been purchased by the W.I.

After the supper, and while seated at the table, the annual exchange of Christmas gifts took place.

Mrs. Tripp called the meeting to order and opened it in the usual manner. Roll call was answered by giving a donation towards the Christmas cheer for shut-ins. In the business period a letter was read stating achievement day will be on 30th February. All bills were moved to be paid and Mrs. Lewis is to order 15 books for the "Focus on Finishing," which is to be held in January. Thanks were received from Mrs. Arthur Anshel, Don and the MacDonalds, the Union family, Mary Boney and Mrs. Murphy.

Business finished, Mrs. Yount presented the following program: "The Christmas Eve Story," by Mrs. Bea Smith, current events by Mrs. J. Wilson, who also gave an idea of the time she had at the last making course. This was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Yount and Mrs. East then gave an hilarious skit "The Egg Saboteur," although she outwitted the housekeeper she wasn't really dishonest, only a little confused. The birthday box was replenished by Mrs. Murphy, who has a birthday on Christmas Day.

PLAIN JANE

We've received a few letters from women who have had a hard time of overindulging in the record straight, right now. If you think you are overdone, you can be reasonably sure that you aren't. It's the same principle as the one you think you are losing your reason, you can be sure that you are perfectly sane. It never occurs to the unfortunate who loses their balance that they are behaving oddly.

Women who overdo, never consider the question. They are sure that the extra breast or bust only adds something to their outfit, it also makes some of their things — usually earrings and neckties. Married sets of jewelry are one of the latest fashions. These sets appear to women who are too lazy to use their imagination, so they continue to sell and the designers continue to turn them out like sausage from a machine.

The Plain Jans among us and there are many, usually choose basic colors, plain accessories, quiet jewelry in good taste, topping it all with the trade calls, old "dunk" shoes. They play down their good points and end up looking like the gals who had the hair tics, the clever make-up jobs and the unusual colors. They are the one good question to ask an otherwise plain woman, because they are the only ones who taste! A charcoal gray suit greece.

Youful Silk Print

By VERA WINSTON

Printed silk in tones of beige and blue for a delightful dress designed for the junior set. The background is pale beige, and there is a deeper blue around the small black pen line floral motif.

The torso line is low and a self-sash slips through slit in the bodice. The skirt is softly pleated and the waist is detachable.

Add cooked meat and any water left on them. Stir in flour, salt and pepper, stir and heat through. Serve in small bowl. This should be served hot and the frozen juice, stir in and heat through. Note: If desired, you may substitute 1 table-spoon chopped canned pimiento for the 1/4 cup peas.

The Experts Say

If Woman Loses Figure She Also Loses Pride

By EDNA BLAKELEY

OTTAWA (CP)—Bonnie Prudden took a long look at Trade Minister George Hees.

"That's what I mean," she said.

She was using the trim cut midlander as an example of someone in good physical condition.

Mrs. Prudden, founder and president of the Institute for Physical Fitness, and National editor for Sports Illustrated magazine and for the National Broadcasting Company, was in Ottawa on a promotion campaign for a Canadian company, she's a good example of physical fitness. She's 40 and looks about 30. She's a widow and has a 22-year-old son and 19-year-old daughter.

When Mrs. Prudden talks to women about physical fitness she talks in terms of their figure, because when a woman loses her figure she loses her pride.

"This doesn't work with most women. They think they're pretty any way," says Mrs. Prudden, as she talks to men in terms of vitality.

SHOWS PERSONALITY

Physical characteristics reveal inner personality, says Mrs. Prudden. When a woman loses her figure she loses her pride. When a woman loses her figure she loses her pride.

Next consideration is the pantsuit or lack of one. A woman might be thin as a rail but if she's a pantsuit it more likely is sedentary, and this is the type who is likely to drop the pants.

Years of Strife, Instability Lie Ahead in Latin America

By WATSON GIBBS

Years of strife and instability, the political investments that are ahead in Latin America. This is the conclusion drawn by the United States in its report from talking with government and private officials in a dozen Latin American countries.

The U.S. stand against Soviet planes and missiles in Cuba through the United States has sold official Latin America can support in years.

But the importance of the diplo- matic triumph appears easy to overestimate and doubtless won't be lasting.

The greatest danger is that the United States may think it won't be the battle for Latin America in the fall of 1962, said a Mexican businessman. "If Castro had kept his missiles the battle would have been lost. Many governments saw this and they supported the blockade. But removal of the missiles only prevented a calamity of the moment. The real problems remain."

POVERTY THE PROBLEM
Columbian President General Ernesto La Roca says the real problems are poverty and political instability.

"Castro is only a symptom. Through the blockade the United States kept the symptom from getting out of control. But the disease is still there."

Bright spots, stable governments and healthy economies are hard to find. Few of the 20 nations are without active threats of anarchy. In many, only the open threat of military force keeps the opposition at bay.

Part of the answer is a lack of democratic processes which cannot continue and the orderly transition of governments, from South and Portugal brought to Latin America. None of the parliamentary traditions which prospered in North America.

One factor that unites most Latin America is poverty. In many countries per capita income is less than $200 a year and threatens to grow smaller.

ECONOMY WEAKENS
Overall, the economy of Latin America was weaker in 1961 than in 1960. Prices of exports, notably coffee, were lower. Costs of imports increased.

The output of most countries declined. Inflation had even the largest nations stumbling. Brazil, highest and most populous of all, devalued its currency. So did Chile, Colombia and Argentina, where the value of the peso fell by almost half.

Millions are without adequate food and shelter. A midnight rioter in Lima found scores of children sleeping on sidewalks. In Argentina, one of the great beef producing nations, inflation and unemployment have left millions struggling to buy bread.

But there is no shortage of children. The 200,000,000 population is growing by 2.6 per cent monthly, bringing even more mouths to feed.

CITE U.S. PLUNDER
Even among admirers of the United States, there is a feeling that part of Latin America's troubles arise from decades of exploitation by U.S. investors.

U.S. investors are on the defensive throughout the hemisphere and capital has been driven away that is badly needed to develop economies.

Widely held, too, is a feeling that the United States expects, even insists, that Latin America line up with the West in opposing communism, while the U.S. is spending great money to buy support elsewhere.

"If we could move halfway around the world this time, we would be flooded with U.S. aid," Peruvian businessmen said bitterly. "We're flirts with communism, but we build them dams, give them cars. Castro firms with Moscow and you threaten invasion."

The Alliance for Progress was designed to help, but in 27 months of operation it has failed to make many friends. It was promoted by the Kennedy administration as a program under which the U.S. would help those who helped themselves.

"We looked on the Alliance as a great opportunity," says President Velasco. "It was aimed at countries with stable, democratic governments and some development plans. We had both. But it was the first plan to be sent to Washington. But so much has happened."

Velasco and some other important officials believe vigorous pursuit of the Alliance will raise living standards and bring peace to the hemisphere. But there are many doubters. The Alliance seems to be at the wrong point," said a Chilean official. "It is aimed at countries... which can attract

Macmillan Has Prospects of Storms Ahead

By FRANK WIGHTON

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan this month enters his seventh year at the head of the British government with the prospect that 1962 may bring some of the gravest crises of his political career.

The 68-year-old statesman and his Conservative government are confronted with a formidable array of problems, some of which must be solved if the party is to have a chance of winning the next general election.

Macmillan must call an election before the end of 1962. Here are the main issues facing the Macmillan administration:

1. A slump in its electoral stock which has persisted for more than a year, recently underlined by the loss of two parliamentary seats to the opposition Labor party and dashed majorities in three more by-elections.

2. A growing unemployment problem—set in the nation-wide, but acutely acute in certain areas of the country, notably the north of England, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

3. Critical reaction by his own parliamentary backbench supporters to his handling of another defence policy. There is anxiety over Macmillan's recent deal with President Kennedy giving Britain the American Polaris missile in place of the now discarded Atlas-ground to air.

4. The outcome of Britain's controversial bid to enter the European Common Market. 5. The political dynamic contained in the Rhodesia-Nyasaland constitutional crisis.

TIME LIMITS
These are the main problems, and the government has a limited time in which to solve the most crucial of them. Only about 20 months remain of the current five-year term in office, meanwhile public opinion polls show labor ahead of Conservatives in popularity, with Macmillan's own personal rating close to that of Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell.

Macmillan, who became prime minister in the wake of the Suez crisis in January, 1957, is determined to challenging situations.

By prompt and firm action at that time he succeeded in restoring damaged Anglo-American relations, and a chameleon party together, and stimulating the time-depressed British economy.

Politicians believe his present problems are just as worrying as more widespread.

CHARGE ARSON
MONTREAL (CP)—Three men were charged with arson in connection with an explosion and fire that caused $45,000 damage last June 3 to a three-story building in the city.

The men, who are in the Montreal Royal Hotel, include restaurant owner Allan Guitlin and salesman Albert Fier. Pleaded not guilty. Preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 8.

The vision of 900 million Christians united against cynical communism is a great opportunity," says President Velasco. "It was aimed at countries with stable, democratic governments and some development plans. We had both. But it was the first plan to be sent to Washington. But so much has happened."

Velasco and some other important officials believe vigorous pursuit of the Alliance will raise living standards and bring peace to the hemisphere. But there are many doubters. The Alliance seems to be at the wrong point," said a Chilean official. "It is aimed at countries... which can attract

Veteran Family Court Judge Offers Far-Reaching Ideas To Curb Youth Delinquency

OKAVILLE, Ont. (CP) — A veteran family court judge offers some far-reaching ideas for curbing juvenile delinquency by setting at the root cause. His suggestions include a certain number of children of every age, vocation, legalised outdoor and voluntary and compulsory steel millations.

Judge Kenneth M. Langdon, 56, of the Ontario Juvenile and Family Court, puts forward his proposals with some diffidence in a frequent series of articles in the Okaville Journal. "I realise my own inadequacy and I recognise that certain of the suggestions are not only controversial but impractical," he says. "But my son, brother and father of seven boys, being pulled up his sleeve to punch holes in some of the rules of conduct, social behavior."

LOANS FOR NEWLEADS
With the idea that more effort should be directed at preventing juvenile delinquency before it develops, Judge Langdon would begin with strengthening marriage. Marriage counselors should be an integral part of the family court, and no one under 31 should be permitted to get a marriage license before attaining some tribunal—preferably that court—that he or she is prepared to assume the responsibility.

Since liability in cope with children is a problem, there might be some form of abdication of marriage expenses, he suggests. Loans might be made available, with a couple's ability to pay, to act in the future.

Until this debt was retired, no subsequent creditors would be able to sue—a provision that would nullified credit.

To meet the loss of sudden loss of employment by the breadwinner, any living contract should carry with it immediate sick and unemployment benefits to ensure full pay for, say, a month after appearance from employment.

DESERVED ALLOWANCE
There would be a family unemployment insurance benefit which would depend on police contributions. And the benefits should have a "realistic" floor, with a family court judge empowered to authorize relief payment to ease hardship.

Judge Langdon, on the bench since 1924, finds the deserted wife and family the most consuming and frustrating problem of the family court. He proposes:

1. Legislation to make the deserted wife and family eligible for more than the present allowances in monthly fixed payments.

2. Priority for a maintenance order must be the husband's earnings, which would state off any such of attachment proceedings if he got into financial trouble.

Closely allied to the problem of the deserted wife is the case of divorce. Judge Langdon says, and he suggests a review of divorce legislation is long overdue.

Those seeking divorce should place themselves in the family court's hands. Attempts would be made to reconcile the marriage. If this failed after two years, the court would recommend dissolution of the marriage. In the Supreme Court, the divorce would be granted simply and unceremoniously.

"We would at least be making an effort to restore the marriage, and those in abnormal circumstances would not be treated differently than people in more affluent circumstances."

Judge Langdon outlines several conditions under which birth might be circumvented legally.

Since teen-age unmarried mothers are "fair prey to delinquency," might not he also, abortion be legalized to all unmarried girls at least 16 years of age? And for all victims of indecent assault or rape?

In the case of parents, he observes that frequently they have more children than they can provide for and the tendency is for the related ones to become delinquents.

For First Time the World Is Learning Full Story Of Bay of Pigs Invasion

For the first time the world is learning the full story of the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in April, 1961. In this story the experiences of several invaders, released from Cuban prisons last week, are related.

By JIM BECKER
ROBERT BEREZILIEZ

MIAMI (AP)—On the doorstep of a rambling ranch style home in Coral Gables, Fla., Ulysses Carbo, 37, slenderly kiosk his wife Roddy.

As the tall, trim Cuban walked down the steps, his 10-year-old son, Ulysses Jr., ran and caught him by the hand.

"Dad, the house here," the boy said, his face set in adult seriousness. "I'll be the man of the house now."

In Miami, then, Leiva, 47, read the final proofs of the day's issue of the newspaper Advance, but his mind was not on the sheets. He was waiting for a telephone call.

Leiva's son, Eduardo, 17, had volunteered for an anti-Castro invasion force. Leiva had told the organizers that his son could go—if he could go, too.

Now the telephone rang and a man told him they both could go. Leiva telephoned the publisher and said he would be away for a few days.

It was March 15, 1961. CALL TO ARMS

A call to arms had passed through the entire Cuban community, and men were gathering.

"There was really no other letter but for us to fill but to go back and liberate our country," said Carbo.

"I was not what you might define as an anti-Communist," said Leiva. "I had felt that socialism had some good points."

They were worried about Castro, then only as a possible dictator.

They were among those captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961, and finally released after 20 months in prison in a $200,000 deal completed just before Christmas.

Berezhiliez had started the year before the attack, training men behind the scenes in some makeshift camps and with deception and professional supervision in others, scattered throughout Florida.

QUERIES U.S. ROLE

What was the American role in the recruiting and training? Public questioners, who trained with Leiva's battalion, said: "Americans had nothing to do officially with our recruiting or training."

But other prisoners, who asked that their names be withheld, critics who saw the Cuban invasion could not fill.

So in the spring of 1961, when 145,000 had fled, Fidel Castro's regime to Florida, men were converging on the Opa-Locks airport, an abandoned navy and marine base near Miami, in trucks and private cars.

BOARD U.S. PLANES

The trucks drove up along side a row of unmarked American planes, and the men climbed inside. By now it was dark.

"We flew straight to Traz, an airfield high in the mountains of Guatemala," Leiva said.

The 40-year-old Leiva was assigned to air force maintenance. Others went into combat battalions.

Professional soldiers, many of them Americans, whipped the men into shape.

"I came down from the mountains on April 13," said young Leiva. "We were flown from Traz to Guatemala, and from there in Guatemala, and from there to the docks and President Sumner came down to visit before we sailed."

TENDED BOMBERS

"I stayed behind at an airfield in Nicaragua to help load the bombers and equipment," the older Leiva said. "We had B-26 bombers."

"Nothing much happened on the way to Cuba," young Leiva recalled. "We were escorted most of the way by U.S. destroyers."

U.S. military authorities declared, both then and now, to say whether any American warships or planes aided in the invasion effort.

"At midnight they got us up," said young Leiva. "We had got together to throw away letters, pictures, watches, rings, everything we loved being going in to fight for what we loved."

The men got into the boats to go ashore.

FACE MACHINE-GUNS

"They were little runabouts with machine guns. They were shooting at us, machine guns. I was hit," Leiva said.

"From the moment of landing I lost all physical sensation," said young Leiva. "I seemed like I was watching had movie. Their men came screaming 'Furia o Muerte' (Fury or death) and then they fell dead. They kept coming in waves."

"They were in closed ranks, in the most amazing manner," he said. "They finally broke under fire, but some were killed."

"Castro must have suffered 1000 casualties in those first few days," said Carbo.

By nightfall, Castro's reinforcements had reached the area and the tide began to turn.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Libby (Sept. 22 to Oct. 25) Check "nostalgia." Don't get involved in uninteresting projects. Be sure you are interested about current projects. Ask questions. Obtain answers. Very good for new social contacts.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get sufficient rest. Conserve strength, energy. Recent past of events has been hectic. Now, very necessary that you get back to normal rhythm of thinking, acting. Attend to details personally.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Excellent for attention. A member of opposite sex. Romance very much in evidence. Good for journeys, change, creative endeavor. Fine for shaking yourself out of recent "rut."

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Change indicated sooner than you might think. Check various sources today. Best to be with family members, if practical. Ideas come out of your own home which could solve problems. Pay attention!

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) Drive deep. Don't be satisfied with superficial answers, results. Today find out why, especially in dealing with associates, family members.

Pisces (Feb. 19 to March 20) Important where finances are concerned. Means you get "break" you have been waiting. Good depends upon willingness to handle added pressure, responsibility. Business acquaintance "talks sense." Listen!

Aries (March 21 to April 19) If today is your birthday you can be charming, humorous, sensitive and genial. But to be these things, you require love and friendship.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Not a time to try to rush people on projects. Crya up for April, Taurus, Gemini.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

For January 2
By SYDNEY OMARE

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Day to put in reins where expenditures are concerned. Check budget details. Make sure you are getting what you pay for. Instead of something less. Ask questions. Be diplomatic, but insistent.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Thrive on opposing side may be baffling.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 23) Time for taking direct action. Make telephone call, write letter. Obtain appointments. Spread your message. The more aggressive you are, the more impressive you stand tall today.

Virgo (August 24 to Sept. 23) Excellent for sharing beliefs, bobbing. Take loved one to your confidence. Explain goals. State position clearly. Be willing to answer questions, make suggestions. Learn by teaching.

Attempt Made To Burn Atomic School in B. C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—An attempt to burn a suburban B.C. elementary school failed Wednesday in the wake of two other elementary school fires in the Vancouver area in the last few days.

The janitor of Glenwood Elementary School found out about the subplots of a chain of bombs being placed in the school. The school was entered the same way as the schools in Vancouver's winter school and a cash register. The school was entered the same way as the schools in Vancouver's winter school and a cash register.

Students at the south Vancouver schools are being relocated because of damage to the school. It is expected to take two months to repair the Molokai damage.

One Windsor Man Placed on Probation, Two Others to Be Sentenced on Monday

A young Windsor man was placed on probation yesterday after his brother was convicted by Hastings County Judge J. C. Anderson of possession of stolen property. A Belleville service station owner was charged with the same charge.

Roger Bouffard, 22, was given 18 months suspended sentence. His brother, 20-year-old Roger and 21-year-old Elizabeth were sentenced to 18 months suspended sentence.

The judge convicted the two brothers, in an automobile with Serenak when police found the car in the Windsor area.

At East Dundas Street, the three men were stopped by police early Wednesday morning.

The Bouffards, called to testify on behalf of defence counsel Douglas Boyd, said they were returning from Montreal where they visited Serenak's grandfather.

At East Dundas Street, when they stopped to repair a tire, they testified that Roger Bouffard had to go to the toilet and disappeared for several minutes.

He had no knowledge claim.

When he returned to the car, he found them in a hurry and didn't notice anything.

Boyd pleads for his clients that they had no knowledge of the goods being in the car. He said the prosecution had to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that they knew of the articles.

"The evidence is clear—they had no knowledge," he said.

"But the issue is on the accused and not on the goods," he said. "I am asking the jury to give the fact of the car to the jury."

At East Dundas Street, Judge Anderson said the three accused had been in the car for about 15 minutes. The fact on a planned guilty plea of Roger Bouffard, said Mr.

Pringle, had told constable Bill Warring that they had won the lottery. He said that point had been made by the judge.

"This story is, by the way, borne out by the explanation after the fact that the car was found in the city."

After an afternoon adjournment, Judge Anderson reviewed the evidence in the case. The Bouffards in their testimony.

KNOW EACH OTHER

"Here we have three young men who know each other and live to a certain extent," noted Judge Anderson.

"It is not a situation where one man gets into a car and goes for a ride."

Despite their activity in fixing the car, the judge said, the Bouffards, the brothers claimed to be in the car for a long time, too long to say particularly attention to Serenak when he returned to the car.

Again, Roger Bouffard had told constable Warring about after they had been stopped by police. He said that point had been made by the judge.

County Council Will Meet on January 15th

The 1963 inaugural session of Hastings County Council will be held for January 15th, will see the greatest number of councillors and deputy mayors in the history of the county.

Over one-third of last year's council members will not be back to take their seats on January 15th to defeat the polls.

Subject to approval from the council of the new bridge, the council will be asked to appoint a committee to appear in court. OPP Council of Western Ontario.

City Engineer W. C. Purcell stated today that it was expected that demolition of the present overhead bridge would be commenced as soon as the dwelling unit adjacent to the bridge is removed.

WILL BE CONCRETE

With the removal of the present bridge, work is expected to begin on the new bridge which will be built of precast concrete.

No work on the bridge approaches will be started this week.

The new structure, together with the new bridge, will be completed by the end of August.

To make way for the construction of the new bridge, all houses on the North Front Street north of the new bridge will be purchased and demolished.

Stages of the railway on both sides of the bridge, will also be removed.

Several of the houses have already been purchased and negotiations are underway for the purchase of the others.

Included in the houses to be removed are the houses on the North Front Street north of the new bridge.

Value of New Homes Built In One Year at All-Time High

The value of housing construction in Belleville for 1962 established a new all-time high for the city, it was announced today by Grant Stickle, city building inspector.

Last year there were 201 permits issued for new dwelling units with a value of $3,206,960.

In addition to the single family dwelling units, one 28-unit apartment building was constructed, as well as 63 duplexes and mobile homes.

Last year's total of 201 single family dwelling permits was the same as for 1961, but the value was the highest on record for the city.

Total permits issued last year numbered 456 with an overall construction value of $5,079,744. Included in the year's total was the permit for a new school building at the Ontario School for the Deaf and Blind.

Belleville police have charged two Inshore teenagers with theft of hub caps from parked cars.

To appear in city magistrate's court tomorrow are Wayne Bold, 16, and 18-year-old Douglas Reid.

The pair were charged after police stopped a car and searched it in Belleville last night.

Larry J. Wood Accused On Attempted Robbery Count

Larry Joseph Wood today was found not guilty of attempted armed robbery of the city's CNR ticket office.

Wood, in custody since the holdup attempt December 8, was freed at the end of a four-day trial before Hastings county judge J. C. Anders.

The judge based his verdict on a reasonable doubt after Wood himself went into the witness box to deny the charges.

At the same time, Judge Anderson said he was "very strong" in his opinion that Wood was the man.

Your conduct around the town is not one that leaves you being a responsible citizen, he warned Wood as he dismissed him from the dock.

One witness was Dick Clark, William Jones, 40, a 10-year acquaintance of Wood, who testified in the witness box that he had recognized the man who staged the attempt at Wood, despite a silk-stocking disguise over his face.

However, said Judge Anderson, it was dangerous for a court to convict on the evidence of identity given by only one person.

"In addition to that I would have to find the evidence of the accused is of no value. It was evidence given by one man. He may be perjuring himself, he may not. The crown will have to find that out."

"I do not think I am in a position to discard that evidence," added the judge.

"And there is a reasonable doubt in my mind at the moment although the suspicions are strong."

At the outset, the judge said he was "quite impressed" with the evidence.

"I have no doubt he is attempting to give that court the benefit of all the information he can. However, I have to conclude the opportunity for identification that Mr. Enright had."

RECOGNIZED MAN CLAIM
Enright testified he had observed the would-be bandit behind the witness of the ticket office for about 30 to 45 seconds, a note pushed across the counter and a man in a suit, in his hand, said the witness.

He claimed he immediately recognized the man as Wood.

Defense counsel Tom Lally denied a nylon stocking drawn over the face of the man, right to show the evidence.

However, the clerk persisted he recognized the gunman as Wood.

"Because you saw a man with a mask and you said it was Wood," queried Mr. Lally.

"I saw his face," said the witness.

Wood said he had spent the previous night in a hotel and restaurant. He was home in his room at the Ontario Hotel Street when the robbery occurred after 3 a.m.

"Where were you at 3 a.m.," asked Mr. Lally.

Trenton's clerk-comptroller O. W. Larry, extreme left, administers the oath of office to acclaimed school board members, Walter Stevie, E. M. Parker, Jr., James Bowman, Donald Sutherland and Jack Hadley.

— unsupported by any other testimony.

"I am not suggesting that Mr. Enright is at all lying, he is honest," he added later.

"I am suggesting Mr. Enright may be an individual who, when he has made up his opinion on something, he sticks by it."

Mr. Enright said the evidence of the clerk was sufficient to remove the burden from the crown of having proved its case beyond a reasonable doubt.

Of Wood he said, we have here a man of rather loose ends who could reasonably have done that — committed the offence — and dashed back to his own quarters.

Picton
Regent Theatre To Be Re-opened In Near Future

PICTON—Good news appears to be in store for the business of people who wish to see the Regent Theatre reopened.

A definite announcement as plans for reopening is expected in the near future, with the probability that February will again see Picton with a modern theatre.

Principals involved in leasing part of the Regent block as theatres are Trenton men who are experienced in the business. It will be a smaller theatre but one considered adequate under present day conditions.

Work began this week on renovations to the interior which will see offices or stores occupy a greater portion of the space formerly taken up by 750 theatre seats. These changes will greatly enhance the appearance of the interior, adding to the purpose to which the building is committed.

George Cook remains as owner and is pleased at the developments which will assure Trenton the reopening of all that is theatre means to a town.

CLOSED IN 1962
The Regent Theatre closed its doors on March 31, 1962, because of deaths in December, 1960, the late George Cook had spent 34 years in "show" business, and gave to the town the modern Regent block and one of the finest theatres in Ontario.

Changing conditions made it financially impossible to continue using the large block chiefly as a theatre.

Now, smaller theatre, more stores or offices, and youth and energetic operators, make possible the reopening of the Regent.

During the past few months, various uses to which the block might be put by the theatre have been discussed.

The council was waiting until 1962 to further consider the wisdom of establishing town offices there. It had been suggested as location of commercial enterprises and largely local service organizations had been taking over the theatre.

With the arrival of the late Canadian Guards in Picton, it was felt more strongly that a theatre was needed.

Eight months with closed doors and darkness signs have made many aware that the theatre meant more to them than they realized.

Said one citizen, "if the Regent reopened, it will be the best Christmas gift we could receive and we should all pledge to give our support."

'Lines on Life'

By Dr. Stuart H. Rosenberg

Choosing man is a free man can be ruled passively to know how to choose. After travelling through the world are not free, where minds have been brainwashed and souls have been split or given away, one must inevitably ask the question: Why do not people revolt against tyranny? Why do they permit others to treat them as pawns and robots, and not as human beings?

The great social philosopher, Erich Fromm devoted an entire free book to this intriguing and perplexing question. By referring to his book he sought to indicate that people often refer to "Escape from Freedom." We prefer to believe that humans will can penetrate even bars of iron, but Fromm has indicated that this is not necessarily true. And in using the phrase "escape from freedom" he has made a significant contribution to the discussion.

What does it mean to escape from freedom? Freedom involves a serious decision: ability to weigh conflicting values; patience to be sacrificed; integrity to reform oneself; Many people however possess neither the will, nor the power, nor the spiritual endurance that are required for the making of decisions.

How do we learn to acquire these skills? In the first place, we need to submit to the "disciplined exercise." Despite the large space of popular jobs, it is no laughing matter to hover over an above of indecision. There is a well-known cartoon which depicts a man complaining to his psychiatrist of the tremendous anxieties he experiences because his job as a labeler in a packing factory, has made him up to him to determine whether an olive should be packed as "medium," "large" or "super-colossal." "Decision, decision, decision," he complains to the psychiatrist. "All day long—decision! I can't stand the pressure!"

In high or low places, there is no escape from decision-making. The wise man learns this as soon as he can. The ability to choose and the willingness to choose is a spiritual ability. If one does not choose, one is not free. As an economic system no political liberty can serve as a substitute. To choose rationally and intelligently to make decisions is the clear light of day and to know and recognize the true motivations of our decisions is a sign of deep spirituality.

Too often we become locked into circumstances which we claim to be beyond our control. Indeed they could be controlled if we would be willing to sacrifice again. Not every marriage is worth saving, not every success is worth maintaining; not every fashion is as soon as our dominant desires. In order to be educated, one must be willing to be re-educated, so to be selfless, one must be able, if life demands it, to choose again and again and again.

HUMAN WILL

We check over the political slavery in countries where the economic and political systems require it—the plight of man in the Iron Curtain countries. But there is a vast and glorious amount of servitude and servitude within our own freedom.

How else explain the mess-up values of our society are in terms of our inability to review and make decisions we have permitted others to make for us?

The way in which we use—or misuse—our leisure time is clear reflection of the latitudes of our will and not merely the haughty fatigue of body. Our proverbial desire to be entertained rather than educated, our refusal to expand the horizons of rational achievement by exercising the self-disciplines of our will, is clearly a vulgar waste of our human possibilities.

Nothing humane stands out of reach of the human will. Instead of concentrating only upon fundamental human rights we ought to give greater thought to fundamental human responsibilities. Without these responsibilities—the burden to learn how to make rational decisions—human rights can very well lead to human woe.

Lamb Leg Hits The Jackpot

by Mary Moore

The adjective easily often precedes cook. Many Canadian describes him. I have found the meat counters buying for the largest that I can buy for my home and transform into delicious dishes.

This lamb suited my purpose exactly for I have an old recipe that is laid Scottish and half French that I was seeking for, for boiled leg of lamb. It calls for 13 jumper berries and Margaret Pope, a reader friend in Windsor, sent me these:

However, do not despair if you are not necessary if you cannot buy them. If you can they will cost about 25c a lb. but you only need 10, to ask your druggist to weigh and charge you for the right number.

Plan to invite guests for Sunday dinner and serve.

Dinner Menus

THURSDAY

SUNDAY

(Guests)

Boiled Spiced Lamb Leg with Parsnips; Broccoli and Carrots; Walnuts Salad; Fresh Frozen Sliced Strawberries on French Vanilla Ice Cream; Holiday Crackers; Coffee.

Again I found from New Zealand lamb for 40c per pound. Why our Canadian lamb raisers don't compete with these surprising New Zealanders who have to ship it 10,000 miles I can't discover.

BOILED SPICED LAMB LEG

Any B. — I want to stay in the city.
Jack C. — I've always wanted to live in the country.

Any B. — Jack and I are too much in love to let this matter come between us or break us up. But we each have rather strong feelings on where we'd like to live after our marriage, and we don't want to have any more of these discussions. Maybe the Council can advise.

The trouble is Jack has never lived in the country and I have. It's dead and stodge. And now with a new idea is likely to be run out of town. I purposely chose a college smack in the heart of New York City and after graduation I looked for a job near Grand Central Station, right in the heart of things. We both work in midtown. Why waste time commuting? I don't why leave all the excitement of the Big Town for the humdrum life of a hick?

Jack C. — Any can't get rid of her prejudice against small town living. She forgets that things have changed. My sister and her live up near the lake. Lake George and, believe me, it's a beautiful place. I can't run ridge around as I used to up-to-date! She tells me what to watch for in next month's magazine and who doing a good job as Ambassador and why the new municipal election is so important. I feel if we settle in a quiet suburb we'll still have all the cultural advantages of the city, the fine museums and the plus a healthier life. There's better air, nicer scenery, less pressure. You feel closer to nature and closer to people. There are no hicks any more. The people in my sister's neighborhood are so hip as to have inventions and new methods as any city slicker.

The Council: Something about the above debate set us off on a tangent. Let's see how few things, really, a man can have. In the, of course, ought to be one of them but in many cases it's due to job, income, health and other "dictators." All the choices, Jack isn't. Since they plan to live together happily for ever and ever, obviously they will have to surrender some of that freedom of random. Jack, this bride and groom will live happily never after. We address Amy. Add it's about (a woman, neither for that matter). He can't pick his partner's, his birthday, his nature, his religion, his race, his financial backing. What's left? Really, he has some "say" in right in the heart of things. We minor ones, may have to be sacrificed in the interests of the two big ones.

That's what we suggest that. Or the greater giving in. Let Jack exercise one of his few rights of choice, especially since he has idealized country living in his own mind. Let him live for himself. At the same time, Amy may be in for some eye-opening surprises. Too. Her carefully codified prejudices may dissolve in the neon lights and streamlined slip of the new month's magazine and who doing a good job as Ambassador and why the new municipal election is so important. I feel if we settle in a quiet suburb we'll still have all the cultural advantages of the city, the fine museums and the plus a healthier life. There's better air, nicer scenery, less pressure. You feel closer to nature and closer to people. There are no hicks any more. The people in my sister's neighborhood are so hip as to have inventions and new methods as any city slicker.

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Deals with Human Problems)

Wife Nags; Man Confides

DEAR DORIS—I am a happily married woman with three fine children and a devoted husband.

Through constant association with a certain chain group, I have been deeply involved in another man for some time. This man is a little older than my age and has a grown-up family, but is very unhappy. Some of my wife confides in nags him and never shows any affection.

She recently found out about his calling on me and has made such a riotous of herself phoning my home I have had DORIS CLARK to have her phone number changed several times. I tried to tell her if she were more demonstrative he would not want to come to my house, but she would not listen and now will not speak to me if we meet.

What can I do to make her see she is making his life unbearable, that he is like a different person when he is with me—CONNIE.

DEAR CONNIE—How out. Would you tolerate another woman telling you how to handle your husband? Would it even occur to you that her interest might be innocent?

Send the maligned man to a marriage counselor.

(Doris Clark is a trained social worker. Let her suggest an answer to your problem.)

dragged us out. At gunpoint, we were forced into a nearby boat. We were made to sit on the floor.

For two hours we awaited there, while the crowd outside shed and cursed us.

They refused to listen to our explanations that we were journalists.

"You are United Nations," they insisted.

Then through the open window I caught sight of a white face. He emerged through me. I recognized British journalist Peter Youngblood of the London Daily Mail.

He and himself and Fleming, who had seen him at the same time, were arrested. An explanation of a situation was presented of a face and I saw that he understood and had assessed the situation.

Not daring to wave back, he inclined his head and walked away.

He returned after a colleague had left for the Rhodesian border, and was arrested, and beaten himself but was later released because he was British.

BEATEN ON HEAD

After this, more soldiers came into the room and served them but us about the head and face with their hands and fists.

Suddenly an officer came into the room and ordered us out.

We were bundled into a car and driven down the road. Our cars crammed with troops still drunk, still ugly and vicious.

Followed us on our way into a quiet glade and our car came to a halt. The soldiers crossed around. They tore off our Jack.

They demanded we remove our shoes, shirts and trousers. The horrible thought struck us—this was the end. We were going to be stripped and executed in the bush.

My throat went dry, even drier than it had been for the past four hours. Bigger said: "Don't take your clothes. Keep talking, keep talking."

Suddenly a jeep raced up. A tall Negro wearing the insignia of a major stepped out.

"Stop this—release us," he ordered.

He was wearing a uniform to the Rhodesian border where we were handed over to a detachment of the Rhodesian army as well as police officers, who had, unknown to us, been negotiating across the border for our release.

The government will continue to bring down the lid on it believes to be in the public interest. This was his comment on a report that Social Credit Leader Thompson has reiterated that Social Credit MPs will no longer give the government support in the Commons unless "progressive" legislation is forthcoming.

A budget would be brought down "before the end of the budget." This seemed to indicate a budget before April.

Question: Is it correct to serve soup in cups at an informal company dinner, or is it only permissible to use soup plates? — Mrs. W.A., New York City.

Answer: Soup usually is served in cups at lunch time. A chilled soup may be served in cups at dinner. Aside from that, soup usually is served in plates at night.

Question: A cousin of mine is getting married next month and a friend of hers wants to give a bridal shower in a restaurant with each of the guests paying for her own lunch. She says she's been to bridal showers given in this fashion, but I think the idea is ridiculous. I know my cousin would be more embarrassed than pleased to open gifts in such a public place and I think it's unfair to invite guests to pay for their own lunches, as well as bring a gift. Have you ever heard of such an arrangement? If so, is it considered correct? — M.A., Providence, R.I.

Answer: The answer is "no" to both questions, and for the reasons you stated in your letter. A shower is always given at the home of the hostess. To hold it in a restaurant, even if the group is given a secluded corner, would be most inappropriate and in poor taste.

Question: We had a death in our family last March, so I wonder if it would be proper to send Christmas cards to our friends and relatives this year. I've been told by friends that cards should not be sent out when a family is in mourning.

A.P.R., Cardiff, N.J.
Answer: Nowadays it's considered quite appropriate for a family who has had a recent bereavement to send Christmas cards if they prefer to do so. The card should be very simple, though. A card that had some religious significance, or one that extends just the season's greetings, would be in good taste.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARTER, Sport Editor

"A bunch of the boys were whoping it up," tonight was, that, during a holiday ball session, and the general theme was, what will happen to spectator sports during the coming year.

It was the general consensus that at the top professional level, the National Hockey League and the Canadian Football League have nothing to worry about.

Major league hockey and football have lost none of their fan appeal. Television, viewed at first with alarm by the helmets of the professional pack and kick plays have proved a blessing in disguise, financially and otherwise.

Conversely, the minor leagues, with the exception of the minor league hockey, have been a disaster. One junior "A" hockey club changed its Saturday night playing date to Sunday because fans, it claimed, started away to watch NHL hockey on the family magic lantern.

Minor pro and amateur hockey, with perhaps the exception of junior "A" hockey, is spotty, spectator-wise, some believe, once again approaching the brink of disaster.

The Eastern Professional Hockey League after an inaugural splurge, was snatched from paradise by an abbreviated re-organization, but once again faces a situation that is up to the limit to survive.

Like reorganized "rejuvenated" minor "A" hockey, it failed last season to build the house-trap that would cause fans to beat a path to its door.

In four-league league (one American circuit) and an interlocking schedule in the United States amateur leagues failed to bring the faithful through the turnstiles in numbers required for at least "an even break."

This week the Syracuse franchise was transferred to St. Louis because of lack of fan support. Kingston new money men are expected to fan in rally behind the team "if they can." A report states the club is $25,000 in the red.

There is talk of the United States International Hockey League turning professional and forming a loop with the Eastern Pro circuit next year, but what is in a name? The change from amateur to pro won't up the level of hockey. After all, what are the fans waiting for?

The league players picked last by OHA senior hockey men went down around Windsor-Clatskanie failed to emerge as a team. The artist's conception of the team which recruited the top from a share-the-wealth policy to an out-and-out salary-player circuit has faded badly.

I am told the majority of the clubs are operating in the "red." The Santa Rosa, the first time in senior "A" hockey, had a bad season on the ice and a worse one off it. The players look for the club's operation rather than see it fold, and a news story the other day said that one or two players had entered local suits against the manager for back wages.

Toronto Metro Junior "A" league is not drawing people, compared to junior "A" crowds of other years. Junior "B" hockey clubs in most parts of the province, count a crowd of "2000" a multitude. The Picton intermediates, I am told, are far from "packing 'em in."

"The look players—get rid of the imports" was the vocal refrain of a couple of years back. They did. Look what happened to "Lammy's Pupils." This year a city hockey league was formed to handle "B" club was given a new lease of life. All local players. The result—crowds of 250-350.

Just what do hockey fans want?

Tough and Reckless

Quakers Win Final 5-0

PRAGUE (CP) — Saskatoon Quakers Wednesday night won their 10-game season by a 5-0 victory over the hockey team of Chechnibavka with a 50 victory over Klondike Alouettes before a sellout crowd of 7,000.

The victory left the Saskatoon Quakers with a 10-0 record with six wins and four losses against Chechnibavka. They arrived here on Jan. 27, beat 2-1 victory over Toronto. The Canadians have played 10 games in all—two against Swedish teams in Stockholm—were scheduled to play one game in Switzerland before returning to Canada.

The Quakers lost 7-0 and 13-2 to the Swedish and were beaten 5-4 and 6-1 by Chechnibavka before finally giving up their first exhibition victory.

Saskatoon took a 1-0 lead in the first period despite a sustained Czech attack during which the Canadians were shot 35-4. Quakers moved ahead 5-0 in the second period and scored twice in the third.

"Once more the Canadians played their tough and reckless game and had 13 players on the penalty bench," Czech news agency reported.

N.H.L. Stars

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Andy Bathwick was at it all concerned that his record-breaking goal was of the so-called "cheap" variety.

"I'll take the goal with the least, or is it the other way around?" the smiling veteran said in the New York Rangers dressing room Wednesday night.

The goal in question was a twisted one, bouncing off the stick of a Toronto player into the hands of the Rangers and setting the Rangers off on a comeback that brought them a 3-0 victory in the only National Hockey League game of the night.

What's more important, it allowed the 35-year-old Ranger captain to equal one of the league's most prized records. It was the ninth consecutive game in which he had scored, matching the mark held jointly by Frank Marshall (Richmond) and Bernie (Boom Boom) Gordon, both of Montreal, and Bobby Hall of Chicago.

Toronto held a 2-0 lead midway through the middle period when Bathwick's goal trickled into the net.

He had been a little bit intentional—he was about to pick up the puck at the left side of the net, beyond the goal mouth, and he was whirling, backhand pass, and he had just scored the goal.

Melrobert just returned to the ice from the penalty box after scoring at 10:45. His assist on the goal boosted his total to 38, just two below NHL's league-leading goal.

Two goals by rookie Red Gilbert provided the tying and winning margins for the Rangers and a superlative, brave performance by goalie Gump Wiser made it stand up.

Bathwick's goal was his 18th of the season.

He sets the stage for New York's next game, Saturday night in Montreal. Gendron will be on the ice and Richard in the crowd when he tries for a record of 10 in consecutive games.

Rangers have won four, lost three and tied two in the last five games. That gives them 10 points of a possible 18, compared with 20 of a possible 36 before the streak began. Bathwick got five assists in the nine games.

New Ranger coach Red Sullivan is changing of plying the team as the playoffs appear to be increasing. New York now has 20 points, six fewer than Detroit and Montreal, tied for third. Rangers have a 10-point edge over last-place Boston.

Leafs remain four points behind Chicago with 41 points.

Boston visits Montreal in its only game, in weekend action. Canadiens' Jacques Laperriere is scheduled to play Saturday night in Montreal.

Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, may play Saturday night in New York. Bruins may play Saturday night in Detroit. Hawks meet Sunday night in Chicago.

PASADENA, CALIF. (CP)

Don Vanderlin, Wisconsin's hottest quarterback, figures he will take his time assessing an 11-hour rush of offers to turn professional.

Ignored by the National Football League draft, Vanderlin has found several offers from NFL teams waiting for him when he got back to his hotel Tuesday night after leading the Badgers in a heart-stopping comeback against Southern California Trojans in the Rose Bowl. The Trojans won 43-37.

"They asked me not to sign with the NFL or a Canadian team until I had a chance to talk with them," Vanderlin said, a draft choice far from the list of the New York Giants in the American Football League.

"I'd like to play pro ball and I'm glad to get to see these things. I haven't made any decisions yet, and probably won't until things heat up a bit and I have had a chance to think it over more clearly."

WINNEPEG (CP)—Jim Ausley, general manager of the Canadian champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said Wednesday the Western Football Conference team has had University of Wisconsin quarterback Ron Vanderlin on its negotiation list for some time.

He said until his game Tuesday in the Rose Bowl, "we were almost sure of signing him. Now our chances are only 50-50, maybe less."

Ausley said the reason for the slackening of hope is the sudden interest in the running, playing, while by terms of the National and American leagues in the United States.

Juniors Meet Napanee Here Friday

The Belleville Junior "B" meet the Picton Maroons tonight then play back to the Napanee Red Wings in Belleville Friday night in OHA Eastern Junior Hockey League games.

Belleville first win of the season came against Picton here back on November 23 as the Prince Edward County team will be all out to even that score tonight. The game in Picton starts at 8:30.

Belleville will be facing strong opposition at home in Friday's nine o'clock game back to the Maroons.

Napanee Red Wings are in third place in the eighteen team league with seven wins and four defeats and are expected to give Don Barclay's Oshawa a battle for the points Friday.

Included in the Napanee lineup is a former Belleville Maroon graduate, Doug Daley, who would likely receive a few minutes against some of his old buddies. Daley is said to be one of the workhorses of the Napanee team, coached by Walt Cramer Jr.

Belleville came up with an improved performance to top 6-2 with over 60 goals in the team's last home game. The coach, Harry Miller, told the boys going into the game to keep both tonight and Friday.

A couple of wins could move Belleville up a notch in the league standings. Past Coaches of the league have been very clear of fouls penalties by a team to be a reality by Saturday morning.

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Sports experts turned to professional football for the third surprise of the season and concluded by Canadian Press staff writers that the 1962 Grey Cup game will be a close one. They planned the championship to be an amateur-sportsman's game, of the type that has been the province of Harry Jerome, 32, of Vancouver.

It was Jerome's leg injury in the final of the 100-yard sprint at the British Empire Games in Perth, Australia, last November, that pushed him to the top in the disappointment category of sports editors and broadcast men in the 25th annual Canadian Press year-end poll announced today.

Big things had been expected from Jerome, who only came in track history to share the world records for both the 100 yards and 100 metres, but he was considered a clinch for gold medals in his specialties.

But he developed a left thigh injury halfway through the short sprint and finished sixth, and he hurried home three hours later for an operation that is likely to keep him out of the track for at least a year.

Eighty-four of the record 106 letters cast went to Jerome's "bad luck" effort. "Galt Terriers, runner-up in the world amateur hockey championship, were second with 13 votes.

Others went to Hamilton Tiger-Cats, Edmonton, Calgary and Toronto Argonauts football teams. Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League and failure of the University of British Columbia night—were given the make final at the Perth game.

When Gus Morton was at press. The veteran tough guy went into the stands after his team's defeat, and according to reports, caused a decisive victory. Other Chatham players, most of them already in the dressing room, returned to join Morton, and police finally had to batle in which some 50 minutes. It won't be the first time the Maroons have had trouble with Windsor fans this season. They had a fracas on a recent trip to Windsor.

GO INTO SECOND The Chatham unit, coupled with Galt Terriers upset 8-0 romp over Woodstock Athletics Wednesday night, moved the Maroons into second place, one point ahead of Woodstock. Chatham marksmen, in addition to Morton, were Bob Poie, Frank St. Marselle and Joe Malt.

WINDSOR SCORERS Were Chicago's Jerry Beagin, Bob Brown and Jerry Serval. Bob McLaughlin and Keith Wier scored two goals apiece for the Terriers at Galt. Lloyd Westall, Alex Keating, Bob Searall and Larry Pratt completed the rout.

It was goaltender Dave Dryden's first shutout of the season, on the head as he made his way to the Chatham dressing room.

The $10,000 offer for Toronto Maple Leafs' Frank MacKenzie by Chicago's Black Hawks, which was a surprise and the surprise and oddity of the year. This was widely interpreted as a publicity stunt, particularly since the offer was made at a luncheon party in a downtown Toronto hotel.

DRURY STAYS IN VOTES

Other surprise votes went to Toronto winning the Stanley Cup, victory for Dick Pate of Montreal in the 100-yard freestyle swimmer at the British Empire Games, collapse of Jerome in the Games; the gold medal performance by Ridd; comeback of quarterback Elgie Day of the Stampeders and the showing of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Eddie McCabe of the Ottawa King and radio station CBO, Ottawa, gave his vote to the "surprisingly logical handling of the Grey Cup problem" by commissioner Lagard Hay of Winnipeg.

Reduction of the federal government's $5,000,000-year plan to aid amateur sport and promote physical fitness to $1,000,000 was given to Harvey Raymond of the Prince Rupert Daily News.

CONQUEST VOTES went to goalkeeper Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens, Calgary Stampeder, Montreal Alouettes and Winnipeg Blue Bombers and to Tommy-Joe Coffey of Edmonton Eskimos who came out of retirement to play with the WFL even though the West's outstanding football player award and who made the WFL all-star team.

Chicago who scored 36 goals in the last half of the National Hockey League season to end with a record-equalling 50, and to Earl Grey Day and Ottawa Rough Riders quarterback Russ Jackson.

Mill Dumell of the Toronto Star gave his vote to Crayton Lane for becoming the home of the 1962 and European champion in the year after running as 17-500 claimer in September.

The Poppi's downed Wehanka Motors 5-2 to take over first place while Joyce-Bellows Cranbills blew a 4-1 lead, but came back with a last-minute goal to grab a 5-6 tie with the Motors in a pair of City Hockey League games last night.

Poppi's moved one point in front of Trudeau in the battle for spot while Joyce-Bellows Cranbills, undefeated in the league, outlasted the Motors in a tie, moved to within three points of the stumping Wehanka squad.

Trudeau and Poppi's will meet head-on next Wednesday in a battle for the lead while Wehanka tries to hold off the Cranbills threat.

PEPPI'S — WEHANKA'S 5-2 Wehanka, playing with only two men behind 5-0 in the first period and 4-0 after two periods, added the sixth goal in the second period to seal Poppi's win.

Cranbills' Carr, in the league leaders' cap, had a shoo-out going into 16:00 of the first period when Wehanka scored for a pair of quick goals to lead 4-2 before the Poppi's added another to wrap it up.

Donna Look Elliott's pass and scored at 10:35 of the first after "Turk" had robbed the tail-enders time and again. Red-jacketed Motors' bluelines were in to tie it early in the second but Rutheford, then Norm Richardson, gave the Cranbills a 4-2 margin.

The first period was fast and wide open as Trudeau scored, Marianne the triggerman, in the first minute. Keller broke

Boxer Said Greatly Improved

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Eddie Machen, once considered to be a state hospital, 19 as an "arrested" schizophrenic and a "para" has been released to a private psychiatric hospital, doctors said Wednesday.

Dr. J. Edgar Miller, superintendent and medical director of the State Hospital at Napa, said Machen showed great improvement recently and that he was fit to be released to a private hospital. The family was allowed to take him home after a 10-day stay in the hospital.

Machen, rated No. 1 heavyweight contender by the World Boxing Association, was taken into custody last year when he was found in a parked car with a gun and a loaded magazine.

He twice battled with attendants in hospital, said Miller, and committed himself to a court hearing after doctors said he was fit to be released and was not a danger to himself and others.

Machen, 36, told officers at the time of his detention he was depressed because of financial problems stemming from problems of getting a worth-while fight.

Coaching Moves Loom In NFL

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Three coaching changes may be made in the National Football League next season at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Baltimore, where the status of Buddy Parker, Harland Shreve and Webb Moore respectively is uncertain.

The 11 other NFL coaches appear to be set. George Wilson, for instance, was rewarded by Detroit Lions with a three-year contract at a reported $320,000 a year.

Vince Lombardi, general manager and coach of the champion Green Bay Packers, is working on a five-year contract signed in 1961, and Alie Sherman of New York Giants has played half last Sunday. Red McMillan will probably stay at San Francisco although some of his assistant coaches have departed. Wally Lemm, one of those on whom the Giants are counting to be on steadily ground, recently signed with another year with the Los Angeles Cardinals. Brought up from "Buddy" said he wanted to wait a week or so after the game in Miami, said Rooney. "He has done a good job for us and we like him. We have him back."

ATTENDANCE DROPPED — Shreve attendance suffered in the first half of season and a 3-4 wins record and did not pick up when Pittsburgh won six of its last seven games.

Baltimore is an entirely different situation. Perhaps the loss of the NFL with the loss of the title in 1962 and 1963 was walking a tightrope in 1962.

Shreve took over the job of head coach in Los Angeles last November after the resignation of Bob Waterfield. It was announced at the time that he was promoted from assistant coach for the rest of the season only.

Expert Wishes Certain TV Shots Could Be Banned

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The camera—or at least the man behind it—can be a guilty of the crime as the writer. That producer Gerald Green, a novelist and expert click-a-socket, said the writer could be banned for ever from the television screen.

Green, who produces "The Dick Van Dyke Show," said he had been looking at some of the shots of people looking at sex windows. Other critics accuse—of price tag, film showing scenes quickly followed by pictures showing life with the rich, and new apartment buildings going up on the outskirts of the town.

Green's critics list was directed toward network corporate sponsors charged with producing foreign news reports. He regards the network as the most ineffectual shovels of the mass mind of security planning, in unrelenting English, that there is a Communist threat.

All those have a familiar look to the television viewer. Green, however, neglected to mention my famous—of the right word—news show clips. That is "The Dick Van Dyke Show," which is a comedy starring Dick Van Dyke and Jane Powell.

Rosemary Clooney Handling Her Brood of 5 Successfully

AT THE BELLE — Jerry Lewis got married in his latest movie, "It's Only Money." The happy bride is lovely Joan O'Brien, White. Jack Van Dyke, who is quoted in "It's Only Money," is continuing through Saturday.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The raising of five young children, without the presence of a father, has become Rosemary Clooney's and she appears to be managing it successfully.

The star has been the single parent of her brood since the separation of her husband in 1957. It takes a lot of it, she says, to be a single parent when you know there is someone at home who cares.

"I've got a lot of good help. Principally it comes from my mother, who is in when I have to go out. It makes a lot of it, she says, to be a single parent when you know there is someone at home who cares.

Lefty (Mar. 21 to Apr. 18):
 Good lunar aspect today indicates friends, hope, wishes are favorably fulfilled. Excellent for original writing, for acting and other creative endeavors. Curb tendency toward carelessness.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 31):
 Your actions today could determine much of your future. Superiors tend to make decisions. Remember your sense of humor. But don't be frivolous. Divorce balance necessary.

Virgo (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23):
 Concentrate on expansion, public relations, advertising, your own abilities. Good for journey, visits, broadcasting social horizons. Excellent for entertainment, too.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23):
 Liberate the self. Create condition which attract valuable persons, opportunities. Don't brood, compile or "give up."

Cancer Claims Two More Hollywood Stars

Dick Powell

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dick Powell, whose Hollywood career ranged from radio to studio to screen, died Wednesday night of cancer, aged 58.

The veteran star died at 8:30 a.m., only five hours after the disease claimed actor Jack Carson, who died Tuesday.

Mr. Powell, 58, was the fourth major star to be killed in the last year.

Charles Laughton and Thomas Mitchell died in mid-December. The costume designer in several movies, he later switched to directing and producing, disclosed last Sept. 27 that he had cancer.

Recently the family, per Powell's own wish, confessed of making a full recovery. "Now that I know so much about cancer I am more afraid of getting pneumonia," he told reporters gathered in his Beverly Hills home.

He said he had been receiving radiation treatments for a lung ailment on the right side of his neck and another in his chest.

At that stage, he said, the physician in charge was pleased with my progress, and said Powell: "I feel better than I have in 10 years."

Next month he stepped out of the limelight of the highly successful Four Star Television.

He was not a dandy but a man of letters, the president for health purposes.

In December Powell cancelled his television appearances on the weekly Dick Powell Show for the rest of the 1962-63 season.

"We'd arrive on the set and everybody would sit down and say, 'What can we do now that would be funny?' I'd come up with something. I only knew two ways, so you can see how many variations I had."

After leaving Warner's Carleton Place, he was the first film star to enter television, doing a series of one-hour comedy programs.

Free-lancing in movies, he played a hard-boiled press agent in A Star is Born with Judy Garland.

He had been in for more than six months.

At his bedside were his wife, Sandra, his brother, Robert Carson, and his physician, Dr. Seymour Hartman.

"I talked to him just this morning," said Carson's head nurse, Mrs. E. Carson, in Carson, Man. The family moved to Winston-Salem, N.C., because of his illness.

He had been talking to his wife. She left the room for a few minutes and when she returned he was dead," Stempel said.

"I'd be walking around in my bed and was talking normally."

MOVES TO STATES The actor was born Oct. 25, 1910, in Carson, N.C.

Carson collapsed last Aug. 25, in Anderson, N.J., while during a rehearsal of Carson's Choice. Doctors said there was a stomach disease.

Big bluster with a witty punch to his character, Carson's character movie began to show in the late 1940s.

Carson had had five years' experience including vaudeville, night clubs and stock companies when he signed for Carson's Choice.

He regarded himself as a comedian rather than a comedian, rather than a comedian, rather than a comedian.

HEAVY FIGHTING CONTINUES IN MEKONG DELTA

Flush 200 Rds
Near Ambush Site

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Heavy fighting between government forces and the Red army continued today from the area of Wednesday's bloody government defeat.

Two government dead and 12 wounded were evacuated from the Mekong delta sector about six miles northeast of Yan Hiep. But there was no immediate indication of how the renewed battle was going.

Reports earlier said government forces crushed an estimated 300 communist guerrillas a few miles from the sector of Wednesday's battle. U.S. and South Vietnamese forces in the area were alerted to the new situation. Apparently all American aid units in the area were alerted to the new situation. Apparently all American aid units in the area were alerted to the new situation.

SEND MORE TROOPS

Large numbers of government troops were rushed into the area today. The government claimed that 701 Viet Cong were killed in the engagement. Reports at the scene after the battle said only three Viet Cong bodies were found. It was generally assumed, however, that Viet Cong casualties were heavy because of a subsequent heavy air attack on the guerrillas' position and the communists had fled their dead away through the mountains and rice fields.

Council and PUC Consider How to Apportion Costs Of Sewage Disposal Work

Parking Ticket Thrown Out By Magistrate

A Belleville man successfully contended a $1 ticket for parking his car today after his wife testified he was home at the time charged.

The offence was ticketed at 12.3 a.m., November 28.

The man's wife told the court he had arrived home at 11:45 by their sister's kitchen clock, which had later been proven accurate by a time check.

"I hate to throw anything away for eight minutes," said Magistrate T. W. Willis.

"The time is excessive," he said.

New Year's Party Held By Churches

The New Year was brought in the traditional manner at the delightful New Year's Eve party, held at Albert College and sponsored by all of the United Churches of Belleville.

Mr. K. Knox, of Tabernacle Church, organized the program, with dancing and games enjoyed by all.

The chapel service at 11:30 p.m. was conducted by the Rev. Mr. MacFarlane, of the U. of C. Church, with Mr. J. Alce Gordon, organist of Bridge Street United Church at the altar.

Mr. MacFarlane gave an inspiring message on specific New Year's Resolutions, which would provide strength and peace for all men.

After the midnight celebration, a delicious buffet, prepared by the "United Church Women" of Bridge Street, was served by a group of 100 members before their departure.

Over 2000 guests were present from Brockville, Kingston, Picton and Ottawa.

Sports Car Club Proposed For This City

Belleville may gain a sports car club during the next few months. The idea was first mentioned by members of the proposed Kingston and District Sports Car Club, at the home of Jack Campbell, 1111 Kingston St., last night.

At the meeting, Campbell, president of the club, discussed the formation of the club. He said that the club would be open to all who are interested in sports cars, and that it would be a non-profit organization.

The club's first meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, 1963 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall. The club's first meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, 1963 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Small Talk

By Zena Cherry

Get a magazine superstition for Christmas?

They're playing for high stakes in the big-five edition of the world of mass magazines—the "mass" magazine circulation of America and over.

Reader's Digest is the master with its circulation of over 10 million. It has the most in-depth surveying times, but believe it or not, the Digest does not always make money. It was saved from a financial bath courtesy of the period by their Condensed Books division, one of the largest things in book publishing. The Digest owns and publishes a record division that packages and sells long-playing record albums at discount prices. This diversification is not shared by the Digest. Time, Inc. has made over 19-million dollars with their books while their life magazine has trouble making one cent.

For instance, their Pictorial Atlas of the World was accused by critics of inaccuracies. It made a big bundle for Henry Luce and company. Time was as pestered by plagiarism as Reader's Digest is. They are gone over by an innumerable number of editors to protect the public from any originality or brilliance but commercially speaking, they're fabulous success.

McCall Corp., who publish McCall's and Seventeen book and Saturday Review have taken a beating in recent years—and so are planning a book-up with Random House in publishing fiction, non-fiction, and interior decorating books. However, don't think McCall's will go hungry for a long time.

It is the same California industrialist, Norman S. Mineta, who also heads Time and Seventeen in the black with Hunt's Beauty and Seventeen in the white with Seventeen and Seventeen. Curtis Publications which include Seventeen and Seventeen and the 25-year-old Seventeen and Seventeen are gone over by an innumerable number of editors to protect the public from any originality or brilliance but commercially speaking, they're fabulous success.

Mrs. Kennedy Shares Top Spot With Banker's Wife

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy shares the top of the list of best-dressed women of the world this year with Mrs. Loel Guinness, wife of an international banker.

The secret committee of fashion experts, in releasing the results of their annual poll Thursday, described the wife of President Kennedy as "the symbol of fashion leadership to the average woman everywhere." Beatrix Guinness, wife of an international banker, was termed "the ultimate in elegance."

Another committee spokesman said, Mrs. Kennedy received a "handful more votes" than Mrs. Guinness, but the two were so far ahead of the rest that they awarded them the top spot jointly.

The top newcomers in the list are Mrs. Frederick Elgar, wife of New York, wife of a photographer and daughter of poet John Keats; Barbara Tyson-Bernstein of London and Switzerland, and Gloria Vanderbilt, wife of a New York architect.

Kum Double Club Names 1963 Officers

HALLWAY—The Christmas week meeting of the Kum Double Club was held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Soler with a fair attendance. John and Elsie Williams presented the weekly program, "The Opportunity of the New Year."

The Scripture was taken from Isaiah 58: 6-8 and read by Lois Morgan. The meditation and prayer were read by Mr. Soler.

The business was conducted by president, Pat Hobson.

The next group of officers for 1963 was read as follows: president, Pat Hobson; first vice, Charles and Mary Bell; second vice, Frances Bell; third vice, Charles and Mary Bell; secretary, Coleman and Vera Townsend; treasurer, David and Ellen Bower; pastor, Irene Williams; convener, Earl and R. Soler; John and Lois Morgan; and Ed and Marie Stewart.

"The Howler" was read and two items were presented.

Lunch was served by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Soler.

The next meeting is to be held at Mary and Elsie Williams.

Young Couple Honored at Presentation

MADOC (CT)—On Saturday evening between 80 and 90 neighbors, friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reid to honor their son, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reid.

"Merry family and another gift is to be completed as the year turns."

A card party was to be held in the L.O.L. Hall, Springfield, on January 17th. Mrs. Bert Reid donated the quilt lining for the quilt.

Mrs. Ward Melroy and Mr. W. J. Barlow were convener for education. The program chairman was Mrs. Melroy.

Carol was sung. Mrs. W. Barlow gave paper on "Christmas customs in other lands." Mrs. C. L. McKee gave a reading on the truth about Christmas. Mrs. W. Melroy read a paper on Santa Claus.

A contest on musical instruments was conducted. Joan Melroy and Joanne Burdick sang a duet, "Silver Bells." There was an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The hostess and assistants served a dining lunch. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. J. Barlow based on "Citizenship."

Designer Takes Tax Man Into Account in Clothes

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States revenue department's crackdown on entertainment expenses and deductibility may have a drastic effect on the clothes of the rich, says a tax expert.

At least, Norman Norrell, who previewed his collection here Thursday, took the tax man into account in creating his spring designs.

Wives, whose meals out won't be deductible for income tax purposes, will wear less jewelry, says Norrell. He said that some of the new designs are simple, elegant and understated.

ARE YOU PLANNING to have your toddler stay with relatives or friends while you're in the hospital having your second baby? If possible, have him stay there for two or three days before you leave the hospital.

When you return, you'll be better able to give the toddler the attention he needs to adjust to the presence of a new brother or sister.

Convertible Styles for This Year's Brides

By JANEY KATZ

MONTREAL (CP)—Fashion for this year's Canadian brides is—simple, elegant and "convertible"—styles were featured Thursday in a show sponsored by a Montreal bride.

The return to the severe, high-necked look was evident in a series of creations ranging from delicate chapel gowns to full-length, cathedral gowns with traditional trains in rich lace and encrusted jewels.

One was shown with a long, sheer train and a full skirt of lace and encrusted jewels. The bride became a sleek modernist with a simple, straight dress and a full skirt of lace and encrusted jewels.

The "little girl" look with a touch of sophistication was especially emphasized in the lace-trimmed chapel gown, with its full skirt and a long, sheer train.

Convertible gowns for after-party bachelorette parties were shown with a full skirt and a long, sheer train. The bride became a sleek modernist with a simple, straight dress and a full skirt of lace and encrusted jewels.

Small Talk

Get a magazine superstition for Christmas?

They're playing for high stakes in the big-five edition of the world of mass magazines—the "mass" magazine circulation of America and over.

Reader's Digest is the master with its circulation of over 10 million. It has the most in-depth surveying times, but believe it or not, the Digest does not always make money. It was saved from a financial bath courtesy of the period by their Condensed Books division, one of the largest things in book publishing. The Digest owns and publishes a record division that packages and sells long-playing record albums at discount prices. This diversification is not shared by the Digest. Time, Inc. has made over 19-million dollars with their books while their life magazine has trouble making one cent.

For instance, their Pictorial Atlas of the World was accused by critics of inaccuracies. It made a big bundle for Henry Luce and company. Time was as pestered by plagiarism as Reader's Digest is. They are gone over by an innumerable number of editors to protect the public from any originality or brilliance but commercially speaking, they're fabulous success.

McCall Corp., who publish McCall's and Seventeen book and Saturday Review have taken a beating in recent years—and so are planning a book-up with Random House in publishing fiction, non-fiction, and interior decorating books. However, don't think McCall's will go hungry for a long time.

It is the same California industrialist, Norman S. Mineta, who also heads Time and Seventeen in the black with Hunt's Beauty and Seventeen in the white with Seventeen and Seventeen. Curtis Publications which include Seventeen and Seventeen and the 25-year-old Seventeen and Seventeen are gone over by an innumerable number of editors to protect the public from any originality or brilliance but commercially speaking, they're fabulous success.

Recreation Highlights

R. Jarvis, Assistant Director

Senior Citizens are interested in the same things that interest any other group. Contrary to the thinking of many, they need not confine their activities to reading and rocking. When they are given the opportunity, it soon becomes evident that the major interest is in the same variety of hobbies and in dancing, sports, and entertainments.

The desire of older people to get together for companionship and social recreation is being met with increasing understanding in the clubs and centres that are springing up throughout the country.

It was approximately ten years ago that the Senior Citizens Club in Belleville was begun. A quick look at the presently-existing club and at its membership will show how far this group of people have advanced in their original aims and ideas.

The Senior Citizens Club, in its first year, had a membership of approximately 100. The president at that time and the first president of the club was Mr. J. F. Fiddie. The regular monthly meetings were held at the Kiwanis Centre at which time refreshments, games, entertainments and social hours were made available for all.

President in 1957 was Mr. F. C. Grant. He has been the driving force of the club's events such as bus trips, parties, dances, and social hours. The present club was organized in 1957. The first meeting was held at the Kiwanis Centre at which time refreshments, games, entertainments and social hours were made available for all.

The next year of the club was 1958. Under the presidency of Mr. H. Scalen, followed by Mr. J. Brennan and now by Mr. J. Fiddie, the club has been planning his course as president last year was elected as president for the year 1962.

The Belleville Senior Citizens Club now has a membership of approximately 100 members and meets monthly at the Recreation Centre. The club has been holding monthly meetings with the other clubs in the area. The club has been holding monthly meetings with the other clubs in the area.

Five-Year-Old Disobey Parents

DEAR DORIS—My five-year-old won't do anything he is asked to. I punish him by making him stand in the corner or depriving him of staying up after supper. But even after he has been punished he has a grin on his face and turns around and starts over again. He is a boy child, an only child. I have twins younger, a boy and a girl. I feel I have my hands full enough without having to deal with his stubbornness.

He doesn't even play as well as the other children who are younger than DOIS CLARK. He is the thing that seems to prey mostly on his mind is talking about things like dirty diapers, bare bottoms and things like that and the first time he sees animals, that's all he can say about them.

I try to teach right from wrong, but as soon as I say he must not do something, I'm like giving him the green light—ONE BIG HEADACHE.

DEAR ONE—That grin of his tells us his own. He is pleased to be punished. Why? Because in this way, at least, he has achieved to get your full attention.

It was no small how when young sister and brother arrived to stay from him. As for the bare bottom, this started with natural sex curiosity, but could persist in intensified form if you choose to reprimand him for it.

My friend and her boy friend like each other very much, but marriage is the last thing they are thinking about now, and she doesn't want to give back the ring.

They are both very sensible people and they both know that they are too young to be thinking of marriage. They just want to remain good, close friends. —A CONCERNED FRIEND.

DEAR DORIS—My girl friend received from her boyfriend a lovely ring on her sixteenth birthday, but here is the problem. Her mother wants her to give the ring back because she thinks they are getting too serious about each other. Her mother is coming into this gift as an engagement ring and is very upset about it.

My friend and her boy friend like each other very much, but marriage is the last thing they are thinking about now, and she doesn't want to give back the ring.

They are both very sensible people and they both know that they are too young to be thinking of marriage. They just want to remain good, close friends. —A CONCERNED FRIEND.

DEAR FRIEND—You mean they'd like to be close enough for a "lovely party" to pass between them, but not close enough to be engaged? Then what happens when they both get engaged to someone else? Does the new ring slide on over the other one?

I'm sorry, but in my book a costly ring is a symbol of engagement. This one should be given back.

DEAR DORIS—We have been debating on the subject for a long time with my psychology teacher and I'm sure you could be of some help to our grade eleven class.

Question: Is it right for the mother of a teenage daughter read her mail? Is it right for the teachers (sisters and sister) of a boarding school to read the boarders' mail (coming and going) even if it is from their parents? If they don't like some papers to cross them out or even destroy the letter completely—this GRADE.

DEAR ELEVENTH—No. People have a right to some privacy, even quite little people. A girl has a right to conversations which are not overheard, and that's what a letter is, isn't it?

CONFIDENTIAL TO TROUBLE—I am sending you my leaflet on "Unwed Mothers and Their Babies." This will help you think things through and understand what the social agency can do to help.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARY TO SPEND—Talk it out. By continuing to work you can help your husband get ahead faster. This extra training is precious to him. Let him see that you do not look on him as a boy, but as the man you love.

(There is a science of human behavior. We can live successfully when we understand better the people around us. Ask Doris, who has Master's degree in social work, about your pet peeve.)

United Church Welcomes New Members

JOHNSTOWN—A reception service of new members was held at Johnstown Church on Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald and Mrs. G. Galloway joined the church. Earl Stickle, Mrs. A. H. Hays, as representatives of the church, welcomed them. Mr. Brian Thompson's lesson was Hebrews 11-12, and he spoke on "What We Live Behind." What we live behind is the things that we have behind us through the years, our joys, our little difficulties, we would have a much better world to live in, said Mr. Thompson.

Miss Thelma Stickle was the pianist.

87th Birthday Is Celebrated By Adenauer

BONN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today observed his 87th birthday, presumably his last in office. He celebrated it with an 84-day party. The chancellor recently promised to retire next fall upon the completion of 14 years in office. His successor remains to be chosen, but Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, 65, is considered the favorite. President Kennedy led off the celebrations with a message which he gave a arriving from many parts of the world. Said Kennedy in a telegram: "Few men of any age carry the burden of high office with such force and energy and no one has done more for the cause of freedom."

Winter Eases icy Grip On Britain

LONDON (AP)—The worst winter in memory eased its icy grip on Britain today as a show was continued over most of the country. Blizzard conditions prevailed in Poland and northern Germany, and icy fingers around Great Britain. In and around London police transport services were back at normal and the roads were free from ice. German gave promise of some relief in the north.

It was still generally cold with temperatures below freezing and patches of freezing fog formed. It will take days before the huge drifts in many country districts disappear. Helicopters still were flying mercy missions—dropping food to isolated communities and food to cattle and transporting people to and from hospitals.

Criminals Turning Increasingly To Use of Force Survey Shows

MONTREAL (CP)—Criminals are turning increasingly to the use of force, Montreal police say in the preliminary analysis of crime statistics for 1962. "It is a trend we have noticed since we started about 10 years ago," said Insp. William P. Hiltz, chief of Montreal's detective force. "The shift from violence was marked in 1962 in robberies. The stolen and attempted robberies of banks and Casinos (credit institutions). The shift in the jurisdiction of the police."

CARDINAL EGER SUFFERS FROM HEART ATTACK

Outside Activities Are Suspended

MONTREAL (CP)—"Heart failure," has forced Paul-Emile Cardinal Eger to suspend all outside activities for an indefinite period. It was announced Friday night by the archbishop's office. The announcement by the archbishop's office was the result of the illness it said was brought on by many months of uninterrupted work. It was understood the 58-year-old Roman Catholic archbishop of Montreal would not enter hospital but would remain at the palace. The announcement said a New Year's reception for the archbishop, scheduled for next Monday, has been postponed indefinitely. The spiritual leader of some 1.5 million Catholics in Montreal is expected to return after he returned last Dec. 11 from the eulogy for the late Cardinal Lacombe at the time that the flight home was held. The first day of the council sessions started Oct. 1.

Service Station Operating From Earth Repairs Telstar

NEW YORK (AP)—The great Telstar service station operating from Earth since Nov. 22. Bell engineers near Telstar would encounter radiation in the Van Allen belts. Telstar equipment was designed to withstand it. But Telstar ran into radiation for the first time since that station was put into orbit. Radiation can affect the surface of transistors, it can create ions, or charged particles, from gases or solid materials in the transmitter. The ions can collect on the surface of the transistor, and cause harmful electrical changes. The effects become worse if a voltage is present. The voltage serves to keep the ions concentrated. And storage batteries could supply such a voltage. But the translator can recover.

Highgrading Racket Charged By U.N. Member Claims 'Big Shots' Go Unpunished

NEW LEXINGTON, Ont. (CP) Attorney-General Fred Cass of Ontario has promised an investigation into charges by a member of Parliament of a "multi-million dollar ore highgrading racket in Northern Ontario." Arnold Peters, New Democratic Party MP for Timiskaming, also has suggested that the final shooting of a Cobalt miner may be linked to the racket.

Mr. Cass said Friday he was certainly looking into this allegation and Mr. Peters' claim that "big shot" in highgrading go unpunished. Highgrading is the illegal removal of rich ore from mines. The racket, which has been going on since the ore is taken from highgrading veins. George McLeod, manager of the Cobalt division of McIntyre-Percipine Mines Limited at Cowgong, 60 miles west of Cobalt, said there was a possibility any highgrading might be detected.

Mr. McLeod said that he was not a member of the highgrading racket. He said that he was not a member of the highgrading racket. He said that he was not a member of the highgrading racket.

Foxboro RCAF Officer Promoted

Air Force Headquarters has announced the promotion of Flying Officer Carl A. Spencer to the rank of Flight Lieutenant.

Mr. L. L. Spencer, the son of Mrs. F. B. Spencer of Foxboro, Ont., was born in Rochester, N.Y., in 1925. He was raised and educated in Belleville, Ontario, in 1943, and serving for the remainder of World War II in the Royal Canadian Air Corps as a Volunteer Reserve.

In 1945 he completed his education by obtaining a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Ontario. Mr. L. L. Spencer joined the RCAF in 1958, becoming a supply officer. He went to North Bay in 1959, and is now the Supply Officer with the RCAF's first Bomber Squadron, No. 446 (Squadron in Air) at Trenton, and they have three children.

Girl Accosted Near Her Home On Church St.

City police to Belleville are investigating the complaint of a teenage girl who claims she was accosted near her home on Church Street home Friday night. A police officer, reporting for duty, interrupted the incident.

The girl told police she was followed by a man along the street about 10 p.m. At the time, she was alone. She passed near a grocery store when the man threw her to the ground in nearby bushes. However, he fled almost immediately at the approach of the constable.

Suddenly Money Covered Whole Street

CHICAGO (AP) — Nicholas Tomas, 28, pulled up to a street light. Suddenly a cloud of money burst in the air in front of him and settled on the ground.

Tomas, a service station operator, said it seemed almost as if the money had been dropped from the sky. He said he was standing in the street when the money burst in the air in front of him and settled on the ground.

"I never seen anything like this," Tomas said. "I was standing in the street when the money burst in the air in front of him and settled on the ground."

TCA Vicount Circles Airport Makes Landing

KENNEDY (CP) — A Trans-Canada Line Viscount was making a malfunctioning near the airport, forcing the plane to make a landing in preparation for a crash landing.

Pilot Laurence Paul of Winnipeg kept the turbo-prop aircraft in the air for about 10 minutes, making 1,000 pounds of fuel to the engine. The plane was making a malfunctioning near the airport, forcing the plane to make a landing in preparation for a crash landing.

Warn Motorists To Be Careful At Crossings

Three days, school days mean good luck for adults as well as motorists.

Especially so, if the adults happen to be driving, and driving near a school crossing at that.

While marks are assigned to take care of children at these crossings, accidents are almost always avoidable. It is in fact takes too much for granted.

This morning, city police informed Mr. C. Hays that a reminder in that vein to motorists.

"Every driver should approach these crossings with vigilance," he said. "Be especially so at this time of year, when ground conditions may be slippery and treacherous."

Negro Leader Given 2 Years For Defamation

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — State dist. Judge Fred L. Blaine has fined a Negro leader $5,000 and sentenced him to two years for defaming the state.

Blaine said the defendant, who was a member of the state's bar, had defamed the state by making false statements about the state's government.

RARE, MEDIAN, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVEN, Sports Editor

Known as the team that "Secured the Hell out of the Packers" as well as being one of the country's toughest professional football clubs, the Detroit Lions make their final, season's appearance on Sunday.

They clash with the Pittsburgh Steelers, former champions at that, in the "Hawkeye" Bowl Game, played annually to decide which is the better second-place team in the National Football League.

The Lions after chasing the New York Giants to the wire, had to settle for second slot in the league's eastern division while the Steelers ended up in the runner-up spot in the western division.

The Steelers take their highest victory total in history last season but they still rated underdogs to the Hawkeye Lions. They were also game during the regular 1952 season but lost five, one of three to the Lions by a 4-0 score.

Don't take that as a betting axiom. Remember the Giants and Packers? In the 1951 national championship the Packers chased the New Yorkers out of their Green Bay pad with a 37-0 thrashing, from whom what happened a short time ago when the clubs met for the 1952 U.S.

On Jan. 13, 1952, over 113,000 at the teams enter battle in the Miami, Florida, stadium, starting at two p.m. Sunday. The game will be televised by the CBS.

It was on the maple leaves that are two blades that would be the maple leaves. Heavens, the VanderKluis, the Wisconsin quarterback who sparked the Badger comeback that just fell apart against Southern California in the New Year's Day Bowl game, will head the North stars in the annual Halls Bowl game.

The Crusade Bowl is a new entry at Baltimore. Colleague draft choices of the teams in the National Football League will meet.

In game this afternoon the 11th annual Senior Bowl game between all-star teams from the North and South was scheduled for Hialeah, Fla., but was postponed. The Challenge Bowl game was set for Corpus Christi, Texas.

One team are the North-South battle via television over the NBC network starting at 2 p.m. eastern time. The game features 56 college players about to become professionals. Each member of the winning team receives $500, the losers $300.

But in the book the price attraction on the next-to-last week of post-season football activity in the United States is the Lions-Steelers clash.

MAKES GOOD

We're all "home-brothers" in a way and it warmed at least one cockle of this corner's heart to see a native son of Wellington making good hockey-wise.

He is Lelo Bryant, now a student at Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island. Lelo is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bryant of Wellington, and a former prize of the village's award-winning coach, "Dicks" Alaworth.

Lelo played bantam, midget and juvenile hockey under the Alaworth aegis and his ability caught the eyes of college scouts.

He enrolled at Brown and immediately caught the college hockey club's eye. He was chosen as the "all-star" first squad after leading Brown to the championship of the Christmas Invitational Tournament.

He was the team's leading scorer with three goals and seven assists as he paced the Brown Bruins to victories over Williams, Massachusetts and New York schools to the title. He is also the Bruins' top scorer for the season to date with 21 points in nine games.

Leaves Slip, Wings Drop To Fourth ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Habs Ride Eight-Game Win Streak

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Things seem to be getting back to normal as the Montreal Hockey League (MHL) heads into the second half of their schedule. Montreal's Canadiens are on their way up. DeLoraine, Wings are on their way down.

Canada, who was the league title six times in the last seven years, have ridden an eight-game win streak into a commanding position after spending most of the season mired in fourth place. Currently, they are in a second place tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs, trailing the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks by four points.

The Wings, underfired in their first 10 game season after missing the playoffs last spring, have only one victory to show for their last eight games. They have won only one of their last four games, losing four, while the New York Rangers, who beat them last of a playoff berth last season, have won five of their last six games.

Not even Bruin, with only six wins in their first 10 games, need serious certified medical attention. Montreal's record seems headed toward the last place, where they occupied for the last two seasons.

HAWKEYE CRANE Began the last year's final game, the Hawks, who were second-half club. But the Hawks are hardly first in the season but then came on strongly, are also runners-up. They whipped the

Don't Look So Big

at FIRST!

The real cost in heating with any fuel is not just FIRST COST... equipment and installation. IT IS THE TOTAL COST... First cost month by month but you must meet the cost of the fuel. First cost fuels promise big savings at first, they cost you MORE than oil heat fuel. OIL HEAT is the most ECONOMICAL, CLEANER and SAFER than any other modern automatic fuel. Check all the advantages of oil heat before you build or buy... or convert your present heating system.

The truth is... You Pay Much Less

Death Stalked the Huntsman Through Canadian Woods in Past Year, 63 Were Killed

By JOHN LORLACH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Death stalked the huntsman, hunter was rated as deadliest of such stalking predators through the Canadian woods in the past year, 63 were killed, figures indicated the local night hunter. The previous year, 61 were killed, but that figure was estimated, because the figures were not available for the first 10 months of the year.

For the first time in five years, hunters were killed in every province. Ontario fatalities stood at 15, as the year neared a close, down from 22 in 1961 and the second 36 of the previous year.

No new safety measures were taken in the province this year, but there was increased emphasis on hunting training programs, which about 30,000 persons have taken in the past year.

Quebec ranks as farbes in the number of deaths, with 17,278—mainly due to a combination of factors. The figures were incomplete. Some game wardens do not report deaths.

Alberta had two fatalities—the first since 1957 when a hunter was killed in the Soda with fire, and Prince Edward Island had one, which occurred in 1961.

There were five deaths in the province, with one in the north and two in the south. A record seven in 1954 and 1955.

New Brunswick had four fatalities, with one in the north and three in the south. A record seven in 1954 and 1955.

In the western provinces, fatalities had up and down from the previous year. Manitoba, for example, had one fatality, against seven in 1961.

Alberta reported a fatality in the province, with one in the north and two in the south. A record seven in 1954 and 1955.

REALISTIC CALLS

Three Youths Are Placed On Probation

Magistrate T. Y. Wills imposed on 11 p.m. curfew for six months on three youths convicted today of a break-in at the Belleville Curling Club.

Placed on probation were Bruce McCormick, 20, his 19-year-old brother, Douglas, and Joseph Bennett, 22. The magistrate extended the curfew to midnight for a week.

McCormick pleaded not guilty to staging the break-in November 11 and stealing beer, cigarettes, and a transistor radio. Witnesses testified to a three-man party on Belleville Island which included the three youths the night of the break-in.

A fourth youth—Michael Culhane—already on suspended sentence after pleading guilty November 22 to the same charge, said he and the three others were among a group of youths drinking beer and wine prior to the break-in.

Culhane agreed with defence counsel Robert Temple that the "break-in" was primarily to get some beer.

"Everybody said it would be a good idea, everybody agreed to do it," he said.

"I was drunk," answered Culhane. Temple said.

TRUCK DROVE AWAY

Police contacted Robert Hall told of patrolling the area near the curling club with the licence of his cruiser extinguished.

He saw a light-colored car pull from the club and a pool-jumper parked nearby told him when he switched his headlights on.

The truck drove as far as the Drive-In theatre then returned to the scene. He stopped it and found the driver to be Bruce McCormick.

Mr. Temple told the court there was no evidence associating Bruce McCormick with the actual break-in.

The "very cogent evidence of the police as to the break-in" of this truck, which added to Culhane's evidence is conclusive as to an "accused."

Immediately afterwards the three youths were arraigned, pleaded not guilty and were committed to the same detention.

SUGGESTS CURFEW

"I think there should be a curfew on them for some time on their associations."

"I like looking at a person up in a house illegally, and I like seeing some one who he imposed the 11 p.m. deadline."

"They're a little odd for chaps," countered Mr. Temple.

"Let's give them one night a week until 12 o'clock and if they're not found standing at street corners, the magistrate decided."

He also noted the liquor dealer in the case and was "if they are charged with breaches of the Liquor Control Act while they are on suspension, some action can be taken."

The three accused and Culhane were ordered to show restitution of $111 for damage caused in the break-in.

Toronto Man Killed by Fumes

TORONTO (CP)—George J. W. was found dead and six other relatives were injured today when a gas leak from a doctor entered their carbon monoxide-filled home Sunday.

Douglas Cooper, 48, his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cooper were killed in their second-story bedrooms. Their children, Kenneth, 4, Sheila, 3, and Terry, 2, were in another bed. Leonard Cooper, 32, was unconscious in a rear bedroom.

All six were admitted to hospital. Leonard was reported in serious condition, but the others are recovering.

The doctor blamed a plugged chimney vent.

Ontario Cheese Is Rated Highly By Overseas Produce Dealers

Ontario Cheddar cheese is meeting the quality requirements of United Kingdom produce dealers in a highly satisfactory manner, according to O. R. Irvine of the Commonwealth Agricultural Society, Mr. Irvine so reported when he told of his visit to the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association annual meeting in Toronto. The speaker discussed the quality of Ontario cheese and is particularly impressed by the quality of the speaker stated, and it is very important that Ontario producers do everything to maintain this good opinion.

Complaints regarding non-flavoured cheese made in 1960 had caused the Ontario industry a good deal of concern.

Concern had also been expressed that some shipments of 1961 cheese were failing to develop the full flavoured character of well-aged cheese.

This does not appear to have been a serious fault and current supplies are proving very acceptable, the speaker stated.

"Everybody said it would be a good idea, everybody agreed to do it," he said.

"I was drunk," answered Culhane. Temple said.

Rail Crossing Crash Kills 8 Gaspe People

GASPOUS OUEST, Que. (CP)—Eight young residents of the Gaspe Peninsula were killed Saturday night when their school bus was struck at a level crossing by a CNR freight train and dragged more than a mile along the tracks.

Four of the victims were members of one family—Marceline Roy, 22, her brothers Lucien, 18, and Jean-Marie, 16, and their sister Marie-Danielle, 16, all of nearby Port Daniel.

The school bus, owned by the school board, was driven by a 19-year-old driver, Jean-Louis Roy, 19, of St. Adolphe and Gerard Normandeau, 25, of Port Daniel.

Both vehicles were near the community 300 miles northeast of Quebec City.

Police said Normandeau was the owner and driver of the car.

Babysitters Bound, Robbed

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Three girls are being held for the robbery of a young couple in a rooming house Saturday night in which a young couple was robbed and $200 was stolen.

Gerald Dill, 23, and his wife, a 17-year-old girl, were being held in a rooming house when three young women were seen entering the house through the kitchen door.

"One of them had a revolver and I screamed," Miss Dill said. "They ordered me to shut up and get into the front room."

The babysitters had no money, but Miss Dill gave the bandits about $200 from her father's cheque, which was hanging in a closet.

The robbers left their victims crying, tore out the telephone wire, and fled. Three children were left in the room, slept through the incident.

Constable Rescues Boy

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Police rescued a 10-year-old boy from a fully clothed into the icy water of the Thames River Saturday night when he was seen clinging to a drifting log.

Raymond Gawn fell into the river while playing in the water with his two brothers—Paul, 8, and Wade, 6—near the riverbank.

Paul and Wade scrambled to switch off some of the gas grills, or what they called "the gas grills."

The executive urged the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the Board of Broadcasters Institute to do a search program.

Paratrooper Killed in Jump

CAMP BORDEN, Ont. (CP)—A 21-year-old private, Paul J. Gawn, was killed Sunday during a parachute jump from 2,500 feet south of here.

Private was one of six paratroopers who left London, Ont. in five C-119 flying boxcars for a jump over the English Channel.

An army spokesman said the cause of the accident was not known. An army spokesman declined to say whether the soldier's parachute opened.

The spokesman said Private Gawn was found in a clearing of four or five miles from the drop zone on Jan. 5, 1963.

Private was married, and his wife and two children live at Elmbridge.

Trucker Found Dead

GANANQUE, Ont. (CP)—Kenneth Young, 35, of Leamington, Ont., was found dead in the cabin of his export truck here Saturday night.

Police said they believe he died from carbon monoxide poisoning. They searched for Young after he was reported overdue in Toronto where he was a driver and owner for Leamington trucking firm.

Gananque is 18 miles east of Elgin.

$1,200 in Guns Stolen in City

Guns valued by police at $1,200 have been stolen from a city sports shop, one of a series of weekend break-ins in Belleville.

Police say thieves broke into the sports shop on North Front Street, some time Saturday night and made off with the weapons, most of them .38 Smith & Wesson.

Other burglary incidents have been investigated by city detectives today.

Theft of $75 from Patterson's Sporting Goods, the manager of the store, said he was not aware of the break-in. He attempted break-ins at Association Discount, 377 Front Street.

Man Escapes Injury From Burning Car

A Belleville man escaped injury early Sunday when his car broke out in his automobile on Highway 14, just north of the city.

Police estimated damage to the car, owned by William W. Little, 123 West Ridge Road, at more than $200.

Mr. Little was driving the automobile past the McFarland Detention depot just north of the Highway 401 overpass when the fire started.

Provincial police patrolling Highway 401 spotted the car burning shortly after 10 a.m. and drove to the scene.

Man Acquitted Of Leaving Accident Scene

A Belleville man, claiming he has only gone home to fix his car insurance papers, has been acquitted of leaving the scene of an accident.

Charged after the two-car accident November 21 at Coleman and West Streets, the man was Francis Edward Baldwin. He was charged after the second driver, Kenneth Keller, called him when he returned to the scene.

After court examination by defence counsel Mr. Temple, Mr. Keller said he did not know the accused. This was later refuted by Mr. Baldwin who claimed they drank together four months earlier. Further, said Mr. Baldwin, after speaking to him at the scene he left to get a tow chain but the accused Keller left away from the intersection. He also returned home to check his insurance policy.

"When you try to sue me," asked Mr. Temple.

"No," was not denied Mr. Baldwin. "I asked my lawyer for insurance papers, but apparently he had not got any more renewed."

No said Mr. Keller had his license number and also said he would call the police.

He was tried by Judge G. J. Macdonald.

YMCJA Will Start Courses in Diving

This session of the YMCJA will be starting courses in both scuba and scuba diving with a number of members of the YMCJA Aquatics Club acting as instructors.

The courses will be held in the swimming pool on Saturdays with the scuba diving course lasting four weeks and the scuba diving course lasting two weeks.

The scuba diving course is open to all ages and is free of charge. Only those over 15 will be allowed to take the scuba diving course, which includes a number of safety techniques and equipment for proper underwater diving and compressed air tanks and regulators.

Course instructors are Earl Dickerson, Ron Chapman, Dennis Kline, Bill Brown, Joe Cummings and Bill Ryan. A number of others are also taking life-savers and scuba diving.

The courses are open to anyone wishing to take part in the above limitations. Further information as to times, etc., may be obtained at the YMCJA.

Council Votes to Request Annexation Be Retroactive Or at Least Commence by July

TRENTON—Trenton council voted last night to request the Ontario Municipal Board to request that the annexation of 63 acres of Murray street property be retroactive to the date of the original annexation. The council also voted to request that the annexation be retroactive to the date of the original annexation.

The OMB had suggested that Jan. 1, 1964, be the effective date of annexation of the township. Council thought that extending the date to the first of next year would work an injustice on the part of the township.

Mayor Macdonald said that he felt the township should have the first of next year as the effective date of annexation. He said that he felt the township should have the first of next year as the effective date of annexation.

Should Run Postal System Like a Private Utility

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's postal system should be run like a private utility, a commission said in its latest report. The government is expected to release the report Monday night.

In fact, the character of most postal operations in the United Kingdom is "private utility," the commission said.

The report, released by the commission, is a landmark in the establishment of a revolution in the postal service, but not by parliamentary action.

Another recommendation was that deficits incurred in the handling of second-class mail—primarily newspapers and periodicals—be met by an annual parliamentary grant rather than being subsidised by profits from first-class mail—ordinary letters.

The advertiser has become a beneficiary of the government's policy of subsidising the cost of publication, said the commission. It was reported that for the 70 per cent of the cost of the newspaper, the government pays the remaining 30 per cent.

The commission made no comment on the merits of the policy. But from the point of view of subsidising the cost of publication, the postal office is a business like other businesses.

Kingston 'Pen' Hospital Condemned—Still in Use

OTTAWA (CP)—A 35-bed hospital at Kingston, Penitentiary, is condemned and scheduled to be closed by a royal commission.

Another royal commission—the Glasse commission on government psychiatric hospitals—has called attention to the hospital in its latest report. It is reported that the hospital is "inadequate, said the report."

It made no specific recommendations with regard to the hospital, but said that in the main, hospital facilities for the mentally ill are inadequate, said the report.

It said that while the government requires psychiatric care, existing treatment practices designed mainly to punish the prisoner to be limited to the minimum without creating undue problems for the penitentiary.

Say Staff of Economists Needed for Broad Planning

OTTAWA (CP) — Development of a central staff of economists to help the government in economic planning is the main recommendation of a report by the Glasse royal commission.

The report, released Monday night on the work of the government's economic planning committee, said that the time it might be desirable to have a central staff of economists to help the government in economic planning.

Hornung, Karras Pop Up In Rumors

Football Scandal Reports Swirl

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more star players, Paul Hornung and Alex Karras, have been introduced as reports of a betting scandal continued to swirl around the National Football League.

Developments came to light Monday amid rumors and conjecture.

Paul Hornung, star half-back for the champion Green Bay Packers, was rumored to be involved in a scandal involving a friend and potential business associate who had been accused of betting on football games.

It was this same man who employs Phil Handler, assistant coach of Chicago Bears, and who has been questioned about gambling, presumably by FBI agents.

7 Coaches Defy Conference

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven college track coaches, headed by George Eastman of Manhattan, say they will defy the Eastern College Athletic Conference and send teams to AAU-sanctioned meets during the indoor season.

The ECAC, in a letter mailed to its 110-member schools last week, "strongly urged" that they boycott the indoor meets unless they were sanctioned by the United States Track and Field Federation. The USTF, with the backing of the NCAA, has been trying to exert sanctioning power from the AAU.

The ECAC, in turn, is a member of the NCAA.

The indoor season gets under way Saturday with the Boston Knights of Columbus Games. The meet has not sought USTF sanction.

Joining Eastman, who also serves as chairman of the Olympic Field Committee, in the action Monday were Joe Staley of New York University, John Gibson of Boston Hall, Howie Bulmer of Iowa, Steve Bartholomew of St. John's, Artie O'Connor of Fordham and Rick Mason of Columbia.

They left one "if" if they are they are restricted by their athletic directors or presidents to boycott the meets, they will follow orders.

Ask Three Hoop Stars Be Charged

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The grand jury was asked Monday to indict three former North Carolina State basketball players — Donald McCalister, Stanley Newberry and Anton F. Muehlbauer — on charges of receiving bribes to influence the outcome of two games against Duke University.

The grand jury will be in session through Wednesday and was not indicated when it will sit on the bills of indictment prepared by prosecutor Dan Edwards.

The indictments charged the players with accepting bribes to shave points in games between Carolina State and Duke 47-54 Jan. 9, 1960, and 87-61 Jan. 7, 1961.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prosecution witnesses in the basketball trial of Jack Molinas were described Monday as including "the biggest collection of flacks, dumpers and chiselers imaginable."

This characterization was made by Jacob R. Everoff, lawyer for Molinas, who summed up the former Columbia University basketball star's defense. The case, which began last Oct. 26 and includes several recesses, is expected to go to the jury of eight men and four women today.

Molinas, 30, is charged with conspiracy to fix basketball games, three counts of bribery involving specific games, and a count of attempted subornation of perjury.

PHIL WELLS SPEAKS

TORONTO (CP) — Prime Minister Diemmler is to address closing sessions of the annual meeting of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association here Feb. 15-16. It was announced Monday.

4. That the United States News investigation subcommittee plans to look into the situation and that the NFL is continuing its own investigation.

NO WRONGDOING

Despite the developments, there still has been no disclosure of wrongdoing.

News of the NFL's investigation came late in the open Feb. 17, when it was reported that George Hala, owner-coach of the Bears and co-founder of the league 41 years ago, had asked NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle to look into published rumors of a scandal.

"The NFL's official stance is that the investigation is one of several it conducts every year, and that it will not discuss specific individuals or cases," Rozelle said.

The consensus of league players, coaches and club officials is that there is no substance to rumors of a betting scandal.

However, it is known that wagering on NFL games is big business and has grown with the popularity of the league.

The Chicago American said Alex Samuels, known as "Handie" and "Handie" Handler and Carras.

QUOTES SAMUELS

The newspaper quoted Samuels, a lumber company owner and operating machine executive, as saying he has known Hornung about 10 years and offered him a duplicating machine franchise for Louisville, Ky. It said Samuels employed Handler as a lunch-room salesman for about 10 or 15 years.

The American also quoted Carras as saying: "I've met Alex Samuels a few times, but I know him as a business man."

Carras was the first player whose name was published in connection with the investigation. He said last Saturday he had taken two to detector tests the request of the league.

One in 1960 and the other last month, and had answered "no" to questions about fixing games being offered bribes and if he had ever intentionally fumbled.

"I passed them all," Carras said.

Hornung told The American he was interested in the duplicating machine franchise, but he has never been asked to be involved in anything.

He said Samuels approached about sharing points in a game, has never been asked to take a lie detector test and knows of no teammate who has been.

"I'm positive no player would be stupid enough to get mixed up with any gamblers," Hornung said. "I would jeopardize my career, his family and his future."

Karras' involvement in the investigation was revealed by the Detroit News. It said Jim Bostic, partner with his brother Bob and Karras in a Detroit bar, were questioned by the FBI last week.

Los Angeles, where he is not for the NFL Pro Bowl game Sunday, Karras told The Associated Press he had been told by Jim Bostic that "several players were talking to him Sunday. He didn't say what kind of questions. Just are clean."

Earlier, the "around it" Lineman told The News: "This is ridiculous. I have a family and the Bostics boys have families. They are trying to brand us guilty of something."

"I've put out 100 per cent for the Lions every time I've gone on the field."

Karras denied a report that said he would quit the Lions or leave the club if forced to give up his interest in the bar.

General manager Edwin McCosker of the Lions said: "To not think is much to do about nothing. We're going to study this and when Alex comes back to Detroit, we'll make a decision."

"There's no reason to panic. I think all our boys are clean."

Paper Strike Costs Canada Over 6 Million

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert M. Foster, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, said Monday night that the paper strike cost the country about $6,000,000 a week in newspaper and other products.

He said the New York City alone uses about 800,000 tons of newspaper a year, "just about 11 per cent of the total United States consumption."

Some 25,000 tons of newsprint exports worth about $4,500,000 had been lost in the month the strike has lasted so far.

Mr. Foster said the strike has the least a loss of between $300,000 and $800,000 in wages to pulp and paper workers alone, not counting the industries.

Meanwhile, Canadian International Paper Company announced that it would suspend its paper strikes in New York and Cleveland have forced it to curtail production in its three Canadian newsprint mills.

The mills at Toronto and Guelph, Ont., are to operate during this week, a week beginning this week, the company said at Guelph, N.B., operated by the New Brunswick International Paper Company operations next week.

The mills normally operate five to six days a week. In Ottawa, J. A. D'Aoust, Canadian vice-president of the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers (U.P.M.W.), said that the mills have already cut back production. They were slower to start up than normal.

Women Attack Gen. Norstadt For 'Pressure'

OTTAWA (CP)—The Voice of Women attacked Gen. Laurin Norstadt for his statements here last week in favor of the acquisition of nuclear arms by Canada.

The group said in a statement it deplored "the pressure being applied to force Canada to join the nuclear club to the conscience of a large section of her population."

The statement, signed by VOW President Mrs. Therese Casgrain of Montreal, urged the government to declare that Canada will never join the nuclear club.

Gen. Norstadt, an American who retired last year as NATO military commander, said the Canadian government made a commitment in 1959 to equip Canadian forces in Europe with nuclear weapons.

Cuba Invites Montreal Group To Send Priests

OTTAWA (CP)—The government of Cuba has invited the Society of Foreign Missions to the Caribbean island, it was learned here Monday.

The invitation was extended several weeks ago, a reliable source said.

No decision has yet been taken, though it was suggested that the Roman Catholic society may be reluctant to send priests back to a country from which many missionaries were forced to leave.

The superior of the society, Rev. Gilles Ouellette, at a press conference in Montreal said the society has about 20 priests now serving in the Communist-controlled island, where they are working in various capacities, representing three Quebec orders.

The Cuban government is understood to have given assurances that the necessary material for additional Canadian priests would be granted.

The gesture was viewed here as signifying a change in official attitude of the church and religious stand which Cuba's revolutionary government has often taken in the past.

Trading Stamps Finance Priests' Trip to Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Roman Catholic priests left by plane Monday night for Rome on a 14-day religious pilgrimage financed through trading stamps collected by their parishioners.

Rev. Robert Syriany said all began with an offhand remark he made three months ago while thumbing through a trading stamp catalogue in the rectory of his church in Lakewood, Colo.

He said he noted plane trips listed among the merchandise available for exchange, and within a week of several parishioners had already remarked "that's a good way to get to Rome."

One of the parishioners who he really wanted to go to Rome.

"I said 'sure' and they picked it up from there," he recalled.

But it didn't end in his parish. The idea spread to the parishes of his brother, Rev. Francis J. Syriany and that of a priest friend, Rev. Leonard A. Rothberger. All three parishes are in the Denver area.

As a result, the members of the three parishes collected 1,211 worth of trading stamps.

In return for an estimated $100 worth of supermarket purchases, the priests were given their plane fares, hotel lodgings, meals and other travel expenses.

They are scheduled to have an audience in Rome with Pope John. They will remain in Rome for a week and then return to Portugal and France.

Our exclusive and improved Deep Dip process makes the new 1963 Rambler Classic the world's most completely rustproofed car

That's quite a claim—the world's most completely rustproofed car. But Rambler is perfectly justified in making it. No other automotive manufacturer in the world is so thorough. Our Deep Dip rustproofing process is the most extensive in the industry. And this year, with the introduction of 'Hulsidol', an exclusive new way of building cars, we have increased the amount of galvanized metal on the car by seven times!

Our exclusive Deep Dip method of rustproofing was developed at the Rambler plant in Brampton, Ontario. It is specifically designed to fight the rigours of Canadian weather and driving conditions. This is what we do: the entire car body is immersed completely into a special solution which cleans, scours and seals the surface of the steel.

After that the car is again dipped to the roofline in a rustproofing primer paint which fills every corner of the car body. In this way, there is not one area of surface of the car which has not been protected. There's no casual spraying in this process that might miss vital areas and leave them exposed.

So you see, it's no idle boast when we claim that we have the world's most completely rustproofed car. Why do we go to so much trouble? Because it's part of our firm policy of providing "maximum usefulness to the user." Visit your Rambler Dealer soon, and test drive the new 1963 Rambler Classic and discover how much this policy means to your driving pleasure and convenience.

Still Trying To Delay Vote On Ontario Plan

TORONTO (CP)—An appeal against a rejection of a move to delay Ontario's plan to force shareholders to vote on a proposed $100,000,000 purchase of McNasara Corporation Ltd. will be heard in the Ontario Court of Appeal today.

If the appeal fails, the meeting will go ahead as planned at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Justice E. L. Haines dismissed an application Monday for an injunction seeking to postpone the meeting on the grounds that shareholders had not been given sufficient information about the takeover to make an intelligent decision.

The action was brought by Charles LaBelle, son of Charles LaBelle, a former director of the company who is opposed to the merger.

The former LaBelle is associated with the Toronto-based Gold Mines Limited group of companies that has offered $1 for each share of the company, which has 1,500,000 shares are tendered. The offer expires tonight.

Mistook Mine For Tunnel, Lost 6 Hours

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—A woman drove her car from Sydney to Melbourne and lost six hours in a tunnel when she mistook a mine for a tunnel.

The woman and her two sons emerged from the mine on foot nearly six hours later and told their story to a newspaper.

The woman, who said she mistook a mine for a tunnel, got out on a mountain road and drove into the mine when she mistook its entrance for a tunnel.

Mine employees went into the mine and pushed the car out.

Mr. Justice Haines said he found that material received by shareholders would enable them to make such a decision.

The action was brought by Charles LaBelle, son of Charles LaBelle, a former director of the company who is opposed to the merger.

The former LaBelle is associated with the Toronto-based Gold Mines Limited group of companies that has offered $1 for each share of the company, which has 1,500,000 shares are tendered. The offer expires tonight.

Bourget Church Robbed of Bonds

BOURGET, Ont. (CP)—Banks in eastern Ontario have been asked to watch for $100,000 worth of bonds stolen from a church.

Sacred Heart Church rectory in this community 35 miles south of Ottawa.

The theft was discovered during the weekend when Rev. J. L. Paquette, the parish priest, checked the safe after he returned from an Ottawa hospital.

The thefts also took $100,000 worth of bonds that had been collected from two New Year's Day masses.

The bonds consisted of 15 lots of $1,000 by the Midland Co., and 15 lots of $1,000 by the Ontario Co., and 15 lots of $1,000 by the Ontario Co.

The bonds were stolen from the church safe and pushed the car out.

Don Born With Clept Mania

DEAR DORIS—A book is trying to locate a book on how to teach a child to speak correctly. My youngest son was born with a cleft palate. He was operated on 13 months after he was born and I thought that was the end of that, but now that he is four, he has a high pitched voice and he does not pronounce very many of the consonants. The vowels are fine.

We took him to the children's hospital, where he received speech therapy. Now the teacher has left and the hospital won't see him to do anything about it.

I intend to teach him myself but would like a book for reference. I have acquired a number of places and can't seem to locate anything at all.—MRS. W. M. DEAR DORIS—

Speech therapists are as scarce as hen's teeth and so is literature about cleft palates. But there is a Cleft Palate Unit at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. Also, the National Society for Cleft Children, 2022 West Ogden Avenue, Chicago 12, Illinois, has done some work on cleft palates.

Write to both places, stating your intention of working with your boy yourself. They will send you what help they can.

DEAR DORIS—I would like to correspond with any lovely air force or army man, anywhere in Canada or overseas. My age is 28, so any age from 28 and up are welcome. Make no difference if they are French, English or any others.

DEAR DORIS—A well-seasoned recruiting officer tells me that young soldiers who have just left home some time ago are having periods of acute loneliness. Here's friendship for you, boys. Write to me if you would like full address.

DEAR DORIS—received an engagement ring at Christmas time. My problem is that my boy friend's parents are separated and I have promised not to tell this to my parents. Is it necessary for me to have a dinner with his parents soon?

His parents would come together as they see each other off and on, but I feel rather uncomfortable about this.

DEAR ENGAGED—And so you should. How long does he figure on leaving it? I don't imagine the tradition that can build up over the mistaking of this silly little which it is, in essence!

CONFIDENTIAL TO N. I. B.—If you are determined not to get hurt, "wrap yourself up in cotton wool and hide away." You don't live at all until you feel some thing—and when you expose yourself to events and people they are bound to cause you both joy and pain.

Canada's Lack of Warheads Chink in Continent's Shield

NORTH BAY (CP)—Lack of nuclear-tipped rockets or nuclear warheads makes Canada's chink in the North American shield, Gen. John M. G. Galt, commander of the North American Air Defense (NORAD) system, said Tuesday.

He added, however, that lack of nuclear warheads does not alter NORAD's overall planning. Gen. Galt made his comment while here for a defence complex which forms part of the NORAD system.

The United States Army committed to NORAD was not involved in nuclear warheads, but NORAD and this position was well known when NORAD was formed.

"Whether we have them here (in North Bay) or not is not germane to our planning," the general said.

He also said he would continue to strive to make NORAD accept nuclear weapons for its squadrons and Bomarcas.

Canadian Air Vice-Marshal J. B. Harvey, North Bay sector commander, said his men are fully trained to handle nuclear weapons and will be ready for any emergency.

Some further preparation would be needed, he said, but this would be a matter of only a few days.

Canada Would Get A-Arms Without Pact if War Came

OTTAWA (CP)—Source officials of the Canadian government said that Canada might sign the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) but would not accept it unless it accepts nuclear warheads for its squadrons and Bomarcas.

The source said that Canada would not accept the NPT unless it gets training for Canadian squadrons and Bomarcas.

Govt. Political Strategy of Near Future Tops Current Agenda of Cabinet Business

OTTAWA (CP)—Political strategy was the focus of the week's cabinet meeting and the agenda of cabinet business.

The cabinet met for nearly four hours Tuesday and plans another meeting today.

After Tuesday's sitting, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said he was not sure if the cabinet had been considering a number of personnel appointments, and announced so on Thursday.

Family Loses Infant Child For 7th Time

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arthur M. and his wife, Mary, 38, have buried their seventh child. "Each time it happens," the grieving father said, "you die a little more."

Mary Lee Noe died last Friday. She was born just after six months ago. None of the six other children of the Noe family lived longer than half a year.

Medical authorities are perplexed. They can't explain why the Noe family has had six children die in five months.

The Noe family has been married since June 1, 1948, and have no living children. One of their babies was stillborn. One died at five months. One died in the first three weeks.

Accident Case Settled Here For $69,500

A 74-year-old boy—severely injured in a highway accident—was the key figure in a claims settlement of nearly $70,000 endorsed at the Ontario Supreme Court Assizes in Belleville today.

Harry Van Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Van Norman, of Plainfield, was hospitalized after he was struck by a truck near his home on Highway 37, last March 13.

His injuries were so severe that he was taken to the Belleville hospital where he was kept for two weeks before being sent to the Colbricht Orchards and Cold Storage Limited and Donald L. Baggeley.

Terms of the settlement required the two parties to appear before the Ontario Justice W. F. Spence grant the boy's father $20,000; $45,000 will be paid into the Supreme Court and held for the boy; costs will be paid at $500.

In endorsing the settlement Justice Spence complimented the Van Norman's counsel, barrister Ronald Cass, on the manner in which the claims were

Mr. Dehn argued that the general membership did not know about many details of the union's finances—such as a $150,000 luxury apartment in Montreal, a $15,000 furniture, the 13 1/2-bedroom apartment with two $1,000 weekly salaries, a radio-TV console, a shortwave radio, a hi-fi set and alarm clock radio, and the $5,000 spent in the last five years to give Mr. Baska a new Cadillac.

Mr. Baska said the bills were available to the financial committee elected at the semi-monthly headquarters meeting.

STAMP RACIN BILL.

And to make sure the committee stamp the bills now he added, the union initiated a new practice in recent weeks—mark each bill and receipt as "stamped and approved."

Mr. Dehn said the rubber stamp did not alter the fact that the committee either accepted Mr. Baska's word on many of the expenditures—or called him a liar.

Mr. Baska said sometimes his expense statements were questioned and he had to make money with his own money.

He strongly maintained that the $100 per dollar-and-a-half sometimes much more—for his use of union funds.

As head of a big union, he explained, he had to keep up "expensiveness" and "style" to dinner and show them around night clubs.

He said, "SUH boy."

Informants said the brigade in Europe is already in effect, a nuclear force, about a battery had been given. Bill nuclear training in the U.S. and knew everything it needed to know to carry out a nuclear role. Nuclear warheads could be supplied to it in less than 48 hours.

The same situation could be repeated in the air division, though not, when it was fully equipped last year with the CF-104, 84 of the division could strike squadrons has been formed.

Sources said it would be inconceivable in event of a nuclear war that the U.S. would not clear war that the U.S. would not clear Canadian forces trained by the U.S. in a nuclear role the weapons to carry out such a role.

ONE OF TIERING

The government's statement of the government's approach to the nuclear problem as far as Canada is concerned is badly out of timing, it was stated here.

The government wanted Canadian troops to have nuclear weapons (it-bog not before-a war was started.

Gen. Norval wanted the Canadian to have them even without addition to the nuclear deterrent. He said: "We should not degrade their (CF-104 squadrons) deterrent value by making them conventional."

We are more interested in preventing war than winning the same thing if it starts."

New Year Looms Bright Says Mayor H. J. McFarland

PICTON — The new year may hold bright things in store for the town and county, Mayor H. J. McFarland pointed out in his inaugural address to town and county council Monday night.

"I am sure the Green Point Deseronto bridge will be started this year. It would mean a great deal to this district," the Mayor said.

"The industries are considerably increasing here, but we know other communities are also seeking them."

"However, there is a prospect we've established industries expanding Lake Ontario Portlands Cement Co. has plans for expansion and if these proceed it would mean employment for 50 to 75 more people."

"Proctor & Silas Ltd. now employs 300 personnel. Now they are enlarging their plant in order to handle another piece of business equipment in the Picton factory. Such an increase would add 75 to the payroll," the mayor said.

Mayor McFarland expressed pleasure at the last iteration of the Canadian Guards leaving Picton and called on local citizens and business men to give them every cooperation. "The army camp is a big industry," he pointed out.

A committee of councillors Robert Walmsley, James Bird and George Mordean was named to further explore the possibility of centrally located down of offices.

Other special committees named by the mayor were J. Morden, H. Hepburn and J. B. Calman to Retail Merchants' Committee and Councilors Walmsley, Bird and Mordean on diversification.

George Eason was reappointed to the Library Board and Rev. Donald Dempsey held the same board to complete the term of Robert H. W. Park.

It was decided to wait until February to set up a recreation committee composed of council members and representatives of local service clubs.

The following committees were named:

"Finance, Printing and Supplies" — Councilors Jack Bird, Deputy Reeve Don Thompson, Councilor A. Jarvis.

"Housing, Planning and Development Committee" — Reeve R. Thompson, Councilors R. Robb, Walmsley.

"Town Property and Streets" — Councilors R. Clapp, Deputy Reeve H. Hepburn, Councilor A. Jarvis.

"Member Committee" — Deputy Reeve Don Thompson, Councilors J. B. Calman, R. Clapp.

"Fire Committee" — Councilors J. B. Calman, A. Jarvis, G. Morden.

"Traffic and Parking Committee" — Councilors G. Morden, R. Hepburn, Councilor R. B. Calman.

"Welfare Department" — Councilor A. Jarvis, Deputy Reeve Don Thompson, Councilor Robb, Walmsley.

"Parks" — Councilors Robb, Walmsley, J. Bird, George Mordean.

Women Vie For Barber Curling Cup

"TON" — Prior, Edward Curling Club "ladies" section had been competition on Monday with the Barber Curling Club.

The women's rink was skippered by Mrs. Mary McFarland as third, Donna English second and Lenora — 1st.

Runners-up were Carol R. Ball, Ruth Hart, Lois Wood and Bev McFarland.

In the second event, winning rink was composed of Agnes Redmond, skip, Pat Stanton, Phyllis McKee and Terri Fox.

Runners-up were Kay Gribble, skip, Carol Colton, Chris Crook and Barbara Welsh.

Feature of men's play Monday was opportunity to skip with leads as vice-skip and the regular skip as leads. It is this hope to develop more skips and lessen interest of players in the game.

Youngest Bishop Is Installed

MONTREAL (CP)—Rev. Robert James Macquarie, 38, youngest member of the Anglican hierarchy in Canada, has been installed as Montreal's eighth Anglican bishop, a task for him, he told a packed audience.

"I ask you to continue to pray for me," he told a packed audience who came to see his enthronement Monday night in bishopric of Christ Church Cathedral.

March of Dimes Campaign Organized

The Marching Mothers are starting to form ranks for their annual campaign for funds for the March of Dimes, and they are looking for help in their work from the women of Belleville.

In an organizational meeting yesterday evening Chief Marching Mother Mrs. J. R. Slater said that the women of Belleville had put on a very successful campaign in 1952 to raise funds to help handicapped or disabled people gain a useful role in modern society.

It only takes an hour's time spent in visiting friends and neighbors right in one's own neighborhood," advised Mrs. Slater. The 1953 campaign on March of Mothers will be held on Monday, January 28th, this year.

Wives and mothers who are interested in giving their assistance should contact the committee by telephoning WO 8-7828.

Last year the women of the community achieved their goal of $6,000. This year the goal has been increased to $8,000.

Those on the local committee include: Mrs. Jack Clarke, finance chairman; Mrs. James Matthews, publicity chairman; Mrs. Grace Badgley, Mrs. Phil Bennett, Mrs. Harold Meyers and Mrs. Norel Wilbur as committee members; and Mrs. James Matthews, who is in charge of the coin collector distribution.

Alpha Group Holds Season's First Meeting

The Alpha group of St. Columba Presbyterian Church held its first meeting of the new year on January 6th, at the home of Mrs. Norman Hutchinson. There were 13 members present.

The meeting was opened with a short worship service given by Mrs. G. Miller, Mrs. R. D. Taylor gave a brief outline of what the business study for this year would be.

The business meeting followed during which a motion was passed that, when possible, meetings would be held in members' homes rather than at the church.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Robert R. Brain, President of the Alpha group, who gave the assistance of Alpha, he gave a most interesting and informative talk on the many health problems that can affect the feet, along with helpful hints on foot care. All the members enjoyed this talk immensely, and Mrs. Hutchinson voiced the group's thanks to Dr. Brain.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held on February 7th, at the home Mrs. W. C. Willis.

W.I. Meeting Told of Plan For Course

TORONTO (CP)—A new adult education program, a one-semester school, at the Federal College in Guelph is being outlined for board directors of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario during their annual meeting which opened here Tuesday.

Helen McKewen, director of the home economics service of the department of agriculture and honorary president of the federation, said the school would be held July 19-23 and would be designed to promote the activities of rural women.

Tankard Final Today at Curling Club

The Ontario Ladies' Silver Tankard, District 18 playdowns leading toward the curling championship of the province began yesterday, in Belleville. The RCAF club, with Mrs. Wilson as skip, defeated Miller as skip, best two risks shipped by Mrs. Mary Wilson.

The games are played on a two risk, inter-club basis. Club members are divided by the combined scores of their two risks.

Two semi-final events today matched the RCAF team against the Belleville Curling Club, represented by skip Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Joan Sheppard; and the Cauteray club, skip Mrs. Grace Saint and Mrs. Flossie Seymour against Mrs. Betty Reid and Mrs. Jim Walsh, skipper for the Kingston club.

The final game, played at 3 p.m. today, matched the winners of the two semi-finals, for the District Championship.

EXECUTE FIVE.
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) Five men have been executed today on assassinations and "Ruchy Party," which should be a most important.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostesses. In the afternoon, Mrs. R. Hinchey and Mrs. E. E. Foulwell.

Christ Church P.G. Elects 1963 Officers

Christ Church Parish Guild held its annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the parish hall. Following the opening prayer and hymn, president, Mrs. I. N. Starin, cordially welcomed the large attendance of members.

The report given by the treasurer testified to the fact that the Guild has had a most industrious and rewarding year. Largest project undertaken by the Guild was an extensive renovation to the rectory. The Guild also had a most successful reception and five dinners or banquets. Cards and good wishes were sent to members of the congregation who were ill and shut-ins were remembered at Christmas-time. It was reported that there are at present 40 contributions to the centennial fund and that their cause this year have been most commendable.

Referring president, Mrs. Starin, spoke briefly, thanking all those who had worked so tirelessly to make the year such a success and extended her good wishes to the incoming executive.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.
Mrs. E. Fleming presiding to install these officers on appropriate ceremony. Mrs. Fleming congratulated the outgoing executive and wished the new officers well, saying that "Under God we can use our talents and labor to good effect." The new executive members are as follows: past president—Mrs. I. N. Starin; president—Mrs. A. M. Jordan; vice-president—Mrs. G. E. Adams; recording secretary—Mrs. E. C. Coulson; treasurer—Mrs. F. Laidler.

Mrs. Jordan took charge of the remainder of the meeting, thanking those who had elected her and making the cooperation of all the members in future undertakings. First of June will be a rummage sale which will be held towards the end of January. Donations of rummage and volunteer helpers for the sale are both needed. In February the Guild will hold a "Valentine" to the community and "Ruchy Party," which should be a most important.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostesses. In the afternoon, Mrs. R. Hinchey and Mrs. E. E. Foulwell.

Should Baby Gifts Be Returned

DEAR DORIS—My problem is this: Just recently we were bereaved by the death of our infant son (age 4 days). I would like to know what is proper regarding gifts received for the baby. Are those returned to the giver—DESOLATE.

DEAR DESOLATE—There's no etiquette in the books to cover this sad circumstance. Actually, your baby did live and presumably received the gifts which came to him. I cannot feel that any of the donors would like to have them back.

Now would a little personal note do, something like this:

"We appreciated very much the lovely little nightgown you gave to our baby. As you know, little Pete did not stay with us long enough to use it."

"I am hoping you will let us put it away in a special hope chest looking forward to the possibility of another little one coming along in the not-too-distant future, who will be able to enjoy it."

(Is it a point of etiquette that puzzles you? Ask Doris about it.)

Astrological Forecast
 by SYDNEY OMARE
 Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Today spotlight is on schedule routine. Balance budget. Emphasize systematic way of accomplishing purpose. Evening fun for relaxing, travelling, giving attention to special friends.
 Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Today, be prepared for change, outbursts from temperamental individuals. Remain calm. Have facts at hand. Be ready to display your own abilities. But do so in quiet, assured manner.
 Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Moon in your sign makes emphasis on personality, intuition, ability to "sell" yourself. For display of originality, showmanship be independent, eloquent, perceptive.
 Cancer (June 22 to July 21): You can "charm" your way to success for future financial gain. Make contacts, spread message. Have confidential talk with family member. Clear "emotional debris."
 Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Moon in your sign makes emphasis on personality, intuition, ability to "sell" yourself. For display of originality, showmanship be independent, eloquent, perceptive.
 Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You may have to give up some

CAMPBELLFORD Harry Bradley M.P. Addresses Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD — The need for intelligent study of the world in which the foundations of Canada as a nation are laid was stressed by Northern Ontario M.P. Harry Bradley when he addressed the Campbellford Rotary Club on Monday.

Mr. Bradley said that many people were disturbed by the movement in Quebec, and by recent discussion of the role of the separation of the provinces.

He said that these two instances showed more Canadians must not be taken for granted. In 1867, the union of the four provinces presented a great problem since the French were in Quebec to a great extent.

Confederation represented the triumph of the rights of the individual. Under the British, the Crown Colony enjoyed many privileges not enjoyed in Britain until a much later date.

Freedom of language and religion were given in Canada by the Quebec Act of 1774. Thirty years before the same rights were abolished in Ontario in 1791, but not until 1833 in British North America.

The B.N.A. act was an admission of the fact that the colonies feared the United States. The fact that the colonies were stronger than generally believed.

Canada could not become the melting pot of nations as did the U.S.A., because the British Canada did not want to conform, but was given the right to establish separate institutions.

Mr. Bradley pointed out that the Crown which guaranteed these privileges has now surrendered its power. The charge of British Imperialism is a charge of British Imperialism is a charge of British Imperialism.

He said that the assumption of a powerful independence from the greatest empire in modern times. Let us set an example to the world who seek this freedom.

He said that the celebration of the foundations set by British North America in 1867 could not be celebrated by burning effigies, but by talk of separation, but by study of Canada's position carefully.

He urged a review of weaknesses in the constitution and tolerance, because in this way only could he become a leader for many less fortunate nations.

The Noble Grands of both lodges of that period were honored at this time and they were: Sisters Anna Clancy, Mary Hulin, Olive Whitcomb, Marie Carlie, Alice Martin, Mary Wasmann, Hilda Ross, John Richardson; Brothers Kenneth Ray, Harold Johnson, Robert Hulin, Charles Farley, Frank Bert Jones, Roy Under and Bill St. Pierre. Sister Anna Clancy and Brother Kenneth Ray held office in both the old hall and the new and were the ones who signed the mortgage. Sister Marie Richardson and Brother John Richardson held office in both the old hall and the new and were the ones who signed the mortgage.

Mr. Robert Wilson who had held the mortgage gave a short message wishing Oddfellows in the new hall every success in future years.

Following the ceremony Mr. D. D. Dods, minister of St. John's, gave the benediction during the invocation prayer.

The group repaired to the dining hall where a large group of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs served refreshments of cheese, pickles, a variety of sandwiches and tart and coffee.

This was a memorable evening based on Gables 610 "We have therefore opportunity, let us do good to all men, especially to them who are the household of faith."

Miss Louise Ruth returned in her home in Toronto after holding day with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Deane, and Mrs. Harold Turner, her guests on New Year's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis, who were New Year's guests of the Sunday of their daughter, Mrs. and Mr. Charles Curtis, of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson, Linda, Karen and Cheryl Debra of Trenton accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rued, Larry, Timmy and Bonnie of Belleville and Mrs. Loree Orr, of Corning Place, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reid and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandcock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner of Frankford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Trice, Stephen and Cathy, of Belleville, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis.

AFL Boss Denies Rumors

Says League Not Under Scandal Probe

By MIKE RATERY

Grid Deaths Decreased Last Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football deaths decreased 24.7 per cent in the United States in 1981, but added safety controls could reduce the toll still further, the American Football Coaches Association was told Tuesday.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, who conducts an annual survey of football fatalities, reported 50 players died of heart and direct trauma last year. In 1980, the total was 57.

High school football accounted for 15 of the 50 deaths directly attributed to the game last year, Dr. Eastwood said. Six died in football games and 10 in semi-professional football.

He noted that during the 1980s he has made the sport 23.1 per cent of the 639 direct fatalities occurred in campus-related accidents in 1982 were 16, with heat stroke involved in five.

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Joe Foss of the American Football League denies more linking his league with the increasing tally of a better scandal in United States professional football.

Foss, in Los Angeles, told The Associated Press Tuesday night.

"No governmental investigation agency, at either the federal or state level, has been in contact with the AFL office," Foss also said to the Associated Press.

He said the AFL, which would cause him to lose his doctorate, a power he has under league rules. But he added:

"I'm not so naive, however, to think that in any league of this kind, with so many players, there may not be a few boys who would have some contact with association with people who might be considered tainted."

"All you have to do is bump into the wrong kind of person on the street, let someone invent a point, and they'll say you're associating with him," Foss said. "We're always on the lookout in such a matter, but there's been no contact by government bodies and as far as the league knows there's no cause for any contact."

Foss was commenting on a situation that has produced little fire and much smoke since last Friday when there was a spate of rumors of betting cover-ups and tampering in the National Football League. Later newspaper reports linked the AFL with similar rumors.

NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle, emphasizing that no investigation from federal agencies, said Tuesday league investigations being conducted in Chicago and Detroit have uncovered "nothing more than questionable associations."

Names that have been included in the reports include Hall of Fame Ray Flaherty, Jackie Alex Karras and line backer Warren Walker of Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears' fullback Rickey Davis.

"There have been no charges against any player and the league has maintained that its investigations, routinely conducted as in previous years, have turned up nothing of a criminal nature."

Rozelle said it has been NFL policy to check even the faintest rumor.

Last Tribute Paid to The 'Rajah'

CHICAGO (AP)—Reggie Henson, one of baseball's all-time greats who died Saturday, was paid last respect Tuesday. More than 200 persons jammed the funeral chapel. A solemn flower arrangement was near the altar, on shaped like a baseball diamond.

Henson, who had a 22-season career hitting average of .300, including an epic 426 in 1924 with St. Louis Cardinals, didn't die the flowers and requested that none be sent.

He died at the age of 66 from a heart condition after entering hospital Dec. 10 for a coronary operation.

YOUTH DIES WRESTLING MONDOWI, Wis. (AP)—Leon Lucka, a 17-year-old wrestler at Mondowis High School, died in the arms of his opponent during an exhibition match Tuesday. Cause of death was not determined.

A 25-year-old Belleville youth has accomplished something no other Canadian has been able to do.

John Lewis, prize of the Quinte district's weightlifting enthusiasts, added new glory to his impressive record during the past week by setting three new Junior World records.

Lewis, 25-year-old star of the Apollo Bar-Bell Club here, established records for the press, the clean and jerk and for his total at a contest held at his home club on the weekend.

The young strongman also broke four British Empire Junior records which he himself had set earlier, on the way to his world honors.

Lewis press was 255½ pounds, bettering the world mark of 251, held by Kowalski, of Poland.

Notre, of Poland, held the Junior records for the snatch, 275½ pounds, the clean and jerk 341½, and for a total of 593½ pounds.

Lewis set a clean and jerk record of 346 pounds and a new total record of 699 pounds.

The meet in which Lewis broke the world records was sanctioned by the AAU of Canada, with a referee and two judges handling the officiating.

Ken Carr-Braun, of the Apollo Club, claims that this is the first time that any Canadian has broken a Junior world weightlifting record.

Lewis made no mistake about changing all that by breaking no less than three in the one contest.

CAMPBELLFORD Northumberland H. S. Board Lists Officers

CAMPBELLFORD — G. W. Buchanan was re-elected for a second term as chairman of the North East Northumberland District High School Board at the inaugural meeting of the Board here on the weekend.

Board members spoke prior to the meeting, praising the efforts on behalf of the Board during the previous term.

Alvin Buchanan was named vice-chairman and Mrs. George Vio as secretary-treasurer for another term.

The Board decided to alter its banking business, using one of each of the three bank branches in the district each year. The Bank of Montreal in Campbellford will handle the yearly banking for 1936.

Committees named for the coming year were as follows: (The first named is chairman in each case.)

Education: D. H. Bennett, P. G. O'Sullivan, Alvin Buchanan; Finance, L. Mountjoy, Alvin Buchanan, D. H. Bennett; Transportation, P. G. O'Sullivan, Dr. J. E. Trimble, W. Roy Loucks; Property, Dr.

J. E. Trimble, W. Roy Loucks, L. Mountjoy.

The Board will call for tenders in February for supplies of paper to be used during the year.

Dr. J. E. Trimble reported that considerable interest had been shown in a wrestling club that had been started at the school, and that the club played inter-school competitions with seven other schools in the area.

The Board granted permission to the town council and the public school board to install an outdoor ice rink on the high school grounds, with the council and the public school board to be responsible for maintaining it.

Memberships in the Association of High School Boards of Ontario, and the Ontario School Trustees' Council were renewed.

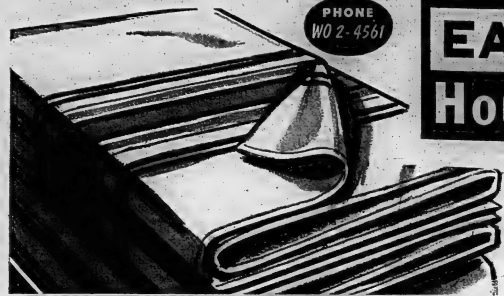

A special meeting will be held on January 22nd for the purpose of examining final plans for the new school that should give long service.

High School for the start of the 1935 fall term.

Sugar Prices Move With Price Increase

THE CANADIAN PRESS
By Tom J. M. Southern

Canadian sugar prices are moving into line with rising world prices.

The Canadian Sugar Company Limited and B.C. Sugar, the two major processors, announced Tuesday that they will be increasing their prices for 1963 sugar by 10 per cent, from 100 pounds of sugar to 110 pounds of sugar, with other companies expected to follow suit.

The increase in the price of sugar resulted from a combination of factors, including the fact that new sugar throughout the world is being produced in larger quantities than in previous years.

At the same time, B. E. Easton, agricultural superintendent for Canada and Dominion, urged the federal government to establish a sugar subsidy program to ensure stability of supply.

Canadian sugar is sold in the form of raw sugar, which is then refined into white sugar.

The increase by Canada and Dominion, its second sugar producer, is the first since 1957 when the price for 100 pounds of sugar was 85 cents.

The price for 100 pounds of sugar is now 110 cents.

Sales manager John Morrison said that the price increase will be well below those of 1967 when the price for 100 pounds of sugar was 120 cents.

The price for 100 pounds of sugar is now 110 cents.

Manufacturers Say Tax Cuts Urgently Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in a pre-budget brief to the government Wednesday, said the need for cuts in corporate and personal income taxes is too urgent to wait on recommendations from the royal commission on taxation.

The association's delegation stated that corporate taxes "undoubtedly add to the cost of finished goods and make it difficult for the Canadian manufacturer to compete with foreign manufacturers both in Canada and abroad."

The structure and level of personal income taxes, they said, undoubtedly have a strong tendency to discourage initiative as well as to make it difficult to achieve new capital formation in Canada.

Carl Pollock, president of the association and president of Dominion Electronics Industries Ltd., Etobicoke, headed the delegation, which in day-long discussions talked with Finance Minister Howland, Revenue Minister Stinchcombe, and Trade Minister Fries and Senator Wallace Macdonell, minister without portfolio.

Mr. Howland later told reporters he had discussed the brief in detail with the delegation.

He said he was pleased with the warmth with which the association had commended the government for steps taken in the last year to encourage industry and improve markets.

Signs in French Used in Test In Scarborough

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto's first bilingual road signs have been set up on four residential streets in suburban Scarborough.

Scarborough traffic coordinator Ronald Anderson says the signs were erected to determine whether motorists actually read such signs or merely go by shapes and colors.

The three types of signs being used read: "Arrêt-Stop," "Code-Yellow" and "No Right Turn-Non-voies." In each case the French appears above the English translation.

Only a dozen of the signs have been set up. After they have been in use for a week traffic officials will check motorists in the area to learn whether they have noted anything unusual.

"There may be no reaction at all," Mr. Anderson said. "The signs are the standard shapes and sizes recommended by the Canadian Uniform Traffic Manual, which has been compiled by the Canadian Good Roads Association."

"Most motorists will stop if they see an octagonal red sign and they may not even read the legend on it."

Macmillan

sion that will determine expansion plans. Ordinary Britons are amazed that the application to join the European Six has been left in suspense for nearly two years.

Whether Britain is in or out will almost certainly be decided within the next six months, perhaps by mid-February.

What if Britain is coldly rejected by Europe? How can she survive as an offshore island isolated from the European "supermarket" that is one of the world's fastest-growing economic units?

On the surface the outlook seems bleak, but Conservatives propagandists would be far from downhearted.

In fact, some would see such a "crisis" as a heaven-sent opportunity, a kind of post-war Dunkirk that would produce a national resurgence in a country always at its best with its back to the wall.

Meanwhile, Macmillan grapples with day-to-day problems. There will be no celebrations today to recall that exactly six years have passed since he succeeded Sir Anthony Eden as prime minister.

"He has been'still in the celebrations," an aide said. "But his mood is very cheerful."

BUS OVERTURNS

GLASGOW (AP) — Thirty-seven persons were injured today — several severely — in a crash between a crowded double-decker bus and a gasoline tanker. The bus, topped on its side and crashed into the window of a tavern. About 20 of the injured were admitted to hospital, police said.

SPEAKING OF MANNERS

THE COMMON COLD

Everyone's "hot a cold" now, says, and the question now is how to keep it from spreading.

Courtesy may not be the antidote for the common cold, but in many instances it is a help.

Even the smallest child knows that he should cover his mouth when he coughs and his nose when he sneezes. This is a graceful and good manner as well as a token method of trying to protect others. While the sneezing and sniffing continues, however, there are a few other steps that can be taken that show a basic consideration of healthier social behavior than not yet taken action.

Try to stay out of crowded places. This may curtail your social life to some extent, but remember it's only temporary. Decline invitations for the duration, or at least until the most serious symptoms have cleared up. Dancing and the theatre, where life often helps prevent a more serious infection, are not as exposed to the cold as you already know.

It's never courteous to be a constant borrower, and it's even less so when you've got a cold if you must go to the office, don't use a phone on someone else's desk. The same goes for cups and spoons that might be used for morning coffee breaks. They may be rinsed out afterwards, but such a thorough cleaning doesn't do a thorough enough job on cold germs which are notoriously tenacious. Drink from a disposable container instead and try to save others from the way you are a cold combinator.

Women's Rights Pioneer Observes 95th Birthday

ALICE ALLEN (CT)—Mrs. Irene Parley and her husband broke bread on their hundredth birthday 95 years ago yesterday.

On that same farm, the pioneer women parliamentarian celebrated her 95th birthday.

Despite arthritis and some stiffness in a hip she broke at the age of 86, Mrs. Parley is in good health.

Mrs. Parley, one of the first women cabinet ministers in parliamentary government and the last surviving member of the five women who fought for women's rights to sit in the Senate, will greet them.

She was named minister without portfolio in the United Farmers of Alberta government in 1922 and sat in the provincial legislature for the next 14 years.

It was in the late 1890s that Mrs. Parley obtained national prominence as one of five Alberta women presiding for the dedication of women to the Canadian Senate.

Their work was rewarded in 1929 when the Privy Council in London ruled that women were eligible for Senate appointment.

Today her name is engraved in a place in the Senate chamber along with that of Judge Emily Murphy, Mrs. Louise McClary, Mrs. G. C. Edwards and Mrs. Nell McChung.

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)

One Woman's 'True' Story

DEAR DORIS—Reading your comment on "Doping DUFF" later that the other woman has a good deal to answer for—how right you are! Often these kinds of very are more to blame for husbands' defections than any other cause. Only two years ago my husband, who played unmercifully on his wife's affection and sympathy by feeding him long hard back takes, playing the part of the suffering, deserted well as well as convinced him she needed him more than his own family.

When all this came to light, I somehow managed to hold on to my courage and girded myself for a hard battle. Directly I made enquiries and after verifying certain facts, was able to prove this man had done the same thing to several other men, all married, and in two cases causing divorce. My husband was no advanced of himself and was stunned by my understanding and sympathy that he gladly returned to me, and we have been wonderfully happy since. He sometimes looks around our home, at our two sons, at me and says: "To think I almost lost all this."

Through my own experience, I can give this advice: If you learn of your man's infidelity, don't go off half-cocked. Try to be calm, even though your heart is breaking; find out all the circumstances. Be understanding, even if you would like to scream and weep with hurt and wounded pride. Chances are he was duped as my husband was and is only hoping for your voice calling him back where he belongs—ONE WHO KNOWS.

DEAR KNOWS—Good for you. It takes plenty of fortitude and love to do what you did.

DEAR DORIS—For years after I left the navy I worked as a chauffeur to a rear admiral—a fine family in the north of England. Then I moved to Canada with my family and took what I could get. At present I am doing car washing.

Doris, I would with all my heart like very much to go back to domestic work as a chauffeur. I have all the necessary qualifications—ODD BALL SERVANT.

DEAR ODD BALL—I can't think of anything more different from chauffeur than an waitress. If you enjoy devoted service to people—rather than things—get back at it.

There's a family that needs you, somewhere. That's for sure. Talk to you N.E.S. office; advertise in the newspaper. Then before you drop your waiting look for good, be sure the job that's right for you is in the bag.

DEAR DORIS—I am 17 and in grade 11, and haven't yet made up my mind as to what career I want to follow. However, I am very interested in welfare work and would especially like to work among the people of the underprivileged countries. Could you give me any information about this work or where to obtain it? What education does it require?—INTERESTED IN OTHERS.

DEAR INTERESTED—I am sending you my leaflet on the profession of social work, which requires university training.

There are many locations throughout the world where persons trained to help can restore individuals and families to a state of self-confidence and happy living. To learn more about it, write to the Commission on Education and Personnel, Canadian Welfare Council, Ottawa, Canada.

(Wondering about a career? Doris can guide you to guidance. Write to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Rasminsky Warns Against Drawing Hasty Conclusions From Changes in Bank Rate

OTTAWA (CP)—Louis Rasminsky has issued a warning against jumping to conclusions about a change in the bank rate. He said that the bank's move to raise the bank rate to 10 per cent was announced last week during the Christmas season and was "correctly" a strong confirmation of a major change in monetary policy.

But the same cannot be said for the three subsequent reductions to the present level of four per cent. Mr. Rasminsky said that the three step-down "what was under way was a more or less continuous, gradual and tentative modification in the emphasis of policy rather than any major turning points in policy with unambiguous implications for the future."

He added: "We were to develop a new policy, but the bank rate change is supposed to be a sign of something new. We will, I think be creating false expectations and confusion in the normal course of this rate."

Umoms Must Be Recognized As Equals With Management In Solving Economic Woes

KITCHENER (CP)—Canadian labor is eager to join management and government in seeking solutions for Canada's economic problems, but not until they are recognized as equal partners with management and government. This was the message of William Dodge, executive vice-president of the Canadian Labor Congress, at a conference of the National Productivity Council in Ottawa last Wednesday.

Mr. Dodge said that the government must recognize the fact that the labor union is a co-operating partner in solving the economic problems of the country. Higher Sugar Prices Mean Boost in Jam, Candy Costs

TORONTO (CP)—Sprockman for the candy and jam industry said today that some of the pressure on the higher sugar prices in the last two weeks will cause an increase in their retail prices.

C. R. Dryden, president and general manager of the Canadian Candy Manufacturers' Association, Limited, which-owned subsidiary of the Canadian Candy Manufacturers' Association, Limited, said that the price of sugar will rise from 34 cents to 36 cents a pound in the next few weeks.

A leading Canadian confectionery firm said that hard candy prices would rise immediately by two or three cents a pound. The company, which asked not to be identified, said that since it handled 100,000 pounds of sugar a year, it "is not too badly hit" by the rise in sugar prices.

Paul Brown Was Grid Genius

CLEVELAND (CP)—Thirty years that Paul Brown was as popular in Cleveland as a football team was named after him. But that was 17 years ago. Things have changed.

The National Football League's Cleveland Browns have relieved their founder of his job as general manager and coach.

The end of a gridiron era came Wednesday with a simple but stunning announcement from Arthur B. Modell, club president.

"Paul E. Brown, head coach and general manager of Cleveland Browns, will no longer serve the team in those capacities," Modell said.

"Brown will remain as a vice-president . . . and will assume other duties. He will finish out the balance of his six-year contract at the same one per cent salary and will continue to be a stockholder."

Brown, 54, signed an eight-year contract two years ago after the Browns had been in the NFL since 1946.

Modell indicated Brown's shoes will be filled by two men—a coach and a general manager.

"As far as a coach, I have someone in mind now," Modell said. "One is in the college ranks and the other three are pro coaches, but not necessarily head coaches."

Brown is believed to be drawing in excess of $500,000 a year from the Browns. But it was not that friction was building up between him and Modell.

Modell came on the scene in March, 1951, when Brown was the head coach of the Cleveland Browns.

Brown was reported to be in fine physical condition and the state of tension, meaning the team has been arrested temporarily.

every championship in the four years that league has won. In 13 NFL seasons the Browns have won seven Eastern Conference titles and three league championships.

Brown's 25-year coaching record is probably unmatched. He won 266 games, lost 79 and had 15 ties in various leagues.

As a coach, Brown was a cool head. He revolutionized many coaching ideas since copied by others in pro ranks. He took movies of all games, kept exhaustive statistics on players and was the first to employ an entire coaching staff for 52 weeks and keep them all busy.

Balding Cards 68 In Warmup

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (CP)—Toronto's Al Balding, who tied for second place behind Arnold Palmer Monday in the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is shooting for another galling pay check this week.

Balding carded a three-under par 68 Wednesday in a pro-am warmup for the $25,000 San Diego Open which opens today.

The early Toronto pro has tough competition. Bob Houburg fired a record 69 in Wednesday's warmup event to win $500. Dow Finsterwald toured the $100,000 San Diego Open which opens today.

Most same golfers, with the exception of Jack Nicklaus and Palmer, are in the San Diego area in New York Wednesday night to be honored at the 100th anniversary of the national golf awards dinner.

Tie Pates For Second

Habs Blast Flyers 6-1

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's bad enough to lose your grip on first place by losing, but it's worse to sit helplessly on the sidelines and watch someone take it away from you. This is the position of Niagara Falls Flyers who hold a one-point lead in the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A group.

Montreal Junior Canadiens and Peterborough Pates, are tied in second place, one point behind the Flyers, and meet tonight at Peterborough.

The best the Flyers can hope for is a tie which would give them at least a one-third share of first place.

The Canadiens hoped to tie with Peterborough Wednesday night at Montreal by blasting Niagara Falls 4-1 in the top-of-the-hour game.

Centre Bill Inglis scored the only goal for the Flyers. The Canadiens had a pair of goals and other Montreal marksmen were Norm Dennis, Jacques Melrose, Germain Gagnon and Andre Laguerre.

Terry Crisp scored the Flyers' lone goal.

LEAVES HOSPITAL. BARRIE (CP)—Ray Garripy, 34-year-old former defenceman with the America's Hockey League Hurley Stars and Pittsburgh Hornets, was released from hospital Wednesday and confined to bed at home with injuries suffered in a hockey game Monday night.

Garripy crashed into the boards during a game between Ontario Terriers and Midland Flyers, the Georgian Bay League team for which the veteran now plays.

Barons Whip Redskins 3-1, Indians Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freddie Glover, the American Hockey League's "Mr. Every-thing," isn't letting the business of coaching affect his playing. The pugacious veteran winger and rookie coach has his Cleveland Barons moving upwards much like his personal totals of goals, assists points and penalty minutes. His career averages in these departments are top in the league.

Glover scored one goal and assisted on Wayne Boddy's marker as the Barons defeated Pittsburgh Hornets 3-1 Wednesday night.

Springfield Indians whipped Pittsburgh Hornets 4-1 in the other scheduled game.

Glover's two points gave him a career total of 1,031. The assist was No. 500. He also received a major penalty for fighting with Dino MacKort of the Red Sox late in the game. While they were in the penalty box, Hawk's Club wrapped things up for the Barons. Ed MacQueen got the goal for the Penguins. Springfield moved out of the Eastern Division basement with a big assist from defenceman Bob McCord, who scored twice. Jim Anderson, Bill Swensen also registered for the Indians, while Ed Joly got Pittsburgh's lone tally.

BOBBY HULL, Chicago Black Hawks' "Golden Hawk," and one of the Quinsie district's best-known athletes, will be one of the featured guests at the Sports Celebrities Dinner being held at the Hotel Quinsie here on Thursday, January 17. All proceeds from the dinner will go to the Belleville Junior "B" Hockey Club.

Jax. Try to "referee" when friends disagree. Realize that a bit of "face-saving" may be necessary. Call upon inner wisdom to help you decide.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
Avoid self-deception today. Take another look at facts, figure out what you really want in mind. Be truthful with yourself. Forget would-be "experts," decide your own declarations, decisions.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Good Moon aspect today. Stay on target. Your mind is able to grasp concepts. Stay focused. Pay heed to inner feelings. Read, write, create and learn. Attend to details early.

Cancer (Jun. 21 to Jul. 20)
20: Day of questions, travel, answers, attention to special details. Stay alert with variety, opportunity. But you may try to finish one project at a time and avoid scattering focus.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18):

added consideration to children, pets, hobbies, needs, loved ones. You may feel the more you can accomplish the better. Plan, conserve strength.

If Today is Your Birthday, you would make excellent teacher, architect, historian. You are fascinated with the past, but also have tremendous curiosity about the future.

General Tendencies: Cycle of Cancer, Leo, Virgo. Do when arguments abound. Emotion tends to dictate to reason.

BUTTER REGULATION

Butter sold in Canada must contain at least 80 per cent fat and not more than 16 per cent water.

Astrological Forecast

For January 11

By SYLVIA QAMAR

Actes (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Today explore alternate ways means of accomplishing goals. You may find that verbal, communication appear new. You may find that opportunities appear. Not member Golden Rule.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Today you may find that ride with the tide. Means don't force. Wait. Let others come. You may find that you don't take. Look for more favorable conditions. Sit back, "survive" and wait.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): You have chosen today to make a decision. You may find that call past experience, past favor-

Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Today you may find that question. Financial pressure may exist. Accept the added risk. You may find that you build foundation for future.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Today you may find that projects could dissipate energy. Concentrate on the new. You may find that you stand strong about the past. You may find that you take care with personal appearance.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21): Today you may find that perception. You may find that Trust, honesty, and loyalty may mean. But they may mean less. You may find that perception. Be self-reliant. Take steps of self-sacrificement. You may find that you want to find. You may find that you seek justice saves the

Kennedy Could Rather Be Right Than Be Wrong

Plans to Get More Done Though It Irrks Allies

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy says he intends to pursue his policy, goals and leadership with more vigor in 1961 even though this may cause some friction and less harmony with the Western allies.

While the United States must expect more opposition from governments and newspapers abroad, Kennedy said, "I don't expect the U.S. will be more isolated. I would hope that we could get more done."

Kennedy made the remarks during a background conference with correspondents at 11 a.m. in the White House. He said he was not a victim of distortion of his views in some overseas reports.

ELECTION SEEMS FAR AWAY AS EVER

Parties Have Not Changed Strategy

OTTAWA (CP)—The various political leaders in Canada believed, the political situation in Parliament will be unchanged when Mr. Lester B. Pearson's government is elected.

From the recent statements of Liberal, Conservative and Social Credit leaders, this appears to be the outlook for the next election.

Liberal Leader Pearson will be touring countries in Europe for an early election.

Conservative Leader Diefenbaker is expected to push ahead with his legislative program, leaving the chips fall as they may when the election is held.

Social Credit, which provided the government with a majority in the House of Commons, is expected to remain in office for some time.

It is expected that the government will continue to pursue its policy of economic development.

Carmel C.C. Plans for Bright Future

Meeting of Carmel Community Club was held in the church hall on Monday evening. The minister, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. D. took the chair, owing to illness of the minister, Mr. D. J. D. to conduct a useful meeting, it was resolved, unanimously, that the present executive continue in office until June. It was further resolved that a serious effort be made by imaginative planning and vigorous local advertising to build a new association. The organization was known for the time being as the Carmel Community Association in order to interest all residents (irrespective of age) in the association. It is planned for a January meeting which will be the most important and topical. The meeting is set for Friday, January 25th at 8:00 p.m.

The program will consist of a film "Wild Life and/or Overseas Travel" will be shown. Local interest will be recruited to add flavor to the evening. Admittance will be "one paid per family."

This meeting is designed to stimulate and revive interest in an adult association (children welcome) in the community. The present executive recognizes the need for a community association but also recognizes the fundamental requirement of members. The residents of Carmel (15th and 16th) are encouraged to join an association which is offering programs monthly.

The present hard-working executive is resolved to revive this branch of their efforts. They have the support of the community residents.

Bride's Mother Gets Billing In Two Houses

NEW YORK (AP)—Business will soon be brisk at the marriage of the famous actress, the current preview of spring fashions.

So confident are designers in the infallibility of their mantras that they have already prepared for the effect by volume of a bumper crop of costumes for mothers-of-the-bride.

The bride's mother got the billing when two design houses, Irvy and Sontheim and Met. They, however, dressed Thursday, the bride's mother is expected to be wearing them, too.

Fashion competition between the two mothers is to be seen, as a problem in the field that each may spend more on her own than the bride does on hers.

Practically every bride mother over the nation that she has met of some 20 years be a grandmother.

Sunday School Lesson

Marked by Tragedy

BY ROY L. SMITH

It is commonly assumed in wide areas of American life that the chief function of all that religion is to produce peace of mind. We will do well to remind ourselves that the beginning of Jesus' ministry was marked by a tragedy.

As the Gospel of Mark tells us, Jesus was baptized by John the first of four to have been baptized in his home country of Galilee "after John was arrested."

Later in his ministerial career Jesus declared that he had no power to bring peace, but a sword. By that life he evidently did not mean to say that he proposed to become the leader of an armed revolution. Rather, better, that he wanted to bring peace to the world by the way of the cross. He accepted the role of a suffering servant who would die for the sins of the world.

It is unfortunate that the impression has gotten about that Jesus' disciples were all peace people. It is true that they did not come from the official classes. But they were, actually, people of some influence and probably of some economic importance in their own community.

Matthew (sometimes called Levi) was in charge of the Roman customs house at Capernaum and was responsible for collecting the duties assessed against the caravans that travelled through the city. At least one Jewish scholar (Eldersheim) has estimated that he had deposited a cash bond with the Roman government in an amount of at least $40,000 in securing his appointment.

Peter and Andrew, and James and John, were in the business of catching and selling the Galilean fresh-water fish, exporting them to various important cities around the Mediterranean basin. They must have had commercial correspondents in at least a great many of the towns. The boys paid the banks in their respective towns, letters of credit were forwarded to Capernaum, and the fishermen collected from their local bankers. They could not have been other than men of some local importance, commercially speaking.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for January 13, "JESUS BEGINS HIS WORK," Mark 1:14-15.

It was with men of character, standing and quality that Jesus began his ministry. When, some years later, they remained Jesus that they had "left all" to follow him, they were not talking about trifling sacrifices. They had, literally, staked everything on Jesus and that "everything" was considerable.

MADE THEM BECOMERS There is something very significant about Jesus' word to the fishermen, "I will make you become."

It is the glory of Christianity through the centuries and around the earth, that when men really set out to follow Jesus they begin to become. And the Christian who is not becoming something splendid somehow, misses the great central fact and power of the Christian faith.

No man makes a more serious mistake than that one does who assumes that, having been "saved," his responsibilities and obligations are thereby at an end.

He who is truly Christian will look upon every definite problem, and provocation with which he is confronted as an opportunity to take at least one step forward.

No man is really "saved" who is not "growing in grace."

"GROW IN GRACE" At the close of a lecture at one of our great universities, I was sought out by a serious-minded youth who said, "I am having a little difficulty in my thinking about religion. As a biologist, I can study molecules and proteins under a micro-background contained a great deal of background information not available in the television interview, and added:

"I am afraid, however, that the numerous brochures of this particular background—particularly by organizations which were represented—means that there will be no more of these. But possibly there will be a further presidential exchange with the press patterned after the television appearance, and some to journalism of the printed word—and all on the record and in the open.

A partial text of what the president discussed last week with newspaper men at Palm Beach was released by the White House Thursday night. What Kennedy said about assessing a determined U.S. leadership in world affairs apparently represents the hardening of an attitude that has been developing within the administration for several months.

The fact that he said it emphasizes his present conviction that the U.S. can get the results it wants on issues important to world issues by so following what amounts to an independent policy.

Fed up With Fresh Brother-in-Law

DEAR DORIS:—My brother-in-law can't keep his hands off me. I've tried to push him away, but every time I just seem to give him. I don't want to hurt my sister because she loves him very much. He told me he loves her, too, but I don't believe him. I'm afraid that next time I see him he will be the same as before. If it returns him, he'll probably talk someone about me and make it a lot worse than it really was. If I go along with him, he still will probably talk about me. I am quite sure he takes me for a little fool but I still find it hard to refuse him as he has so much power of persuasion and I like him very much. Please tell me what to do.—DORIS, 19.

DEAR UNWILLING:—Either you stiffen your spine and refuse him, or you become a party to your sister's unhappiness. Don't be the little fool he takes you for, any longer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JANIE:—Your husband is a voracious (peeping Tom). If you make something of it, you'll probably irritate the cops. Better you should give him something pretty to look at home!

with NATO."

Gen. Foulkes cited two occasions when Prime Minister Diefenbaker and former defence minister George Pearson told Parliament the "agreement was being made—Feb. 20, 1960, and Aug. 3, 1961.

The dispute flared last week when Gen. Norstad said Canada committed to a nuclear role in NATO.

Gen. Foulkes later contradicted Gen. Norstad's statement, saying he had attended 1960 meetings at which Canada's nuclear role in NATO was discussed. He said that Canada's nuclear role was a matter of confidence. Gen. Foulkes' disclosure was a breach of confidence. Gen. Norstad, former chief of staff of the Canadian Army, said Gen. Foulkes' statement of cabinet affairs could ruin the trust and faith between civilian politicians and their military advisors.

Gen. Foulkes retorted that Gen. Norstad is not qualified to criticize his statement. Defence Minister Harcourt said the disclosure Thursday in Ottawa by saying Gen. Foulkes "had no right to reveal discussions" which have taken place in a cabinet defence committee meeting at a time when the general was chairman of the chiefs of staff.

It was with men of character, standing and quality that Jesus began his ministry. When, some years later, they remained Jesus that they had "left all" to follow him, they were not talking about trifling sacrifices. They had, literally, staked everything on Jesus and that "everything" was considerable.

MADE THEM BECOMERS There is something very significant about Jesus' word to the fishermen, "I will make you become."

It is the glory of Christianity through the centuries and around the earth, that when men really set out to follow Jesus they begin to become. And the Christian who is not becoming something splendid somehow, misses the great central fact and power of the Christian faith.

No man makes a more serious mistake than that one does who assumes that, having been "saved," his responsibilities and obligations are thereby at an end.

He who is truly Christian will look upon every definite problem, and provocation with which he is confronted as an opportunity to take at least one step forward.

No man is really "saved" who is not "growing in grace."

"GROW IN GRACE" At the close of a lecture at one of our great universities, I was sought out by a serious-minded youth who said, "I am having a little difficulty in my thinking about religion. As a biologist, I can study molecules and proteins under a micro-

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CUNY, Sports Editor

The Ontario Quakers will have been the best of the bunch of peck-shaking gladiators to represent Canada in a European hockey tour but they will be the top team to put back in full the sky, blue, green, and slaking that appear legitimate in the eyes of continental white-browns.

The first Premier of Ontario, behind the Iron Curtain where the Quakers played out dispatches into the free blue period of the "boister and mayhem" tactics of the Canadians even after their secretate quacks had made our lads say "muche" hockey-wise.

Now the other side of the story is being told. The Quakers are home and they are telling stories that ring true particularly in the case of those of us who have played in Europe or travelled with one of the clubs.

metropolitan editorial writer came up with this "Europe doesn't like the body contact of the Canadian. There are whack on the head with a stick is preferred over a good solid body check into the back of the goal post. There is no accounting for taste."

"It has been hard enough when my team have brought Canada apparently late evening by level with other teams. Now they're in a battle with team, too, it's time to call it a halt."

It is plain to be seen the writer has never taken a hockey safari to Toronto. Presumably he writes from what he has read in stories coming from Europe and written by continental journalists or news services.

European national games are rapidly becoming one of the best of body-checking, "bump" basketball and Croquet at the top level can draw a two or three to a game or a crowd of thousands of fans. And they have learned, too, the crafty knack of provoking an opponent into a penalty-taking situation.

A Quaker defenseman stated: "The Czechs give you everything, power, speed, bludge, crunch-chuck, allow-the-whole-line."

I recall the Pittsburgh-Cambridge game in Prague in 1958 when a Finnish defenseman called "Burr" Brown back to the club, slapping viciously at the "Wier" legs. Brown took three or four, then dropped his stick, brought up his stick and hit the Czechs. He cut down the Finn while a 15,000 Czech "white" fan orchestra went into action.

European journalists made the Milwaukee at period and waiting a statement was "Brown had no one. You should have seen the Franks version."

Speaking of the Finn, I quote from a story I sent back during the 1959 season when a Finnish defenseman said, "I told you the McFarlands are exercising admirable restraint as far as fan reaction goes. An arbitrary hockeyed call for a penalty and the howling wrath of the people. Some threats, waving sticks. Very, however, are taking it in stride but that's all they're taking."

In Helsinki, John McFall was pelted with snowballs which contained sharp shivers of ice. Forten said they played the game. The referee had dumped a Finn with a solid check and the guy must have had 5,000 relatives on the sidewalk. The Finn came out with a story of the vicious attack of the Canadian "who swung his stick at the fans."

Said Billy Bray: "The critics back home were in no position to criticize simply because they did not know the conditions. They did not know the appeal. Nor did they know the referee nor the fans' reaction to a clean hockeyed."

"The Finnish team was not to test us out that night. Just try every other club we have met over here and the fans knew it. There was a strange feeling in the air that passed trouble long before the first puck was dropped."

But I do not buy the statement of a Quaker player that the teams they met rated par with those of the Western Pro Hockey League. They did the police, gentlemanly tactics of the Russian squad trained and coached for the purpose, that Russia squad really, gave me with the impressive style of play is typical of continental or Iron Curtain hockey.

You probably will see quite a difference on the European maple leaves and the top of the national squad of Europe go late into the year tournament at Stockholm come March.

Howe Scores Twice, Sawchuk Hurt ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Wings Shoot Hawks Habs; Bruins Clip Hawks

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was underdog night in the National Hockey League Thursday night.
In Boston, the last-place Bruins pulled the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks to a 2-0 victory. Bobby Hull and Red Kelly in the final period.

In Montreal, the matchless Gordie Howe led the Red Wings to a 2-0 win over the Canadiens with two goals and an assist.
It was the first win in six games for the Wings since they were hit by a 10-0 rout by the Canadiens in New York City last week.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk's right skate was injured in the second period. He was hit by a shot from the Canadiens' Bernie Galt. Sawchuk stayed in and the Bruins made the second 18-minute mark of the second period. The Canadiens' goal was replaced by Dennis Riggs.

Sawchuk, a 23-year-old veteran in his 13th season in the NHL, was limping badly in the third period. He said he wouldn't know the extent of his injury until he gets it x-rayed later today. The Canadiens' game passed through the Canadiens' press.

What should be one of the better junior "B" hockey teams in the league was beaten early by the Canadiens, 2-0, in a game that was a fast-paced, high-scoring affair. The Canadiens' goal was replaced by Dennis Riggs.

Skiers Race Against Dog Teams

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

ST. AGATHA, DES MONTS, Que. (AP) — Canadian cross-country skiers may find themselves in the doghouse as they race a cross-country race to be held here Jan. 26-27. Their opponents are to be teams of huskies.

Arrangements for the event were completed here Thursday between the committee for the great international ski-dog race and the manager of the national cross-country ski team, Frank Cook.

The race will cover 34 miles. Huskies and canine teams will have to cover the same ground, a 10-mile trail which both will have to travel once in each direction.

Husky competitors however will work in relays while the dog teams will each have to run the entire course.

Teen Age Canada

Indian-Eskimo Schools Cut Racial Rivalry

By JACK HUTTON

The word spread quickly that night through the community of Great Whale River, 1,000 miles north of Montreal, that the Cree and Eskimo schools were to be merged.

It was a Cree Indian woman, musing after going to school, who first mentioned the idea. The researchers who have lived in the area for years and who have seen the Eskimo and Cree children, say of each other at first, began to learn to read, write and play together. Almost as important, they began attending church services together at the Anglican mission.

In 1961, parents were surprised to find their boys wearing neckties, green uniforms and big brown hats. The first Boy Scout Troop in the area had been founded by Mr. Vincent J. B. Harvey, now commander-in-chief of the Great Whale Boy Scout Troop.

An Eskimo eventually found her truck. And by placing his hand on the snow he knew how far away the lady was. She was soon found and taken away to her home where all celebrated the rescue.

The point of this small drama in the northern part of our country is that only a few years ago this would never have happened. The fact that these boys can be credited to Cree and Eskimo teenagers who are teaching their elders how to live.

The barriers of rivalry between the two northern Cree and Eskimo and the Eskimos have existed for centuries. In many places they attended separate church services, even though they might belong to the same church.

All this dates from the days guard outside the home to Canada's Eskimos and northern Cree Indians have been historically cool toward each other. Teen-age Canada tells how teenagers are changing this.

The second event was the rescue of the Cree woman. When she hadn't returned to her home by nightfall, the search party was organized. And not only Cree friends volunteered, adults from every part of the community pitched in.

The northern Cree and Eskimos are likely to maintain their independence for a long time but they are finding out that they can live together harmoniously.

And a lot of the credit is due to their teenagers who are showing the way.

Nothing brings out defenders among old age readers like real or fancied criticism of rock 'n' roll. At least that's the impression I get from this week's letters.

Last week we wondered how long rock 'n' roll will be around in Canada. Here's what Vivian MacLean, 13, of Vancouver had to say:

"I enjoy your column whenever I read it, but I can't understand who you say the thought of rock 'n' roll becoming folk music makes you shudder."

"Obviously, Jack, your rhythm can't be perfect. Rock 'n' roll got people dancing again

Mrs. Roy Longwell called Sunday on Mrs. Floyd Gordon.

In a way that the old, hands couldn't, somehow you just have to dance when you hear it. "I don't know how much about it, but isn't this the 'v' which is full of music and off it has something basic that appeals to a great many people and already we have a background of songs that we'll remember in 15 years."

"You probably get nostalgic when you hear Glenn Miller play Stardust. Well, we'll probably be nostalgic when we hear Ricky Nelson or Paul Anka in a few years. They'll remind us of good times."

Paul Johnson, 16, of Montreal, had a different idea. "Don't you think that we have the time for Canada?" he asked. "There are still a lot of Canadian adults criticizing rock 'n' roll although it's been around a few years already."

"Look at the concert which Mrs. Jacqueline Ker, wife of the President, attended in the White House to honor the Beaux Arts. Can you imagine that happening in Ottawa?"

"I often agree with what you have to say in your column, Jack. But when it comes to rock 'n' roll, I'm afraid I don't see eye-to-eye. I hope you like to move of it in 1963."

Thank you, Vivian and Paul—but I'm still glad to remember that Stardust before it got the rock 'n' roll treatment.

Say U.S. Ready To Ransom Hungarians

VIENNA (Reuters) — The independent Vienna newspaper Kronenzeitung reports that the United States is prepared to deliver large quantities of treasure, foodstuffs or other products in exchange for the prisoners of the Hungarians released in 1956.

The report, under a Washington dateline, says "as in the case of the prisoners of the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba, Washington is anxious to conclude an arrangement with the Hungarian government."

Last month the Cuban government accepted $53,000,000 in drugs and food in exchange for 1,133 prisoners captured in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in April, 1961.

Board Rejects Eastern Air Lines' Bid

OTTAWA (CP) — The air transport board rejected Friday Eastern Air Lines' bid to operate a Toronto-Buffalo passenger service—a decision which would take the cream off the Trans-Canada Air Lines' fleet and leave the board's own Toronto-Florida route.

Instead, the board approved a restricted service on the route, to be operated by a smaller American air carrier, Mohawk Airlines.

Both Eastern Air Lines and Mohawk had been designated by the U.S. government to operate a Toronto-Buffalo service under a 1959 agreement between Canada and the United States. American Airlines and Eastern Airlines were the two cities as part of its Toronto-New York route.

The board ruled that Eastern Air Lines, with its proposal for a minimum capacity of some 30 passengers each way, was not offering enough service, and that the Trans-Canada Air Lines' proposal was sufficient.

The board also rejected Eastern Air Lines' bid to operate a Toronto-Buffalo service, which would take the cream off the Trans-Canada Air Lines' fleet and leave the board's own Toronto-Florida route.

Jewelry Between Tots

DEAR DORIS—When our second child was born, our little Jimmie, wasn't allowed near her because my husband said he would hurt her! The older she grew the more jealous Jimmie became of her. My son has found out all she has to do is make a face, open her mouth and scream and people will come to pick up and baby her. Also to avoid Jimmie's jealousy.

When we three are alone, there is about half the confusion. They eat better and are better behaved. I feel that the hand says it is because they are afraid of me. True, the only discipline they get is from me. But I don't believe they are afraid of me because I like to see to their prayers, read to them and sleep with them.

I don't believe I can stand the crying much longer (which is continually when the father is home). Please tell me how to get my husband to understand that Jimmie is jealous of Mary and how to remedy it. That is, if I am right—ANXIOUS.

DEAR ANXIOUS—I couldn't agree more. As usual, when young children have personality problems, it is the parent who needs therapy. Your husband is pampering Mary. Are you carrying the load for Jimmie?

Generally they are afraid of you. They struggle up when you need to them, sleep with them, because they are secure in your control of them. You are their best hope—until your husband can see that he is making a thoroughly unhappy person of his beloved Mary.

DEAR DORIS—My daughter is pregnant and unmarried. What should I do?

My wife has been dead many years now and I have tried to be a good father but I guess I have failed her somehow. She has asked for my help. I feel so helpless having never had to face a situation like this before.

She has told me she would like to go to a home for unmarried mothers because she cannot face her friends—HELPLESS.

DEAR HELPLESS—There are many homes for unmarried mothers across the country. The child care agency in your area (Children's Aid Society, 63 West Moira St., Belleville) will discuss your daughter's situation and give her the help she needs, both in arranging for her baby's delivery and in planning her own future.

In order to help your thinking about this, I will be glad to send you my leaflet on "Unwed Mothers and Their Babies." If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and request it.

DEAR DORIS—This friend and I are going to have a stay party in a couple of months, and Doris is sick and tired of having just "another party."

We will be having a punch, hors-d'oeuvres, and it will be a dressy affair, so what can we do for a little entertaining; as there would be dancing what can we have in its place? I would like a party that will be enjoyed—FUNDED.

DEAR FUNDED—Dressy stunts in which all parties, even the cow herders, are played by men, can be hilarious. Your public library will yield several; and I am sending you one.

Have you tried a barbershop quartet, complete with handle bar moustaches (which wiggle when you warble)?

Feats of strength like mauling, contests which involve flipping flap jacks; balloon blowing up and a relay race with egg-on-spoon; sketching content in the dark, calling for a sketch of a man on a horse; all are good for laughs. Prizes could all be practical jokes.

Let's have a report for the column.

DEAR DORIS—Should a wife (who feels her husband is doing himself and children harm) sit without trying to make him try to improve himself—MINNIE.

DEAR MINNIE—No. But if her idea of a good try is to nag, to criticize, to point out weaknesses, she might as well hold her peace. Humans are such that we must know we are loved and admired, first. A mutual self-improvement plan might then get a good hearing.

(Doris Clark, Master of Social Work, is a graduate of McGill, Toronto and McMaster universities, and has had broad experience in social work. If you would like help with your problems, write to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Some illnesses, however, remain on both sides—white and Negro. In just three days after the Myers and their three children started moving in, a stroke struck their front row down. Mosley of several hundred people turned outside their house for about 10 nights, shouting threats and curses.

State police called in and took control.

atives from 17 Eastern Ontario counties at the workshops. If people were really sincere in their wish to reduce traffic accidents stringent laws would make it "possible within a month."

WANTS ACTION
Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa charged last traffic accident as trying to substitute publicity for governmental action in coping with the problem of traffic accidents.

Miss Whitton, giving a civic welcome to the workshops, said authorities are "trying to substitute publicity... for 'exorcising the power they have.'"

Whitton referring directly to the mayor's statement, Ontario Transport Minister James Auld countered her view by saying government leadership was needed.

Mayor Whitton's main complaint was levelled at car manufacturers who produce cars with "two, three, four or five times the horsepower needed."

The workshops here are the fourth in a series being held for municipal representatives in various regions of Ontario.

The delegates represent municipal governing, school boards and safety councils.

POWER DISPUTE COULD BECOME AN EMERGENCY

Go-Slow Campaign Most Effective

LONDON (CP)—The most disturbing news in Britain today, aside from the weather forecast, is the prediction that the present power shortage could develop into a national emergency by mid-week.

British, shivering through one of the coldest winters this century, already have had a series of cuts in the power supply.

THE WEATHER
Siberian blizzards cut off traffic in grip over Canada and much of the United States. It is particularly cold northwest of Lake Superior, where minimum temperatures will be generally about 40 below zero. Clear skies over most of the rest of the area. An exception lies in these areas exposed to circulation off the Great Lakes, where snow is falling and strong winds are blowing. Heavy drifting. Little change in the general weather picture is likely to occur in the next day or two.

Togo Leader Assassinated In Army Revolt

Struggle for Power Now Developing

LOME, Togo (AP)—A struggle for leadership at this young African country appeared to be developing today in the wake of a sergeant's revolt and the assassination of President Sylvanus Olympio.

Two men emerged as possible heads of a new government—former premier Nicolas Grunsky, 46, and Siffrone Ametehi, 37, a former opposition leader in the Togolese assembly.

A military revolutionary committee that staged the coup is reported to have appointed Grunsky, a brother-in-law of the slain president, to return to Lome from exile in neighboring Dahomey to form a government.

Rumors spread that Ametehi was already back in Lome from exile in Ghana and had been accepted by the Togolese government of siding along political opponents.

Grunsky, French-educated Moslem and former civil servant, was arrested in 1960 on charges of plotting a coup. He was released in 1961.

Govt. to Make Next Move In Nuclear Arms Debate

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP)—The next move in the nuclear weapons debate appears the government's.

Liberal Leader Pearson came out Saturday for force of defensive nuclear weapons for Canada's defence at home and abroad. The New Democratic and Social Credit parties had previously come out against them.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker must announce acquisition of nuclear weapons and have ready-made Liberal opposition to announce them, thereby creating a ready-made election issue.

Mr. Diefenbaker may debate the issue when he delivers a keynote speech to his party here Friday.

Up to now, the government's policy has been that Canadian forces should be equipped with nuclear warheads if it was necessary—any nuclear war broke out.

DON'T EXPLAIN

The government has several policies outlined, it was reported, but such a policy could be implemented. There would be little, if any, time available to make a nuclear weapons system on the outbreak of a war.

Mr. Diefenbaker has said that a nuclear weapons system would be obtained for Canadian forces. That statement has never been renounced though, various qualifications and modifications it is about to make.

Since 1950, the government has committed some $2,000 million to purchase of defence equipment designed as carriers for nuclear weapons.

Mr. Diefenbaker will speak Friday at the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Party.

An informant said suggestions at the meeting have been running in favor of acquisition of nuclear weapons. However, delegates strongly oppose it are expected to attend the conference.

The Jan. 15-19 Conservative meeting, however, is mainly for internal party business such as the election of officers.

Mr. Pearson has said he will not be at the meeting to express their views on current and future government policies.

PROVIDES TOPIC

It appears that Mr. Pearson has provided the main talking point for the meeting.

About 150 delegates will attend the meeting, which will be held at many locations, meetings and observations.

Parliament Begins to Say No To Emperor Haile Selassie

By WESLEY MAXWELL

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—The first, faint stirrings of opposition are coming to Ethiopia and are beating against this ancient country's well-known isolation.

Here in the strange highland of the Ethiopian highlands, it is no longer true to call it impossible to find a man who is one of the last of the absolute monarchs.

The constitutional government he created in 1931 was a far cry from the absolute monarchy of the 19th century.

Mrs. Todd R. — She's forever putting her two cents into our affairs.
Mrs. Adele G. — She's forever asking me what to do!

Mrs. Todd R. — I'm one of four sisters and naturally we're all interested in how the others are getting along. But Adele is more interested in my affairs.

When my teenage daughter has a date, Aunt Adele must give the fellow the once-over. Then she tells Florrie whether to see him again. If I serve dinner to my son's basketball team, there's Adele telling me I'm spoiling Terry.

It's right for her to show a sisterly interest in me and my family, but I want her to stop issuing orders and decisions. She doesn't really know what she's talking about and her advice is just irritating.

Mrs. Adele G. — It's good. The Council goes after both sides of a story. Todd's version makes me feel the truth is that our other sisters live out-of-control, my mother is dead, and Todd turns in me for advice before she even buys a turkey. I assure you I don't run her around with my two-cents. She comes asking for it every day.

She's always been an unsure person. She won't take a step unless she can say someone else told her to. It's either her husband or me she quotes most of the time. Those complaints of hers were reported backward. She asks me to meet Florrie's date. She wondered why the ball team didn't even go to somebody else's home for dinner. She just didn't like my answer!

The Council's "Gore advice and lose a friend," runs an old adage. That's certainly true of painful advice. And yet, the very cure of friendship, sincerity requires a friend to call the shots as he sees them.

Our complaint here lies with Adele who is put on the spot by her sister's full of family confidence, and then turned into with herself and her children. The answer here is simple. Todd must literally make her own business, instead of first handing it over to Adele and then berating her for putting her "two-cents" into it. And Adele in turn must resign fully from the role of Oracle.

Supreme Court. "Bargain" Psychologist, where her sister placed her. Instead she will mind her own business. Of course, between sisters' "own" business includes an overlap of one's sister's, because her joy spills over to brighten the family, and similarly her misery bows them down.

That makes it natural, and festive, like the clergymen, for Adele to hold forth. When she does a storm cloud bodes "You're not so sure that the family, except of course when the men are it is so clear that others start believing too. For she may be wrong. And even if she's right, she won't thank her sister for spoiling her, no matter how badly she "needs" updating.

The best procedure for Todd is to talk to her in the context of her own affairs while silent about hers. Once she has had, anything can happen. Her words may turn into monsters to taunt her. Any counseling away from her would be directed to pre-drafts.

Katanga is Key But Not Solution to Congo Problems

By RICHARD C. O'NEILL

LEOPOLVILLE (AP)—The Congo is ailing Africa's most distressed nation, its future uncertain, its future bleak, its future a problem.

Solution of these problems is not in the Congo, but in the rest of the world. It is to be disheartening and despairing as the nation tries to solve them.

Katanga province with its mineral riches and its economic potential is a key to the solution to the Congo's problems.

The United Nations has been moving to bring Katanga back into the central Congo government.

But Katanga, despite its wealth, were to integrate with the rest of the country tomorrow, it would have virtually no effect on the tattered Congo economy for at least a year and time is vital.

Current attitude has been that once the Katanga problem is solved, the country can be brought back to economic security.

Nothing would be further from the fact.

CONGO TROUBLES
Katanga has her own economic troubles, directly connected with the Congo's economic problems.

Just the lack of putting Katanga back into the Congo would prevent her from being an important contributor to the Congo's economic recovery.

The Congo's 14,000,000 people, about 3,500,000 men were employed in the Congo's economy. Some 1,000,000 of these were dependent on the Congo's economy.

The Congo's economy is in a state of collapse. The Congo's economy is in a state of collapse.

Mr. Pearson's speech received little attention in the Liberal press.

In his speech to a Liberal meeting at Toronto Saturday, Mr. Pearson said that the Liberal government would be prepared to accept such arrangements as would be necessary to bring about a permanent settlement.

DEAR DORIS—You advised me to forget completely the boy whom I knew a few years ago and be interested in other boys. I have followed the instruction and I am becoming more and more interested in other boys.

I like a lot of boys but I would like to be friends with my paper boy. A few weeks ago I asked him what his name was and from then on I have been writing him to him every time I saw him. If I said Hi to him when he was passing I would like to be friends with my paper boy.

All Kinds of Sport Seen On TV During Weekend

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — If you watch television on weekends, you've got to watch sports—and lots of sports.

There was a daytime sporting event last weekend, as a matter of fact, when I counted that all the channels here were preoccupied either with football or all-out cartoons starring Felix the Cat.

I figure that I could have watched any day Saturday and Sunday afternoon watching a number of the other shows excepting those with football or all-out cartoons starring Felix the Cat.

I watched a few golfers, paraded and football players. Some of the other shows excepting those with football or all-out cartoons starring Felix the Cat.

Monday, CBS devoted 90 minutes to an international par-jumping competition with television on weekends. There was football—hockey, all-star games—on both NBC and ABC. And, of course, that was enough variety, in New York we could look at another sport and watch baseball from Puerto Rico.

But nobody ever complains about overdoing sports on television. They are, in fact, done very well. Personally, I can take slowness boring or leave it alone although show this like do help get through a dark, dreary winter night.

Recommended tonight: Ben Casey, ABC, 10-11 EST.

The first of a two-part drama about a doctor who is a drug addict.

ANCIENT GAME

The game of jacks, or five stones, is of ancient origin and is mentioned in Greek mythology. It was originally played with sheep's knucklebones.

Collegiate Basketball Results

LONDON, ON (CP)—University of Western Ontario Mustangs handed McGill Martlets a 48-46 defeat Saturday night to win their second straight senior inter-collegiate basketball contest.

Mustangs, who played a crowd of 2,000, potted 50 points in the second half and struck for a good over-all average of 85.

KITCHENER (CP)—The University of Waterloo Warriors dropped a 74-61 decision to the Assumption University of Ontario Redmen Saturday in a bitterly-contested senior inter-collegiate basketball game held in a scruffy involving fans and players.

The game ended on a sour note when a spectacular jump shot by Assumption player Jack Kelly as the teams were leaving for the dressing rooms.

A few players from each team were injured in the game. Assumption players included: Anthony Quinn in the title role, Silvana Mangano, Arthur Kennedy, Katy Jurado, Harry Andrews, Vittorio Gassman, Jack Palance and Ernest Borgnine.

Not are the actors alone among the world's finest movie-makers. The director "Barabba" is Hollywood's Richard Prendergast, who directed himself in Italian, chief cinematographer is Aldo Tosti, Italy's great camera man, winner of two Silver Ribbons, the Italian equivalent of Hollywood's Oscar. The author of the novel is Swedish, and the script, English.

Two physical specimens were a "must" for the film, spectacular gladiatorial contests staged in the 3,000 year-old arena in the ancient city of Verona, and the search for these gladiators covered every country of the European continent.

Model Prize-winner Pat LaPrade's original story of "Barabba" was the nucleus and the film was written by Christ was destined to take his place on the Cross, was fashioned into a screenplay by English poet-writer Christopher Isherwood.

"Barabba" is a brutal, epic Roman Empire with the intense, dramatic struggle of a man's inner spirit.

Two shows nightly, 7:00 and 9:30 p.m. Continues show on Saturday.

WANT ONLY BACHELORS? LONDON (Reuters)—A British Army said Friday it was looking for bachelors as well as married men, in a search for a spouse.

It is because of a shortage of married quarters and because of the welfare problems posed by married men.

Hawaiian Influence

by Mary
Moore

A belated Christmas gift arrived from Hawaii. It contained three coconuts, a can of Macadamia nuts, a bag of Lychee nuts and a box of Hong Kong crystallized ginger.

Those coconuts gave me a cracking good time for using them. I decided to make the weekly foreign dish I promised you last week.

There are three good reasons for using fresh coconuts. First and most important is their flavor. Second is their variability. Third is their low cost.

When I worked on this desert it was ten below zero outside, so after I had punctured two of the soft "eyes" with the ice pick to allow the milk to flow out into a wide-mouthed measuring cup, I went outside and threw the coconut down hard on the sidewalk and it shattered into a dozen pieces which I had to gather up out of the snow.

I peeled off the brown skin and put it in the blender to shred it. (The Chinese use a grater with a narrow "rocker" blade on one end for shredding coconut but the meat is left in the halfshell for this.) Looking both of these pieces of equipment from it through the grater or grate it on any hard grate.

After all that mucky preamble here is the recipe. I recommend that you add it to your guest desert file but the cost is low enough for a family meal.

TUESDAY

Dinner Menu

Glazed Cottage Roll; English Muffins; Glazed Sweet Potato; Mixed Fresh Vegetables; Shredded Cabbage with Homemade Cabbage Dressing; Dual-Meat Apple (with Honey Mustard); Apple with Cheddar Cheese, Tea.

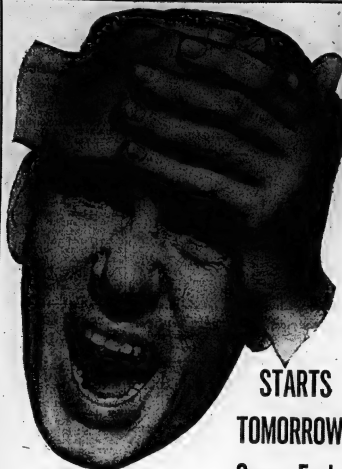

HAWAIIAN COCONUT ORANGE PUDDING (serves 5 or 6):

2 cups milk, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 large eggs, yolk and whites separated, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, grated rind of 2 large or 3 medium oranges, 1 1/2 cups fresh milk or coconut milk, about 1/2 of a medium large coconut, 1/2 cup sugar.

Heat the milk to scalding point, remove from heat and add the bread crumbs and butter or margarine. Allow to sit while you prepare the rest of the ingredients. In a mixing bowl beat the egg yolks with the first 1/2 cup of sugar and the salt and orange rind. Add soaked crumbs mixture. Fold in 3/4 cup of the shredded coconut. Pour into a shallow baking dish and bake for 40 minutes at 300 deg. Fahr. Five minutes before the baking time is up add the second amount of sugar to the egg white mixture. Beat until this meringue will hold peaks. (Add the sugar to the whites at first results in a flatter, more desirable meringue.) Spread evenly over but not mounding, top with all of the remaining coconut. (This is the crown of glory of the pudding so do not skimp. If you have grated more than required add it too.) Return oven and bake 20 minutes longer or until coconut is brown. Take to table as soon as possible. You are a good cook! Consider the meringue as a good addition to the pudding when you pronounce dinner, then it is ready to be taken from oven to table when dessert time arrives.

Maroons Goalie Is Standout

GALT (CP)—Chatham Maroons took the first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Series. A hand-picked team of their finest players to challenge all comers to the goal.

The veteran goalie, who has proved the leading goal-keeper in the league, was protected in last week's win, three in three games and he scored his fifth shutout of the season.

Goalie statistics released Monday show Bennett has 22 shutouts in 22 games for a .909 average. Wayne Bullock, goalie, midseason replacement with Windsor Bulldogs, won first place in Chatham, is second with a .828 mark in 14 games.

Three forwards still led the top two scoring positions in the league.

Chatham has 22 goals and 46 assists for 68 points and 20 power plays with 30. Bob Dryden, who has 23 points and 34 assists for 68 points. Ted Power has 22 points and 34 assists for 68 points.

Reg Whaley of Kitchener-Waterloo is the most penalized player in the league with a total of 60 minutes.

LENNINGTON, K.C. (AP)—Most members of the Cleveland Browns' professional football team are in complete accord with the team's decision to wear a brown uniform.

Joe coach Paul Brown, a player of the National Football League, said he was "pleased" to see the team's decision. He said he was "pleased" to see the team's decision. He said he was "pleased" to see the team's decision.

Sarnia Club Won't Appeal Out

'Poor Little Rams Who Went Astray'

By PAUL KIMSTEAD
SARNIA (CP)—The Sarnia Bombers will not appeal a $2,500 fine levied on them for a no-showing.

Rival teams in the Ontario Hockey Association's Senior A league were happy when the Bombers got the boot.

After the Bombers had lost their first five and possibly seven games, the league decided to start levying fines on teams that failed to show up.

The Bombers were fined $2,500 for failing to show up for a game against the Sarnia team. The players had been told to travel at night by car to play a strong hockey team.

Astrological Forecast
By SYDNEY OMAR

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Better day for theory and planning for direct action. You begin to see complete outlines, possibilities, potentials. But you should avoid impulsive, nervous action. Patience is key.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Health, vitality require some rest, and that your diet is sensible. Keep medical, dental appointments. Stress diplomacy.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): What meant much to you yesterday can now be seen in its proper perspective. This applies in many areas of your life. Now you are ready to "spread out" make new contacts. And to reach for greater happiness.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Nervous centre of chart relates to money, authority, security. Key is willingness to finish details, research projects. Discuss plans with family for better understanding.

Leo (July 22 to August 21): Leo charts can do more than anything else to make this a profitable, productive day. Excellent for visiting, writing, finding new approaches to old problems. Be versatile.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Excellent for reaching agreements, improving those in authority—and enhancing self-respect. Stress is on sincerity. Don't try to sell something which does not command your fullest confidence.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Cycle high means today you are able to find right words, persons. You are aware. You can act with confidence. Especially good for new contacts, making loved ones happy.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Practice Golden Rule. Others watch, look to you for example. This applies particularly to younger people. Live up to potential. Keep past promises. Adhere to principles.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Avoid actions based on impulse. Utilize powers of logic in business and social matters.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this innovative substance in the privacy of their own homes without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctor consultation.

Pain was promptly relieved, and with gentle relieving pain, action reduction or extraction (surgical) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in most where doctor's observation was continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that infusers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among those infusers were a very wide variety of hemorroidal conditions, some of them 10 to 20 years standing.

Thus, whether the hemorrhoids are acute or chronic or a combination of the two, this new healing substance (Bio-Dynex)—the only one of its kind—has been found to be the only way to shrink piles in all parts of the body.

With this new healing substance is offered in proprietary or patented form called Preparation II. And too, individually sealed convenient Preparation II suppositories. Preparation II is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Want Tax Off
List of Items

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario government is being urged to provide a three-per-cent rebate on sales tax for fruit farmers.

The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Producers' Association has passed a resolution at its annual meeting Monday that a rebate is justified because the produce has already been exempted from sales tax for several years and because the rebate would be passed on to the consumer.

Another resolution passed

'ESCAPE' TO EAST

LUBBOCK (AP)—Two West German troops escaped from captivity through a border gate
Monday, the East German government reported. North German troops, who had been moved into East Germany, had been captured by Soviet forces.

Heavy Snow

was clear of heavy snow.

Open Second, almost paralyzed by eight to 12 inches of snow overnight Saturday, was hit with another six inches Monday.

Three snow plow operators were induced to work under the worst conditions in the city.

Norman McPherson of Triverton was taken to hospital in St. Lawrence with chest injuries after he was struck by a car near Triverton, Bruce County. He was in satisfactory condition.

An occupant of the car, Doug MacFadden, 20, of St. Lawrence, was taken to hospital with chest lacerations and shock.

LEO IS BROKEN

Francis Campbell, 56, of Triverton, a more snow-induced victim, was taken to hospital after a broken leg on Highway 21 near Triverton, Bruce County, when he was struck by a pickup truck as he stepped from his plow. He was taken to hospital in Kincardine.

Jack Steacy, 45, of St. Mitchell, near Stratford, received fractures of his right arm and leg when he stopped his snow plow near Stratford to investigate a car accident.

He was in serious condition in hospital in Stratford.

A second car, driven by Harry Smith, 40, of St. Mitchell, loomed out of the swirling snow and plowed Mr. Steacy against the abandoned car.

Quota System

For Marketing

Milk Is Urged

LONDON, Oct. (CP)—R. H. Hanson, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, called today for a country-wide quota marketing system for milk to better stabilize the dairy industry.

He said dairy surplus and over-production could be one of the most urgent items of national agricultural policy.

"I think it is a matter of time before a quota system will be in place," he said.

He said a quota system would be a "practical" solution to the problem of surplus milk.

withdrew from the labor market.

The job picture in brief, with estimates in thousands:

Dec. Nov. Dec.
1962 1962 1961
Labor force 6,574 6,612 6,632
Employed 4,138 4,277 4,282
Unemployed 2,436 2,335 2,350
The report is based on a survey of 25,000 households across Canada during the week ended Dec. 15.

WAS SEASONAL RISE

"Unemployment normally rises between November and December because of seasonal declines in construction, agriculture and certain parts of manufacturing," the report said. During the month the total of jobless men rose by 90,000 to 41,000, while unemployment among women declined 6,000 to 36,000.

More than three-quarters of the jobless—total 31,000—had been unemployed for less than three months. Another 31,000 had been seeking work for more than three months and 4,000 had been out of work for more than half a year.

Most non-farm industries had higher unemployment levels than in 1961. For the last three months of 1962, employment in service industries averaged 4,000 higher than a year earlier with smaller gains in trade, transportation, manufacturing and construction, but there were fewer jobs in agriculture and forestry.

Estimated mid-December unemployment by regions, with November figures bracketed: Atlantic 20,000 (24,000); Quebec 34,000 (34,000); Ontario 30,000 (30,000); Prairies 15,000 (15,000); Pacific 16,000 (16,000).

December unemployment rates by region, with November comparisons: Atlantic 3.1 per cent (2.9); Quebec 3.4 (3.4); Ontario 3.3 (3.1); Prairies 4.1 (3.8); Pacific 3.7 (3.5).

long fight for Kalamang independence was at an end. U. Thant, often skeptical in the past about Thombé's pronouncements, welcomed the Kalamang leader's new promise to cooperate with the United Nations. Thant said in New York he hoped Thombé's readiness to allow troops freedom of movement would be put into effect promptly.

Nick U. Thombé's white officers, obviously not trusting in any amnesty promises from the Leopoldville government, cleared out of Kolwezi and crossed the border into Northern Rhodesia. Others were released to follow. Thombé already has paid off the white forces.

A UN spokesman in New York announced that Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu had sent letters to Thant assuring him that they stood by previous affirmations of amnesty. The Congolese Parliament at the moment is in recess after about visiting Adoula out of office.

Congolese Foreign Minister Justin Rumboko expressed regret to British Ambassador Sir Derek Riches over the pillaging of the embassy in Leopoldville Thursday by 1,000 Congolese. The rioters accused Britain of supporting Thombé in his long secession.

served apprenticeship. About 20,000 men are actually employed in the nation's power stations. Others do all kind of jobs from digging holes in the road to reading meters.

Their present scale is complicated and involved, but generally the average weekly pay for a recruit is $12 at higher level.

The unions finally agreed, just before Christmas, to demand a pay increase of four pence an hour. The Electricity Company offered 3½ pence and a chance to take the case to arbitration.

Doyle, in his years in the U.S. to international vice-president of the United Gas, and Chemical Workers Union but in 1947 the union banned Communists from office. Doyle was suspended.

The following year, when he crossed into Canada to attend a union meeting, U.S. officials refused to let him back. He finally succeeded in getting into the U.S. and gave himself up. A series of legal battles followed and in March, 1953, he was charged with belonging to an organization advocating the overthrow of the U.S. government by force. Eight months later he was deported and came here.

U.C.W. Meetings

CENTENARY U.C.W.
CENTENARY — The regular meeting of the U.C.W. was held on January 13 at the home of Mrs. A. Christopher with 22 members and one visitor present. The president opened the meeting with a poem, "My and Me."

Mrs. B. Harder was in charge of the devotional part of the meeting. The Scripture from Revelation was read by Mrs. F. Alton. Mrs. Harder gave a reading about "New Year's Resolutions," followed by prayer. Mrs. A. Pearson gave a solo, "Somebody Bigger Than You and I." Mrs. Harder closed with the poem "Life's Lantern."

Mrs. P. Bay read a chapter from the book, "The Word and the Way." Thirty one calls were reported. Mrs. G. Sills, Mrs. A. Christopher and Mrs. Swann for her daughter contributed to the birthday box. Mrs. Edmondson gave a treasurer's report. Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. W. Coon, Mr. F. Alton, the Rev. J. Richard, Mr. W. Short for baskets they received at Christmas. Mrs. H. Hart also thanked the ladies and Mrs. F. Christie for their baskets. A letter was read from the Rev. and Mrs. Swann for the gift they received.

World Day of Prayer is to be held on March 1st. Mrs. Swann was asked to guest speaker. Mrs. K. Sills and Mrs. R. Cummings are to be the new leader and assistant for "The Messengers."

A Memorial Fund is to be started in the church in memory of the late Mrs. A. C. McCullum.

Mother's Helper

THERE CAN'T possibly be a good motive for cutting your mother's "wads." If it does taste good, you're rubbing your fingers down the entire supply as soon as you find it, but in reality it really is nasty. Try almost anything else to get medicine down him when necessary.

Fur Measured by Mile Goes Into Paris Styles

BY FREGG MARSH

PARIS (Reuters)—Furs can literally be measured by the mile in the Paris fashion trade this winter.

One French wholesaler furrier estimates that the 50 most important fashion houses have to stretch seven miles if the individual skins were placed end to end.

Paris furs vary from the exotic to the commonplace, from chinchilla to civet cat; from mink to squirrel; from mink to muskrat.

Effects range from Pierre Balmain's mink coat worked in carefully graduated tones from black amber to dark brown, to inexpensive trimmings like Christian Dior's fox pompons.

The latest fur novelty is called the "minis." It consists of a straight narrow band of skin, measuring about a yard long, and made of two pieces of about equal length initially joined end to end.

With the help of sturdy clips at each end, it can be converted for use in different ways—latched becoming into the actual necking of a coat or suit; as a scarf or as a hat. It can also edge the hem of a jacket or lapel evening neckline, or even be twisted into a simple little muff.

The majority of skins are made of mink and range in price from $50 to $175, depending on the color and quality of the skin. The idea has become

Who Preserves?

It is popular that it is being open to less expensive furs, such as squirrel, beaver and baby lamb. The Italian couturiers Silvana and Pabian feature furlike "weasels" in simple skins of black seal, broadtail or racoon. These are worn with fur-trimmed evening suits made of rustic tweed.

The success of cold in greater even than in this season. But both leopard and seal are in short supply.

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)

How About Doris' Career?

DEAR DORIS—I am writing from the Northwest Territories on behalf of a number of your readers here and we are anxious to hear from you. What is some type of work as you) how you latch onto this type of business for a living (if it's not too personal a question)? What qualifications does one require and would it be necessary to do some other type of work for a living?—SHARMOCK.

DEAR SHARMOCK—To become a social worker, you take a four-year DOBIS CLARE are in the Northwest Territories and a two-year postgraduate course in social work after which you write a thesis to obtain the degree of Master of Social Work.

For the career of journalist, this is even harder to "latch onto." Most people start by being a reporter on the local newspaper and learning how to write. There are some schools of journalism in this country, the ones I know being in Toronto, London and Ottawa.

Combining the two skills is something which practically nobody does. I started writing this column because I found through my community work that people didn't have nearly enough information about the ways in which social work could help them.

For me, it is a full-time job, with letters from friendly but troubled people from coast to coast reaching me every day.

DEAR DORIS—A boy friend I broke off with told my girl friend that he still liked me very much. This aroused new hope in me and without knowing it, I think I have been actually chasing him. This has caused this boy to avoid me even when I know for sure he still likes me.

I would give anything to have him back. Would you please tell me how I could act towards him on the street while dancing with him, etc. or give me some idea of a conversation to break the silence I have noticed lately. —BEWILDERED.

DEAR BEWILDERED—Friend he is just a casual friend. Smile and speak when you see him. If you dance with him, talk about casual interests. In all things remain friendly and dignified, putting him at ease just as you would anyone else. Further than that you do not go.

DEAR DORIS—I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for helping me when I was in the "Black Tie" dilemma last fall. I had had so many varying opinions that when your letter arrived it was such a relief and my mind was quite at ease from then on.—MILLIE B.

DEAR MRS. L. B.—You are a pet to write your thanks. Sometimes a small point of etiquette assumes staggering proportions when we wait to act and be our best. Glad I helped.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SWEET SIXTEEN—You know he is wild. He intends to be just as fresh as possible. All through the year you will be meeting up with folks with smooth personalities and "rough" intentions. Don't touch him with a ten-foot pole.

(There are reasons why people act as they do. Get Doris, who has studied human nature, to help you take a new look at your own human problem.)

THE CONSIDERATE SHOPPER

Shopping for a new dress at a place before it gets trampled this time of year can be a real nerve-builder. Colorful prints and gay colors for cruise and early Springtime are literally a sight for sore eyes which, of late, have been accustomed to grey skies above, and more, just about the same shade, underneath.

A pretty silk floral or a soft wool suit in a warmly flattering color often is just what is a doctor ordered to boost sagging spirits out of the mid-winter doldrums. But because colors are more delicate and fabrics more fragile, merchandise can be more easily damaged by careless shoppers.

For this reason, if you're hawking to get your hands on a dress that brings spring a little bit closer, then be considerate and use a soft touch. Merchandise often is damaged unintentionally, but good manners can help prevent most of it. Here are a few things to remember for shoppers:

When thumbing through a rack, move dresses by the hanger instead of clutched in the fabric. If a garment should accidentally fall off the hanger, pick it up and put it back in the rack.

Sunday School Holds Supper, Gives Program

CENTENARY — A number of parents and children enjoyed a supper in Centenary church hall on Friday evening followed by a fine program.

Mr. Elwin Hart, Sunday school superintendent, acted as chairman. The program included a singing, followed by a humorous pantomime by the Young People's organization. Heather Sutherland favored with a piano solo; a short skit, "Exchange Desk," was well enjoyed by a group.

M. M. Moore, Mrs. E. H. Harker and Mrs. A. Christopher, Carol Pearce and Freddie Mann played solitaires on their accordions; Brian Harder gave a guitar solo; Diane Harder, a piano solo; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Johnson, assisted by a number of the children, put on a humorously pantomime, "The Loney Way," was given by Mrs. E. Hart.

The enjoyable evening closed with Mr. R. Edmondson leading in prayer.

Women's Activities

WELLINGTON U.C.W. WELLINGTON — The Wellington United Church Women's unit, 2nd met in the Centennial Parlor last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Mayne called the meeting to order with quiet piano music.

Mrs. Hicks, leader, opened the meeting with the hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign," which is taken from Psalm 118. Mrs. Thompson read the report of the Christmas meeting. Mrs. Bishop gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Taylor read a letter from Mrs. McAdams.

Two minutes silence, a memorial for Mrs. Nelson, was followed by hymn, "When The Day Of Toil Is Done."

Twined Teens

Name 1963 Officers

TWEEED — Membership in Tweed Teens has reached a record high of 270 and the Saturday night round dances in Township Hall are attracting more and more young people.

These events are championed by Kildare members and others interested under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jack Roseberry. The first special dance alone will have been financially successful making it possible to make generous donations to the Canadian National Institute for the blind and the provision of Christmas baskets for needy children.

The Teens are making their prime objective a $200 donation to the Tweed Hungerford Bink Building Fund, the raising of such funds is wholly through the dances.

River Valley W.I. Holds Euchre Party

RETURNING — On Friday evening the Agricultural group of River Valley Women's Institute sponsored a euchre party at the school house with nine tables in play.

There were ten visitors from Marsh Hill and Stirling. The group counted the prizes and cash and the proceeds of the evening was approximately $114. The wards were as follows: Mrs. H. G. High, Mrs. E. H. Heasman; Mrs. E. T. Brown, playing as a man; David Harry, most lone hands; David Harry.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jack Bush and her assistants, Mrs. Glenn Bush, Mrs. John Kaser, Mrs. A. Wilburn; Mrs. Melvyn Kaser; Mrs. Kenneth Myers, Miss Krasner and John Kaser. The contractor announced that a social evening would be held at the end of the month and another card party in February.

Outdoor Attraction

By GRACE THORNCIFF
There's plenty of good outdoor activity this year for the college girl or for the skater. Here's a nice example for the young face that craves outdoor life with a pullover jacket of casual knit fabric that has a fold over the chest and a deep V in front and back.

Underneath is a black, brown, blue, or black knit, turtle-neck sweater. The pants are of black knit and are lined.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Emma F. — I'm willing to have out and give him a chance.
Victor F. — She won't believe that our ages make no difference.

Emma F. — Just a few months ago I married a man 19 years younger than I. Already I'm myself possessing a young face that craves outdoor life. My husband has a boundless admiration for young girls with blushing faces, I keep adding myself what mothers made him marry me, and I wish I didn't. I'm sure he'll marry me because my own age?

If we should have a child it would be too late to set him in the right. So, even though I have less than a child, I'm still a divorcee so that he can marry a young girl. He says he loves me, but how will he feel when he's 40 and I'm 49? I can never take the place of the young girl he should be married to.

I say to all young women who love older men: Forget it! Victor F. — My wife is working herself into a state on this sex question. He too has set his mind that I know what I was doing and that she's the woman I want to be married to. She's so sure I'll change my mind that she tells me to change it now. Instead of later before we have a child, and while we're young enough to win mates our own age.

Her doubts are based entirely on her own imagination. Of course I enjoy looking at glamorous young ladies. Who doesn't? That doesn't mean I want to marry one of them. For my close friends I've always been attracted to people several years older than myself. As my wife, Emma is now my closest friend and she's here I want her to stay.

The Council: The cloud of self-doubt which is enveloping Emma is common. It's blocking and blinding out whatever sunshine young ladies wish to shine. If we can't talk her out of it, then we use her to break one or two resolutions with a marriage certificate to banish the doubt about her age. But we can't help inserting a whispered query here to Emma. Is that the real reason you want out? Or have you had a change of heart? You don't want to admit to Vic? Are you framing your offer in such a way as not to hurt his feelings? If however, you really love your husband and are prompted by fear of losing him to a younger woman, we can reassure you by citing statistics. A survey on the relationship of age to marital happiness found that the most happy unions result when the wife is a few years older than her husband. Among the explanations for this is that the woman in the home is usually the responsible of the woman, and a mature homemaker is apt to be wiser and more settled than a flustered 20-year-old. Another theory is that she offers her husband exactly what he sought in marriage.

Legion 428 Installs 1963 Officers

TWEED — The regular monthly meeting of the Tweed Ladies' Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion No. 428 was held in the legion club room on Monday evening. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Ruth Crawford.

After the official opening, Mrs. Crawford welcomed the Zone Commander for Zone F-3, Mrs. Grace Delaney, of Baneriot. Following the business session which was held, Mrs. Dae installed the new officers for 1963 as follows: president—Mrs. Ruth Crawford; first vice-president—Mrs. Yvonne Whelan; 2nd vice-president—Mrs. Eva McConacher; treasurer—Mrs. Ruth Patterson; secretary—Mrs. Phyllis Thurston; sergeant-at-arms—Mrs. Pauline Corbett; executive—Mrs. Hilda Austin, Mrs. Opal Dala.

Wife Preservers

After the meeting, Mrs. Ted Courtesay showed films on various events which had taken place over the year, including the parade of the Zone rally held in May, and the Santa Claus parade.

Today's Cooking Magic

Hollandaise Sauce
Cookbook No. 3 — Recipe No. 3

THE FRENCH COOKBOOK
The world-wide reputation of the use of flavoured sauces often prepared with infatigable patience, but they are not difficult to duplicate if you follow the step-by-step methods as described in the French Cookbook. Here is a simple French recipe which will enhance the flavor of almost any fish or salad dish.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE:
Set out a small double boiler. In the top of the small double boiler, beat with a wire whisk until thick and light colored — 2 egg yolks; 2 tablespoons cream.
Blend in ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 grain cayenne pepper. Place top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. (Bottom of double boiler top should not touch water.)

Beat with thick until butter is thoroughly melted and blend into mixture. Serve immediately with vegetables, fish or eggs.
If necessary, this sauce may be kept warm 15 to 30 minutes by setting it over hot water.

File comments. Cover tightly. French culinary technique fully explained in the French Cookbook.

The Experts Say

Many Do Not Know What To Look for in Furniture

By PATRICIA RUSAK

TORONTO (CP)—When you go to the furniture store, you want to look for a good piece of furniture, but you don't know how to look for it.

And though many of us have brought up to think that solid mahogany or solid walnut is the thing, this is not the case, the experts say.

Today, says Robert Watson, vice-president of the Society of Interior Designers of Ontario, "Furniture is a combination of function and proportion."

"With today's shrunken living areas, sofas, tables and dining room tables are most often brought far too large."

There is a return today to the use of traditional furniture—simplified traditional furniture—made of wood and with a few touches of modernity.

"Furniture is compatible if one piece doesn't stand out from the rest," says Mr. Watson. But to mix furniture effectively the pieces must be compatible.

"Furniture is compatible if one piece doesn't stand out from the rest," says Mr. Watson. But to mix furniture effectively the pieces must be compatible.

To overcome drying and consequent warping, caused by central heating systems, manufacturers use cross-grained wood in layers like plywood and this is just as good as solid wood, Mr. Watson says.

Poor-quality wood is usually stained a dark color and then lacquered, whereas good-quality natural woods are oiled and have a dull patina rather than a high polish.

"Anything highly lacquered is not good and dark lacquered pieces are often over-embellished, poor wood graining," he says.

The "tongue and groove" type of interlocking joints are the sturdiest, and the moving parts, drawers and the doors of any piece should move easily.

In better cabinets, there is dust pan—a solid piece of wood which goes in a groove between the drawers and there should be a rail affixed to this dust pan.

Smart and Compact

By FRANK ADRIAN

Following the trend toward smaller recluses is this hand bag that is chic and compact. Despite its size it has surprising capacity and is open wide to receive all the necessities carried by today's busy women.

The bag is made of soft leather in a color of black, red, brown and camel and has an elegant brass handle.

Stamps and gloves now have been developed which are improved to dry during wash by central heating.

A minimum of polish should be used on any piece because the Candorian Furniture Mart accumulates on the surface here Jan. 7-16.

Women's Institutes

QUINTE W. I.

The January meeting of Quinte Women's Institute was held on January 10, at the home of Mrs. K. R. Vivian, of Shannonville, with an attendance of 27 and four visitors.

The president, Mrs. J. Parrott, welcomed every one present and opened the meeting.

Letters of business were read and dealt with.

The 41st Club girls' work was discussed and there will be 18 girls or more for Garden Club in the spring.

Jane Thompson will be getting her provincial honors as she has completed 12 projects.

The meeting was handed over to the "Resolutionists" courtesy, Mrs. K. Vivian and Mrs. S. Macdonald.

The motto "Good resolutions aren't worth much until they ripen into good deeds," was given by Mrs. A. Cook.

The district president, Mrs. T. Kelly, was introduced by the president, Mrs. Parrott, and gave a wonderful paper of her work which every one enjoyed.

Kiwanis L.A. Host to White Cane Club

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kiwanis Club played host to the White Cane Club Monday night for the first recreation meeting of the new year.

Hein Warthoff expressed thanks on behalf of the members and Berta Coleman lady replied introduced her helpers and stated the pleasure derived from helping the blind.

The club members are also most grateful to the Ladies' Club for transportation to and from the meetings twice a month.

President, Pat - Baverstock, asked for the birthday for the month namely - Arlie Scott, Theresa Chisham, Mary Scott, and Raymond Pryor for whom the birthday song was sung.

Arlie Scott reported that Sara O'Brien, Della Varley, Vi White and Jim Brennan are on the sick list and all are wished a speedy recovery.

Mr. Doug Hoffman was given a special welcome to the club, this being his first time there.

Blacks was thoroughly enjoyed for the remainder of the evening with many delighted winners. Prizes were donated by the Kiwanis' Auxiliary and the new Braille bingo boards which were used were a gift of the Kiwanis Club.

Phil Burton entertained during lunch with beautiful music on his electric guitar.

The business meeting for January will be held at the Recreation Centre, Pinnacle St., on January 23rd.

New Year's greetings were read from Mildred Mallman, of Winnipeg and Mary Kuchm of Toronto, former members and from Mr. Nostrand Sprague of Trenton, chairman of the Hastings County Advisory Board.

New PC Organization Chief Wants New, More, Different People to Work for Party

OTTAWA (CP)—Bailon K. Camp, the newly appointed chief of Conservative party organization, wants new people, more, and more different kinds of people.

"What can you do for the party?"

The 34-year-old Toronto postulant had a press conference Tuesday the key to campaign success in the next election will be to broaden, strengthen, and diversify the Conservative party base.

He would not say when he thought the next election would come. His job is to be ready for it.

Mr. Camp, whose appointment to succeed Senator Allan Rock as chief executive officer of the Progressive Conservative Party was announced Monday night by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, spoke to the press in his professional capacity as a professor and Senator O. S. Thorvaldsen, retiring party president.

Senator Groat was national director during the 1957, 1962 and 1962 election campaigns. Mr. Camp was a key figure in the party's advertising and a similar position in the Atlantic region. As party president, Senator Thorvaldsen was chairman of the national campaign committee and organized the party's 1962 election with at least three representatives from each province.

Now, Mr. Camp, drawing no salary, but with his expenses paid by the party, will be in charge of the party's administrative and campaigning efforts. He will be in charge of the campaign committee, which normally meets twice a year.

Banks Says Norris Probe Will Cost SIU $200,000

OTTAWA (CP)—The Saskatchewan International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (SIU) expects to foot a $200,000 bill for its expenses in the case of a provincial investigation of Orestes Laker labor strike.

Price tag was volunteered by SIU President Hal C. Banks as part of the Norris committee's report on the strike. Banks said his expense account for the strike was $20,000. He said the SIU's expenses account of the SIU president over the last four years.

One bill—$20,000 for 12 toothbrushes—raised some eyebrows. Mr. Banks said he thought that was for toothbrushes for sailors on the SIU's boats.

Confronted with the original bill for a dozen 8-cent toothbrushes, Mr. Banks said he had not intended to pay for toothbrushes for sailors on the SIU's boats.

Says Health Insurance Schemes Pay Little for Psychotherapy

LONDON (CP)—Health insurance schemes in Canada "pay too little for psychotherapy," says a leading medical expert.

Dr. Harold Robb, an assistant psychiatrist with the eastern regional hospital board for Scotland, told the press he was "much disappointed" that doctors in North America do not recognize the "importance" of psychotherapy.

One young practitioner in Canada "had the next best training in comprehensive medicine and psychiatry" and was interested in treating his patients psychologically as well as physically.

Social Leader Backs A-Arms For NATO Force

VANCOUVER (CP)—The National Social Credit leader, Robert Thompson, said Tuesday his party would support a NATO force of nuclear weapons.

Returning from a fact-finding trip to the Far East, including Hong Kong, Thompson said he thought the acquisition of nuclear weapons by Canada would support such weapons for NATO.

"I hope to build an organization in Canada under the control of the Pentagon."

Mr. Thompson also said his party would support a NATO force of nuclear weapons. He said he thought the acquisition of nuclear weapons by Canada would support such weapons for NATO.

Also Headache Pills for Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—What the United States needs is more important than ever, congressional health, and a big new budget.

It could also use a department of wilderness, wilderness is the word, very well, and good point made, more than three decades, a new version of the Star Spangled Banner, and a Congressional Day.

Those, at least, are the words of members of the House of Representatives who have rushed to fill them in the opening moments of the new Congress.

When House had been in session only about six hours, seven 1,000 bill had already been introduced. They were with almost every subject imaginable, including what is called security records to locate missing persons.

Besides Grant's 100th Day, there are those who advocate observance of Sunday Day, Purple Heart Day, Children's Day, Food Service Day, Senior Citizens Month and World Productivity Week.

Income Tax Explained

A column designed and written for the working person, who are not in a position to employ the services of a professional accountant or visit an Income Tax Office.

By C.A. HOLMES
Financial Representative, Income Tax Dept.

The most noticeable change applicable to the 1963 Income Tax returns is the increase in the exemptions allowable for children and other adult dependents.

For children qualified for family allowance, the exemption has been increased from $100 to $200. Children over 10 years of age and other adult dependents may now be claimed for an exemption of $200. This is an increase of $50 on each type of dependent.

This $200 will apply to any child who becomes 10 years of age in 1963. The fact that the parents may have received the family allowance (baby bonus) for part or all of 1962 will in no way affect the claim for the $200 exemption. The child must become 10 years old on December 31, 1962 and must be claimed for an exemption of $200.

Taxpayers who have children born in December will often error that they should have the larger exemption as no family allowance was received until January. It is not the need of the allowance, but the qualifications of the child that is the governing factor. A child, he or she born in Canada at Canadian parents is qualified for the family allowance as soon as it is born and therefore the exemption is only $500 in 1962.

As stated in the previous paragraph, the parent will win out in the year the child reached the age of 18 years.

All letters of inquiry will be answered if a self-addressed and stamped (10 cent) envelope is enclosed.

Question No. 1.—I have a wife born in St. Lawrence. If I claim the $500 exemption, the kids do I have to pay back the family allowance I received in last year?

Answer No.

Question No. 2.—We had a child born in 1962 that only lived for a few hours. Can I claim this child on our tax return?

Answer: Yes. Your claim is for $500 as the child would not be qualified for family allowance as December 31.

Western Hockey

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Willie O'Neil, playing in fits and starts, is again in the program of the Western Hockey League's Los Angeles Blades. The Fredericton, N.B., left winger, last Negro order to play in the National League, scored the winning and clinching goal Tuesday night in a 3-2 win as the Blades defeated Edmonton Oilers 5-2.

In other action, Bob Barrow scored twice to pace Seattle Totems to a 4-2 win over Calgary Stampeders.

Early this season Bill Willis was benched for poor play, but scored 34 points in his last 36 games last year. But in recent weeks Willis has snapped back scoring in bursts.

Often, whose performance has been erratic, scored two goals in the Southern Division standings, was with the NHL's Boston Bruins in the 1978 season for two years and returned to Boston for 43 games two years ago.

He has 21 points in 27 WHL games this season. Bruce Carmichael also scored twice for the winners and Boston Bruins. So did Wayne McInnes scored for Edmonton Oilers.

Wayne Hall was Seattle's "marksmen" and Norm Johnson of the Vancouver Canucks scored.

Would Use 3 Million On Titans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

BOSTON (AP)—The sports man for a group which has put in a bid to buy New York Titans of the American Football League says the group is willing to spend up to $3,000,000 to get the team going strongly.

Ted Barnson, a 40-year-old Boston business man, said Tuesday he will go to New York to meet with Titans officials.

Barren said he expects to spend up to $3,000,000 on the group is concerned, by far the most.

"We'll either buy the club or forget about it," he said. "I'm not sure if I can do it."

Calls It 'Uneven Match'

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

COPENHAGEN (AP)—A Danish member of Parliament has moved to prevent a fight scheduled here Feb. 1 between Denmark's Chris Christensen and Emilie Griffith, world welterweight champion from New York.

In a letter to Hans Kaerstrup, minister of justice, Verner Sorensen, a member of parliament and a leading force of boxing, said: "Once the matter of justice is considered it is possible, while an active ban on professional boxing in Denmark is being considered, to halt the fight between the Dane and Griffith."

Christensen and the world champion, Emilie Griffith, who earlier caused another boxer's death in the ring.

Former champion Benny List of Cuba died after losing to Griffith in their title fight last year.

"I can't prevent it," Christensen's lawyer, Borge De Waal, commented.

"There is, as far as I can see, no rule or law that can prevent this."

Paul Stangstrup, police chief of Frederiksborg, the district where the bout is being held, said:

"I will give the match my permission. All formalities are in order. The police cannot interfere between men or less than men and sport legitimates."

That must be the business of the minister of justice."

Stangstrup was not available for comment. He is on his way to a conference in Stockholm and will stay there several days.

In the bout with Christensen, Griffith will fight his Austrian-recognized world junior welterweight crown will not be a midweight title. His world at stake.

Cross-Canada Survey

Poll Tax Collected in East Runs From as Little as $1 In Quebec to $35 in N.B.

By KEN SMITH
Canada Press Staff Writer

Eastern Canada has an abundance of something the West is short of—but it isn't likely to cause any jealousy among the deprived Westerners.

It's a poll tax, a special levy collected by hundreds of Eastern communities.

In the West, only a few Saskatchewan centres have the tax, but in the East it is applied through a patchwork of provincial and municipal regulations, some going back more than 100 years.

Though the regulations differ from region to region, the net effect is the same—another bite on the taxpayer, in many cases, however, women are exempt or pay less than men.

A Cross-Canada Survey by the Canada Press shows the levy ranges from as little as $1 a year in Quebec to $35 in some New Brunswick centres. Those who don't pay may find themselves faced with a summons to a lecture on civic responsibility or having property seized or a jail term.

The tax was conceived centuries ago (it was introduced in England in 1377) to ensure that only owners of property and not persons were responsible for the cost of the government. It was the right to enter polls and have a say in running municipal affairs.

MAINLY FOR MONEY

Nowadays, however, the emphasis seems to have slipped from the word "poll"—and the citizen's right of responsibility—to "tax"—raising money.

In Ottawa, Ont., for example, those over 21 who pay the $1 poll tax are not necessarily permitted to vote, although Mayor Herman Gifford favors giving the franchise to all who pay from $1 to $10.

In some provinces the tax is collected only on property owners, not on those who are not paying other municipal levies.

In many communities as individuals don't have to pay as much as they used to, but they can earn at least $1,000 or $2,000 a year.

Poll taxes have various other names. In New Brunswick, they are known as municipal apportion for cities and $10 for other municipalities though few charge more than $2.

For example, about 100 municipalities in the province have rates between $2 and $7, and $10. It's $20 for residents who own property in the city of St. John's.

Brook, $15 for non-residents. In New Brunswick, the tax is levied on all who own property in the city of St. John's.

Sport Snapshots

By BRUCE STOVEL

MONTREAL (CP)—Bill Bewley swept a good part of his first 30 years playing football. But the former Montreal Alouettes halfback says his greatest experience in football was last fall when he piloted McGill University's Redmen to the Senior Intercollegiate title in his first year as coach.

"It was more satisfying than any individual effort, being so happy for 33 guys together," said Bewley, a powerfully built, 26-year-old native of Shoups Creek, Ont., near Hamilton. Bewley had his share of individual triumphs. He was the leading title one year and all star recognition twice in the senior intercollegiate football with the University of Toronto Blue.

In his eight years with Alouettes, he was a valuable passer and ballcarrier and was one of the team's placement kickers. He was the big four scored 11 in 1930, and was named the country's best Canadian player for three seasons. When he left Alouettes little more than a year ago to take the coaching job at McGill, many were surprised.

FEARED BEING TRADED "I was only 30, and I knew I had the conditioning for another three or four years of pro ball. But the Alouettes were looking for cleaning and the probability of being traded to another club made the McGill offer seem very better."

Bewley has a full-time sales job with an aluminum packaging manufacturer here, and has every intention of staying in Montreal.

He says he misses playing but finds he enjoys coaching even more.

"When you're a player, you can't really forget about football from one season to the next. After the game season, you can forget about it until practice time."

"But as a coach, the game is with you all the time. You've got to figure out what things you need to practice, what type of team you'll be playing, and so on. You're always watching the overall picture."

"It gives you that much more insight into the game, so I like the job that much better."

STRONG FINISHERS The Redmen lost their first two games to Varsity and Western. They have eliminated from championship hopes in the third game, when they met Queen's Golden Gaels, the defending champions. Queen's had beaten Western and Varsity by wide margins.

Yet the Redmen came through with second-half wins.

DOUKS ARRIVE IN VANCOUVER GATHER IN PARK

Accept NDP Offer Of Night's Shelter

VANCOUVER (CP)—Healed, bedragged and stared at, Son of Prentice Doukbs arrived in this city today and led a parade of the ramp guard for warmer quarters. Some 200 of the radical set, the vast majority of whom were active in the Communist Party, came to the campsite at Howe, 100 miles to the east, descended on Vancouver Wednesday.

In trucks, cars and two chartered buses, they drove into town and parked themselves on benches in Victory Square. A one-block park in the heart of the downtown area, located at the city's central square, is now a place for hoboes in the warm sun.

These most of them, from two-year to elderly, were stayed with hundreds of Vancouverians and the city's police.

The song "Saul and his men," played, said Sandhu and later called and answered to them in child, dirty weather.

After midnight they marched to the Home Depot, four miles from the city, to the NDP speaker who extended the invitation to give a speech.

TIGHT MONEY EFFECTS SHOW IN 16 BANKS

Evidence Given Banking Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—It takes about six months after the onset of tight money conditions in Canada before business starts to feel the effects of the shortage.

The nuclear proposal, in the case of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada, is an attempt to bring about a meeting which will consider acceptance of defensive nuclear weapons for Canadian forces.

Many of the 5,000-dollar, dollar, alternate and vitamin pills, said Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, vice-chairman of the Ontario Medical Association.

The charged banks denied any collusion in setting interest rates on loans and deposits. Under questioning, the banks said that they had no control over the one of the eight banks making the same rate.

However, they said such action was necessary to protect the banks from the effects of the money market. The banks also said that they were not in a position to make any such decision.

Tshombe Flies To Talk to UN On Surrender

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters) — President Mobutu Tshombe of Katanga today arrived by air at Elizabethville, 20 miles from here, from his last remaining military stronghold at Kolwezi, Katanga.

He told reporters at Kipushi he would move on to Katanga to make arrangements with the United Nations for UN troops to enter Katanga.

"I am going to Elizabethville to meet the UN troops to see my people," he said.

"I am going to meet the UN representatives to see the terms for their troops to go to Katanga."

QUICK SESSION

The Wednesday morning session was a comparatively quiet affair and saw great requests from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and from the Lake Ontario Development Association.

Councillors did learn that a resolution passed by the Hastings County body during their December session asking for high grants for winter works programs, and that farm workers were included in the unemployment insurance program, was not meeting with too many successes from other counties.

Several counties replied that no action had been taken on the Hastings resolution, while some from one government department noted that agricultural workers had not been included in the unemployment insurance program because of administrative problems.

Beverly Frazer, of Frankford Township, said that he was withdrawing his request for an investigation to be made into the possibility of setting up a county health unit. He had made the request at the December session.

Safety Inspectors Required For County, Council Is Told

County Council Plans to Build 2 New Bridges

Construction of two new bridges over the Moira River at nearby Canboro, the other at the village of Stooz, are being planned by Hastings County Council.

The Canboro bridge planned for construction this year will be the project of the Belleville and Stooz River Bridge Commission, while the Stooz bridge would be a straight county project.

Estimated cost of the Canboro structure is placed at $110,000 of which the county and city should be 25 per cent each. The usual 80 per cent federal subsidy would apply and this means the city and the county would contribute only 10 per cent toward the expense.

Plans for the Canboro bridge are expected to be called in late winter or early spring.

BUILD ON SAME SITE

County Engineer Larry Langlois said at a meeting this morning that the bridge would be constructed on the site of the present 40-year-old structure.

The bridge would be constructed of steel I-beams with concrete deck and would be similar in appearance to the 401 bridge north of the city.

The proposed bridge over the Moira River at Stooz is not definite project for this year but would be working during the winter months.

Mr. McNeil said that since the bridge was built in 1922, August, seven counties had no far apart a safety inspection of the bridge. He said that other municipalities would have to use the eyes and ears of a safety inspector, feeling being that it would be impossible for any one man to look after the entire county.

DIFFERENT PHASES

Mr. McNeil said that there would be duplication in the overhauling of safety measures with safety inspectors carrying out the same work as the county engineer.

He said that the latter was not necessarily the case as his department was the transportation department and the county engineer was the highway department.

ONLY HALF COST

Reeve Gerald Irvine of Stooz, 1962, County House of Representatives, said that the bridge would be built on the same site as the present bridge.

Sport Slices...

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Sports editorials are often called "slices" because they are so thin and so sharp. They are also called "slices" because they are so rare, medium, or well-done. They are also called "slices" because they are so sharp and so thin.

The popular leeches and suckers of the Colby-Hull-Hawkins team told me last night via telephone that 125 of the restricted 150 dinner tickets had been sold and the sale early next week approximately between 125 and 150.

"This season," said Don, "there will be some tickets available for the chap who does not make up his mind to go places until the last minute. The tickets will be on sale at the Hotel Belleville this evening from six o'clock and can be purchased by those who decide to come at the last minute."

The opening to the first Colby-Hull-Hawkins event held in this city had been fine—and there is little doubt that the dinner will be an annual affair. A lot of credit is due Don Barrett and Mr. Dennis Committee in putting over the first function of its kind here and it is due mainly to their efforts that the function is the success it has proved to be.

A handsome souvenir program has been made available to guests which contains the names of the celebrities, the dinner program and a blank page for celebrity autographs.

Celebrities at the dinner will have handsome souveniers and themselves. It will contain an assortment of Belleville's famous produce, cheese, a beautiful cheese and a cheese board. Sports celebrities Diener, Belleville, HENRY will have each a slice.

The entire net proceeds of the dinner will be given to the Belleville Junior Hockey Club Association. It is expected that roughly some fifty per cent of the gross will go to the association. The Junior hockey club has been operating at a financial loss this season due to lack of the necessary fan support, and now the Colby-Hull-Hawkins dinner will help ease the monetary ills.

So there it is. The stage for the first Sports celebrities dinner is all set and the cast ready to come in from the wings. Remember there are a few tickets left and any late-comers can secure them at the Hotel Quail.

There will be a six-course menu—celebrities' repast starting at six o'clock and what promises to be a gourmet's repast will be served at 7:45.

MINOR HOCKEY WEEK IN CANADA

Minor hockey in Canada takes the public spotlight for a week starting January 18th. Large cities, small cities, towns, villages and hamlets will focus on the hockey-playing youngsters and the few men who make the sport possible for them.

"Minor Hockey Week in Canada" will see an estimated 125,000 youngsters across the nation taking part in special observances. In this part of Ontario, some 10,000 coaching moppets are involved. Ontario as a whole has nearly 50,000 youngsters ready to go.

The Belleville Minor Hockey Association under President Ben Senier is ready to stage a fine program of moppet hockey in local observances. Some fine outside clubs will match little stars with city teams and it is hoped that parents as well as other hockey fans will get out and support the youngsters.

Ontario Minor Hockey Association second vice-president Doug Patterson of Burlington, tells me the observances of "Minor Hockey Week" will be general throughout the Eastern Ontario district. Plans are now under way in the smaller centres for special programs and the week of January 28th looks like a big one for the puckhounding fans from Peterborough to Ganouque.

'Giant-Killer' Repeats Week-Old Feat

Bruins Endron Shoots Down Hawks

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Boston's Jean - Guy Gendron has become the Montreal Canadiens' League's giant-killer.

Gendron scored two goals Wednesday night, including the winner late in the third period, to give the hapless Bruins a 4-1 win over the first-place Chicago Blackhawks in the 255th-odd game of the season. Gendron's goals were assisted by Bruins' forward by the name of Gendron.

Gendron's claim to giant-killer status is backed by other statistics: he weighs 150 pounds, compared with the Hawks' average weight of 180 pounds, has scored around the NHL since he broke in with New York Rangers seven seasons ago. He was drafted by Boston three seasons later, traded to Montreal two seasons later, and played with New York again last season before joining Boston this season.

His two goal Wednesday night five minutes for the season — not an awesome total. But he is not alone in the league's last five games.

COME FROM BEHIND
The Hawks had taken a 4-3 lead early in the third period, but Boston's Gendron fired a shot for Boston with less than 12 minutes left and Gendron scored the winner with less than six minutes remaining.

Boston's rookie goalie Johnston was bombarded with 15 shots by the aroused Hawks in the last period, compared with seven on Chicago goalie Cliff Hogg.

But Johnston came through in the fight, allowing only one goal to give the Bruins a 4-3 victory in the period. Johnston made 23 saves in the game, compared with Hall's 27 for the Hawks.

Can MOVE CLOSER
The Bruins moved within five points of the fifth-place Rangers, who have a two-point margin to three points with a win in their game in Detroit tonight, as New York is idle.

However, the Bruins have only won one of their seven previous games with the Red Wings this season. The Wings have taken three and three were wins.

In tonight's only other league game, second-place Toronto played third-place Montreal. The Leafs have 40 points, one more than Canadiens. Leafs could move up into a first-place tie with the Black Hawks with a win.

Leafs have had a slight edge in the seven games against Canadiens this season, winning three and tying two.

Both will be starting a bar-

Powell In Fifth, Says Clay

PITTSBURGH (AP)—They all must fall in the round 11. This sports heavyweight Cassius Clay during an interview after arriving Wednesday morning at his scheduled 10-round bout with Charley Powell at the Civic Arena here Jan. 24.

Clay then predicted he will have Powell in the two rounds. This prediction carried some potency in that Clay forecast he would knock Archie Moore in four rounds and proceeded to do just that in their recent bout.

Wily Clay was asked, would it take him five rounds to dispose of Powell.

Suggests Paris Go Parisian

PARIS, Ont. (CF) — Gay Paris in staid Ontario—complete with sidewalk cafes, flea market and the Eiffel Tower! It doesn't sound so crazy to Stratford Industrial Commission W. C. McGee who suggested it as a tourist promotion for this town of 5,700 people, eight miles north of Hamilton.

"Why not take a section of the downtown area and every Saturday evening have little stalls of the real Paris? Mr. McGee said he would revive this tradition.

"It will guarantee that a tourist will be returned in a very few years."

DOES EVERYTHING BUT FLY — An engineer tries the controls of a replica of the cockpit of an F-104 jet fighter, part of a flight simulator built by Canadian Aviation Electronics Ltd. of Montreal. Electronic control room (lower photo) enables instructors to create 2,500 different problems for a student pilot in the cockpit. CAE completed with several U.S. and European firms in developing and selling the simulator, rated as the most advanced in the world.

Only All-Canadian Company In Field of Space-Age Electronics Real Success

By KEN SMITH

MONTREAL (CF) — Every time that Trade Minister Brent enlists Canadian businessmen to try to sell more in markets abroad—and he does that regularly—he could find a special affection for Canadian Aviation Electronics Limited.

A young and self-confident outfit, CAE is busily refuting the idea that Canadian business has to be cautious, conservative and in some cases foreign controlled.

It has reversed the usual trend of overseas investments in the United States and West Germany.

SWEEP STAFF

Started on a shoestring 15 years ago, CAE has become the big time internationally by developing, building and selling what is rated as the most advanced flight simulator in the world for training pilots.

Incorporating the world's first sophisticated visual system into the trainer, 30 of the simulators—each worth $1,000,000—have been sold to the RCAF, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands and Belgium.

Capable of training a 2,500 pound F-104 jet fighter, the instructor watches and evaluates his reactions the simulator represents 150,000 hours of work by CAE design and engineering staff.

It can reproduce everything from minor conditions to loss of oxygen and the scream of tires tearing down on the runway. Some "emergencies" it can create as extreme, says one veteran RCAF jet pilot, as he has been only one reasonable answer in a real plane-to-effect.

Through the unique visual system, the trainee can see a large screen before him as he banks, the horizon tilt as he banks, the horizon tilt as he banks, the horizon tilt as he banks.

BIG SAVINGS

Using the simulators will save taxpayers millions of dollars as well as showing trainees the best way to react to emergencies.

gets the company is interested in breaking through a plane's own magnetic field—now under development in cooperation with the Canadian government and needed to delicate electronic equipment in submarine-hunting planes can work without interference—no systems to control a device that measures and records the depth of the ocean floor.

Forty of CAE's staff are kept busy writing manuals on how to use the various products.

REPAIRS BIG FACTOR

Much of the firm's business comes from the less glamorous but essential task of maintaining and repairing electronic equipment.

The firm's Western division at Winnipeg, for example, is the centre of a mammoth repair and overhaul operation that includes working on the mid-canadian and Flettner radar systems.

The U.S. subsidiary at Tulsa, N.Y., set up in 1960, employs 300 men to take care of heavy radar equipment and mobile transmitting and receiving systems.

The subsidiary at Bad Godesberg, West Germany, was formed in 1961 to maintain CAE simulators already in Europe and will handle the new F-104 trainers as they are set up.

CAE was established by Kenneth Patrick, a former RCAF group captain born in the MacLennan who grew up in New Haven, Conn. Now 47, he turned to electronics when he discovered as a boy he could make them for 60 cents and sell them for 75.

Joining the RCAF at the beginning of the Second World War, he became one of the first to use electronic experts. After the war he worked briefly in the engineering department of RCA Victor, then

DAIRY INDUSTRY FACES PROBLEMS BRIEF MAY NOT Big Advertising Campaign Set Up

LONDON, Oct. (CP) — The Dairy Farmers of Canada defend its annual loss of $100 million Thursday with a policy statement that the dairy industry has developed "a growing awareness" that the problems of the industry must be tackled on a national, rather than regional, basis.

The organization, representing 30,000 Canadian dairymen, faulted the government for its failure to accept the statement, the responsibility for "an immediate step-by-step program of advertising" to sell the industry's products to the consumer.

In line with its enhanced awareness, the convention urged the formation of a national dairy authority with the power to deal with "Canadian dairy producers."

Up to $115,000 of a six-month advertising campaign is to be launched into an advertising campaign to sell producers on a new voluntary dairy delegates at the opening session Tuesday. Some of the new system, all producers are asked for an initial price of 40 cents a pound, and one per cent of all milk and of the income for each month, starting June 1.

Keep Men Employed So That Repair Job Now!

Home Repairs Often Cheaper During Winter

Why do Canadians traditionally put off repairs until spring, but not when the weather is cold?

There are a number of reasons. The man who intends to repair his house in the spring, for example, will still spring, because he does not believe in the winter or because he thinks it will be too cold for men to work.

But perhaps the most common reason is "pure habit." Many homeowners who operate in this fashion is doing an injustice to himself and his level.

Like everything else a house has a normal rate of deterioration which can be retarded only by proper maintenance is carried out. The homeowner who waits until the heat of winter to repair the points where trouble is most likely to occur protects his house from deterioration.

By having repairs done in the winter he assures himself that the maintenance relation which he wishes to seal his house in the winter.

By having minor repairs completed when they appear he prevents the development of major repairs requiring the outlay of an increased amount of money.

Small repairs can certainly be done more quickly in the winter when there is a maintenance tradesmen seeking employment.

Another reason which should appeal to all good citizens is that by providing employment for skilled craftsmen when it is needed most and in so doing to decrease community welfare.

No matter how carefully a contractor builds a house he cannot escape the fact that he is expected to appear while the house is under construction. Normal settling can cause plaster hair cracks and sticking doors and windows. Drafts caused by foundation cracks, blocked drain tiles or condensation caused by moisture.

By having condensation or cold wall surfaces or water pipes repaired in the winter, the minor ones or has developed in the winter repair in the summer should call up a tradesman who repairs in the winter as soon as possible.

And the best time to have these repairs attended to is during the winter. Skilled tradesmen are available, materials is plentiful supply and the problem of winter work is community welfare costs, which the tradesmen in this community.

On the eve of the Cities Service announcement which began Tuesday, Shell Oil Company of Canada will announce a similar permit to build a $200,000 plant to produce 100,000 barrels daily.

OBTAINING APPROVAL
Late last year Great Canadian Oil Sands Ltd. obtained Alberta provincial approval for a scheme to produce 31,000 barrels daily.

Process of separating the oil from the sand and methods of separating the crude oil vary in all four development projects.

Great Canadian and Cities Service have a hot water and frock-drying process, while Shell is to remove the water by mixing venturi.

The kind of plant is to inject steam and chemicals into the sand and pump the oil to the surface, where it would be refined.

Information obtained to date indicates that all three of these plants would be built in markets covered by the oil from conventional wells.

PROPOSAL DIFFERS
The Canadian proposal differs from the other three, both in the marketing process. Most of the opposition against the Canadian and Cities Service board hearings and the fact that production from the oil sands will disrupt the market for oil produced from conventional wells.

WINTER SAME TERMS
Italian Foreign Minister Alesandro Napolitano said last Saturday that the La Malfa view does not square with the facts. He was reported to have been of the opinion that the German position is similar to those being advanced in the West.

"We sincerely hope that not only Italy but other Common Market nations will join in such an arrangement," a foreign ministry spokesman said.

Government sources say France is intensifying their co-operation because the Common Market is said to make progress toward political unity. The so-called Paris-Bonn axis, it is maintained, represents an attempt to force forward the point in an alternative way.

ing. La Malfa condemned the Paris-Bonn agreement as a violation of the principles of the Common Market and called for a Rome-Luxembourg to counter it.

WINTER SAME TERMS
Italian Foreign Minister Alesandro Napolitano said last Saturday that the La Malfa view does not square with the facts. He was reported to have been of the opinion that the German position is similar to those being advanced in the West.

"We sincerely hope that not only Italy but other Common Market nations will join in such an arrangement," a foreign ministry spokesman said.

Government sources say France is intensifying their co-operation because the Common Market is said to make progress toward political unity. The so-called Paris-Bonn axis, it is maintained, represents an attempt to force forward the point in an alternative way.

Young Musicians Are Pro-Sounding Orchestra

By JACK HUTTON

Travelers who went through Toronto's crowded Union Station on evening last August saw young people standing in little groups holding musical cases in one hand—and waving away tears with the other hand.

It was an emotional parting of the ways for the 21 young musicians from every part of Canada as they prepared to board their "homewardbound" trains.

The National Youth Orchestra, which had once more proven that young Canadians can stick together into a professional-sounding orchestra, was breaking up after a successful summer season.

The young musicians who warmly shook hands with their parents and friends as they boarded their trains said that "next year" it will be again we can look forward to once more hearing the only Canada-wide orchestra whose members have an average age of 17 but a musical sound that seems twice that mature.

Conductor of the orchestra this year will be Walter Susskind, kind of the Toronto version of the "Conductor" from the "Young People's Orchestra." You've probably heard him on recordings if you have a classical collection.

NEEDS 50
Mr. Susskind, now travelling all the way across Canada in search of young talent, expects to select about 50 players by late winter and 50 for the NYO within a few weeks.

The orchestra for next summer is a busy one. After four weeks of strict musical instruction from some of Canada's best musicians, they will leave Toronto to tour Canada by train for two weeks.

The orchestra will eventually play in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria during the second and third weeks of August. It will, in fact, be their most ambitious season in five years.

Plans have also been made for an appearance at the Stratford Shakespeare Festival in Ontario, the Shakespeare Festival in New York, and finally, when the NYO meets its U.S. debut last summer.

As someone who has heard this young orchestra in action, I can't emphasize too much how good they sound in comparison to our professional orchestras.

As, if you get a chance to hear them, don't miss it. They are quite a bit of a question for the NYO, but will pass on your behalf. First, will it ever be possible to get musicians on our bandstand as a change to have orchestra? Next summer's schedule doesn't go east of Toronto.

Secondly, would our teenagers or adults be interested in buying a recording of the NYO? It is a commercial record. It is successful. It could be the orchestra's permanent fund.

These suggestions have very likely been considered in the past and rejected for very good reasons. But let me know if you have any further ideas you'd like passed on. *

SCOUT WEEK
A tip of the hat from Teen-Age Canada to the 30,000 Boy Scouts across Canada who will participate in Boy Scout Week between Feb. 11 to 24.

"Salute to Scouting: Round the World" will be the theme of this year as letters of greeting are sent from our International Scout Commissioners, Earl T. Moore, to the 72 other countries.

Members of the Boy Scouts of Canada, Scouts and Rover Scouts, will be focusing the attention of their meetings on the next few weeks.

Members of the National Youth Orchestra learn Susskind is touring Canada searching for talent for the orchestra.

"We have a little group which meets every second or third Saturday afternoon to listen to records, and I can't imagine anyone trying to speak English to the turntable. These cheers for Jim in my Lancetford and Bunsy Berigan. But how many teenagers would have heard of them? I'd be interested if you could find out. *

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG - The sympathy of the community is extended to the relatives of the late Harry Cadden, whose sudden death on December 31 was a shock to everyone.

Mrs. Letta Fridele of Belleville was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fridele.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson and Miss Mary Hicks were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne H. Thompson, Roseland Acres, Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin attended the funeral in Willoughby, Ohio last week of the late Mr. Griffin's sister, Mrs. Henry Harvrey, the former Lillian M. Griffin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Griffin of Thomasburg.

Several members of Thomasburg I.O.O.F. Lodge visited the Trenton Lodge last Wednesday evening.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. David McVirtin of Coudersport. She was the former Louisa Margaret Calberry whose childhood home was in this area. Mrs. Joseph Duns of Tereed is a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Guy W. Thompson, son of Queen's University that he has been awarded the W. F. McClement prize for the 1962 summer school course in biology. He is at present on the staff of Dearborn Public School, Midland Park, Trenton Area, Ontario. He resides in Belleville.

Little Monster Is Big Problem

DEAR DORIS - I need protection from my neighbor's little monster. She is just out of one thing into another all the time they are here, and I'm nearly nervous wreck. We have to practically shut half the time to be heard, so I can't have them train their children at home so they can be fully protected when they take them out. I'd think they'd be ashamed to be seen being made such fools of. I can't smile at it much longer as my smile is wearing pretty thin. So please help - MRS. B.

DEAR DORIS - You don't have to ask them back. But you are committing a crime against society and are helping to create a very unhappy adult who is failing to train their little girl. It is only through loving, consistent discipline that a child can learn self-control. Otherwise, she has all the impulses of a wild animal—and we keep them behind bars.

DEAR DORIS - I liked your remarks about tallness being a matter of personality. But the four lines your friend supplied were misquoted. They were written by Isaac Watts, eighteenth century preacher, in his poem "The Pulse Greatness." The original version read:

Were I so tall to reach the Pole,
Or grasp the ocean in my span,
I must be measured by my soul;
The mind's the standard of the man."

DEAR W. G. W. - Oh, lovely. It adds color to what an outstanding hymn writer and preacher of the past penned this thought.

(Don't just mull along... Doris can help you find the resource you need. Write to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Marmora

MARMORA - Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman and family of Minto spent the weekend with Mrs. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Baker, Ferryville Street.

Mrs. Glenn Anderson and baby son have returned home from Campbellford General Hospital.

Mrs. Keith Lynch is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Belleville.

Mr. Joseph Shannon is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital where he underwent surgery. Tommy Campbell of St. Patrick's College, Ottawa, has returned after holidays here.

Mrs. Ellen Redfern and Willian spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton, Trenton.

Mrs. Viola Purbs is recuperating at her home here after being a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Frank Harrell of Ottawa was home last weekend. Mr. Lloyd Edley of Toronto was home for the weekend. Mrs. Lloyd Williams received the sad news of the death of her sister in Missy, Alberta.

Miss Dorothy Phillips was home for the weekend. Mrs. and Mr. Russell Wells and son Charles attended the baptismal service at 11 a.m. at St. Basil's Baptist Church, Peterborough where their grandson Larry Wayne Clements, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clements, was baptized by his paternal grandfather, the Rev. George Clements.

BIG SCHOOL GROWTH
There were almost 10 times more children at school in Marmora in 1962 than in 1950.

Maclachlan Opens Arbitration Talks

Troika May Settle Long U.S. Dispute

By WILL GRIMLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — A troika of college representatives matched, under graduate and senior service athletes — may prove the formula for settling the long dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Association over the control of amateur sports in the United States.

This was the opinion of observers on both sides of the issue today at New Orleans. Maclachlan opened arbitration talks aimed at ending the dispute which is threatening U.S. Olympic games in the 1968 Olympic Games.

The AAU declares ineligible any athlete who competes in an sport not sponsored by the U.S. Track and Field Federation, the college or the Olympic level in which athletes (collegiate and college) and those strictly concerning men in uniforms.

The three groups would work together on matters leading to the Olympic level in which athletes of two or three of the categories are involved.

The AAU would continue as the sanctioning agent for the amateur sports in Canada and elsewhere in the world, as in the past, though there apparently is no way to change this situation at least not before 1966.

"This actually is also agreed to by the AAU," said Attorney General Robert Kennedy, one spokesman said Thursday.

'Smokies' To Appeal For Funds

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — A plea is going out from the city of Trail to each province for aid in sending Trail Smokies players to the world hockey championships in Sweden next month.

Mayor Joe Polyzas said in a statement Thursday: "The only nation is national (us) we have decided to ask for aid from each province for aid in sending Trail Smokies players to the world hockey championships in Sweden next month."

Radio Engineers Hear Talk On New Network Equipment

Night Class Enrolment Said Disappointing

Enrolment last week was disappointing for the new night school courses offered by the local high schools. A course in the evening, however, to be offered at Mohr Secondary School, will start at 7:00 p.m. at least in some people's opinion.

The course is intended to develop basic skills and confidence in common applications. A similar course was enthusiastically endorsed by Mr. L. Wilford of the Mohr staff. The fee is $5.00 for the ten week night course. Inquiries may be made by telephone to the school office.

Mr. W. Maguire, Principal of Mohr Secondary School, noted that he would very much like to see at least one more Mr. Roger Greig but the school is not in a position to register as about twelve people would make such a course feasible.

Mr. D. C. Sirlin, N.Y. representative at Belleville Collegiate and Vocational Institute, said that the course in music appreciation will not be available but that the Conventional French will be available.

Finance Probe Wary of Banks Ruling Trusts

by DON HANIGATT

OTTAWA (CP)—The President of the largest bank in Canada has indicated Friday that he is not sure of the government's authority there to enter the field of trusts. He said he would allow such leading to overstate the bank's function of providing the economy.

The government also tried in varying degrees to allow the banks to take over the management of banking and finance in the country. The banks might get into mortgage lending by taking over the trust companies with which they already are connected. The banks are not, however, in the business of investing, or business ties.

Mr. D. C. Sirlin, N.Y. representative at Belleville Collegiate and Vocational Institute, said that the course in music appreciation will not be available but that the Conventional French will be available.

Council Asks Minera Base Detergent Ban

Water pollution resulting from the use of domestic multiphase detergents has caused the situation of Hastings County Council to be a serious one.

Members concurred in a resolution to ban the use of multiphase detergents by residents. The resolution claimed that the use of such detergents was causing pollution of the water supply and that the use of such detergents was causing pollution of the water supply.

Weasel Words

Any elation at President Mee's announcement that Katanga's secession from the Congo has ended may easily prove premature.

If he can find any way to weasel out of his surrender, he will almost certainly do so. Since the day when Thoburn told Patrice Lumumba to "leave Katanga" and then announced that Lumumba had been killed trying to "escape"—it is difficult to suppose an instance in which he has kept his word.

As far as that goes, he does not even appear to have proclaimed the end of Katanga's secession, as the news agencies report. Instead, on reading his exact words, we discover that "we are ready to proclaim immediately" the end of this secession. Weasel words worth noting.

We shall be ready to believe that the Congo Government really controls Katanga the day it announces an increase in taxes for Union Miniere. This is greeted by no more than the usual howl of anguish common to taxpayers everywhere.

Until that day the UN would be well advised to keep its powder dry, no matter what Thoburn may choose to say.

Show Him

Thanks to Marcus Van Stien of Brantford, we have had called to our attention what seems to us to qualify as the last word on the controversy regarding capital punishment.

It should surprise no one that the last word was said years ago; nor may it be any great mystery to many that it was George Bernard Shaw who said it.

In a letter to the Toronto Globe and Mail, Mr. Van Stien quotes Shaw as follows: "The right to life in society is not unconditional. If a man is murderously violent we are not justified in keeping his neighbours in prison rather than keep him alive. If a woman is a prostitute, no well-conducted woman should be wasted as a prison ward for her sake. Such freaks should be killed, and painlessly killed as a mad dog is killed."

So-basters and revenge-seekers may remain unconvinced, but many of us will find that nothing better has added to our summation of the case for capital punishment, beyond noting how admirably it combines realism with true compassion.

Really Sick

The U.S. public is cheated out of a billion dollars a year for food, for medicine, for vitamins, so-called health foods and nutritional products.

Authority for that statement is George Larrick, head of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Just because Larrick makes this statement does not make it true. But it ought to be fairly simple to determine the accuracy of his appraisal.

If Larrick is right, surely something ought to be done about it.

There is something really sick about a society which jala a gypsy woman for reading tea leaves and a doctor for prescribing medicine, while providing it is done in a way enough safe to be considered big business.

Good for Man and Beastie

Lord Beaverbrook has been busy again, mending the fences of Empire.

His paper, the Daily Express, has published a report by the British Medical Research Council which should do much to reassure Scots about haggis. The report states that haggis is a healthy and has found it a safe diet for man and beast. For ten days haggis was served to animals and, when none died, the scientists tried the same diet on humans. There is no doubt that the investigators stemmed from their scientific intentions by their cautious approach to their task.

Scots having been placed in this manner, we hardly need to add that animal lovers have no sound cause for complaint, either. There is no evidence that haggis was piped into the barn, so that any suggestion that the animals were exposed to cruel treatment is wholly unjustified.

I cannot see that France wants us in the kitchen at all. I think de Gaulle is a very good British-born Lord Attlee, in the House of Lords.

Can Canada Sell Britain On Commonwealth Alliance?

By RICHARD JACKSON
 (The Ontario Intelligence Office Bureau)

OTTAWA—Friends and advisers are hoping that when Prime Minister Diefenderfer visits Britain next month, he will be with the idea of a plan for the construction of a new and even greater Commonwealth.

And so, for Britain, a new and glittering version of Commonwealth with renewed vigour and vitality, and the new third old dream of economic and ultimately, political unity with Britain.

It is a sentence that Commonwealth instead of Common Market.

The Canadian position on the Commonwealth has been a long and hard one, but it has never been one of outright opposition to Britain's efforts to keep the Commonwealth—just not a positive one.

Underlying it all is the fact that it would mean to Canadians.

The choice, of course, as the Prime Minister so frequently has said, remains Britain's.

But should the choice be made, it would mean the end of the Commonwealth, trading old friends for new, and the end of the Empire Trade Preference system.

It would mean the end of the Commonwealth, trading old friends for new, and the end of the Empire Trade Preference system.

Others Paid Kennedy Debt.

Kennedy Tribute

The American people owed a debt to the 113 prisoners held in Cuban jails since the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of April, 1961, and it was redeemed by the payment of a ransom to Castro aggregating $53 million in food and medicine.

This was, of course, a tribute to the President and his official family which would have been paid by the American people if the Cuban rebel landing force, whose enterprise it had encouraged, had failed.

In the negotiations to effect the release of the prisoners, the American position of the United States government was that it was united with the objective but not the formal role.

It is now known that a President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was the mainstay in rounding up the tribute, and that he was joined by C. E. Loefer, Jr. and others in raising an additional $2.6 million in cash which was paid to Castro.

January 1943, 1943 section in Ottawa on January 20, 1943

Old Man Winter again stepped in to keep attention on the best produce market at a very low level this morning. The price of eggs came again slightly with Grade "A" hens at 43 to 45 cents the dozen.

Chickens was at a premium because of the shortage of high quality birds. A few capons brought as high as 30 cents the pound. The price of turkeys was also high, with a few birds selling at 22 per pound.

There was a few other low prices. Butter at 41 cents the pound.

For the final four months of the year, the average monthly price in the city from 1942 to 1943 was $4.11 per pound. It was a record for the city.

Parliamentary Notebook

by Ben Ward

OTTAWA (CP)—The political spotlight shined from Parliament Hill last night when the Conservative Chateau Laurier Hotel, just a short drive from the Parliament Buildings.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and his cabinet members, along with a host of Conservative Members of Parliament, gathered at the hotel for a reception to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the governing political party.

With Parliament resumed Monday, the Conservative government is expected to bring in a new bill to amend the Criminal Code.

University of Waterloo : Earn While You Learn Canada's Engineers of Tomorrow Work Today

Co-operative student programs are guided by Industrial Advisory Council composed of representatives of industry and the University of Waterloo. Individual students are interviewed by businessmen and engaged for four-month periods in industry. Over 270 companies offer co-operative employment for engineering students.

University of Waterloo — already a $9,000,000 investment in Canadian education — is rapidly expanding its facilities.

Canada's University of Waterloo is using a two-stage booster (academic lectures allied with practical experience in industry) to train its engineering students past graduation and into the space-age technology of the modern world. Amid the fertile farmland of southern Ontario, the University is expanding its student program of alternating four-month periods in the lecture room with work in Canadian company plants and laboratories. Since the initial engineering co-operative course in 1957 (first in Canada), enrollment has rocketed. Science courses in applied physics will follow this pattern in 1965. The combination of theory and practice is of sound educational value, enables students to pay their academic way with money earned during work periods, brings students and employers together to the benefit of Canadian industry and science.

Chemical engineering student G. R. Branchflower from Blebsheim, Ont., studies the fluidization of solids. Between academic terms he works for Brockville Chemicals, Brockville, Ontario.

Kennedy Will Visit Italy, West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will make his first foreign working visit to West Germany after visiting Italy later this year, the White House announced Friday.

Stops in Italy and West Germany will be the only ones made by Kennedy during his European visit, the announcement said.

It had been thought likely earlier that Kennedy also might go to Paris to confer with President de Gaulle and possibly to London for meetings with Prime Minister Macmillan.

It is expected that Kennedy will go to western Europe in May or June.

By the time today's crop of high-school freshmen are ready to enter university in 1970, Canadian universities will have had to treble their student capacity. One of Canada's newest universities, Waterloo, Ontario, is well along with a new type of education program which makes full use of available facilities, encourages future expansion, brings a fresh, practical approach to university academic courses. The co-operative program between the young University of Waterloo and nearly 200 industrial companies is rapidly boosting student enrollment in its faculty of engineering, will this year be adopted by the faculty of sciences and is expected to set the pattern for future university training in practical sciences. Students enrolling at Waterloo for the first year of their term. While one stream of students attends university lectures full-time, the other group is employed (at normal industrial salaries) by private business, official agencies and in industrial plants. Every four months the streams change over—students from the two groups changing desks in the classrooms for jobs at the factory and vice versa. Students are selected for their working jobs by the industries concerned on advice from the university co-ordinators, two students being required for each working position. Waterloo's co-operative program enables students to work their way through college by using their academic knowledge in the field in which they are most interested, introduces many of them to the company with greater assurance and incentive to keep their skills and knowledge in Canada for the rest of the nation. That Waterloo's co-operative scheme of practical university training is paying off can be seen in its rapid growth. In five years, student enrollment has increased from 74 to 1,200 and is expected to double in another three years. Expansion of facilities and academic courses in the immediate future will cost $11,000,000 — the result of long-range, careful planning by a modern university designed to meet the needs of Canada's technological future. 100-Year-Old Woman Slain In City Home

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh police investigated today the murder of a 100-year-old woman at a city convenience home. They said she may have been the victim of a sex killer.

The body of Mrs. Mary Hertz, 100, was found in her bed at Adelphi Hospital.

Police said a towel was wrapped around her neck. An autopsy showed she was strangled. Authorities said she also suffered shock and multiple contusions of the head. A detective said there was evidence that sex crimes had been committed.

No Fishermen Were Stranded In Big Storm

ST. WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—A check of the windevisi log for the last day (today) showed no ice fishermen had been stranded either by ice or by stormy weather.

Fears had been expressed that some might have been prevented from returning to shore in a stormy drive by wind, blowing at 50 miles an hour.

Fred Hogg, who rents fish log bays, turned the ice by last today with a party of sportsmen and found no one had been stranded in the fishing area on the Lake Erie bay.

All Games In Third Round Are Postponed

LONDON (AP)—All 25 of today's scheduled games in the third round of the English soccer league were postponed because of snowbound pitches and the postponement of fixtures because some classic than ever.

The round was supposed to have been played Jan. 18-20, of 32 games, only seven were being settled so far. The others were drawn and are waiting to be replayed.

Most English League teams have played no soccer since before Christmas.

Frigid Weather Grips Midwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Winter's brand of rough weather—much less cold, snow and freezing rain—extended across vast sections of the United States today.

Frigid weather held tight across the eastern midwest. Temperatures dropped to near zero southward and toward the north.

Freezing weather extended into Texas, with warnings of a blizzard in southern Texas and through the lower Mississippi Valley into parts of the Gulf of Mexico and the Gulf of Mexico. The cold weather threatened chin crops in the south.

Freezing weather held tight across the lower Rio Grande valley and into the Gulf of Mexico.

Southern California again braced for more freezing weather—the same straight freeze of a cold wave that has caused more than $2,000,000 damage to citrus, vegetable and fig crops.

View Ice Jam
NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—The 15-mile long ice jam in the lower Niagara River, which drew thousands of spectators during the weekend, remained solid today.

The U.S. Coast guard said there were no signs of an immediate breakup, although a channel of water was visible along the Canadian shore from the Horseshoe Falls to the mouth of the Mist waterfall leading to a channel of several hundred yards.

Canadians jammed both sides of the river Saturday and Sunday.

4 Arrested in Arms Theft; Guns, Ammunition Found

MARMORA (Special)—A small but deadly arsenal of stolen firearms is being examined by police today after a series of weekend searches in this area.

The haul, including pistols, rifles, shotguns, and a large cache of ammunition was identified by detectives as stolen from a Belleville sports store two weeks ago.

Four Marmora men were arrested in connection with the weapons find.

Charged with the January 6 burglary of Kelly's Sport Shop in Belleville are John Albert Fairbridge, 20, Russ Allen Lake, 26, Glen Irwin Gray, 21, and 21-year-old Henry Sylvester Gagner.

The four will appear on a weak, entry and theft charge in Belleville Magistrate's court today.

The haul in the sports shop robbery was valued at $15,000. Police say most of the firearms taken were recovered over the weekend.

Discovery of the guns was triggered by Marmora police chief Murray Brown early Saturday morning, as he investigated reports of a robbery of a local storekeeper.

Chief Brown called in provincial police from Marmora while city detectives also were sent to this village.

With Chief Brown detectives Bill Warrick and Tom Warrick, and a Marmora sergeant, assisted by city police constable Donald Van der Vliet, made inquiries in the village all day Saturday and early Sunday morning.

Police say they recovered the guns in several separate caches. Some were found in a house in the village, others in an abandoned automobile on the Cordova Road, northwest of here.

The guns included 10 pistols—both revolver and automatics of various calibres—and five rifles and shotguns. One of the rifles was a .22 calibre automatic.

LETHAL HAUL—Belleville police have charged four men on a burglary count after this pocket arsenal of guns was found in the Marmora area over the weekend. Above, detective inspector J. B. Robt. Smithman Heads Group To Aid Retarded

TRENTON — An increase in enrollment from 25 to 26 and a change in government regulations, lowering the age limit for all-day students from 13 years to 10 years, has prompted the members of the Trenton-Brighton and District Association for the Retarded Child to consider hiring an additional teacher for the area school.

At last Thursday's meeting of the group, Mrs. Eva Smithman, education chairman, recommended taking on the extra teacher to assist school principal Jay Watters and the junior student instructor.

Robert Smithman, an association member for the past three years, was elected president to succeed John Martin of Brighton, following his death.

Mr. Smithman spoke briefly, emphasizing the need for basic research into the causes of retardation.

Mrs. J. (Bobbie) Reid, convener of the recent drive for funds, announced that more than $6,000 had been collected. This was the first of $10,000 donated by the Trenton Lions Club, which was used to pay off existing indebtedness on the school mortgage.

Other executive officers elected at the meeting were: Mrs. Fred Smith, 27 W. Broad St. of Brighton, vice-president; J. N. McKay, treasurer; Mrs. M. J. Jenson, recording secretary; Miss Mary J. Long, corresponding secretary; A. J. Harris, publicity chairman; George Kennedy, institutional chairman; John Pursart, ways and means chairman; R. H. Charvett, program chairman; Mrs. R. L. Smithman, social convener; Mrs. J. M. Christian, education chairman; Mrs. D. F. McLaughlin, membership chairman; Peter DeGroot, finance chairman; J. G. Dwyer, transportation chairman; John Gynon, male tennis chairman.

Special prizes for the first draw went to Howard Aik, Mrs. L. Carr, Walter Steers and Mrs. Mary Steers.

Winner of the second draw took home a trip shipped by Lloyd Worrall, with Mrs. K. Bailey, Mrs. L. Choudhary and J. Hilt.

Special prizes for the second draw were won by Mrs. O. W. Taylor, Lyle Carr, Mrs. T. W. Hetherington, Frank Hylant, Mrs. James Duncan and Robert Hylant.

Vin, Asian flus and colds all are virus diseases. Unhappily we don't have any "wonder drugs" that will stop viruses the way we can stop bacterial infections. So it's true that no medication will cure either colds or flu.

Aspirin and plenty of rest will make you feel better, and staying home and not getting overexerted will help prevent picking up some other germ on top of the virus.

Even though we can't cure virus diseases, we can prevent a lot of them with vaccines. The present flu vaccine protects against all the major varieties, including the most-publicized. And if you haven't had the shots before, the best advice is to have two of them about a month apart.

THE BACKSACK

Curling is referred to as the "roarin' game." I suspect this is one of the reasons why the quieter game than curling, unless it is tidy-winks, you will not hear of. Roaring is the last thing I imagine curlers doing with curling. Since it is played now almost entirely in indoor arenas, the roaring is the booming sound of rocks hitting each other, an occasional scotch, or a player that has started the game with the violence of the risk. The players wear rubber-soled boots, so that when there is a slide, the sound is like a giant's foot sliding with their boots, making no sound at all. The players are ahead of a rock, they sweep the ice in front of it, and the

The players do not shout or encourage one another. The only sound of the less to the more of the game is the booming, the skips semaphored with the utmost modesty and grace, the roaring where the next rock is desired.

Perhaps in the olden days the Scots who conceived the game as they did golf, may have roared and bellowed, out on the heath, but the roaring and the vigorous effects of the ice and partly from the effect of the roaring, the Scots played to ward off cold.

There was more roaring in the olden days, but the

Bridal Salon Consultant Gives Advice

MONTREAL (CP) — Jean everything from how to choose a wedding dress to how to give a wedding toast.

The Belgian-born Miss Rale, who has been a consultant at a bridal salon in Montreal for 13 years, has planned 5,541 wedding dresses for brides.

The perfect wedding, she says, should be a happy occasion for all concerned. It should be a celebration of the union of two people.

A sufficient time to plan a wedding is six to eight months. A sufficient time to plan a wedding is six to eight months.

A wedding budget may run from $500 to $50,000, depending on the couple's tastes and the size of the wedding.

Knowledge of the bride is the key to a successful wedding. The bride should know what she wants and what she can afford.

Miss Rale's principal advice is to choose a wedding dress that is comfortable and that the bride will like to wear.

Monday Stew

by Mary Moore

Nearly two years ago I made a rich beef stew with some artichokes. It was a hit.

When I make a stew I start with raw meat.

I know many good cooks who make stews from leftover meat.

One of these good cooks told me to try this recipe.

Probably there are girls in this audience who will tell me they make a stew from leftover meat.

Meanwhile, I will give you Eleanor's method and her recipe for the dumplings she made and cooked on top of it.

Dinner Menu

Beef and Kidney Pie with Mashed Potatoes, Quick-cooked Stuffed Cabbage in This White Sauce, Parsleyed Carrots, Pickled Beets, Large Baked Apples and Creamed Coffee.

Daughter Sees Mother First Time in 20 Years

VANCOUVER (CP) — Almost 30 years ago Mrs. Helen Wood was separated from her daughter Kristina, then a three-week-old baby.

It happened when she and her husband were sent to a labor camp in Germany during the war.

Not until early this year were mother and daughter, now an attractive young lady, reunited.

Kristina was sent to live with her mother, who was a mother and father were taken away.

The Woodlans remained in Germany until 1961 when they were able to leave for Canada.

Five years ago negotiations began in Ottawa with the Polish government for Kristina's passage to Canada.

Red tape and a shortage of money delayed the arrangements for Kristina's return.

Before Christmas a Kristina boarder a ship for Montreal.

When she took the train to Kinsington, Ont., to see her father, her parents have been separated for eight years.

Finally a plane brought her to her mother and brother, Richard, 14, and Joseph, 22.

But if the French dressing is made properly it isn't necessary to add anything else.

French dressing is a 1 or 2 parts of oil to 1 part of vinegar.

For a rich dressing, add a little butter to the oil.

For a light dressing, add a little lemon juice to the vinegar.

For a spicy dressing, add a little mustard to the vinegar.

For a tangy dressing, add a little Worcestershire sauce to the vinegar.

For a creamy dressing, add a little mayonnaise to the vinegar.

Quebec Political Leaders Agree Spirit Dissipated

Kennedy

look for stable prices is excellent," Kennedy said.

The U.S. unemployment rate had dropped to 5.8 per cent in 1962 from 6.7 per cent in 1961 but this still meant 4,000,000 workers were unemployed. U.S. production of goods and services had increased by more than seven per cent last year but Kennedy said the increase in this year would be only a modest 4.5 per cent, pushing the gross national product in 1963 to $278,000,000.

The president conceded that his requested tax cuts, in particular, had not been met. He suggested, "between deficits of waste and weakness and deficits incurred as we build for our future strength," these tax cuts would be an investment in future prosperity, he said.

In his last message to be presented later this week, Kennedy said that the cuts to start July 1, to be spread over the next year, would reduce the present individual tax rate from 30 to 28 per cent, and the corporate rate of 48 to 45 per cent. The individual rate cut scheduled for 1963 if Congress approved, would amount to some $3,000,000.

Since Americans generally regard their disposable income except for 10 or 15 per cent, Kennedy estimated the U.S. consumer market would expand by more than $7,000,000,000, and the national consumer load is reduced by $8,000,000,000.

REDUCE OTHER TAXES

He proposes also to reduce the income tax rate to 46 per cent from 52 in 1962. For small businesses, the initial stage of the cut, effective Jan. 1, 1963, would reduce the rate from the first $10,000 of corporate income to 32 per cent from 48.

Turning to international problems, the president said the U.S. international payments deficit was reduced last year to $2,000,000,000 from $2,500,000,000 in 1961, "but we cannot relax our efforts to reduce the persistent deficit still further."

American price stability was working in the American favor. Wholesale prices had risen since 1959, while those in every major competing country except Canada had risen sharply.

"We shall continue to reduce the overseas burden of our external defence and economic assistance programs with out weakening their effectiveness—both by reducing the foreign exchange costs of these programs and by urging other industrial nations to assume a fairer share of the burden of world defence and development."

MAKE EARLY PAYMENTS

Some measures of co-operation had already been achieved. Kennedy made clear that with out advance repayment of the U.S. international payments deficit last year might have been close to $3,000,000,000.

Kennedy noted that the growth rate among Common Market countries during the 1950's was far greater than among the United States, Canada and Britain.

He emphasized the need of persuading the Common Market nations to import, particularly farm goods, and pointed to the importance of means of accelerating more outward-looking European markets.

Not only Europe and the United States would benefit from lower tariffs but also Canada and Japan, "the two largest partners of the U.S."

He promised maximum concern in tariff reduction, full participation of all major trading nations in the forthcoming negotiations will be essential.

FIRE HITS PORT

SEUL (AP) — A three-hour fire today destroyed 245 stores and 30 homes in a market area of Hiroshima, a port city 200 miles south of here. Press reports said 300 persons were homeless and damage was estimated at more than 100,000,000 yen ($770,000). No casualties were reported.

porting the UN, helping less-developed countries, breaking down trade barriers and providing the conventional defence forces for which her manpower, wealth and industrial capacity will be used.

In the light of the Conservative government's decision on the nuclear question, Mr. Johnson said this policy now was pressing the government to adopt it. He said it was an alternative to having the nuclear issue hanging over the government's head as a threat when it is contemplated politically in the Commons.

At the convention, the nuclear issue was the subject of the most heated debate.

Superior Music and Variety Shows for Variety Viewers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—An extraordinary variety of happy Sunday nights during 24 hours of superior music and variety shows on network television last week, one comedian imitated a Kennedy.

Last week even the panel and game shows were aware of what a big week it was. It was getting to be quite a bore.

So Sullivan's CBS comedy show was becoming more stylish and smooth all the time and its production numbers Sunday night were particularly handsome. Charlie Mason, the creative's comedian, had a bright and fresh monologue—a French travel agent advising clients how to behave at the hotel in New York.

Mason has joined a growing group of viewers who worry about that nasty corner of the commercial who won't let her have her say in the soap. He heeded, "I haven't I want to do myself in the interest of U.S. expression."

Here's Red, on ABC, was a good, English comedian. He called Gary Eddie Adams, Stan Goff of News News News, and the Elmer Wagner character was sophisticated and smoothly executed.

Recommended tonight: The Lucy Show, CBS, 8:30 EST.

See Casey, ABC, 10:11—second of a two-part program deal with a narrative analysis.

On 10th Hole

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Professional golfer Doug Douglass of Lakewood, Colo., carried a near-impossible 18 on the 10th hole during Sunday's final round of the Bing Crosby Invitational.

"I'm kind of a blur," the 34-year-old young pro admitted when asked about the horrendous hole.

"I knew my tee shot landed in the back of the club. I tried to get it out three times. The 15th hole was a disaster. I took the first of about eight strokes."

"Everything is in the ball. It came down to the hole and rolled back to be half buried. Finally, I had to put it in a place of the hole in the hole of three."

Campanelli was playing with me and I asked me to go to the 10th hole. I was trying to remember all I was on the green in 14 and I was trying to beat on all the shots, but you just couldn't get any feel out."

The 19 qualified the worst ever to face the Crosby. Hans Merrill of Megadale, Ohio, had the score on the 10th hole at Cypress Point a couple of years ago.

Douglass didn't lose his composure and shot even par for the final eight holes, finishing with a 68 and a 72 total. He finished 72 holes. "I'm 27, No. 78. I'm having trouble counting."

At The Park "BARABAS" NO GLAMOR BOYS

One of the most remarkable features of the "Barabas" starring Anthony Quinn at the Park Theatre for three more weeks is that the cast was made up of the same group of actors on the lot, the story and not the story to fit the actors. Producer of the film is the director, Richard Fleischer.

He chose to camouflage with the novel by Nobel Prize winner Per Lagerkvist, casting and directing with an actor whom they thought was perfect for that particular role.

There are none of the so-called "glamor boys" in the cast but there are great powers of light and performers, such as two-time Academy Award winner Anthony Quinn, for example.

He brought to the screen's most-outraged actors. Quinn played the title role in the film of the assassin and thief who was given the title and freedom when "Christ was crucified in his place."

Jack Palance can hardly be called the "collared" type, but he is a character actor in the prime of life, playing the gladiator for the

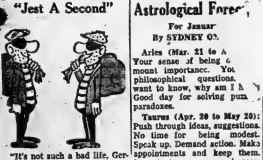

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Be specific, strong, but not dominating. Hold out hand of friendship. Keep offers open, even if not immediately accepted. Excellent for teaching, writing, learning, recording, ambitions.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You can persuade, charm, entice today. You can make known your need. And you can make others want to fill... your requirements. Act with confidence. Go full steam ahead.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Cycle up. You assess personality, abilities, foresight. You inspire, entertain and sell. No time for waiting, worrying, wondering. Go all out. Ask and receive!

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Many demands. But your first duty is to yourself. Keep past promises, resolutions. Get some "me" time. Analyze, make deductions. Don't follow "me" into the independent & uncharted.

“Jest A Second”

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Your sense of being a moral importance. You philosophical questions. Want to know, why am I? Good day for solving puzzles.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Push through ideas, suggestions. No time for being modest. Speak up. Demand action. Make appointments and keep them. Important persons are impressed by your know-how. Go to it!

Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Good day to go ahead! Throw off silly doubts, thoughts, superstitions. Be practical. Think of future. Romance is fine, but so is loyalty, security, money in the bank.

Cancer (June 22 to July 23): Day when you are inspired to give your best. But you're apt to feel there is vacuum. This is a natural reaction. Perfection may be impossible to achieve. Share knowledge, hopes, fears.

Leo (July 24 to Aug. 23): Action is key. No time to speculate, procrastinate. Instead, put ideas into operation. Turn hopes into realities. Demand a hearing. Illustrate your thoughts.

Virgo (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Conflict within family circle may be eliminated. But take diplomacy, consideration, maturity. Avoid "thinking out loud." Be tactful. Don't blurt out secrets to investigate. Be wary, but open-minded.

“Jest A Second”

It's not such a bad life. Get it — taking things all round.

Continental Common Mart Suggested by Liberal Leader

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson has suggested a "continental common market" between Canada and the United States in the event Britain is unable to join European Community.

In a speech in London, Ontario, on Friday, he described the North American trade area as "a common and different idea."

It would have to be brought about in a way that could be reconciled with Canada's Commonwealth and world trading requirements.

Mr. Pearson listed the suggestion as one of several alternatives for Canada in the event Britain is unable to negotiate adequate conditions for entry to the European Common Market.

Such a development would mean "even more difficult decisions" than if Britain joined the European Community.

One alternative for Canada if Britain does not join European Community would be a "continental common market" arrangement—world market because of the nature of the U.S. and Canada's trade relations.

It meant exclusion of the U.S. from benefits.

Another alternative—also mentioned by the U.S.—was a "continental common market" arrangement between U.S. and Canada, but because of U.S. trade relations with Latin America and Japan. This was added.

"What about a continental common market? It is a proposition impossible, between Canada and the U.S. to be brought about in a way that could be reconciled with our Commonwealth and world trading requirements and difficult idea."

In a London dispatch Saturday, The Canadian Press also reported Mr. Pearson as suggesting this as an alternative for Canada if Britain does not join the European Common Market.

In another report, CP erroneously reported him as pointing it forward as an alternative in the event of failure to reach a new North Atlantic trading community.

The reference in the report to a North Atlantic trading community was to Mr. Pearson's speech in London.

Mr. Pearson said the U.S. and Canada would have to negotiate a "continental common market" arrangement between U.S. and Canada, but because of U.S. trade relations with Latin America and Japan.

It meant exclusion of the U.S. from benefits.

Good Amateurs Have Been Lost To Pro Theatre

By EDNA BLAKELEY

OTTAWA (CP)—The rise of the professional theatre in Canada in the last 10 years has taken its toll on amateur theatre.

Richard McDonald, executive director of the Dominion Drama Festival, said:

He held a great conviction that the amateur theatre was the only way to level off in the next few years.

Good amateurs who had progressed to a point where they might become directors of their own groups were lost to the professional theatre. This had affected the quality of some groups.

This will be the third year in which the festival has used professional groups as adjudicators at regional festivals and it has helped to raise the standards.

Mr. McDonald said 34 regional adjudicators for the 34th annual festival, to be held in March, were named Friday.

WON AWARD PRIZE Two of them have taken part in festivals. Herbert Whitford, a drama critic, is the only person to win the director's award twice in Dominion Festival.

Another adjudicator is Willem Needles, who has been appearing Festival for eight years and appeared in festival with the Atlantic Western Little Theatre about 1950.

He said it was because of the festival's reputation that the first festival that he did to attend drama school in Chicago.

Other adjudicators for regional festivals are Michael producer Nori in Springfield, Ontario actor and director, and W. Kings and Montreal film directors Guy Bouchard and Florent Fournier.

The final Dominion festival will be held May 23-28 at Kingston. The eight dozen winners compete for $1,000 offered by the Canadian Association of Dramatists.

Rebeck says: "On the basis of present order, there must be a serious decline in the number of ships and the gross tonnage building at 1963."

WORLD TOTAL Up Statistics estimate world ship-building output in 1962 at $500,000 tons, an increase of 500,000 tons over the 1961 figure.

P.M. Indicates Two Steps May Determine Policy Canada May Undertake Largely Warning Role

QUICK APPROVAL OF ESTIMATES HOPE OF GOVT. House to Debate Foreign Affairs

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker has indicated that there will be at least two major stages in determining Canada's future international policy.

One arises from the British-American proposal, now being discussed by the NATO council in Paris, for a multilateral nuclear force.

The second relates to the North American defence and the possibility of Canada's role changing and the United States' role being modified.

In anticipation that changes in the Canadian NATO and NORAD roles, plans are being discussed in government circles for Canada to undertake a major role in the continental defence and possibly a nuclear role in NATO.

Reportedly, Mr. Kennedy and Prime Minister Maclean proposed the multilateral nuclear force. Mr. Diefenbaker said: "I believe that the direction of change of the military forces in NATO are being discussed, and the weapons systems and the speed with which they can be replaced is being discussed. It is not a simple matter to decide the timing of the change."

Government sources said later the time schedule is not yet decided.

When Mr. Diefenbaker made his statement, the opposition would have a "vote of confidence" in the government.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government would like to see the estimates of the defence budget for 1963-64 approved by the House of Commons.

Contractor Paid $30,000 Over Tender for Equipment at RCAF Station Trenton

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department paid $30,000 for equipment for the RCAF station at Trenton, Ont., and found they did not provide enough security.

The tender for the equipment was still being called. The $30,000 expenditure is out of 22 "non-productive" projects by the defence department. The equipment was in the hands of Maxwell Henderson in his capacity as a member of the RCAF station in the community in connection with the public accounts.

Others noted by Mr. Henderson on the original contract for $80,000—was paid a contractor for work at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and when he was asked to postpone work of certain equipment, "in order not to interfere with the equipment in the hands of the RCAF station."

He was born in this city 66 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. "Harry" Greenleaf, and received his education in the public and high schools of his native city.

As a young man he was employed in the machine shop business with his father and his brother, and was later employed by his grandfather. He took an active interest in the business and continued the firm after the death of his father, a former mayor of the city.

Mr. Greenleaf was an expert machinist in every phase of the work and his advice was eagerly followed on complicated machine work and tooling. He was a wide citizen in the city and district and he employed the highest skilled workmen to keep the work up to a high standard. His integrity and honesty of purpose endeared him to a wide circle of friends.

He was an active member of the Protestant Union Church, being particularly interested in the Men's Club of the church, and was also active in the work of the congregation.

He was a member of the Y.M.C.A. of the Belleville Lodge, A.F. & M. No. 128, and a charter member of the Moose Temple Corporation.

He was married to the former Florence Mosman, two daughters, Mrs. E. A. (Lila) Farquhar and Miss Barbara Greenleaf, both of Toronto, and a son, Stanley T. Jones of this city.

The funeral will be held from the Thompson Funeral Chapel, "Street" Street, on Wednesday afternoon, with interment in Belleville cemetery.

Canadian 'Bonanza' Boys Patrol Their 'Ponderosa' In Private Air Mustangs

MANTVERBIE, Alta. (CP) — The Ross ranches, a 282,000-acre spread in the shortgrass country of southeastern Alberta, got their start in the days when the legends of the wild west were being made.

Today George, Jack and Walter Ross patrol in their private aircraft to inspect their grand father's land founded in 1865.

The three brothers, who are their own bookkeepers, business managers and to a large part their own ranch hands, own four limited companies which manage the Ross ranches. Their land rules about 2,000,000 pounds of beef each year.

The entire operation would be connected except for one parcel of land which, now is community owned. Manverbie is 45 miles south of Medicine Hat and HAD MILLION ACRES.

Cattlemen say legions have probably played a large part in the hard work toward the success of the Ross brothers, whose business was started by grandfather Walter Ross who came to this country from Ireland.

Mr. Ross started ranching near Mapora, 25 miles south of Lethbridge, and later went into partnership with J. M. Wallace.

George, Jack and Walter Ross, who are now following his own aircraft, are the sons of Walter Ross who came to this country from Ireland.

When the Ross brothers began to expand the country and the land started to climb. The second generation ranching family remained control of the Mills River and the holdings in Montana until 1948.

George Ross Jr., who returned after several years in the RCMP, went to work reestablishing the empire.

George and his two brothers operate in the use of three aircraft. The trend was started by grandfather Walter Ross who was the first to patrol the many acres under his control.

He was a Flying Farmer for 41 years, starting long before the first international association was organized. The three sons followed suit, with one now owning his own aircraft.

Walter is vice-president of the International Flying Farmers and his two brothers are members.

George Jr. estimated the four companies, Lost River Ranching Co., Mills River Ranching Co., James Mitchell Ltd. and Bear Gulch Ltd. manage about 2,000,000 pounds of beef each year.

Walter and Jack make their home on the Milk river, while George lives on the Lost River spread.

Historic Cylinder, Message Found 109 Years Later On Small Island Near Pole

By JOHN E. HIRD

OTTAWA (P) — On May 10, 1853, a British naval lieutenant searching the Arctic waters for explorer Sir John Franklin left a message in a metal cylinder on a small island 800 miles from the North Pole.

When the ship returned to England after making part in a fruitless three-year search for Franklin, he wrote in his journal how close his visit to the remote northern island.

One hundred and nine years later—on Jan. 11, 1962—their discovery was made accidentally by two members of the federal government's Polar Continental Shelf project.

Lieut. Cheyne was a member of an expedition which sailed from England in 1853 under the command of Sir Edward Belcher to search for Franklin.

There were three vessels under Belcher's command—the Assistance which he commanded, the North Star and the Beaulieu.

Belcher was forced to winter at the northwest corner of Gribou Peninsula on Devon Island. The other two ships wintered at different points in the Frobisher Strait area between Bathurst Island and Devon Island, 1,500 miles north of Winnipeg.

FORGET DISPATCHES — Before winter set in Belcher had given instructions to the captain of the North Star to send a sledge party to meet one of the salvagers in the spring of 1853. The rendezvous—arranged for an exchange of dispatches—was to take place at either Point Philip, Baffin Island, or the small island of Cape Charles.

On April 21, 1853, Belcher ordered Cheyne and six other men to take the sledges "in case of an emergency" to the party from the North Star.

Belcher said later in his report on the expedition that Cheyne returned April 28, "forming me that he had brought an empty mail."

"The report surprised me," Belcher wrote. "However, a very few minutes decided that he (Cheyne) had made an egregious mistake; he had brought one or two letters and news of the dispatches he had left behind."

Belcher notes that Belcher and Cheyne never went on the best of terms.

Belcher's report states that Cheyne was sent back to the North Star to get the dispatches.

Students Urge That French Be Taught

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — Students from 13 Ontario universities and colleges Sunday urged that French be taught in all schools in elementary and high schools.

The students, attending the Ontario Conference of the National Federation of Canadian Students, emphasized the teaching of French in their resolutions.

They recommended that camps be permitted to direct five per cent of their tax bill to university or college and be granted an equivalent exemption.

Delegates said it practically every university in Ontario lacks necessary funds to complete expansion plans.

University of Ottawa delegates asked NEGUS to back an attempt by the university to gain additional provincial grants.

They said grants received by the Roman Catholic University are about a third those received by non-denominational institutions.

Budapest's Private Stores Surprise Western Tourists

By WERNER STANLEY

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — A shopping tour throughout Budapest, the capital of Hungary, surprised Western tourists expecting to see only drab and regimented Communist stores.

One big surprise is that there are private stores although, in theory, the state is supposed to own all shops. Fifteen years of communism have not wiped out private enterprise in Budapest.

Competition between state and private is very much in fashion in Budapest. Some of the most expensive French perfumes are sold beside the state-owned perfume products.

To make this kind of competition workable for the state, the price of a tiny bottle of French perfume is 700 forints (250 or about half an American monthly income. On the other hand, Eastman-made watches can be bought for from 20 to 140 forints (from 21 to 27 cents).

LOTS OF PERSON — As in Western cities, Budapest stores have no lights probably intended not so much to advertise as to represent the "prosperity" symbol of the West.

Never Any Plans For Air Cover In Invasion

— Kennedy

DETROIT (AP) — "There never was any plan to have U.S. air cover for the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in April, 1961. Attorney-General Robert Kennedy says in an interview copyrighted by Knight Newspapers incorporated and appearing Monday in the Detroit Free Press and other Knight newspapers.

The fact that "there was not sufficient air cover for the invasion" was one of several "major mistakes" responsible for the failure of the attempt to liberate Cuba, Kennedy says in the interview with David R. Hunt of the Knight Newspapers.

Ken尼迪 says Kennedy is disappointed personally for the failure of the Cuban invasion with the president.

"Before you make any investment there's something you should know..."

"When you consider the costs and risks involved in investing money, a net yield of 6.65% is a remarkable record. Well, that's exactly what Manufacturers Life earned after the deduction of all investment expenses. It says so right here in their 76th Annual Report.

"This return, I can tell you, is outstanding among Canadian insurance companies. It can only be the result of judicious and progressive handling of investments. In my experience the odds are against you doing as well as your own.

"If you read the Annual Report, you'll see that participating policyholders will again receive increased dividends as a result of Manufacturers Life investment earnings. These dividends, to be paid in 1963, will be $124,948,894. Coupled with the immediate payment of permanent insurance, this makes a Manufacturers Life Policy an investment that is hard to beat.

"If you want to get in on this profitable and sound investment, the man to see is the Man from Manufacturers. He can show you many more advantages of a guaranteed investment—life insurance.

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids... and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids quickly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very extraordinary improvement." Pains were promptly and gently relieved... reduction or elimination (shrinking) took place.

Ample case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Many encountered in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so dramatic that this improvement was maintained over a period of

Armed Katangan Soldiers Slip Away Into Bush

KOLWEZI, The Congo (AP)—Thousands of Katangan soldiers slipped into the bush with their weapons as the United Nations today began dismantling Front des Moins Tchombes's forces.

The situation remained tense despite the potential capitulation to the United Nations of the last stronghold in the rebellion against the Katangan government.

But a Katangan spokesman asserted that the war was not over.

He had been himself reported to have been "attacked by some mercenaries" while officers of the armed forces were granted an armed guard.

He told newspaper men he was returning immediately to Elito, but Katanga's capital, and carry on as provincial president.

Katanga's villa here was guarded by a company of his own mercenaries, still being in modern automatic weapons.

He did not get into the details about the attack on him, but said:

"I, as a president, I need an armed guard to protect against the possibility of an attack on my own people. I was attacked by some mercenaries, and my mercenaries disappeared them."

STAKE ARMS
Brig. Reginald Noronha of the 4th had directed the Katangan government to pile its arms at Nido military camp here.

He told newspaper men that Katangan authorities, UN military officials and the UN did not say to leave the stacking of arms, although the United Nations had asked him to.

"I, as a president, and leave these weapons to the military," he said.

BICULTURALISM LIKELY TO BE IN CNR DEBATE President Gordon

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons is supposed to discuss railways today but the debate will probably highlight into the biculturalism.

Why? One matter scheduled for debate is the CNR capital budget and Donald Gordon, president of the line.

Some Quebecers threatened to run Mr. Gordon out of town on his own rail after he told a Commons committee last fall he couldn't find qualified French-speaking candidates for the railway staff for any of the 27 top management jobs in the CNR.

But he also said that figures filed by a Commons committee show that French-speaking Canadians exceed 12 per cent in the "upper-middle and senior management" ranks of the rail.

Adenauer Wins de Gaulle's OK For New Study EEC Executive Body Will Review Question

CP From AP-Renters
PARIS—French President de Gaulle agreed today to put the problem of Britain's entry into the European Common Market on ice for the time being.

de Gaulle, at a final half-hour talk with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, agreed to Adenauer's proposal that the executive committee of the European Economic Community make a thorough new study of the problems of British entry and submit its recommendations to the foreign ministers of the six common market states.

There would be no time limit on the new study, but it is expected to take some months.

de Gaulle left for Bonn after his talk with de Gaulle, ending a one-day visit to Paris during which he signed a comprehensive agreement on German cooperation in diplomatic and cultural fields.

It is expected to be the agreed committee of the two countries.

IS MAJOR PROBLEM
de Gaulle's opposition to British membership in the Common Market posed a major problem for Adenauer when the treaty was signed last year.

Postal Clerks Favor Work Slowdown

OTTAWA (CP)—In spite of an overwhelming vote in favor of work slowdown to support demands for pay increases, the Canadian Postal Employees Association plans to take no action to carry out the work-to-rule principle at this time.

This was made clear Tuesday by Les Hoots, president of the 10,000-strong union, after the ballots were counted in a nation-wide vote on adoption of the rule.

The final vote showed 7,500 in favor and 583 against in 11 postal areas.

Europe's Cold Wave Brings Death, Injury and Chaos

LONDON (AP)—Europe's winter snowfall moved relentlessly southward today and almost the entire continent remained locked in one of the most bitter winters in memory.

The great cold sprung snow added across an ice-cumulated river at Christchurch, in Hampshire, to feed on areas of high water, jamming shipping lanes with pack ice, spreading sickness and bringing food and fuel shortages to millions.

British, snowbound for almost a month, moved into her 34th straight day of freezing or below-freezing temperatures—longest unbroken cold spell on record.

Around scattered coastlines the waves froze.

At Southampton, fish froze there they swam, their heads poking out of the solid sea. Sea birds landed across and perched at them.

Should She Have Another Child?

DEAR DORIS—Hope you will print this in your column as I know you are the adviser for me. I am 29 years old, have four lovely children: a boy 10, girls 8, 7 and 4. Been married twice, see the guilty party in divorce after a few years married. Co-defendant in divorce lived with me one year, then we separated.

I couldn't be a wife; good wages, everything but happiness. I built a world all around my children with no room left for a husband. That's exact by the way is, Doris. No love, no attention; can't blame him for separation.

Now I have met a fine man of 38 years. We have been living common law. We love each other and the children and we all feel like one family. We clicked like a key and lock from first meeting. Is it possible we have a chance or am I making a bigger mistake?—LONGING DESPERATELY FOR EACH OTHER.

DEAR LONGING—If you make it legal, I'd say you. You have become enough to appreciate a good man. Whatever the cost, work toward divorce, then marriage. Then roll up your sleeves and make a good job of it.

DEAR DORIS—I met a boy during the summer and he has sort of lingered on. I don't mind him as a friend, but he seems to think that I am his girl friend.

My mother thinks he comes over too often. I agree, but I don't like to be mean to him or anything. He doesn't seem to be able to take a hint, and I don't know what to do. Please help!—DESPERATE.

DEAR DESPERATE—It's being mean to let him dangle. Have another date next time he calls you. If you must, explain that you want to have several friends, and that he should too.

TO VERY DEPRESSIVE—Hospital was home to you for a long time. But life goes on. Look forward to mixing again with girls your own age. Isn't there an old pal to whom you could write a note, inviting her to come and see you while are getting better?

You can still keep in touch with the nurses occasionally. They'll be glad of a card from you.

(Doris has university training in the psychology of human behavior and can help you. Write to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Arctic Cold

Severe snow squalls were forecast today, accompanied by continued rain.

Work crews took advantage of a brief respite in the storm Tuesday to work on drifts up to 15 feet high across some of the area's roads.

But officials in Owen Sound figured it would take three days to clear city streets, even without the snow.

The Georgian Bay community were pulled off the streets Tuesday afternoon for the second day, and many schools throughout the district were closed.

TAKES SIX DAYS
A highway's department spokesman said it could take up to six days to finish plowing some roads, which have only one lane cleared in places.

The Niagara River below 20-gara Falls continued to be choked by ice, and ice jams in Toronto harbor delayed ferry traffic between the city and a group of offshore islands.

While most of eastern Ontario and Quebec have been spared heavy snowfalls, the icy air has moved in to stay there, Ottawa had an overnight low of about 17 below zero, Montreal's was five below.

The arctic front reached northern New Brunswick, where "campbell's" low of 19 below was the coldest in the Atlantic provinces. Temperatures in the Newfoundland capital touched five degrees above zero.

Other notable cold spots during the night: Calgary with 20 below zero; Edmonton 23, Regina and Winnipeg 33, Fort Arthur 36, Armstrong Oct. 45, Val d'Or 40, Que. 40.

TWO GET LIFE

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Two Saskatchewan Penitentiary convicts were sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday after pleading guilty to charges of criminal murder.

Cecil John Lavery, 20, of Winnipeg and Gerald William Harney, 24, of Edmonton were charged in the fatal stabbing of convict Russell MacCombie of Calgary Aug. 16.

CAKES AND TORTE

A delicious cake (or its crust, a torte) is a real work of art. Obey that creative impulse. Bake that cake that is delicious torte. The following delicious recipe appears in the latest Cooking Magic Cookbook available from the Ontario Intelligence.

OLD-FASHIONED CHEESE CAKE

Set out a 10-inch spring-form pan.

For crust, set out 18 tablespoons (or enough to yield 1½ cups crumbs). Prepare crumbs: Turn crumbs into a bowl and stir in 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/4 cup butter or margarine.

With fingers or back of spoon, press crumbs mixture evenly into an even layer in bottom of pan.

Bake at 375 degrees F. for 8 minutes.

Area Square Dancers Meet At Air Base

The RCAF Treason Fair and Squares were held to close from Campbellville, Belleville and Trenton on January 19th at No. 6 Bomber Depot Drill Hall. The main part of the sale for the sold-out evening was Mr. Jim Miller, from Rogers, and Orla, who kept the dancers moving gracefully to such well known tunes as "Mack the Knife", "Up a Lazy River" and "Good Affection". To add variety to the program, Mr. Bartley put the dancers through a "Double Step" and a round dance which would be a terrific hit in many Area Clubs.

Mr. Buck Brooks, chairman of the RCAF Fair and Squares thanked all present for their support and invited each and all to attend the gala evening on Saturday, January 20th, with Earle Fay, Canada's leading Square Dance Caller, from Yorkton, Sask.

The evening was topped off with a most delicious buffet such arranged by Fran and Pats Donnelly, and catered by the Chuchwagan.

Y.P.A. Enjoys Roman, Gothic Architecture

FRANKFORD — Frankford United Church Young People's Association, meeting in Rose-lower Hall, on the evening of January 20th enjoyed a study of Roman and Gothic architecture of ancient, medieval and renaissance periods, presided by Donna Chase's pictures, taken in Europe last summer.

Sandra Morrow conducted a lively singing, with Marilyn Hall at the piano.

Workshop was arranged by Bill Dufas and everybody participated in his Bible discussion, taken from 2 Timothy 3:16. It was generally conceded that the puzzling variety of conflicting interpretations created an atmosphere of indifference and unbelief difficult to overcome.

1963 OFFICERS:

Officers for 1963 were constituted as follows: president — Ted McCaul; vice-president — Colleen Chase; secretary — Colleen Powell; treasurer — Gordon Savage. It was hoped there would be active participation in "non-church" at Brighten in February. The meeting was closed with "hops."

Congregational Meetings

STOCKDALE UNITED CHURCH

Stockdale United Church held its annual congregational meeting on January 18th, following the 10th anniversary of the United Church Women's Representative from all Church departments reported encouraging progress.

The financial statement of the Church, presented by Mrs. M. J. Huggins, treasurer, showed a healthy increase in offerings over 1961. The missionary report, given by Mrs. E. Fitcher, was an all-time high and the Church was well supported by the Sunday School and Junior groups in its missionary activity.

Appreciation was expressed by Mrs. H. Huggins, organist, and to the choir, for the contribution of good music to the worship services.

Mrs. John Harrington, Sunday School superintendent, and Mr. G. G. Plimpton, thanked the teaching staff for their loyal support and expressed confidence for the future of the space to accommodate a growing number of pupils.

The first annual report of the United Church Women, by Mrs. M. J. Fitcher, president, manifested increasing interest in Bible study and missionary work, and prebible activity in Church, Sunday School and paragonage improvement.

The treasurer's report from Mrs. J. Fitcher, indicated generous financial contributions to the United Church Missionary fund and to the local Board of Stewards.

Reports from Y.P.U., "Messengers", "Explorers", "Tyro" and Juniors were given respectively by Miss Marilyn Hall, Mrs. J. S. Andrew, Mrs. R. Chapman, and Mrs. J. S. Gorman.

TAKE 2

These able leaders were assisted by Mrs. C. Nelson, Mrs. G. Plimpton, Mrs. H. J. Gorman, Mrs. S. Andrew was complimented on the immaculate condition of church, school and grounds.

A vote of appreciation was extended to the minister and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Joffe, and it was hoped that their ministry would be continued.

NEW MEMBERS

The report of the session indicated 13 new members by profession of faith and five received by baptism into the fellowship of the church.

The session constituted as follows for 1963: — Jim Bates, (honorary); Marilyn Mayberry; Harold Mayberry; Harold Picher; Norman Wall; George Plimpton; Walter Hall; Mrs. B. Andrew, and Mrs. John Harrington.

Mrs. George Wrightman was appointed custodian of the Communion Table. The Board of Stewards was constituted as follows:

Soroptimist Club to Buy Projector

The January dinner and hostessing of the Belleville Soroptimist Club was held in the Banquet Room of Johnny's Restaurant at the Plaza, on Monday.

A most satisfactory number of members attended who enjoyed an excellent dinner, after which the business of the club was enthusiastically entered into. President, Muriel York, presided.

It was decided to donate $300 towards the purchase of a film projector and screen for the enjoyment of the residents of the Hastings County Home.

It was also decided to take out a group membership in the Women's Auxiliary of the Hastings County Home to assist in any future activities of the Auxiliary.

After other various items of business were discussed, the meeting adjourned.

MADOC JUNCTION

The annual congregational meeting was held at Eggleston church on Tuesday night, with a fairly good attendance and the minute book was read by Mrs. W. Dymon.

Mrs. William McMillan, who had been appointed secretary for the evening, read the minutes of the 1962 meeting.

The report of the church secretary-treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hilde was read by Mr. Dymon.

The report of Eggleston U.C.W. by the treasurer, Mrs. W. McMillan, Mrs. M. Clancy gave the report of the Sunday School, Ministry and Maintenance.

U.C.W. REPORT

The first annual report of the United Church Women, by Mrs. W. Dymon, president, manifested increasing interest in Bible study and missionary work, and prebible activity in Church, Sunday School and paragonage improvement.

STEWARDS

Mrs. George Wrightman was appointed custodian of the Communion Table. The Board of Stewards was constituted as follows:

Film Show At Foxboro H-S Meet

The Foxboro Home and School met for their regular monthly meeting last Thursday evening. Mrs. Tucker's room of the school.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Churchill presided over the meeting.

It was decided that in each of the United Church of Canada, a motion was made that all 100 officers continue in same office for 1963.

SPRING FAIR

Also it was decided to again have the "Spring Fair" as it is the only fund raising affair undertaken by the Association.

Mrs. Roughton volunteered to be the convener for the seedling table with Mrs. M. Reide at her assistant, Mrs. A. Roughton is to be convener of the homecoming and candy table with Mrs. Roughton as her assistant.

Mrs. L. Lewis and Mrs. W. L. Johnston are to be in charge of the "Country Store". After the treasurer had given his report, it was decided to have a homecoming and candy sale at the next meeting in February, in order to have enough funds to carry on until the Spring Fair.

Following the business, the film, "The Test," was shown by Mr. and Mrs. Churchill. The film was about the action taken by a teacher who discovered

THE FIRST WOMAN PM

The first woman to head the government of a modern state. Mrs. Sirinwa Bandaranaike became Ceylon's prime minister in July, 1960.

some of her pupils were cheating on an exam. It was a most thought provoking film and more parents should have seen it.

After the discussion on the film, lunch was served by the social convener.

Things Columnist Might Never Know if He Didn't Open Mail

By IRL BOYLE.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Bought your wardrobe for space travel yet? . . . How and Kitchener, named color expert, recommends rose garments for women and "for men, a soft dominant green." Science marches on: Dr. Jonathan R. Gill, Boston physician, observed that a nose horse is an animal which can take thousands of people for a ride at the same time. Our quinine weather: "We spend half our lives unlearning the follies transmitted to us by our parents, and the other half transmitting our own follies to our offspring."—Lase Goldberg.

Good for lady doctor: A French actress, Mlle. Pollaire, had the small . . . wall . . . modern lines by a woman of normal stature. . . It measured 15 inches. (The theoretical limit: 10 inches.) Religion: One of three persons on earth worships Jesus Christ. . . A billion of the world's estimated three-billion people belong to one of the 300 Christian sects. Art definitions: "A true friend is one who laughs at your old jokes instead of chuckling over your new mistakes."—Catharine Digne. Canadian Folklore Dean Produces New Song Book

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Marjorie Barbeau has dug once again into his voluminous collection of Canadian folk songs and produced a new book on folk songs of love and adventure. The volume, entitled "The Songs of the Canadian Folklore," is one of 10 published by the 78-year-old retired federal government anthropologist since he began studying Canadian folk songs 46 years ago. Dr. Barbeau retired from the National Museum of Canada in 1948. However, he has retained a small office at the museum to enable him to record for posterity the wealth of a lifetime of research into early Canadian history. "No one can estimate the size of the Canadian folk song collection," he said. "The songs are recorded in the field on an old-fashioned Edison phonograph. The songs are recorded in the field on an old-fashioned Edison phonograph. The songs are recorded in the field on an old-fashioned Edison phonograph."

"The writings preserve the folklore of all Canada, as well as the tales and songs of French Canada and the Indian culture."

The beautifully illustrated book, with sketches by Arthur Limmer and cover and end papers designed by Arthur Price, now is on sale at 50c.

Dr. Barbeau, who writes fluently in both English and French, has collected more than 8,000 early French-Canadian folk songs and some 10,000 tales. Many of the songs were recorded in the field on an old-fashioned Edison phonograph. The songs are recorded in the field on an old-fashioned Edison phonograph. Partly Sound School Board Put on 'Grey List' by Men Teachers' Federation

TORONTO (CP)—The chairman of the Parry Sound board of education has been placed on a "grey list" by the Ontario teachers' union because of threatening two young teachers and forcing their resignation without a contract dispute.

The accusation by W. H. H. chairman of the board, was denied by an official of the Ontario Teachers' Federation.

The board at Parry Sound, on Georgian Bay, has been put on the federation's "grey list" for refusing board of education with which the federation has been unable to conclude contract negotiations.

Mr. Greer said in a telephone interview from Parry Sound that three male probationary teachers who joined the Parry Sound school system in September received letters from the federation, demanding they be dismissed on the grounds that the federation would move to have their teaching certificates cancelled.

Negotiations, suspended for some time, were resumed last week between the board and the federation.

Taxi Driver Said Grabbed Around Throat

TORONTO (CP)—A 35-year-old man has been charged with attempting to choke a taxi driver under a recently-issued notice in the Criminal Code which carries a maximum sentence of life imprisonment and whipping.

The charge against the driver, who was charged with kidnapping, was made by the Toronto Police.

The driver, who was charged with kidnapping, was made by the Toronto Police.

Mr. Greer said the three men had resigned, "but they also had the opportunity to withdraw their resignation. They were told that if they did not, they would be on the 'grey list'."

Liberal Party Council Will Meet in Ottawa

By JAMES NELSON
OTTAWA (CP)—The Liberal party's turn is next on the Ottawa convention stage. Liberal organizers admit they won't be trying to match the Progressive Conservatives in numbers of delegates when their party council meets here next month, but they propose to make up for it by "sharpening and defining" party policy which, in Liberal eyes, the Conservatives failed to do last week.

The Liberal council, to convene on Feb. 11, will be a 11-day meeting, following a Canadian Liberal Party convention in Vancouver. At the same time, a joint meeting of the council and the Liberal party's campaign committee will be held in private.

A party source said headquarters personnel and Opposition Leader Pearson have been thinking for months of holding national headquarters to various parts of the country for regional meetings. These would be occasions for discussing federal Liberal party policies as they affect regional interests.

SHARPER PLATFORM
The national council of the Liberal party has 250 members. The party source said policy discussions are not expected to break new ground for the party, but it is intended that the meeting sharpen and define the platform used in last June's general election.

The Liberals believe their platform in the last election was a good one. After he had digested the election result, Liberal Leader Pearson said that in the next contest he would spend more time and energy emphasizing his good points and less time dealing with the record of the Conservative government.

Looks Like Rematch 'All Set'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (CP)—After weeks of wrangling, Championship Sports Inc. raised last Tuesday agreement has been reached "on all points" for the Tony-Latino-Paterson heavyweight title rematch in Convention Hall April 4.

The final stumbling block appeared to be a demand by the ton's adviser, Jack Nixon, that the champion be paid $207,000 held back from his purse after the first fight to guarantee the return bout.

Al Polin of Championship Sports said Latino's owner will be put up this week and Nixon "is completely satisfied with the financial arrangement."

World Lightweight Champ

Not Worried Over Title Loss

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz, the world lightweight boxing champion, has mapped out a campaign of three fights that could take him from San Juan, Puerto Rico to Manila in the next few months.

The 26-year-old Puerto Rican boxer says he is not worried over a warning from the World Boxing Association to defend his crown against Kenny Lane, of Munster, Mich., or Emilio Sosa, of his title.

"Right now I'm working on a title fight in my native Puerto Rico," Ortiz said.

Tuesday in an interview, "I promised the governor of Puerto Rico I would defend my title in Puerto Rico. That's been one of my main ambitions. It's going to be a charity show and I'll fight one of the top 10 champions."

"Then I'll probably fight a one-time fight in Newark, N.J. in April if all goes well. I'll get the big money first fight—against Elia Elidori, the junior lightweight champion from the Philippines, in Manila, in late May. I'll get between $80,000 and $100,000 for that one."

REALLY MAKES IT

"I like it in the Far East. I had three fights—one in Manila and two in Japan including a title fight—and I've been wonderful. The Philippines and Japan are great fight areas. They appreciate good boxing. They draw tens of thousands of fans about $75,000 on those three fights. It can make more money there than anywhere else."

In four months in the Orient, Ortiz beat Art Perley of New York in Manila, outpointed Japanese Kanoo Takayama in Tokyo and knocked out Japan's Teruo Konaka, ranked fifth amateur by the WBA, in the fifth round of a title fight in Tokyo Dec. 2.

The WBA wants Ortiz to defend against Lane, the No. 1 contender.

Ortiz said: "I stopped him in two rounds the last time (June 1962) and I've got better offers."

Daily Double

Paid $2,718

CHARLES TOWN, Va. (AP)—One of the biggest daily doubles of the year brought $2,718 Tuesday to a handful of better at the Shenandoah Race Track.

The first half of the double saw Roman Call win by 2 1/2 lengths, claiming race, paying $217-60. The second race was won by Johnson Bros. who paid $67.

Athletics Closing In

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chatham Maroons and Windsor Bulldogs have been busy battling one another for first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, which will have four knockout Woodstock games.

What appeared to be a two-man race for the leadership developed into a three-team battle when the Maroons edged the Bulldogs in the first of the two games.

As dumped Galt Terriers 2-1, the Maroons and Bulldogs are tied for the top spot—but Woodstock now is only three points behind.

And Woodstock didn't beat a team of juniors. Galt, a minor league club, has one of the best players in the final minutes of play and the Maroons failed to pass the equalizer, but McKnight almost tied.

New Teen Surf Sensation

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia, which also has a teenage sensation in Vancouver's Mary Stewart, seems to have another one on the way.

Her name is Sharon Pierce and she is only 14.

Sharon got on a remarkable record in the first 12 minutes of the first of the two games.

The old maroon—3-0-5—was a real surprise. The new swimming heroine of the Maroons is the 14-year-old daughter of the Maroons, who was one of the Maroons' victims.

Says Convict Might Suffer Personal Harm

KINGSTON (CP) — Justice Minister Fleming says Ralph Cuddeback, 35, remains in custody at Kingston Penitentiary because there is no danger he would suffer personal harm if allowed to mingle with other prisoners.

In an exchange of correspondence made public here, Mr. Fleming also said Cuddeback might cause injury to other prisoners.

The minister was replying to a written question from Robert D. Cuddeback, executive director of the Kingston White Standard.

The question of who killed guard William C. V. in 1961, at No. 42, on Nov. 24, 1961 is still under public inquiry. The Kingston city police and penitentiary officials say they know who stabbed him in the dormitory corridor early in 1962.

Cuddeback was taken to solitary confinement immediately after the slaying and other prisoners of the dormitory were removed. Some were moved to other prisons in the area.

Mr. Fleming said Cuddeback was removed from solitary confinement when officials felt action was warranted.

Mr. Cuddeback's letter to Mr. Owen mentioned three previous occasions when Cuddeback was in prison. He escaped from the Kingston hospital in 1964, attempted suicide during a previous term and was tried in court for a 1964 attempt on the life of a woman for armed robbery in Toronto in 1966.

Four Killed, Eight Injured In Explosion In Coke Oven at Soo Plant Blows Up

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — Four men were killed and eight others injured when a huge coke oven exploded in a blast at the Algoma Steel Corporation early Wednesday.

A four-hour fire broke out in the blast.

Three men were killed instantly by the blast and a fourth died later in hospital.

Dead are: Charles J. Wolfe, 41, a first helper on the oven; and the father of two, Charles J. Goodrich, 60, a labor foreman and the father of one, Henry Crawford, 30, a furnace operator and the father of seven, and Steve Tarras, 35, who died in hospital.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined but it is known to have occurred between 6 and 7 p.m.

Seven men were injured, some seriously.

The explosion caused a massive fire and a large amount of smoke.

The fire was extinguished by 100 firefighters.

The cause of the explosion is still under investigation.

The Greeks Have A Word For It — Dolmathes To You It's Cabbage Rolls

by Mary Moore

Do not start backing away before you give this at least a try. The Toronto Greeks are so into it that I am taking on at the end of the week to cook up a little reading time this takes. These Cabbage Rolls call for raw beef, meat — chicken, lamb or beef — and are my substitution this week to the egg cookey. They are ideal for mild infirmos, but are actually not much trouble and are rated top for flavor by me. I wish, though, that the price of cabbage was not 15¢ per pound right now.

Dinner Menus

THURSDAY

(Guests)

Wheat Sals Baked in Milk; Fried Cabbage; Cold Smoked Potatoes; Spiced Spinach and Mushroom Casserole (January 16th); Mixed Greens with Strained Swiss Cheese and Italian Dressing; Orange Rice Meringue Pudding (see Wednesday); Tea.

SUNDAY

Citrus Fruit in Grapefruit Meringue; Roast Leg of Lamb; Mint Juley; Potato Legs (see Tuesday); Brevard's; Apple-Baked Lemon Pudding; Coffee.

DOLMATHES (Greek Cabbage Rolls)

1 1/2 lbs to 3 1/2 lbs cabbage, 2 to 3 cups well-packed, cooked ground chicken or lamb, 1 cup ground meat beef and lamb, 1 teaspoon onion (preferably mild), 1 parliee clove, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup raw rice, 1 teaspoon mint leaves (optional but recommended), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup water for 1/2 boiled chicken, 1/2 to 1 1/2 cups to 1 1/2 cups tomato paste, 1/2 cup hot water, 1/2 cup tomato paste.

The Experts Say

Many Who Have Precious Stones Usually Hide Them

by PATRICIA MUSAK

TORONTO (CP)—Gems are beautiful and enhance a woman's style, yet most women are afraid to wear and enjoy them, says one of Canada's leading authorities on precious stones.

Jaroslav Frajlich, a fellow of the Gemmological Association of Great Britain, and one who has precious stones often hide them in safety deposit boxes, and others are reluctant to buy because they are unable to judge good quality.

Since the quality of a stone is "read largely from its inside, the most basic and simplest way to let a layman know a reliable dealer, Mr. Frajlich says.

Another rule: The larger the stone, the poorer its quality is likely to be. "Do not be misled by advertising of large gems — a dealer who advertises large gems means many smaller of color size and quality."

As far as investment or resale value is concerned, a good quality stone cannot be overpriced, Mr. Frajlich says.

The white diamond, the largest selling gem and the one with which Mr. Frajlich does 80 per cent of his appraisal, can be free from color tints and white flaws and inclusions such as carbon spots, stains, scratches and cleavages after the magnification of 10 times, and must be properly cut.

Only an expert can accurately judge a diamond's cut. The shopper can check to see that the stone sparkles from all angles. Such a stone will be a clear white and will free from inclusions when viewed through a microscope.

Any reliable dealer will pay his customers to view a stone through the microscope. Colored diamonds exist in many colors, green, blue, pink, as well as several brown shades but they are rare and extremely expensive. One of these could cost on 90 per cent more than a good quality white diamond of the same weight.

"People are scared of buying colored stones because they are rare and expensive and are not as common as white diamonds," says Mr. Frajlich.

Cut the core from the cabbage. Hold it under running water to peel off the leaves without breaking them. You will need 14 large cabbage leaves for the amount of filling above. Cover with boiling water (14 teaspoon water, cover and let boil 15 minutes until soft. Trim off thickened part of center of each leaf and trim the meat and onion together and add the chopped garlic, nutmeg, cinnamon, bay leaves, flakes, salt and 1 cup water to each leaf. Fold in a side and seal mixture at base of each leaf. Fold in a side and roll up. Place in large pot, open side down. Repeat until all cabbage leaves are filled up. Pour over hot water, add salt and tomato paste and gently simmer 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

These eggs serve after by beating 2 egg whites until stiff, then beating in 2 egg yolks then folding in 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Just before serving they add 1 cup hot water to the Dolmathes. We like this but preferred Tzatziki sauce. (Note: This sauce has a done purpose over most food, poached eggs, ham croquettes, baked and steamed fish, smelt, etc. etc. Be sure to dip it for it is reliable and good to eat together. 1 cup tomato paste (this is leftover from the Dolmathes) and 1 cup boiling water. When serving add 1-1/2 teaspoon baking soda in another pot together 3 tablespoons each butter or margarine and flour, 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar. Stir in a cup milk until thick. Stir in tomato paste, being sure you add 1/2 teaspoon to milk not to tomato) until smooth. If desired, some onions and celery salt and half a cup milk added to fill the tomato sauce but over the tomato sauce. Extra spicing is superfluous.

One common, a true, a synthetic and an imitation stone. SYNTHETICALLY created by man, the stone created by man has the same heat, pressure and molecular structure as the natural stones.

But imitation stones are of various different material than natural stones, and may be simply colored glass or inexpensive gems be treated or dyed.

Even a dealer who is fooled in the latter case if he cannot probe deeply, said Mr. Frajlich. One must always be on the lookout for stones which have been vegetable, dyed, for instance.

Mr. Frajlich recommends that all time gems, possibly of these worth more than about $100, should be appraised and insured. "No two previous years," he says, "are in internal structure red cut."

Diamonds, rubies and sapphires are easy to care for. They can be cleaned with a tooth brush and detergent, but their settings should be checked at least once a year.

Emeralds, a much softer stone, are more delicate because it will chip if hit or abused. Can it also be cleaned with a tooth brush and detergent, but they are highly absorbent and liable to take in dirt.

Diamonds should not be kept in the same box as other gems because diamonds' very hard surface will scratch the faces of other stones, Mr. Frajlich says.

A native of Montreal, Ontario, Mr. Frajlich is one of 25 Canadian experts who have been admitted to the Gemmological Association of Great Britain.

Diplomatic Career Ended When She Married Boss

by IRMA BLAKELY

OTTAWA (CP)—Edna Grubhofer had a short career as Canada's diplomatic service, ended when she married the boss.

As Mrs. Eugene P. Burow with a diplomatic career to Canada's, she still called upon to use the talents that led her into the foreign service. For example, she was the wife of the boss of a diplomatic service, and she was the wife of a diplomat.

"People who think diplomats' wives all around all day long, and that's the way it is," she has often been said that a diplomat's wife is the wife of one (the ambassador) but she is the wife of many.

"There are numerous calls to the service of many calls to be received in the official world of duties."

"For instance, we will be on for dinner for the next 16 hours. Mrs. Burow's husband is a secretary at the embassy in Tehran. The Iranian posting was her last and was the last she had started to become a lawyer but was drawn to the foreign service by a love of travel and archeology."

The Tehran posting gave her the opportunity to see the world, which she has since forgotten. "It speaks Italian," French and English in addition to her mother tongue, German.

DANIELLE BORN HERE Her Montreal daughter, Mrs. Burow, born in Canada, is being taught German. "At first I was in favor of teaching her English but then I thought she wouldn't ever know her mother tongue."

One of the problems of being a diplomat's wife is that it is impossible to have a new dress for each function. Mrs. Burow says will include, some time in Vienna as her daughter will get to know Austria.

Question: When serving coffee at the table after dinner, should the spoon be placed on the table or should it be placed on the saucer along with the cup? A friend and I disagree on which is correct, and would like to have you settle it. — E.N. Syracuse, N.Y.

Answer: The spoon is placed on the saucer, and coffee is placed at the right hand of the guest.

Question: I recently became chairman of a committee to organize a school project and invited the members to my home for a meeting to discuss our work. Everyone was invited for four o'clock, but all except one very early half-hour is more than enough time to allow for latecomers, when business is to be discussed. Those who are on time should be penalized by having to wait for anyone who is late. I finally decided to be drastically late, and it's just plain selfish to expect them to wait for me. — J. Hamilton

New Landmarks In Canadian Transportation

Surging ahead towards the up-to-date world, Canada's transportation network has marked many a modern milestone in the past few months. On land, the 4,800-mile Trans-Canada Highway from Newfoundland to British Columbia has sparked the first cross-Canada bus line. New city subways, bridges, expressways, airports, pipelines are appearing, railways are streamlined—new ones make north to mineral areas. At sea, the crown grand ship John A. Macdonald sailed to within 500 miles of the north pole. Seaway cargo tonnage boomed 10% to 26,000,000 tons, and new look light-houses have come to the St. Lawrence. In the skies, Air Canada celebrated its 25th anniversary, new international air terminals are to open at Toronto, Edmonton and Winnipeg. Canadian-designed air freighters are meeting commercial success. Canada's transportation system, expanding with the modern-day world, is keeping pace with a growing population and its rising place in global affairs.

Last June the first direct east-west bus service went into daily operation. Service will soon be twice daily. Long-distance bus, above, goes through Rockies.

In 25 years Trans-Canada Air Lines has become a $316 million national asset. Above, some of the 5,000,000 passengers carried annually by Canadian air line.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker taps-down symbolic square of road surface at opening of Trans-Canada Highway, September, 1952, at Rogers Pass in Rocky Mountains.

New, wasp-waisted lighthouse is towed into position in St. Lawrence river. Sunk waist deep, lighthouse superstructure and helicopter deck is added later.

Mamora

MAMORA—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wells were the grand parents who attended the baptism of Larry Wayne Clements in Peterborough, and not Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wells as was stated last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wells are spending some time in Florida.

Mr. Ervin D. Muir, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, has been appointed as moderator by the Canada Festival Board, and with Mrs. Muir and baby son has moved to Mamora.

A number from here attended the testimonial dinner for the Hon. George S. White, in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Mawer are residing in Mamora during her parents' stay in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Baxter of Paris, Ontario, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. Grant one day last week.

How High Is Your Place On The Office Totem Pole?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How high is your place on the office totem pole? Are you still climbing up, up, up — or slowly sliding down, down, down?

Here is a handy guide of hints that point the way. You are probably getting to be a poobah in your firm if: You get your haircuts on company time without a feeling of guilt—or that you are putting something over on someone.

You spend an hour to two hours at lunch, and no longer bring it to work in a paper bag. If your social chate develops a creek, somebody promptly oils it for you without being asked. MONTHLY WAGE They take you off the once-a-week payroll and put you on the once-a-month payroll. The guy who used to be on the rung above you no longer stirs your ideas and palms them off as his own. (You steal this.) If the company has a parking lot, there is a space reserved for your car. You get more and more staid, interestedly non-committal "important," "practical" and "strictly confidential" (In the old days you only got minutes like that from your friendly neighbor, hoodlum loan shark.) You give up bowling and take up golf. There is only one buzzer on your desk that you have to rush to, but there are three more buzzers you can push and not get in a jump. BOSS IS WAITING When you want to see the boss, his secretary no longer keeps you cooling your heels while she tells him you longer are. She smiles and says: "Go right in—he's waiting." You spend more time reading the stock market reports than you do the sports pages. The office boy says, "Yes, sir," instead of whining, "for pie's sake, what do you want now?" Follow office workers who used to think you were the inside dog now ask what the inside dog really is. Your wallet contains more new credit cards than old unpaid bills. Suddenly you're a "gilt recruitee." The other employees may love you less—but for some reason they laugh harder now when you tell a joke.

Arden

ARDEN—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson and son, Allan, of Belleville, spent the weekend with Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Loyt.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clancy of Hamilton, called on friends here, and in Tweed, on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Scott visited the latter's daughter, Mrs. William Steele and Mr. Steele, on Saturday. Mr. Ray Akey of Kingston spent the weekend at his home here.

HERE IS THE ANSWER TO YOUR WATER PROBLEMS

Belleville district has always been plagued with problem water, hardness being the most common complaint, though in some areas other cases have given you something less than the sparkling, clear, odor-free water you desire when you turn on your tap.

We have teamed up with Beatty — leader in the domestic water supply field to make available a complete line of Softeners and Conditioning Filters to handle Hardness, Iron, Corrosion (Acid Water), Sediment, Bad Taste or Color. A simple water analysis will tell whether your water supply is affected by one of the above, and it is then a simple matter to prescribe the installation best suited to handle your problem. The analysis is FREE and with NO OBLIGATION — the remedy may cost you much less than you think.

For instance — for a limited time only Pringle & Cooper are offering a Beatty 35,000 grain Softener for just $29.50, a small amount to pay for all the advantages of pleasant-taste, pleasant-to-use Soft Water.

If your water supply has the slightest suggestion of Hardness, Iron, Corrosion, Sediment, Bad Taste or Color, just fill out the coupon below for your FREE Water Analysis without obligation. Mail to the following address —

City Hockey League

By GARY ALKINDER

Trudeau Motors and Welbanks moved a step closer to the long-sought merger in the City Hockey League last night when Welbanks backed out of a franchise that threatened to be a continuing 7-3 season.

Meanwhile, Trudeau overcame an early 3-0 deficit to defeat the Bruins in a 4-3 tie in the first game of the season.

Trudeau and Welbanks will be the top club at stake in the first round of the playoffs, while Welbanks clash with the tail-end Combines.

TRUDEAU VS. BROWNS

Joyce's "Browns" looked as if they might pull the second round of the night when they grabbed a quick 3-0 lead. But the Bruins fought back to tie the game at 4-3 and 5-3 in the first half.

Allen got both goals back for Trudeau on almost identical plays, deflecting in mid-air, passing, for a 2-2 score at the end of the first.

Marineau took advantage of poor defence to score the second goal, and sank a starting line. The Bruins got a 4-3 score after two frames.

In a nail-biting third frame, Kella and Mahr made it 6-3 before "Browns" got a late tie-breaker at 12:32. Geyer helped home the tie.

WELBANKS VS. FLYERS

Welbanks' only lead to beat Flyers to date, struck for four quick goals early in the first period and the loop-keepers never did recover. Brown triggered the first two, at 6:30 and 6:50, and Mulrhead made it 4-0 with another pair at 7:40 and 10:40.

The winners led 5-1 at the end of the first. Pen's goal the only goal in the middle half and Welbanks sewed it up with two more, unanswered, in the final twenty minutes.

Welbanks could do nothing wrong in this one, moving on a rebound, quick passing play and deflected shot and even a goal on a late breakaway.

The President's Message

The year 1962 has been a very busy one. Some things have been done and a lot more we would like to have done.

With the able guidance of the Board Treasurer, Bud Trill and Secretary-Manager Earle Dicknortner, we have finished in the black in spite of moving and increased office costs.

This year we have had the start of a new shopping place in our city. We hope that we may be able to go forward with the co-operation of the plans and downtown merchants and industry in a united effort to make Belleville a greater and better place to visit and do business, with plenty of room for everyone.

Some improvements I think have been effected with the co-operation of the Traffic committee and city council in the installation of Courtesy Fine buses to make it a lot less inconvenient and irritating when anyone secures a parking ticket and less costly if disposed of on the spot.

With the co-operation of the parking authority and council we have been able to promote and have on the way more adequate and convenient parking facilities which are self liquidating.

We hope to have a larger lot which, when completed will allow people to park for whatever time is required and pay on the way out. This would also make it possible for business people to provide Courtesy parking tickets to pay for a large size on a large scale.

We have read maps ready to install on principal highway entrances through the co-operation of the Industrial Commission, and E. L. Rudy & Co. donating the signs. This, I think will make it much more convenient for our business people and visitors to come off the new highway exits and more conveniently get their bearings and find the places they wish to visit, whether it be the downtown business section, shopping place or other principal places of interest.

We had the privilege with the able co-operation of Mr. Boyce and Mr. Dicknortner, to take on a bus trip over (50) daily new teachers to various points of interest of our city and then were entertained as guests of Northern Electric Company. This was very well received.

It has been a distinct honor to serve you as your President in 1962. To the Executive committee chairmen and Board Members a sincere Thank You for your inspiring co-operation.

Let us all, I think year 1963 get behind you new President and Board and make Belleville a very important place to do business or live in.

It is up to everyone!

W. T. ELLIOTT

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES — The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary organization of citizens established to promote the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and to assist which it serves and to work for sound legislation and efficient administration at the community, provincial and federal levels of government. Membership is open to all who may be interested in the development of the community.

BUSINESS AND CONSUMER PROTECTIVE BUREAU — The Belleville Chamber of Commerce operates the Business and Consumer Bureau late in 1960. Since that time numerous complaints (which must be submitted in writing and signed) have been processed to the mutual satisfaction of buyer and seller. In other cases, we have been approached on a product of dubious merit after the consumer has been signed. We have been able to help the consumer in many cases. We recommend the party seek legal counsel. The Belleville Business and Consumer Protection Bureau is a member of the Toronto Better Business Bureau and strongly endorses their slogan, "Before you invest—investigate."

COMING EVENTS REGISTER — Many organizations throughout the city regularly take advantage of the Coming Events Register which is provided for their use. It is the hope that through the constant use of this register, attendance at functions may be increased, and that it may prevent overlapping of dates for the fine organizations that do their share of service work in this community. Remember, this service is for you—make use of it.

GROUP INSURANCE — The Group Insurance Plan has been in operation since November of 1955. This group plan extends coverage to its member firms, their employees and families. There are presently 24 firms participating making a total of 105 individuals. Claims have been made to date in excess of $44,000. This plan covers Dependents Coverage, Life Insurance, Accidental Death, Dismemberment and loss of sight, Wholly Indemnity, Hospital Benefits, Surgical Benefits, Pregnancy Benefits, Assessor's Benefits, Medical Benefits, Diagnostic X-ray and Laboratory Test Benefits, etc. Through this plan, employee, employee and dependents may enjoy the finest in hospital, medical and surgical care.

BUILDING TRADE — During the past year 192 sets of plans and specifications of buildings and other work projects were received at the office and made available to the members of the exchange.

OTHER SERVICES — The Chamber of Commerce office is source of information for its members and citizens of Belleville and vicinity. Records of employees are reviewed through the year requiring about read conditions, statistics of this city and other, where they are available. The Chamber also provides information and recommended routes. All enquiries are acknowledged and carefully handled by the staff of the Chamber. The Chamber also provides information and recommended routes from most major cities across Canada. It also subscribes to a number of Trade Publications for the use and information of its members.

MANAGER'S REPORT

During the year 1962 the Belleville Chamber of Commerce has played a very active part in community affairs. Briefs have been presented to City Council on a number of occasions, and have been very well received. Tours have been arranged, tourists have been greeted, conferences have been attended. On reading back through the minutes of Chamber meetings held over the past 98 years, it would be hard to estimate the value that could be placed on the resolutions, ideas, and accomplishments that have tended to produce a vibrant progressive friendly city that is Belleville.

Looking forward with anticipation to 1963 I can only say:
Hats off to the past, — Costs off to the future!

RETAIL SECTION—DOWNTOWN BUSINESSMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Although still working in close liaison with the Chamber of Commerce, the formation of the Downtown Business Men's Association has been a reality this year. In addition to forming a constitution, the D.B.M.A. was responsible for furthering the parking situation in Belleville by working closely with the Parking Authority. The major issue of the year was the maintaining of proper store hours in Belleville, by briefs and petitions to Committee of City Council and personal appeals before store hours. We feel that only amongst Downtown merchants is Belleville still surely becoming a must and is being recognized as such. Christmas Street Lighting was installed this year and presented a pretty picture of Downtown Belleville.

We hope that this organization will have a self membership this coming year and will work together not only for the best interests of Downtown Belleville, but for the good and welfare of all of Belleville in 1963.

J. SEULMAN, Chairman 1962.

APPOINTMENTS — The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Tourist Association and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Association.

The Board of Directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce gratefully acknowledge the many committees and subcommittees which have been formed and are active in the Chamber of Commerce. We are active in the Chamber of Commerce and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Association and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Association.

PLANNING COMMITTEE — Chairman G. J. Joyce. During 1962 our committee spent considerable time in reviewing the present state of the Chamber of Commerce. We are pleased to see the presentation of a brief stating the vision of the future and industry which resulted from survey and personal contacts with the community. We are able to members of the Belleville and Downtown Business Men's Association. The Belleville Chamber of Commerce was presented at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Annual meeting in Niagara Falls by President W. T. Joyce and Chairman Manager J. E. KENNEDY. Our division was presented at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Association meeting in Toronto, Ontario. The next annual meeting of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce will be held in Toronto, and it is hoped a good representation will be present from the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Picton Rinks Big Winners At Bonspiel

PICTON — Italy was in evidence on Monday at the County Centre, from the Italian sign the flower decked walls at the back of the hall. The centre of the floor had a most attractive statue of Gerino Morino and the flower cars brightened the sides. The tables were gay with flowers and candles and candles burning in bottles. While the girls in the kitchen were busy preparing a Buffet Napoli, sixteen rinks representing Tweed, R.C.A.P., Trenton County, Chik, Belleville, Niagara, Kingston, Guelph, Cataraugus, and Picton were on the ice competing for prizes.

Following are the winners: 1st Draw — High two game was won by a Picton rink skippered by Agnes Lederman with Grace Kitchener, Vicki Murphy second and Helen Mills third. High one game was won by a risk from Chik, skippered by Mrs. Barbara Bell.

2nd Draw — High two game was won by a Picton rink skippered by Flo Boffter, with Margaret Murphy second and Helen Mills third. High one game was won by a risk from Chik, skippered by Mrs. Barbara Bell.

After the draw, a floor show was presented by some good natured members of the Picton Chik. One hundred ladies and gentlemen were present.

Mr. D. Deane and Mrs. R. Evans, the co-chairmen of the event, went to thank all the ladies who helped to make the day a complete success. Mrs. Wm. Wm. Turpel, Mrs. Wm. Jones, Mrs. Carl Boyd, Mrs. D. Fry, Mrs. G. Morrison and Mrs. L. Grubb. They are also grateful to the two teams at the bonspiel — Mr. B. A. Evans, skipper of the Chik rink, and Mr. W. C. Arthur, referee.

Wants Election Expenses Paid By Treasury

OTTAWA (CP) — A Liberal backbencher proposed in the Commons Wednesday that election campaign expenses of federal members be paid from the treasury.

James Brown (L-Branford) said the Commons Election Act has not been changed since 1954 and is now "in need of reform."

He moved that his proposal be referred to a committee to study the matter and to report back to the Commons on the subject of election expenses.

Mr. Brown said most federal members are not paid for their election expenses. He said that the Commons Election Act has not been changed since 1954 and is now "in need of reform."

Harold Wilson Favored to Be Chosen Leader

LONDON (Reuters) — The Opposition Labor party today opened nominations for candidates to succeed the late party leader Hugh Callaghan.

Wednesday night, Labor's 248 members of Parliament accepted the proposals of the party's "shadow cabinet" on procedure for the election of a new leader in a special meeting.

Mervyn, most observers predicted a close finish in the election with some experts giving a slight edge to foreign affairs spokesman Harold Wilson in his race with Deputy Leader George Brown.

The "shadow cabinet" — the most would form a majority in event of a Labor election — was set up to draw up proposals providing for a week-long nomination period ending Friday.

Another week will be provided for the party members to record their secret ballots for the chairmanship of the "shadow cabinet" — an office which automatically carries the party leadership.

Results of the election will be announced Feb. 7.

Most close observers agreed there was still the possibility that a dark horse candidate might emerge at the last minute.

Many Pelts Will Be Sold At Auction

MONTREAL (CP) — An estimated $10,000,000 worth of pelts are going on the auction block here this week and next, with most 400,000 wild and ranch-bred mink skins topping the list.

Four auctions in Montreal at the end of January are just a few of the many sales here and elsewhere in Canada for experts say they attract the cream of the crop.

Wild mink brings an average of $10 a skin, more than the average between $10 and $17 for most manufactured variations.

FLAMES HIT BUILDINGS

MONTREAL (CP) — Fire raged through two three-story buildings in the central suburbs of Montreal Wednesday night. No injuries were reported, but the buildings were destroyed and the second girded by the two-hour blaze.

Focus on Health

Twice the health surgical repairs, are losses from the dead and a potential new free-lance among laboratory monkeys.

TAFETTA GRAIPS
From Red China comes a report of a new surgical technique for repairing external elements in the wild of the human abdomen and chest.

It involves use of silk sutures which is spread across the opening and anchored tightly so as to avoid wrinkling.

The tafetta grafts are designed to serve as a covering until a dense fibrous wall of the patient's own tissue ultimately spreads over the site of the defect.

A team of Peking surgeons, describing the work in the Chinese Medical Journal, said grafting results had been achieved in 10 to 12 patients treated so far. A few were believed to have gone home three years without apparent ill effects from the technique.

The temporal bones, which form part of the base of the skull, one at each side of the head, contain the middle ear and inner ear structures. "Banks" of each bone are in existence at 23 universities and hospitals throughout the country where scientists are studying the bones to learn more about the diseases that produce damage and various forms of vertigo linked with ear abnormalities.

MONKEY BUSINESS
The long reign of the rhesus monkey as the big shot among laboratory animals used in neuro-psychological research may be nearing its end.

The stump-tailed macaque monkey was shaping up as a possible rival researcher at Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, report.

The scientists say that while the rhesus is a valuable creature from the scientific standpoint it's inclined to be belligerent, which complicates handling.

In contrast, they reported in science magazine, the stump-tailed macaque is remarkably docile and manageable, has a varied behavioral repertoire, and appears to be at least as intelligent as the rhesus.

Plans for Developing Area Around Discussed Centre

J. Allan Smith
Named to Head Fund Appeal

TRENTON — Assessment commissioner, J. Allan Smith, has been named to head the St. John Ambulance (Trenton) brigade's fund appeal for funds.

Mr. Smith said yesterday that there would be no three-dimensional caravans in connection with the appeal. Householders will be asked to contribute, by mail. It is hoped that $1000 may be realized in this way.

The members of the Trenton brigade hold weekly first aid instruction in the Trenton Community Centre. The members are on duty at the arena during sports events to administer first aid to injured players or spectators. Seventy persons were treated at the arena last year.

The brigade instructors also train army personnel and civil defence volunteers in first aid.

NO INJURIES RESULT
Three tractor collisions in the Brighton area on Thursday, Jan. 22, resulted in no injuries to anyone.

Early in the day, provincial fire investigators investigated a collision at the intersection of Highway 23 and Highway 23, resulting in damage to a 1962 Ford Mustang.

At about 1 p.m., a car driven by Harold Ovi of Toronto and a 1962 Ford Mustang, owned by William Buss of Brighton, collided on Highway 23, resulting in damage to the Mustang.

CHANGE OF COMMAND — The presidency of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce changed hands yesterday evening at the Chamber's annual meeting. The European Common Market has gone beyond the hopes of its organizers and marks the advent of a new Renaissance for Europe, said Dr. John J. Deutsch, vice president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce before a capacity crowd in the Pinnacle Room of the Quinle Hotel yesterday evening.

It has produced a growing confidence that there will eventually be a common economic area, he said.

Two problems beset the ECM, however, one being what the great Britain and the other being that the ECM will be a world problem, Dr. Deutsch said.

The first problem has been brought about by Britain's isolationism, which has been a major factor in the ECM's development, he said.

The second problem is the attitude of resistance to Great Britain's entry, he said.

The latter problem is directly related to the second problem, that of what should be the ECM's position in world politics. Should it be inward or outward looking, Dr. Deutsch queried.

If the latter it would be committed to Great Britain and closer association with the other countries of the British Commonwealth, he said.

If the former it would become a tight compact unit by itself, he said.

General de Gaulle of France, the latter situation, possibly being France's leading light of such a unit, and is opposed to British entry because Great Britain's many world connections would restrict a free influence, he said.

building sometime in the future.

Mr. Corke also said that he hoped the Chamber would achieve a greater voice in community affairs and was prepared to work towards this goal.

The new board of directors and executive members of the Chamber were duly sworn in by Judge J. C. Anderson.

Among the special guests were Mayor M. Deane, who expressed the greetings of the city; Wardens Charles and V. H. Hain, representing the commanding officer of RCAF Station Trenton; and Mayor H. J. McLaughlin of Peldra.

Mayor McLaughlin expressed his desire to build an arena near Belleville and emphasized the possibility of bringing professional hockey to the town.

President Corke thanked the guests and the staff of the Pinnacle Room for their efforts in making the dinner a success.

Mothers-in-Law Invade Privacy

DEAR DORIS—My mother-in-law keeps coming into our room in the mornings. At first I didn't mind it, but now it is every morning. My husband knows when to get up as we live on a farm and have chores to do. She sometimes knocks but never waits for an answer; just comes barging in. We like to talk for a few minutes about the day's activities planned.

We've dropped a few hints about this, even came right out and told her, but she continues to do this sort of thing. It makes me very tense, expecting her to walk in—O. H. and M. H.

DEAR B. H. and M. H.—If it is your home, put a lock on the door. If it's hers, move out. Such intrusions are a real threat to healthy relationships all around. She forgets what it was like when she was first married.

DEAR DORIS—The girls in our room never want to talk to me in school, but when one of the girls comes to my place, we have lots of fun. At noon and recess they all get together and laugh, but when I come to them, they stop. Why don't they like me or play with me?

Another thing is this boy who sits behind me. If I want to talk to him, he always has to look behind him and see if any of the girls are there. If they are, he won't talk to me, but if they aren't looking, he will. Why?—15-YEAR-OLD.

DEAR 15-YEAR-OLD—Could it be you have halitosis or B.O.? Are you clean, hair washed and well kept? If you draw a blank on a personal check-up, I'd suggest you own a mirror of putting you up.

People know you feel inferior—and teenagers are not much help sometimes. Best way I know of getting confidence is to achieve something—in school, in sports, dancing or whatever you wish makes you stand out from the crowd. Try something and see.

TO MRS. B. S.—If you would like a private reply, please write again enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Your letter and my reply are too long for the column.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIDDLE-AGED—Your husband came back not because he loved you, but because he saw an easy living for him. Now he continues to insult you by going out with other women. He ignores his daughter who loaves for his love.

Go to the lawyer who advised you to take your husband back, and have him serve notice on him to leave. You have a right to some carefree years, and at present you are sacrificing not only yourself but your daughter to a worthless cause.

TO ANXIOUS TERRIFIED CROWD—I am concerned about your teacher's strange behavior, but cannot deal with anonymous letters in the column. Please write again, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TO M. E. H.—Write to Mrs. R. Tanner, the United Nations Association in Canada, Markham, Ontario, and ask her for a pen pal in another part of the world.

(Do something about finding the resources you need. Write to Doris, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for private reply.)

Section of American proposals contrasted with the inner anger over the theory that if the bad driver's rates go high enough, he'll turn out to be a good driver. The system is working apparently. The file of the British Columbia division of the All-Canada Insurance Federation shows the number of drivers classed as "assigned risk" fell to 12,000 in 1962 from 1961's record 18,000.

Ken Malhouse, B.C. manager, said in a report Wednesday the increased surcharges include a 100-per-cent premium increase for an improved conviction; 50-per-cent increase for careless driving; 25 per cent for negligence in two accidents; 25 per cent for

Some publishers who had lunched with the president less than a month after the Bay of Pigs invasion insisted Kennedy had told them he would be on an air cover at the last minute because Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, complained this would embarrass him at the UN.

DENIES CONVERSATION

But Kennedy denied that such a conversation with the publisher took place. The only air provision provided was that of B-36 bombers in the hands of the invaders. These proved to match against premier Fidel Castro's F-73 jet trainers.

Kennedy's views contrasted

Hope High Insurance Rates Will Make Bad Drivers Careful

Two speeding convictions and the surcharges are imposed for three years.

One driver's record was so bad, Mr. Malhouse said, his premium went from $60 to $460. Another premium went up to $862.60.

As the driver's record improved, however, the premium drops.

The only way for motorists to avoid the surcharges "is to be more careful," he said. "Our ambition is to get everyone off the plan."

Police, with stepped-up enforcement; courts, with heavier penalties; and the motor vehicle branch with longer suspensions, are helping.

With argument of some of the invasion leaders that American air protection had been promised, Kennedy suggested the conclusion comes from using the term "U.S." The B-36 planes could not be called U.S. air power because they were attached to the invasion brigade and did not fly directly from the U.S.

On other issues, Kennedy emphasized the importance of the three - power nuclear test ban talks under way here but declined to give any progress report, saying there was no point to be acted and it would take to leave these to the negotiations table.

Groom Given Thirty Days For Assault

TORONTO (CP)—A Woodbine racetrack groom has been sentenced to 30 days on a charge of common assault, after having faced a rare charge which carried a possible maximum of life imprisonment and whipping.

Orlando Keding, 28, was charged earlier this week with attempting to strangle his driver Yoshikazu Kanaka, 46, to render him incapable of resisting the commission of a crime.

Grown Attorney L. J. Appleby told Magistrate E. Trupper Keding that a mistake was made in placing the original charge. It was withdrawn and the common assault charge placed instead. Keding pleaded guilty Thursday.

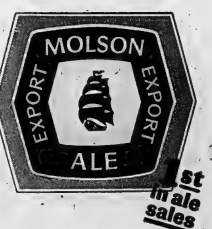

Testimony indicated that Keding grabbed the driver by the throat without explanation while they were driving and Kanaka brought the car to a halt in the middle of the road. Three passers-by helped subdue Keding, who "had been drinking."

DEFEAT MOTION

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto board of education voted down a motion Thursday night to halt all parking projects until a committee studies the issue. The defeat allows construction to proceed on a public school that includes an $84,000 underground parking garage for teachers and school employees.

Character of the Soil

By ROY L. SMITH

It is easy for most of us to feel habitually from musical judgment on other people; it is an altogether different matter when we attempt to pass judgment on ourselves. Yet, in spite of ourselves, and without realizing it, we are doing so every hour of every day. When we are in a crowd, instead of the best, when we laugh at an unseen jester, when we ignore an opportunity, and when we resist all the temptations to be splendid, we are rendering an unconscious judgment which we might deny, or repudiate, if we were compelled to face it.

PARABLE OF THE SOILS

This week's Sunday School lesson is based on the starting point for thousands of persons directed at the sower. Actually, however, Jesus' interest in the story originated in his concern about the soils.

Without being aware of it, perhaps each of us decides what kind of soil he is to become. The sower's seed is the cultural interests we have inherited. By ignoring sports we become indifferent to athletic champions. By allowing ourselves to be absorbed with money-making, we increase the intellectual and spiritual barrenness of our lives.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for January 27, "Why Jesus Taught in Parables," Mark 3 through 4:34.

Charles Darwin, the great scientist, was a musician. His kind of music was a youth. And as a musical performer he was considerably above the average. But as he became more and more engaged in scientific research, he became less and less involved in musical affairs. Toward the close of his life even the faintest concert had become a terrible bore to him. He had changed the character of the soil.

GOSPEL IS GOOD NEWS

A highly successful, and altogether respectable, businessman was being solicited to go out in behalf of his church in an effort to win some converts. "I'm sorry, preacher," he said. "That is something I just can't do. I can't argue religion with anyone."

"The man then replied, 'I exactly the reason I want you to go on this mission. I do not want you to argue. I can get plenty of people who will do that. I want someone who will tell, simply and honestly what the effect of good religion has been on his life. If you will tell the story of what a different your faith has made, I will trust the message to get results.'"

It is not the business of the sower to respond to the seed. His responsibility has ended when he has made sure that the seed is good, and that he has sown it.

The basic message of the Christian faith is a very simple one. There is a divine gift available to any man, no matter how difficult his way of life may be. That is an extremely heavy responsibility rests upon the preacher, goes without saying, to be a very solemn thing when one stands before a hundred or so men for 30 minutes.

But the responsibility of the hearer is just as heavy. To have a need, to listen to one who has a remedy for that need, and to act on different or actually unconscious of the significance of that which was said—this is a crime committed against one's own soul.

A well skilled physician, who has been asked to address a group of men, has the right to an epidemic there raging is the physician's duty to be very carefully, describing the method by which to use in preventing the disease, and to make suggestions as to how to prevent the disease.

At the close of the address he answered questions for 20 minutes. He was then asked to be under. Then, as he turned to go, he said, "I have a present job, my friends, it is up to you to have given you the facts. You know, now you will have to take the necessary action."

CULTIVATING OURSELVES
"No soil ever produces up to capacity if it is not cultivated. No one of us ever grows without cultivating one's self."

RUNNERS NEEDED — Canada is rapidly becoming prominent in the world of sports, thanks to its first-class trainers. But to keep the medals pouring in, more and more runners are needed.

Teen-Age Canada

Many Young Canadians Don't Realize Talents

By JACK HUTTON

WANTED: Talented young Canadians who can run but who probably don't realize their own gift.

Every Canadian province has potential track stars who could win medals in international competitions — even though they may not have run one race yet.

That, at least is the opinion of a friend from the ranks of the Foot.

When the gentlemen talk about track races, experts in all parts of the world turn to Mr. Foot, an accountant with the Toronto Police Department, is the man who coaches such runners as Bruce Kidd and Bill Crothers in his spare time.

I chatted with him briefly this week before Kidd, Crothers and others were to race in the Telegram-Magle Leaf indoor games in Toronto this Friday.

As usual Mr. Foot was worrying about their training.

"There is one thing we probably have to admit," said Mr. Foot. "And that is that our best runners will probably be coming from Ontario. There are more facilities here."

There are some fine runners elsewhere. But the prizes aren't the ideal places to train, and track and field isn't well publicized in a great many other parts of the country.

That doesn't mean, emphasized, that there aren't talented young runners in out-of-the-way parts of Canada. "I'm sure there are many of whom we've never heard," and possibly never will," he said.

Bruce Kidd and others starting their strenuous training schedules soon after starting high school. But Mr. Foot said he didn't think young Canadians would worry if they didn't start that early.

Some of our finest runners came to run seriously after they were 17," he said. "And that's when they really develop any. Their real potential appears after that."

How can hopeful young runners find out if they have the chance of challenging some of the best runners in Canada? The first bit of advice is to enroll in a local coach.

No one is going to come close to the four-minute mile without a lot of training, but a good coach can tell from a few races what your prospects are. He can also tell you the Canadian record for the mile—4:10.4.

Even coaches can be wrong. Some runners who later burned up competition looked like bad prospects at the start. They had to prove that their unorthodox styles could work.

So don't be discouraged if the coach predicts you'll probably do nothing better than 5:30 running down to the corner store for groceries, or beating the rest of the family to dinner.

Somewhere across Canada is Bruce Kidd's, who only need a bit of encouragement and recognition to start burning up the local cinder track. Maybe you're one of them.

NINE AGONY

This will be the last — and, repeat, last — word on the "good-byes" system of proving multiplication.

After describing this system in a column some weeks ago, we were convinced by several readers that it can sometimes be wrong. So I wanted you to think of it as more than a gimmick.

Now several readers assure me that the first letter were in error. The system does work. Find out all about it in a pocketbook entitled "The Magic House of Numbers" by Irving Aik for sale at $1.99.

I've just finished reading the book and can't recommend it too highly. I haven't enjoyed anything as much in my life.

FOLKSIKER BACK

Watching record artists try to follow a success with another album can sometimes be pathetic, particularly if the record is bad enough to hurt the Canadian standard.

That hasn't happened to Alan Sherman, the fellow who surprised himself and his record company not long ago by making a hit with "Ally Son, The Folksinger."

I have just issued a new album entitled "My Son, The Celebrity," which is once again presented by Sherman's mother. If anything, I think it's funnier than the first.

The title, however, somehow is altered to "Ally Yea," and if it is the story of two TV artists. Watch for this when it hits your neighborhood. I think you'll like it as much as I did.

IT'S HOCKEY WEEK!

Don't Sock—Take Your Boy to the Arena

MINOR HOCKEY WEEK STARTS JANUARY 26
Observance of the anniversary period will take place from Newfoundland to Victoria.

Across the nation under the aegis of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and its provincial branches and affiliates, some 10,000 youngsters will either play or sit in some way, the thousands of ice functions marking their "Week." This is an answer of some 5,000 hockey-playing youngsters over the previous year.

Due to risk to participants and other reasons, the Belleville Minor Hockey Association is observing "Minor Hockey Week" at Memorial Arena tomorrow and next Wednesday.

Three outstanding games, including craft squads of youths, novices and bantams face the program tomorrow. Next Wednesday star players from the city and Stirling will back up in a "Hockey Week" deal here. Times of the games are published elsewhere in the sports pages.

Minor Hockey Week has become an established part of the Canadian sports scene. Observance of it is the best way to draw the attention of the public to the benefits of minor hockey to the community's youth and the community itself.

Since in the city under the supervision of the Minor Hockey Association's Ben Seale, and the all-out assistance of Recreation Director L. G. "Mac" Burns and a competent staff, we have some 1,200 youngsters playing organized hockey.

Officials are proud of the fact that minor hockey has the support of many public-spirited citizens whose love of hockey and have persuaded them to contribute much time and effort to the city teams and leagues.

Hockey is Canada's national winter game. It is one of our great heritages of sport and participation by the youth of the city should be encouraged at all levels. We are proud of the game, for it develops character, citizenship and respect for authority as well as body-building benefits.

And many city residents, including parents of the playing youngsters, should keep in mind that the city is joining in Minor Hockey Week observance here tomorrow.

By so doing you will not only encourage the youngsters but show your appreciation and recognition of some outstanding citizens who are making a valuable contribution to this city even as hockey enthusiasts, entertainment and recreation across the nation.

So how about it Dad, Mom, Uncle Bill and Aunt Tante? Tomorrow is the day you can see for yourselves how that youngster or youngsters of yours are doing hockey-wise—and how well he or she have been coached and taught.

For all you know he could be a star in the making with perhaps the potential of a National Hockey League. Hockey still played in more than one "Minor Hockey Week" observance here. No matter what ability your boy has, you can bet your bottom dollar he will be out there giving his best knowing that you are watching him.

So how about taking in a game or all three tomorrow. You have no idea how much your attendance will be appreciated not only by the youngsters but those who work hard for their hockey well-being.

So if you have a son or son playing minor hockey, don't stand by to the Arena tomorrow—TAKE him or them.

And as minor hockey officials say: "By keeping your boy on ice you are keeping him out of hot water."

Mahovich, Kelly Spark Toronto Win * * * * *

Leafs Thump Bruins; Habs, Wings Tie

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs' Frank Mahovich ended his fast lane with a goal in Boston Thursday night, firing two goals and adding two assists in the Leafs' 6-3 win. Toronto's linemate, center Ed Kelly, scored the Leafs with a goal and four assists.

Mahovich had gone nine games without scoring a goal going into the game. But his terrific goal-game streak in December was enough to make him the National Hockey League's leading scorer. He now has 25.

In Thursday night's game, Kelly's Moose scored early in the last period after a dazzling series of passes by linemate Henri Richard to give Montreal Canadiens a 1-1 tie with Detroit Red Wings.

Mahovich, considered just about the star of the season because of two dinky knees, has made an amazing comeback. He has averaged a point a game in "Canadians" last 18 games and has a big bet in their drive upward from fourth place.

THE FIVE SECOND

As a result of Thursday's games, Leafs and Canadiens tied for second place in the league behind Chicago Black Hawks. But Canadiens have played one game fewer than Chicago and Toronto.

Detroit follows five points behind in fourth place. Rangers are 14 points behind the Wings in fifth and the Bruins are floundering seven points farther back in the cellar.

Canadians finished last in the league last in the points race with his output, a position he has occupied since since last December.

The Red Wings, 200-pointers as of Thursday, now have 46 points, one more than Boston's Johnny Bucar, who is at three points.

Pointing to the Leafs and Kelly, Toronto's Dave Keon scored twice for Leafs and Rob Ramage, who plays on a line with Kelly and Mahovich, scored the other two goals.

It was the fifth plus goal of the season for Keon, who appears to be on the verge of the formance by scoring 20 goals in each of the last three seasons.

Boston's goals were counted by spare forward Wayne Hicks, defenseman and defenceman Eddie Westfall.

COUNTS ON BREAKAWAY

Most opened the game in the second minute of play. The Leafs came back in the third period in a goal by Kelly and Kevin and breakaway score by Keon within 10 minutes to lead 3-1 at the end of the first period.

Oliver and Mahovich, who scored in the third period to make it 4-1, and after Kelly had scored his first goal of the season early in the third period, Keon and Mahovich drilled home their second goal of the night to make it 6-3.

Rookie goalie Ed Johnston of Bruins made 34 saves, compared with 27 for Toronto goalie Don Simmons. Toronto's aggressive Eddie Shack and the Bruins' hard-biting defenceman Ted Green had just traded blows and been given major penalties when the Leafs scoring outburst took place in the first period.

In Detroit, right winger Andre Pronovost scored Detroit's only goal early in the first period. Pronovost played for Canadiens two seasons ago.

The game then became a defensive battle, with play checking and ending even though both goals made 18 saves.

After a scoreless second period, Moore took a pass at the Detroit blueline from Richard who had just added two Red Wings, and came in along on left wing. His best Detroit goal, Hank Rasmussen with a 15-foot shot for his fifth goal of the season and his fourth in the last five games.

Moore's goal also gave him third place in goals among modern-day left wingers. Moore has 343 goals, one more than Harvey (Shank) Jackson, a former Toronto great. He trails only Ted Lindsay, former Detroit star, who had 363, and Aurel Joldi, oldest Montreal Canadian, who had 270.

Saturday night, New York in Montreal, Boston in Toronto and Chicago plays at Detroit. Sunday the Canadiens and Chicago tangle, the Leafs are in New York and Detroit plays at Boston.

Minor Hockey Week Here!

The Belleville Minor Hockey Association will do its part in celebrating "Minor Hockey Week in Canada" by holding three special games at Memorial Arena tomorrow. Another attraction is slated for next Wednesday.

Featuring the show tomorrow will be two games against tough, out-of-town opposition, plus another tilt featuring the pick of the city's "mighty mites," the squirts. Two all-star squirt clubs will open the festivities at 10:00 a.m. and this is one that parents and all hockey fans should not miss.

Trenton, a minor hockey hub during the past few years, will give the city kids a good run for their money in tomorrow's exhibition, however, this game should be a real treat.

Trenton holds an earlier victory or two over Belleville in games played in the RCAF town this season, so the local kids will be giving all out to help even that score tomorrow.

Don't forget, that till gets underway at 5:00 p.m.

Something new, and a decided move in the right direction, has been added since the first of January, 1963, in the fact that all minor players are required to wear helmets.

The rule was passed by the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

idion and makes the sport a great deal safer for the kids. No boy is allowed to go on the ice unless he wears a helmet and the move has already been credited with preventing serious injuries in some courts.

A 5:30 p.m. attraction next Wednesday will pit the Belleville Majors All-Stars against a fast-shooting Stirling squad. Midweek hockey includes kids in the 10-to-16 age bracket and most of the boys are allowed for a shot at Junior "A" clubs by late age. They give their best at all times and deserve fan support.

Belleville's migrants will be playing Kingston shortly in O.M.H.A. playdowns and Wednesday's game should give a fair indication of their strength. Let's give the minors, in all divisions, full support during "Minor Hockey Week."

EASTERN ONTARIO

At present, there are 30 teams in Eastern Ontario entered into O.E.A. Provincial play-offs. This is made up of the following: Ten West teams, 24 Eastern, 25 Midland, 20 Junior.

On these teams there are some 5,200 players.

In addition, it is reliably estimated that there are an additional 500 local league or town league teams with some 10,000 players.

The grand total for eastern Ontario then is as follows: total teams under O.E.A. supervision 119; total players under O.E.A. supervision 12,500.

There are 8 district leagues in operation (that is leagues in which a number of communities are represented). In addition there are a vast number of children who take part in local leagues which form the backbone of the O.M.H.A.

Last year, the O.M.H.A. had some 5,000 registered players. There is no reason to believe that this number will increase this year, however, final figures will not be available in time for immediate release.

Goals Nets Differ, Says Plante

MONTREAL (CP)—Jacques Plante, Montreal Canadiens goalie who has changed the technique of his job with his waddling habit and mask, now wants to change the size of the nets in Detroit, Toronto and Montreal.

"They're bigger," he says, "but the tips in the three other National Hockey League cities and the difference could cost him the Vezina Trophy, awarded a goal a night to the best goalie who allows the fewest number of goals."

Chatting with reporters in Toronto Wednesday night, Plante said that in New York, Boston and Chicago the crossbar is two or three inches lower than in Toronto or Montreal.

"At Detroit, the goal seems to be the same height as in Montreal but I'm sure that the posts are a little further apart."

Plante figures the extra couple of inches in the Montreal net could cost him the Vezina, which he already has won six times.

"I have to play 35 games in the Forum. Those two or three inches may mean two or three goals... because if high shots that would have hit the crossbar in other cities."

According to NHL rules, a set goal should be four feet high and six feet wide, measured inside the posts and crossbar.

Following Plante's remarks, NHL president Clarence Campbell ordered referee Carl Voss to have the nets in the six NHL cities measured.

At Boston, Ed Johnston, who played for the Bruins in Thursday night's 4-3 loss to Toronto Maple Leafs, laughed when asked about Plante's complaint, but made no comment.

Don Simmons, Toronto netminder, could not be reached for comment.

In Detroit, Terry Sawchuk, who sat out Thursday night's 4-3 loss between the Red Wings and Montreal, told a reporter the goal is all the same size but the man who guards the goal could suffer from illusions about the extent of the net.

He said that in some cities lace or other material is wrapped around the posts.

helping to hold the mesh in place and presumably also making the posts a little softer than in the other cities, he added, does not tape his posts.

He said the wrapping may give the impression that the goal is narrower or the crossbar lower, Detroit, he added, does not tape his posts.

Cupit, Wall Lead Frisco Golf

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Young Jack Cupit, winner of the 1961 Canadian Open, and veteran Art Wall, a top amateur in the same tournament last year, led a closely bunched field of golfers going into today's second round of the $30,000 San Francisco International open golf tournament.

The 35-year-old Cupit and 38-year-old Wall matched four under-par 67s in Thursday's opening round in which 21 others bettered regulation 72 after double widespread complaints that the greens were bumpy.

Two Canadians, George Knudsen of Toronto and Jack Lister of Val Morin, Que., were among the parners. Both were among a group of eight tied at 67, together with Billy Casper, who won the Blyth Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif., last Sunday. They were Bobby Nichols, Phil Rodgers, Terry Dill, Charlie Siffert and Jack Mayer.

Gene Littler, who edged Knudsen by one stroke to win the San Francisco event last year, was one of eight who tied the 72. Other right in, including Al Baiding of Toronto and Will Mumma of Winnipeg, shot par 71.

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—
The Bears of the American Hockey League are interested in potential expansion players in the National League.

Arthur Wlaltenien, president of Hershey Estates, told Harrisburg Evening Tribune: "It would not be out of the realm of possibility for Hershey would build a arena to join the league (NHL)."

Stanford Smythe, president of the NHL's Toronto Maple Leafs, stirred the expansion talk yesterday and said he would like to see potential expansion sites — Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Cleveland.

Lloyd Bilco, Bears' general manager, said Hershey's arena has the drawing lease for the AHL. The Bears had 1,612,500 fans in 250 games over the last six years and had totalled 119,500 home starts this season.

larie Hockey Association President Joseph A. Group.

Thursday night the Wings took the first game of the season at Niagara Falls. Four 6-11 to prove to the satisfaction of 1,800 home-town fans that they will be a force to be reckoned with this season season.

The result of the game points the third-place Peterborough Petes to the top of the league, followed by the fifth-place Black Hawks at St. Catharines in the second place.

Already about seven regular season games have been played on the eve of the first game of the season.

The Wings, who had previously decided to accept a scholarship at a United States college.

FOUR SNAKE SCORING

Thursday night they did goal for the first time in 21 years. William Campbell and Bill Thomas as they took a 4-0 lead in the first period. The Wings 5-4 in the second. Billy Grahame was the Niagara Falls mascot.

A crowd of 1,350 watched the goalies' duel at St. Catharines between Chuck Goodard of the Peterborough Petes and the Peterborough native-of-the Black Hawks.

Black Hawks outlasted the Petes 28-22.

After a Junior A play, Toronto Knox Hill defeated Brampton 4-2 at Brampton.

For Time Being Says Diefenbaker Should Be Available In Time of Need

Fulton Accepts Post of Leader Of Party in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—E. David Fulton, 46-year-old lawyer who rose to the key posts of justice and works minister in the federal cabinet, has staked his political future on becoming premier of British Columbia.

He accepted leadership of the Progressive Conservative party Friday night with a pledge to restore "self-respect and integrity" to the province.

"I succeed, I will become the premier of British Columbia," he said. "If I fail, I'll disappear from public life."

Fulton, from Kamloops, B.C., was announced as a host for chief of a party plebiscite since Deane Finkelson resigned last week.

The 300 delegates to the party annual convention, who already adopted a strategy of political double-cross, the "Fulton plan," heard their new leader in an emotional call for action.

"I don't intend to fail," Fulton said amid cheers. "My loss I intend to win."

His first turning point, he said, was to win the support of the people. The new leader said B.C. must be under the domination of "one man, one idea and one action."

The Social Credit government of Premier W. A. C. Bennett devastated the province last year by closing hospitals and schools short.

"These are things and I have come again," he said, "to be determined to win this struggle and ideological fight. I have three things and I said I will win now."

RIOT OVER WATER

ROTTERDAM (Reuters)—Dutch children and old people were trampled underfoot today when dozens of people came mobbed a trailer truck carrying fresh water to the city of Hoogvliet near here. City officials said the mob was "unbearable" because of the lack of water.

U.S. Newsmen See Many Cars Stalled in Guided Cuban Tour

MIAMI (AP)—The Cuban government took six visiting American newspapermen on a tour this week intended to demystify the virtues and accomplishments of the Soviet revolution.

The young government officials guided them on a tour that happened upon "spontaneous" enthusiasm for the people's revolution.

On their arrival in Havana last Friday aboard the freighter "Argentin," the American men were informed that a special program had been arranged for them during their stay in Cuba.

Strike Causing Stagnant Traffic Over Wide Area

Disputants Fail
To Reach Pact

KAPUSKING, ONT. (CP)—Furniture dealers and haulage firms are being held up by a strike here as a wage dispute between 1,000 bookbinders and two pulpwood companies ended its 13th day.

Merchants estimate the strike by the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union (C.I.O.) has cost them from one-third to two-thirds of their business compared with a year's volume. Businessmen described the situation as "serious" and said it will worsen unless a settlement is soon reached.

Many stores have already started liquidating their hardware dealer say they have been forced to close their doors. Others say they will have to close their doors next week when applications for liquidation are filed.

Chinese "Crackers"

China has two atom bombs, the Japanese-American Consortium has one, and the U.S. has two. The news was shocking, but not surprising. Apparently China has some fissionable material. It might have been obtained from Russia, or it was "home grown" in either case, the materials for the third bomb will be a long time coming. Estimates are that China will have a nuclear, (not thermonuclear), arsenal in about ten years.

But Russia has no more enthusiasm for China as a nuclear power than has the West. China and Russia share thousands of miles of border and it is to be expected that Russia will be an early conquest. The Chinese bombs, in fact, might have been involved in the present split in the communist camp.

If Russia and the U.S.A. are agreed that China is to be dominated by the U.S.A., (and there can be few worse prospects for other country), their next move is clear. If Russia and the U.S. can negotiate a test ban, China can test her weapons, and hope to develop more powerful bombs, only if she is willing to flout world opinion. And China needs some friends in the world, if her economy is to develop.

Chinese atom bombs are bad news. But the motivation they provide for Russian co-operation with the West, and the permanent split they may force in the communist camp, can do little harm. And if Russian-U.S. co-operation on a test ban can prevent Chinese testing, the best Chinese bombs will be little better than the Chinese dropped in Japan. They would not be much use in a total war, and in a restricted war they would invite China's total annihilation.

Robert, How Could You!

We know that the Honorable Robert Macaulay was going to quit the crusade. He eventually—ironically being the natural element of crusaders and Hon. Bob have taken up crusading with all the ardor of a bankrupted diplomat. He was going to quit, but he was honest, we did not think it was going to be this serious.

Ontario's economic and development minister decided to quit the crusade. The original Crusader had enough trouble with women when they just left at home, to prey on the villages and play with the women. If he had been a member of the Conference of Women for the Better Organization and Orderly Operation of the Crusade to Deliver Jerusalem from the Infidel, the mosques would have been destroyed long ago. He would have been deprived of such cultural achievements as the Spanish Inquisition, Puritanism and Mein Kampf.

On the face of it, of course, the Hon. Bob looks to have something going for him. On the face of them, women generally are reasonable. But you can, dear reader, face the horror of letting yourself immerse in the crusade, setting 4,000 women's organizations, will do when they sit down in ten working committees to instruct manufacturers how they should design, manufacture and sell every one of the five million and six articles every woman has to have every pay-day?

Old Fashioned

William J. Smith, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and General Workers, is hopelessly out-of-date.

His union has been accused by Hal Banks, president of the Seafarers' Union, of employing communists as organizers.

We have never accused a man's political or religious views, nor his right to hold them. Mr. Smith has replied. It seems to me an organization starts doing that, it seems to me we are getting prepared to a point where we are getting prepared.

Any branch of the John Birch Society, or any communist cell, can tell you that Mr. Smith is mouthing hearsy.

Bans Away!

John about royalty, sex and religion are now permitted. The Banned Books List, which has been a 15-year-old "Code of Good Manners" forbade kids' titles to offend minority groups or the straight-laced element of the majority.

In the Cold War Against Taxes No One Is a Winner

By RICHARD JACKSON
(From The Ontario Businessman's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA—Like "Old Earl", the Honorable Earl Boren, dean of the House of Commons and now Lieutenant-Governor designate of New Brunswick, was looking at the tax situation.

"...and not only can't you ever hope to live in the race with taxes—hell, man, with taxes, you haven't even got a chance!"

Widely-known house broker and race driver, and Conservative member for deepest Ontario—Mr. Boren, was in the House of Commons last night, and he was not alone. He was surrounded by a number of other members who were in the House of Commons last night, and he was not alone.

Like quite a few other Parliamentarians have been doing, "Old Earl" was looking at some of the goings-on in the Capital.

He was shrugging with a cry, like the Glaxo Royal Commission "half-baked" was a few books and spending maybe $5,000,000 to do it."

The Dean of the Commons was expressing, and perhaps about all these years, was a little on the critical side.

But really not much. He was shrugging with a cry, like the Glaxo Royal Commission "half-baked" was a few books and spending maybe $5,000,000 to do it."

For while the Glaxo Commission had been at work nearly two years, it had been re-elected back to the Commons, and the Government for only four months.

And already it was $500,000 in the red and only started. The job had taken up to 10 months to go—about $500,000 in the red and only started.

It still had another 10 or 15 months to go—about $500,000 in the red and only started. The job had taken up to 10 months to go—about $500,000 in the red and only started.

So far, the Glaxo Commission has racked up a record of $500,000 of straight overhead and pocket spending.

And that for an organization dedicated to efficiency and economy. It has been estimated that it has cost $500,000 to do it.

But to that must be added the cost of the staff, and the Glaxo Commission has been estimated that it has cost $500,000 to do it.

GLENNINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO, 1943.
The Municipal Department announced today that beginning next month a "limited number" of new bus tickets will be issued in Canada under a new process, from retained rubber.

The new process, from retained rubber, will be reduced to a selected list of vehicle owners who are permitted under the transportation regulations to buy new bus tickets under the new process.

The release of these retained rubber will not help the average private motorist. By May 1942, some 50,000 vehicles owners have been denied titles of any kind.

Cryoglobulinemia Could Cause Cold Flu

By ALBERT G. HOLMES, M.D.

Dr. Robert: Why do the colds and flus seem to be so common in winter? It is a question that has been asked many times. The answer is that the colds and flus are caused by viruses, and these viruses are more active in the winter.

It is a question that has been asked many times. The answer is that the colds and flus are caused by viruses, and these viruses are more active in the winter.

The Americans were to see conditions, stable automobile and buses standing on down town streets and running on the Havana, some known for having great numbers of new automobiles today can obtain neither new cars nor parts for the old ones. Most cars are old, mufflers, headlights and ignition parts.

Havana's streets have acquired an oily, sticky coating, which are covered with oil and the air is filled with exhaust fumes.

Cuban citizens said the oil and grease result of cars and trucks, mufflers, piston rings and ignition malfunctions and of low grade petroleum being refined into gasoline.

WEST CANE FIELD

On Sunday the correspondents visited a field in Matanzas province where voluntary workers were cutting sugar cane. Several Canadian volunteers were leading cane on a truck.

When the Americans arrived, they walked in the field, felled hands in a circle, felled hands in the air and waving and singing. The Americans were led by a Canadian, International.

When the people who had been stepped forward and the Cubans don't like to work. They are drunk and other things. People who stay late in the field are the most honest people.

When he said he was not able to cut sugar cane for the Cubans, he was the success of the revolution.

Though it was barely noon, the cutter buses loaded with trucks and riding away as the correspondents drove off, the field which they had willingly cut for the Cubans, was left in the field.

During an evening stroll down Havana's Malecon, the correspondent was called to unusually long lines on the Malecon, which included 32 Cuban cameras and 325 for a pair of plain, low - bearded people.

"Everyone is better off under the new system," said the correspondent. "We need to raise the price to prevent inflation."

this winter is as bad or worse. Just about the only happy thing about the winter here can be found when England's loudest cricketers were the second Test Match in Australia shortly after Christmas. Briefly, spiritus aures.

There Australia won the third. WEATHER BLAZED - Almost all current domestic weather is blamed on the weather. Here is the latest weather.

Power shortage, now in its second week, continues with vast areas of the city blacked out and other areas of temporary cuts or voltage reductions. The army is answering numerous requests from hospitals to provide temporary generators.

Officials say much of the saving through voluntary economic and material cuts has been lost through breakdowns of the freeze-up.

Domestic gas because of the weather, demand has far outstripped supply and shortages, particularly in winter, have been reported to close but because of good public response to pleas for economy the situation is slowly improving.

Water - a new problem. Particular hard hit is 65 hours but the shortage also is being caused by a lack of water in 1,600 barrels in water meter.

There are no reports in parts of Montreal where it is being cut off every evening.

Train service, Canada's railroads, are cutting service, but electric company trains again today and long-distance trains are on the regular schedule.

Forecast - figures released Thursday show more than 100 inches of snow predicted for the week.

Forecasters say that the situation will get worse.

Baby Sister is a Nervous Wreck

DEAR DORIS—I'm a baby sister who looks after two nice children; at least one of them. The girl is nice and pretty and I don't mind looking after her, but the boy is awful in hand. He won't do anything I ask him and one-half hour after he gets his usual 15 minutes of sleep, he says, "When I feel like going for a walk, I take the dog along." This tells me he is a baby. He won't be quiet and always wants something from every body. He is almost five and has already made a nervous wreck out of me. He also likes his candy and my shoes are broken badly.—TORN APART SISTER.

DEAR TORN—You can't win with a monster like that. Either you have him home until he promises to behave or you refuse him any treats when he screams. A good baby sister learns to be the boss of her charges—in spite of poor handling at home.

DEAR DORIS—My husband and I are having difficulty working out a satisfactory budget. We seem to be getting further in debt all the time. We would greatly appreciate if you could help us. We are almost five and have already made a nervous wreck out of me. He also likes his candy and my shoes are broken badly.—TORN APART SISTER.

Doctors sought to delete this clause, but their amendments were rejected. Senator David Cook, legislature member and Ontario's health minister, said his selection could leave the government powerless to act.

Mr. Bruce Lockhart, speaker of the House of Commons, said any central agency such as the proposed Medical Care Insurance Commission because it would control the money.

"We don't like the thought of being controlled," he said, "not only because we are human beings and individuals, but because we don't like being told what to do for control."

The paper said the plan would be financed by a combination of premium and taxation. It would meet all medical costs for services rendered at home, work or hospital.

Chuck Connors Pulled Rug From Underneath Rifleman

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why does a successful television series like Rifleman go off the air?

The western epic has done well in the ratings ever since it went on ABC four seasons ago, often leading among the top 10. Yet, it was up against a blockbuster—the Lucy show this year. But it has maintained a respectable rating, considering its age and competition. It might have spanned another season, perhaps longer.

Chuck Connors frankly admits that he is the one who pulled the rug out from under Rifleman, though he did so reluctantly. He cited three reasons:

1. Before the season started, a plan was devised to expand the show in a full hour next year. Connors agreed to it, but ABC wanted four to six weeks to do the research. After four weeks, the actor still didn't get an answer.

FEARED DELAY

I knew that Wiley would do to our ratings and I didn't want to wait around until the show was dropped and I might be an actor nobody wanted," he said. "I was excited for greater pictures—and found them."

"The show would have gone five years, and that's long enough. By that time you can change everything possible with your characters. If you keep on going, you're just cheating the public."

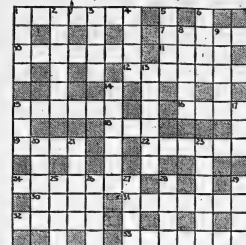

3. "Johnny Crawford was 12 when he started the show. He's now 17, and he is just as natural and nice as when we started. He could be a star at college. It's up to his father whether he goes or not; at least I'll know nothing I did not prevent him from going."

The greener pastures for Connors turned out to be a lush one with his mounting film operation which will net the actor about a five figure that he earned twice the time. It involves a feature film a year and a television series called Armet and Trial, co-starring with Ben Garza.

Faces Tough Field

Crothers At Boston Meet

BOSTON (AP) — Collegians return to the indoor track wars in force at the 28th Boston AAU Games tonight.

Villanova, presenting the most awesome college entry, gets its home base in stride as it will on boards this season now that the All-NCNA power struggle has been successfully mediated.

Vic Zwick from Villanova challenges Englishman John S. and the one who has a 4:02 clocking, and darkhorse Canadian Nyke van der Wal of Hamilton, Ont.

Bill Crothers of Toronto, winner of 12 of his 18 cup races from 500 to 1,000 yards, American record holder, Ernie Conklin, Jeffery James, Payton of Bermuda and Jim Heald of the U.S. Martens head the 11,000 yard field.

Badminton Results At Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Ed Yablonski of Montreal, 23-year-old Quebec province champion, edged out the rest of the field in the Metropolitan Toronto open badminton championship, a series he is playing up for the summer.

Yablonski, top seeded in the tournament, defeated Tom Graham of Toronto, 15-12.

The He and Jim Cornwall, 23, of Woodstock both complained before the championships opened Friday that nylon strings and the usual goose-feather string were being used. The Canadian women's champion, Margaret Shand, both of Toronto, did not enter after complaining earlier about the nylon birds.

Cornwall also moved into the semifinals with a 15-12 victory over Stewart Durand of Toronto, who defeated Gordon Wade of Niagara Falls, Ont., 15-12, and Francis Colman of Toronto, who eliminated junior champion Peter Madorsky of Toronto 15-12.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

TORONTO (CP) — An enter into charge against James J. Parker, 35, former Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, requested of the Crown attorney's office. Complaints of M. J. Smith of Scarborough charged Parker with assault on Jan. 25, 1962, and Anthony J. Smith, 35, was told retention had been made to Smith, who had claimed he had been forced to fight for $500 to save himself and his family from violence.

Montreal Olympics Disbanded

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes, runners-up to Trail Storm Riders for the All-Canadian Cup last year, have dropped out of the Eastern Provincial Senior Hockey League and "disbanded" for this season at least.

Couch Meritt, 31, captain of the team, has been suspended for 10 days for failing to appear for a game. The suspension is on player eligibility. The suspension of Meritt leaves the league—headed by Len O'Donnell of Sherbrooke—with three teams, Sherbrooke Stingers, Granby Veevers and Trois-Rivières Royals.

The Olympics were last in the standings with a record of 11 wins, 17 losses and one tie.

Two weeks ago O'Donnell suspended the Olympics for using an ineligible player and subsequently reinstated them with out disturbing the schedule after the matter was cleared up.

Hull Ottawa Increases EPL Lead

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

A pair of contests this week could go a long way toward deciding the leadership of the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

Halifax Canadians, three points up on Kingston after a 3-2 victory Friday night, travel to Kingston tonight and then play last in the Fredericton Stars.

The Canadians have 37 points in 24 games. Kingston trails with 43 and St. Louis Blues with 25.

St. Louis travels to Port Wayne for an interlocking-schedule game tonight against the International League club, which returns home to meet Sudbury Sunday.

Halifax Friday night, the Canadians managed to beat Sudbury on home ice for the first time this season.

They got two-goal performances from Bob Courcy and Bill Carter with singles from Jacques Legrand, Doug Senior and Bob Elliot. Mike Mahon and Marc Dufour scored for Sudbury.

A third-period battle developed when Brian Smith of Hull-Ottawa and Bob Woytowich of Halifax traded punches before being sent off with minor penalties. Sudbury goalie Gerry Cheevers was penalized for missing it up with Keith McCreary.

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Fletcher, one of last year's Detroit Tigers, could be washed up as a major league player after a poor performance in the minor leagues.

Fletcher, 25, was traded to the Detroit Tigers for an estimated $74,500 from two previous innings of pitching by the young sensation from Illinois.

Tigers said Friday the southpaw, who posted a record and earned money of $10,000 as a sophomore, will be placed on the retirement list for one year. Fletcher's pitching arm has bothered him since a few years after he joined the American League club last September.

Fletcher's ailment has been diagnosed as chronic venous insufficiency.

"It means that when he uses his arm, something prevents the free circulation of blood in it," said Jim Campbell, Tigers general manager. "Doctors never complete rest."

The Tigers said that no matter what happens, all the money paid Fletcher is his. "He's got that," said Campbell. "It's water over the dam. We just hope his arm will come back and let him pitch for us."

Astrological Forecast

For January 27
By SYDNEY OSBARE
Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Persons and conditions around you may change quickly today. Show more life. Think of companion, not pulling back. Maintain sense of fitness, humor, and energy.
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): No time to be "all bread" and no emotion. Let heart rule. Creative energies plentiful; use them. Strength gained by reading, listening, especially to words of spiritual counselor. General (May 21 to June 21): Unusual influences are coming today. If others turn to you for "steady" influence, be ready. Be patient. Maintain attitude of friendly acceptance. You begin to realize today you are "going places" this year.
Gemini (June 22 to July 21): Don't dignify foolish statements with denial. Silence, dignity pass off today. Think of things at home. Be with family members. Consider disappointed one. Be cheerful, encouraging.
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Unusual financial opportunity may present itself. Key is caution. Sleep on it! Take time to think, analyze. Be firm, especially in dealing with persons.
Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Key word is "action." You may be given chance for major decision. Search back in reference files. Ask questions. Seek advice. Read, check notes. Inquiry, distance by being thorough.
Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Many past actions, promises begin "catching up." Jog memory for names, anecdotes, you may need. Better for complex. Be rather than beginning. Read. Virgo message. Tonight get needed rest.
Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Welcome new friends, friendship. Be independent, original. Take initiative. Romance is "in the air." Enjoy whisper of "sweet nothings." But utilize common sense. Remember to "mooove."
Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Remains alert to new opportunities. Benefit derived from visiting and visitors. Be gracious, gay. Accept challenges which enhance prestige. General individual may pique your curiosity.
Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Good day for dealings with relatives, friends. Don't be bogged down with financial worries. Numerous questions are answered shortly. You call "hurry-hurry." So be joyful, peaceful, relaxed.
Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Reception from others about money matters proves excellent. But don't be heavy handed. Light, humorous touch best. Realize that some basic changes are required and start making plans.
Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Don't let other matters keep you from family, friends, familiar surroundings. You can "call the shots." Do so with quiet wisdom, selectivity. Today you can help others.
If today is your birthday... you are natural philosopher, intrigued by the reason people do the things they do. The months ahead promise opportunity for expanding activities.
General Transits: Cycle up for Pisces, Aries, Taurus, Arcturus. Pisces, Aries, Taurus, Arcturus are exposed.
For January 28
Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): By keeping something "up your sleeve," you do the wise thing. Be conservative. Cycle moving up so don't give up or let down. Push for sales, fulfillment of ambition.
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Today friendships become increasingly important. You may need to make choices involving personal pleasure and friendship. Remember past promises, pledges. You'll be happier.
Gemini (May 21 to June 21): Persuasion is to speak sharply. Overcome it! One who speaks without praising you excessively. It has your best interests at heart. Don't spite to your own defense. Instead, listen and absorb.
Cancer (June 22 to July 21): Good Moon aspect today gives you vision, ambition, spark of individuality. Excellent for matters dealing with law, publishing, writing. Consult religious adviser, if you feel necessary.
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21): Individual may prove helpful. Be appreciative.
Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Emphasis on cooperating with one who seeks advice. Allow creative ideas to come to fore. Financial questions are settled to your advantage. But be fair. Remember Golden Rule.
Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You gain most by being there "in person." Don't leave important tasks to others. Exhibit Pisces charm, sympathy. Talk with friends, business associates accomplish major purpose.
If today is your birthday... you are independent, not always easy to "get along with" - but you are person of great integrity.
General Transits: Cycle up for Pisces, Aries, Taurus, Arcturus. Pisces, Aries, Taurus, Arcturus are exposed. You get what you after only if you are patient.

PILOT, ESKIMO WALK 60 MILES TO GET HELP Bring Word Six Others Are Safe

HALIFAX (CP)—Port Chino had two unexpect visitors Sunday.

A young pilot and an Eskimo hobbled into the northern door of the settlement to report that six other persons aboard a Norwegian aircraft that crashed two weeks ago were alive and well.

The two men had walked 60 miles over icefields, through blizzards and subzero weather to get help.

A ski-equipped plane was to leave today, hoping that other survivors were as hardy as the ones who carried news of their safety.

They said the two men covered has been swept by blizzards so severe that planes have been grounded.

Paul Joseph Garon, 25-year-old teacher at Chino, said he and Judge Alphonse Garon of Quebec, and the unidentified Eskimo could not be reached by radiophone. The commercial courier service to Fort Chino, 800 miles north of Quebec, operates only twice a week.

Garon's aircraft disappeared June 23 on a 150-mile trip from Paysse City to Port Chino. Except for weather and communications, a marine search had been unsuccessful.

Reports were that the two men had been seen in the area of Port Chino but were 20 degrees below zero.

A brief report from search co-ordinator at Goose Bay, Labrador, related to search and rescue headquarters here, gave few details. The men said the others were "fine."

They were found in snow immediately after the crash of the plane. The plane had been chartered by the department of northern affairs and among the passengers was A. F. Fische, 40, of Port Albert, Sask. A minister for the department at Chino. There were six at Chino.

The plane was stocked with a lot of seal meat and a couple of turkeys, the only country food stranded travellers had for their ordeal.

Fisheries Council Requests Govt. To Declare 12-Mile Fishing Limit

OTTAWA (CP)—The Fisheries Council of Canada today urged the government to declare a 12-mile fishing limit along the British Columbia coast.

The council said that the Canadian fish offshore fisheries, which are a 200-mile wide zone, have been established by a committee, the council wanted that increased to 12 miles.

THE WEATHER
Synoptic: Winds will subside gradually across Southern Ontario and considerable snowfall is expected. Temperatures, however, are expected to be a little 12 degrees below zero.

A weather disturbance moving from the Atlantic will bring rain across Ontario tonight and Tuesday, causing light snow as it passes.

PC'S CONSIDER VOTE FAVOR OF A-ARMS

Hear Address By Prime Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservatives from Canadian universities added a three-day convention here during the weekend by coming out firmly in favor of nuclear weapons for Canada and heaving a "get-out-the-vote" call for the next general election which may not be far away.

The Progressive Conservative Student Federation voted 52 to 1 in favor of nuclear arms for Canada and heaving a "get-out-the-vote" call for the next general election which may not be far away.

The Prime Minister's speech to the delegates, Prime Minister Diefenbaker, indicated that a general election will be called if the opposition blocks the bill.

"I look forward to it, if they choose to prevent us bringing in a bill," he said.

The Prime Minister issued a call to the youth to help form a "new crusade" in Canada.

The Ontario Liberal Association announced a policy rally for Saturday in Toronto.

The Liberal proposal for a royal commission on electoral reform was announced.

Bomarc, Voodoo Nuclear Arms Accord Is Seen

Defence Minister Sure Agreement Is Possible

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Diefenbaker said today he believes a "satisfactory agreement" between Canada and the United States could be reached "in the near future" on making nuclear warheads available for Canadian launchers.

He repeated that Canada has been negotiating with the U.S. for the last two to three months so that nuclear warheads will be made available for the two BICAP Voodon jet interceptors.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Donald Keller, president of Quilts Home Builders Association, and Mrs. Keller are in attendance at the week-long National Home Builders Association annual convention.

Miss Eleanor Hart, of Roslin, has returned to her job after staying for the past week with her grandmother, Mrs. George Copeland, St. Charles, who has been quite sick.

Joint H-S Assoc. Views Health Film

An interesting film based on "Health Habits of the Twentieth Century" was shown at the Queen Mary-Princess Charles Home and Hospital Association's regular meeting held last night.

Room visitation for a half hour preceded the meeting in Princess Charles hall. The meeting was dealt with and two letters were read. One was an invitation from the District Nurses and School Committee to attend its meeting and the other was from the Rev. Mr. George Ruidge, who had asked in regards to information concerning a fence to be erected on the Yvonne Street side of Princess Charles schoolhouse. The city is interested and would consider the plan. The plan also to have a school guard which has been approved. The school reported 155 members to date.

Greater winners for the month were: Juniors - Mr. St. Charles; Primaries - Mrs. Bussell's class. A question has been asked at the home of the room brought some interesting questions which were answered by both parents and teachers. After the business a film was shown by Mr. Keller, followed by refreshments.

Bayside G.G. Brownie L.A. Holds Meeting

The Local Association for the Bayside Guild and Brownies held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Carve with guests in attendance.

Mrs. Fulton opened the meeting. The treasurer reported on the Christmas bazaar which was a decided success. Several items of business were discussed. The meeting adjourned and a social hour was spent.

Lima Bean Salad
Cookbook No. 7 - Recipe No. 1

SALADS AND BEAN DRESSINGS

One of the wonderful things about salads is that there are as many as there are people. To many of them among the most abundant of green salads, vegetable salads, main course salads, and cold salads, there is a recipe for everyone. Here is a recipe from The Ontario Intelligence "Cooking Magic" series. We're sure you'll enjoy it.

LIMA BEAN SALAD:
Lightly toss together: 2 cups cooked lima beans, 1 tablespoon

Nun Trying To Bridge Gap By New Order

MONTREAL (CP)—A petite Montreal nun is trying to bridge the gap between the average modern citizen and the culture of the past.

She is Sister Rose of Assumption, in the order of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart. She is a teacher of French literature for the last 29 years.

She has formed a literary discussion group called the "Monsieur Literatures Canadiennes (Canadian Literary Youth)" which tries to give secondary school students a deeper understanding of contemporary culture through discussions of the works.

The most important element of the JLC program is bringing the students into contact with the creator of the work of art. Artists and writers asked to create and how they went about achieving it.

Sister Rose says "I have come to the conclusion that secondary school is a great deal of talk of the classics but the students do not participate in the literary life of their own time."

MOVEMENT SPREADS
She started the movement a year ago in the St. Mary's secondary school, where she teaches French. She has since spread the movement to other schools with French with Jean Huguet, who had founded a similar group in France.

Now the movement has spread to 10 schools and Sister Rose is kept busy answering questions from teachers who are looking for a basic sympathy between the world of adults and the world of youth. With the JLC, the young are able to discuss what they see and read, and the adults are able to discuss what they see and read in the books.

"We want to acquaint an student in literature among students who don't always have it. With those who are already interested, we want to help them to report themselves among all the order and chaos found in the books."

Couples Club Enjoys Fried Chicken Repast

Last Wednesday evening the B.C.C. Couples Club met at the home of Bill and Carol Sobie, 8 Southwood Crescent, with the president, Clara McFaul, presiding, on behalf of the club, who played all night to have the Reverend and Mrs. A. Poulter present.

The devotion was led by Clara and Marion McFaul. Scripture was read from Matthew 6:1-18 and Psalm 137:1-6. The topic, given by Marion, was "Let Thy Day's Own Troubles Be Sufficient For The Day". Mrs. Poulter presided.

Lloyd and Norma Huffman invited the club to their home.

On behalf of the club, Clara thanked Bill and Carol for their hospitality, and Mrs. Poulter, on behalf of the club, presented with the club which she had organized some years ago, and to see how well it had carried out, especially keeping up the devotional part.

TOO TOUGH FOR CAT -

Charles A. Lindbergh would not take his mascot kitten to his 1927 transatlantic flight to the cat's.

Following the business, Clara and Norma Huffman invited the club to their home.

Vota Vita M.C. Enjoys Talk On Missions

The regular monthly meeting of the Vota Vita Mission Circle of the Victoria Unitarian Church was held in the church last night.

The meeting opened with lively singing led by Miss Vota Vita. Mrs. Mary H. Smith, welcomed the visitors and presented a report on the work of the circle.

Mrs. Diana Woodhead presented her devotional based on the book by Peter Marshall, "The Top of the Shoulder". Mrs. Gwen Campbell favored with a lovely solo called, "The Breaking of the Bread."

GUEST SPEAKERS
Miss Elizabeth Stuart, Irene and Gwen Campbell, who have been accepted by the China Inland Mission, Overseas Mission Fellowship, and leave for Singapore on March 25th, 1960.

The message Mr. and Mrs. Campbell brought was the new story of their acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Lord and Saviour, and their call to full time service on the Foreign Mission Field.

They gave some idea of what young people feel as they prepare to leave home and loved ones to serve the Lord in far off places.

CHINA INLAND MISSION
They also spoke about the China Inland Mission which was founded by J. Hudson Taylor in 1862, to take the Gospel to the people of China.

When the C.I.M. was forced out of China in 1901 by the Communists, the C.I.M. gave its members a new vision. With Overseas Mission Fellowship, it is now taking the Gospel to the people of the world.

The speakers were thanked for their inspiring message by Mrs. Helen Harvey.

The many books and leaflets which Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had on display were viewed, and time of Christian Fellowship enjoyed.

Hems Down Just a Little This Season

The industry event begins its stylinging pop today. The show is the ideal Miss Marmite. The show is the ideal Miss Marmite. The show is the ideal Miss Marmite.

Designers are recovering from the knee fixation, so the ad will be down a little.

In contrast to last season's the dress is on shoulders and wide open, almost to the limit this year.

Though all womanly charms where nature meant them to be, shoulders are broadened. This is managed through cut and construction of fabric rather than detailing. The fabric is the figure and the waist line which are pushed as far as possible.

SKIRTS ARE SLIM
Skirts will be slim, with ease gathered through pleated panels and a wide section. The skirt length depends on the designer's whim.

Collars, revers and lapels are kept for the rehearsal and the show.

Circular dresses drop to ankle length. The long formal dress is stronger than ever.

Over all, our hair plays a role in the show. The hair is styled in a way that is new and different. The hair is styled in a way that is new and different.

Little glamour is to be found backstage at most fashion shows. Each week new costume changes are called for in the programme line-up.

On the first run-through, take time to explain each line point as individual placing of the models in the group reveals military scenes and the well-known scene. To shorten it, make for each scene and be sure the commentator's style is suitable.

On the second run-through, the show and continue to the end, regardless of broken pieces missing along and all the other attractions common to dress rehearsals. Adjust your programme to fit the sixty-minute schedule. To lengthen it, break up some of the crop scenes, or add extra lines to the military scene. To shorten it, delete the showing of a coat, dress or hat.

We have outlined our basic plan of a successful fashion show for fund raising. The financial success of such projects depends largely on community support and the willingness of the models to donate their time and efforts. The professional success of the show depends on the organization of the programme, imagination and enthusiasm.

Each year the Marching Mothers of Ontario give one hour of time to collect contributions from their neighbours for the March of Dimes.

The measure of this hour and of your gift is to be found in the lives of ten thousand men and women, disabled by accident or disease, but restored to independence, made fit to earn a livelihood again.

Their courage and success are the true measure of your gift . . . a lasting reward for your thoughtful contribution, when the Marching Mother calls.

Cross-Canada Survey

Provinces Make It Policy To Promote Establishment Of Big Secondary Schools

By ALEXANDER FARRELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The regional school has become a familiar feature of Canada's rural landscape. Unlike the one-room schoolhouse it often replaces, it usually compares well in size and facilities with city schools. A Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press finds that all provinces have made it their policy to promote establishment of central or consolidated high schools in rural districts. It also is applying this policy to elementary schools.

The decision to form regional schools is invariably the result of local school boards. Provincial governments have encouraged them by sharing the costs of building and operating regional schools and compensating pupils.

As a result, many rural children are less than an hour by school bus from a well-furnished modern high school. In the general view of teachers and school administrators across the country, more of them are finishing school earlier before and the pay is increasing. The educational opportunity between city and country is steadily closing.

BETTER EDUCATION
In central Alberta, for example, Calgary Consolidated High School serves rural Strathcona County to the south and east of Edmonton. Its 400 pupils come from 11 elementary schools scattered throughout the county and, says principal Charles DeRoo, they are offered the same diversified program that is available in Edmonton high schools.

Mr. DeRoo said the school has made more meaningful to rural students the plasticity of equality of opportunity in education. It has definitely improved the standard of education.

It had also made it economically possible to provide equipment and laboratory facilities on the same scale as in high schools, and to attract qualified teachers who are specialists in their subjects.

In New Brunswick G. Forbes, principal of Simonds Regional High School in Saint John's County, expressed similar views. He said the school, replacing 15 smaller ones, had improved the general level of education and offered rural students a variety of subjects, a quality of instruction comparable with what is available in larger centres.

POST-WAR DEVELOPMENT
Development of regional schools in rural Canada is regarded as almost entirely new since the Second World War. Dr. S. D. Randall, superintendent of secondary education in Ontario, said the demand of rural people for more secondary education, particularly in the vocational phase, was one of the characteristics of the early post-war years.

He said a reorganization of rural Ontario into high school districts covering 200 to 300 square miles each was begun in 1945 and largely completed by 1951. In the last 15 years the main theme has been to expand existing schools and build facilities for vocational training.

Dr. E. E. Eburn, Ontario's deputy education minister, said consolidation on the elementary level. Provincial grants are offered to township education boards that organize larger, consolidated school districts and this policy "has seemed to be satisfactory."

The number of elementary schools in Ontario has declined in the last few years as a result of consolidation. In 1925 there were 11,000, compared with 7,110 in 1957.

FEWER SMALL SCHOOLS
Alberta's education minister, A. G. Ashbridge, said consolidation of schools in that province began in earnest in 1950 and was largely completed by 1955, although a considerable amount of new construction has been undertaken since then to keep pace with a fast-growing population.

He illustrated the development with these figures: In 1950 there were 1,700 one- or two-room schools in Alberta and 450 with four or more rooms; in 1950 there were only 150 one-room schools and 1,254 with four or more rooms.

School enrollment had nearly doubled in Alberta during the decade, to 264,535 in 1960 from 167,788 in 1950.

Mr. Ashbridge said: "The polity of centralization has proven to be the right policy. There is far more and far better opportunity for rural youngsters to complete their education. It has kept in the retention of school funds in the school, just through the fact that they now can get better education and still stay at home. It has given rural youngsters an equality in education facilities with urban youngsters not previously available.

In setting up larger schools the government did not order local boards to join forces. It was voluntary. It could be done. While we think it generally is a good idea, the final decision is a matter of local policy."

NOT COMPULSORY
The importance of local control was emphasized by education authorities in every province. It was the method of getting it was typical.

Dr. H. O. Nass, the province's minister of public schools, said government officials would assist rural residents of a rural area, present the case for a regional school and get their consent. The local school board would be the one to decide whether or not to build a regional school.

Dr. J. E. Macdonald, deputy education minister, said the approach had worked so well that now practically all secondary education outside the major centres was consolidated into regional schools and the same thing was planned for elementary education.

Some Ontario launched its regional school program in 1950 and since then 75 schools have been opened, most of them secondary. Enrollment in regional schools ranges from 600 to 1,500 pupils.

In roughly the same period of time New Brunswick has set up 14 regional schools, secondary and elementary, and Dr. E. Macdonald, deputy education minister, said the policy has been successful, but some of the regional schools should be merged to permit larger enrollment, a fuller curriculum and more specialized teaching.

MONEY IS INCENTIVE
A different problem has arisen in Prince Edward Island, where Macdonald Macdonald, deputy education minister, said some localities have chosen not to join regional school districts. As a result, "the province is not in a position to help."

However, the government is prepared to help in other ways. It is offering to pay $5,000 for every classroom constructed, 60 per cent of school bus costs and 40 per cent of the cost of building a new school.

Twelve regional high schools have been set up since 1957, serving districts with an average of 15 miles.

In Newfoundland, where public schools are operated by five religious denominations, 74 regional high schools have been set up since 1950 through agreements among the different denominations and the provincial government.

British Columbia education authorities said they completed several years ago and most construction now is confined to re-equipment or replacing existing schools.

The network was developed, they said, on the idea that 800 to 900 pupils is a reasonable size for a regional high school, and 25 to 28 pupils for a elementary school.

A number of one-room schools have been set up in some areas where the minimum limit for regional enrollment could not be met within a 50-mile radius.

In the northern part of the province, however, regional schools with dormitories have been opened in operation. One in nine centres where the school population is driven from a radius of 75 to 100 miles.

Saskatchewan opened 95 regional schools since 1957 and the same period 100 of one-room rural schools to 1,265 from 2,400.

Mr. TWEEDY by Ned Riddle regional elementary school districts, composed of 100 to 150 pupils.

Regional school development is in its initial stage in Quebec, where it is being confined to the second year of high school. Youth Minister Paul Gervais said in a statement that local school boards outside the larger centres will be asked to join together in regional boards for the construction and operation of high schools.

Ten such boards were already in existence at the time of his announcement and he said the government is aiming at total decade. There now are 176

The rugged Canadian winter doesn't seem to have thrown any roadblock in the path of regional school development.

Principal J. E. Sturgeson of Selkirk College in Manitoba said "we might have a snow storm, but it won't stop when the buses are held up."

In Saskatchewan, where there were four hundred and twenty-two regional schools, said principal J. E. Sturgeson, the winter travel doesn't pose a major problem. The reason they gave were improved roads and good vehicles.

Petroleum Co. Foresees Use of Micro-Organisms to Produce Proteins, Vitamins

MONTREAL (CP)—A French petroleum company foresees the use of micro-organisms to produce proteins and vitamins from crude oil.

Research so far has indicated that the protein concentrate could be used as livestock feed and, in future years, possibly supplement protein in deficient diets on which many undernourished human populations subsist.

British Petroleum (Canada) Limited, announced that its French associate, Societe Francaise des Petroles SIF, has started work on a new plant near Marseille for the semi-commercial production of proteins and vitamins.

Scientists at SIFP have worked on the project for five years and the plant "may prove to be the beginning of one of the most far-reaching diversifications of the oil industry of the future."

Petroleum is established as a source of raw material for plastics, synthetic rubber and adhesives and small quantities of medicinal products but it was not until recently that it was found to be a source of food.

SIFP's laboratory for two years has been producing small quantities of protein concentrates of composition similar to animal proteins and rich in vitamins.

The company said this involved the selection of the best organisms to make the conversion from oil to protein. The microbes used by SIFP were found to consume petroleum products: least valuable to the industry, having vitamins and proteins.

The scientists found that suggested the conversion process was probably one of two protein concentrates is obtained from every 10 tons of petroleum hydrocarbons consumed.

The remainder of the oil, which is unsuitable to micro-organisms, is separated from proteins and is available for non-industrial uses.

"Actually, I came out here to break myself of the detox habit."

Small quantities of inorganic salts with amino acids are essential to the microbes.

A few years ago it was suggested that micro-organisms could be used to separate oil from the sand in the huge Alaskan oil and reserves in northern Alberta.

The basic difference between this process and the one suggested by French scientists is that the micro-organisms in the process are separated from the oil and the oil is then refined.

Common Market Alternative Hard To Find

LONDON (CP)—The British government is coming under increasing pressure to find an "alternative" to membership in the European Economic Community.

Officially, the government position is that it has no formal alternative to its role and is not going to start thinking about anything other than the Brussels negotiations are completely hopeless.

Politically, however, the domestic situation may be entirely bleak for the Conservative government. Macmillan has made the country that he tried his hardest to get into Europe and was turned back by the French insistence.

Conservative MPs feel the government is needlessly holding the British out of the country by persisting with the Brussels talks. One Tory group, who has the support of several cabinet members, has urged the administration to call off the common market hawks.

The group, which includes the Conservative backbenchers, has urged the government to negotiate a new trade area including the Commonwealth, Scandinavia and Japan.

REAFFIRMS BIGGEST AND TIME NOT SUBJECT TO TAX

Finance Minister Issues New Edict

OTTAWA (CP)—The government launched new tax and tariff measures Monday to meet the European Common Market deadline for new trade agreements.

The government proposals, outlined in Commons notices issued by Finance Minister Nowlan, represent a further widening of the broad steps against American publications recommended by a royal commission in 1961.

If the new measures are passed by Parliament, Canada will be able to claim a 10 per cent income tax deduction for advertising expenditures in non-Canadian publications.

But this would not apply to foreign publications unless they were printed, published and sold in Canada.

Government officials said the means there would be no tax penalty on advertising space in Time and Reader's Digest, which the royal commission had recommended to be lowered 40 per cent of Canadian publications.

Both have printing and advertising contracts with the Canadian market dated after 1961.

But this would not apply to foreign publications unless they were printed, published and sold in Canada.

Removal of An Irritant?

U.S.-made Jupiter missiles are to be withdrawn from Turkey and Italy.

This development is represented as being the work of their military and political officials. The full explanation—but there is another which is equally rational.

The Kennedy Administration may be trying to reduce the exasperation of Russian feelings and to improve the U.S. "image."

When Khrushchev sent Russian missiles to Cuba, he was doing no more than the U.S. had done earlier when it constructed missile bases in Turkey, Italy and Britain. (A report from Washington, while it does not specifically say so, infers that their missiles in Turkey and Italy actually suffer the same fate as the Jupiter missiles in Italy and Turkey.)

The U.S. possessed the power to force Khrushchev to withdraw Russian missiles from Cuba. Kennedy may have felt that one day Khrushchev would wield the self-same power (the threat of military action) and could easily mushroom into a full-scale nuclear war.

U.S. officials are aware of the fact that the U.S. to attempt to force the U.S. to dismantle its missile bases on the territory of its allies. Or, more realistically, they are aware of the fact that the U.S. missile bases have been divided as the result of the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles and the submarine-based Polaris missile, Kennedy may have decided that the U.S. would not necessarily irritate Russia without adding to the deterrent power of the western arsenal.

Not so often now, though, "Not as Parliament as a whole," it is a little like the story of the man biting the dog.

The loss of the U.S. missile bases, which previously could only sit and wait, is a good example of the value of the Castro providing the incentive for the U.S. to do by Russia as it insists Russia do by it—missiles, stay away from your door.

Room in the North

His visit to a U.S. diplomat and nationalist who came from Russia in 1924, to settle several thousand Tibetan refugees and ten years, (for crossbreeding with local cattle), in Alaska.

His father, he is a Canadian, and his economic. His qualifications are high, but Canadians might be unimpressed by the fact that his grandfather was instrumental in bringing the Doughboys to Canada.

The idea has merit, but little chance of success. The north of North America is underpopulated, poorly developed and apparently unwanted by North American. Canada, and any other North American is likely to approve having it over to anyone else, especially not people of an Asian race, who are of the same color as the basic stock as the Eskimos who have first rights there anyway.

The north belongs to Canada and the United States by right of occupation, and of military strength. But the world, and the legal owners of the land, might be better off if some of the Asian overland were allowed to move in.

Meaningless

Politics, economics, defence, education and culture are covered under a new Franco-German friendship treaty. The treaty is supposed to mark the end of enmity between two traditional enemies.

In the defence line, provision is made for exchanges of troops for training, joint manœuvres, joint joint exercises, and joint exercises of strategic and tactical problems and weapons research are also to be internationalized, with the one exception that nuclear weapons are specifically excluded from the joint weapons research.

All this spirit of co-operation is fine, as far as it goes. But with nuclear weapons retained as the private domain of the dominating country, the treaty means about as much as an agreement to keep no secrets about the manufacture of crossbows.

Who Turned Out The Lights?

Recently an artist won a $1,000 prize at a Chicago art show for a painting which consisted of a large canvas covered with a layer of black paint. An art institute official suggested that it was a case "where the artist's consciousness has become too personal."

Parliamentary Press Chided For Petty Publications

By RICHARD JACKSON
 (The "Ottawa Intelligence" Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA—Maybe you haven't noticed... but there haven't been as many of those reports on Ottawa about Parliament's "Thursday Thru Friday" club.

It is used to be a news reportorial pitch on a dull day to write a mid-size little piece about Parliament's Thursday Thru Friday club.

New recruits to Parliament's Press Gallery were especially taken with this political "clubhouse."

They would go into the House of Commons and see a lot of empty seats and conclude that the missing MPs were playing hooky from the public business.

They would not "know that a great many of the Members, absent from the House, were in their Commons offices, or out on constituency business around the Government departments, waiting to lobby Ministers about Federal programs and for other ridings, while waiting to be interviewed by the press."

Writer Tells of Church Reaction to Communist Chinese Threats to Kowloon

Fred Wooding, national director of information for the Anglican Church of Canada, accompanied Prime Minister, Arch Bishop, and a delegation of clergymen to visit Hong Kong and Kowloon last November. In this story he tells of church reaction to Communist Chinese threats to Kowloon.

Written for The Canadian Press by FRED WOODING

Communist China's move to take advantage of the British colony known as Kowloon and the New Territories despite the disturbed officials of the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church of Canada.

Not only has it a significant financial investment in the colony, but it has a long history of relations with Christians who are serving there.

Just last November the primate of the Canadian Church, Archbishop Howard H. Clark of Winnipeg, visited the colony and presented a cheque for $100,000 as aid of blessing for a new church named Koi Oi. It is being built at a cost of $100,000 in a new section of Kowloon.

One of the colony's main industries is the export of tin. No one in the colony, however, is so sure of the future of China's ability to carry out its policy of non-alignment and to choose the fast way to modernization as it was in armed forces, against which the small British garrison could offer no more than a deterrent resistance. The colony would be simply to cut off the tin trade.

FEEL OUT UNLIVELY
The fact that the colony is being occupied by the Japanese occupation during the Second World War, has carried on happily enough through the years, but it is not without a sense of uneasiness that its existence is being threatened by the national sounding board and that as a world trading centre it is becoming increasingly vulnerable to Chinese economic pressure.

The colony of Hong Kong is a complex of islands and a tiny strip of mainland. It is surrounded by the province of Kowloon. It is composed of an area slightly less than 200 square miles. Its two cities are Hong Kong and Kowloon, only a few miles apart, but separated by the side of the harbor. The New Territories, acquired in 1898 under a 99-year lease, occupy a stretch of mainland north of Kowloon and a group of islands around Hong Kong Island.

Victoria (generally called Hong Kong) is the largest among the most extraordinary islands in the world. Of the three, Victoria is by far more Western.

STAYING HOME
It is here the colonial officials are located as well as the only dark cloud of uncertainty.

Impact of Enrolment Will Be Felt Long Time

By BEN THOMAS

"I don't think we could survive another crisis," says one of the few faculty members who speaks out is Dr. James Silver, who has been at Mississippi for 27 years. He says that the enrolment of Negro students at Mississippi is a disaster.

"You must remember we're under a court mandate to protect Meredith. It hasn't been done. And above all, everybody forgets that James Meredith is a Negro. He is a very common human being and not an institution."

Whether or not Meredith represents the universities in the impact of his enrolment last fall will be felt at the university and in Oxford for a long time.

Nearly three months have passed since 10,000 U.S. troops and several hundred Negroes have returned from the effects of the enrolment of Meredith in the first known Negro at Ole Miss.

When Meredith left last Tuesday his future plans for the future were still uncertain. It is still difficult to assess the impact caused by the events which led to the Sept. 30 killing and which was followed by more campus disorder and turmoil.

Canada and Ideal of European Unity Hits Resistance of France also stated that Canada has been negotiating with the United States "for two or three months or more" on proposals to make U.S. passports available to Canadian citizens on short notice.

On this point, an American official stated these technical regulations had proceeded in a serious way at Ottawa but that the U.S. State Department in Washington about three weeks ago "halted" negotiations "for their vigor."

UNITED NEW DEMATE
Another high-level official informant said Canada's support of the U.S. proposal for a new world conditions paved in Kowloon. Hundreds of thousands of Chinese have poured into the colony in the last few years in the time poverty and squatter are the last few years.

In efforts to cope with the plight of the suffering mass of humanity, the British government, along with churches and various relief agencies, are working to provide not only food and shelter, but health services, education and job opportunities.

Kowloon is a city of unbelievable congestion, filth and noise. Although authorities have done a great deal to clean it up, it still is a centre of one of the colony's vice and corruption, run by Chinese secret societies.

WATER IN PAIRS
The city's limited supplies are covered with thousands of tons of garbage. The water supply is so polluted that all water has to be carried in. The increase in the water supply has been a great deal to clean it up, it still is a centre of one of the colony's vice and corruption, run by Chinese secret societies.

The 300 square miles of the colony are composed of a mountainous terrain although there are some fertile valleys. The water supply is so polluted that all water has to be carried in. The increase in the water supply has been a great deal to clean it up, it still is a centre of one of the colony's vice and corruption, run by Chinese secret societies.

Large and heavily populated islands are scattered around the main island. The water supply is so polluted that all water has to be carried in. The increase in the water supply has been a great deal to clean it up, it still is a centre of one of the colony's vice and corruption, run by Chinese secret societies.

The Communist threat comes at the time the colony is being occupied by the Japanese occupation during the Second World War, has carried on happily enough through the years, but it is not without a sense of uneasiness that its existence is being threatened by the national sounding board and that as a world trading centre it is becoming increasingly vulnerable to Chinese economic pressure.

them, the strange party saw about thirty planes go over. "We couldn't align their attention," he said.

"Sure we got cold and a while blubber down, but the food wasn't your's to eat. But we were sure they'd fly."

"We got our bearings pretty well the day after the weather cleared us down."

"But that time, we made a sort of tent with a tarpaulin used to cover the canvas wings. The Eskimo helped us with it."

"We didn't keep up the food at night. There wasn't much around you could scrape up and it would have wasted a lot of time."

"We found our flight time. 'At five or six in the afternoon, we'd go to sleep in our sleeping bags and get up at nine or 10 in the morning. Some nights it was 25 or 30 degrees and the weather was nasty.'"

GO FOR HELP
Finally, he said, the weather cleared. He and Jonas Kodak and snowshoes out about nine in the morning 11 days after they crashed landed on shore.

It took them 12 hours to get to Fugate Lake and an Eskimo camp 10 miles away.

"We stayed there for a couple of days. Then they sent a couple of men to get the rest of the crew. That was on the 28th and we got the good weather back."

Gares reported completing the 1,000-mile trip to Fort Collins through blizzards and sub-zero weather.

Monday, the remaining six were flown into Fort Collins in a Quebec government Otter.

The rest of Europe's people are far from enthusiastic about the idea.

Sponsors of many successful tournaments here, the Belleville Garrison Badminton Club will host several clubs at its doubles competitions here Saturday.

Top players from such clubs as Peterborough, Oshawa, Whitby, Picton, Napanee, Cobourg, Trenton, Orono and Bowmanville will be here to vie for prizes and awards.

The tournament is a closed "B" doubles affair sanctioned by the Central Ontario Badminton Association.

The draw was made Sunday but if any doubt exists that it did not reach officials' hands, a phone call to Bill Bonnell at WO 2-0702 might help.

Following the watches there will be lunch, refreshments and a dance held in the officers' mess. Proper dress must be worn.

Neil J. Speicher of Toronto knocked off one of the bonspiel's perennial contenders and last year's champion in the opening round of the bonspiel Monday and went on to win his second game easily over one of Quebec City's top risks.

Speicher, a banker, rounded off his first game and year. He promptly trimmed Carl Bastedo's Burlington, Ont., risk in the first round.

In the Chateau Trophy event and then whopped Rene Giguere of Quebec Curling Club 13-1. Bastedo last year won the championship playoffs and the Grand Aggregate Trophy for the team winning most games, was not yet out of the running.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The day after Sugar Ray Robinson earned $248,000 by regaining this world middleweight boxing championship from Randy Turpin, he said: "They don't remember you for your fights. They remember you the way you went out. I don't want to be forgotten when I quit. I want to quit good."

That was in September 1951

Today, at 43, Robinson is still trying to "quit good."

So Wednesday night, hopefully on his way to a middleweight championship bout with welterweight Larry Dugas, he returned skills into the carry at Miami Beach Convention Hall for a 10-round milling with Ralph Dupps.

"You need the money," he says, "so you do what you know best."

Canada Likely To Restrict Tariff-Cutting Policy Changed With Britain Out of ECU

Eight Killed, Plane Crashes Into a Dike

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A sleek prop-jet airliner, coming in for a landing at Kansas City Airport, crashed into a dike at the end of a runway Tuesday, killing all eight persons aboard.

The four-engined Continental Airlines Viscount had been on its fifth flight of the day, carrying 15 passengers and crew.

All that was left was a mass of tangled wreckage that burned fiercely for 20 minutes.

Dead, in addition to the five passengers, were the three crew members.

R. O. Ziegler, assistant chief of air traffic for the Federal Aviation Agency here, said the plane, flight 200 from Kansas City, approached from north and turned toward the dike district, just across the Missouri River from the airport.

It made a second approach within 50 feet above the dike and then "ran away," Ziegler said, "to the point it appeared to level off and climb slightly."

"It proceeded over the runway and it dropped the south end of the field, when the nose wheel hit and the plane rolled over and the aircraft disappeared from view behind the dike."

Witnesses said the craft hit an earthen banker and bounced 100 feet into the air before falling into the dike. It skidded up the slope of the dike, which was about 100 feet high, and then rolled 150 yards from the river.

North Atlantic Alliance Gropes For New Footing Britain May Cut Down Military Commitments

LONDON (CP)—Shock waves of disappointment and anxiety surged through free world capitals today at the rejection of the Atlantic Alliance group for steady footing at the Paris summit of President de Gaulle's blockade.

The collapse of the Brussels negotiations to link the North Atlantic Alliance group for steady footing at the Paris summit of President de Gaulle's blockade.

Prime Minister Mearns, who had staked his reputation on the success of the talks, certain to face a full-scale attack from the opposition Labour party against a background of far-reaching uncertainties of President de Gaulle's blockade.

One effect could be a scaling down of British military commitments to the defence of Europe.

French experts said the meeting has not yet ended the North Atlantic Alliance group for steady footing at the Paris summit of President de Gaulle's blockade.

General Manager And Coach of Als Regains

MONTREAL (CP) — Reginald Perry Moss as general manager and coach of the Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference was announced today.

A club announcement said Moss had been named to the post at a meeting of the board of directors of the club.

The announcement said that the full salary arrangement under the terms of the contract between Moss and the club would be announced later.

It was understood that Moss was the third year of a five-year contract.

The club announcement said the resignation of Moss was the result of a policy difference which the club would not discuss.

The board of directors said they accepted the resignation of Moss.

There was no immediate indication of who might replace Moss who came to Alouettes in January, 1960, from Florida State University to replace Doug (Peabody) Walker.

RAD DIFFICULTIES

Many, so it had some difficult, and controversial years at head coach of the Alouettes. The club had had three coaches in three years. Last season, Alouettes coach Doug Walker was replaced by Moss.

Walker was replaced by Moss after playoffs and were eliminated in the first round by Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The controversy around Moss stemmed largely from the club decision at the time to trade quarterback back Sam Elcey and coach Doug Walker to the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Elcey never reported to Hamilton and was playing last two seasons with the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Moss was replaced by Walker after the team was eliminated in the first round of the playoffs.

Walker was replaced by Moss after the team was eliminated in the first round of the playoffs.

Some of the Montreal football fans never quite forgave the club for letting Moss go. They felt Moss was a good coach for letting Elcey and Walker go.

Moss's resignation in the second round of the playoffs was a surprise to many fans.

Assistant coach Jack Jacobs quit at the end of last season.

Coal and Steel Negotiations Are Broken Off

BONN (Reuters) — Negotiations between the British and the Luxembourg steel pool were broken off today, the German economic ministry announced.

The negotiations were being held in Luxembourg and were broken off on instructions from the Dutch Economics Minister Jan van den Broek, who is chairman of the session, the agency said.

The coal and steel pool of the European Common Market from which Britain was excluded when its negotiations for membership in Brussels collapsed.

The Luxembourg meeting was called for by the request of the five of the five Common Market states that support British entry into Europe, France, the sixth member, stayed away.

Ownership Known Goods Unclaimed

The ownership of the two brasserie forms found Monday night in the Toronto report has been established.

Beating that, their loss might be a serious blow to some local business, and fully aware of a newspaper's responsibility, The Ontario Inquirer has taken the trouble to photograph of the forms, with lost and found notes.

The photograph was printed in order to simplify identification.

A network of discreet tips has since uncovered the location of the forms. It seems that a local business, perhaps a restaurant, had taken the forms in 1963, had discarded them in a creative mood, and had taken them as unclaimed on a waiting table, and they apparently still did not know where they were.

All this leaves The Ontario Inquirer's report with a problem: To the best of its knowledge, it has taken two slightly worn brasserie forms.

Filling for Pastries

by Mary Moore

It was just before dinner all flour is moistened. Pack between palms. Divide in half. 3) For Pastry Squares, with through my front door with my hands. I immediately had 30 squares steamed over so about 10 minutes. I had 30 squares. That's just full in the snow. It was lovely when I left home.

When I opened I discovered that I had run out of sugar. I broke one of which I had placed in my mouth before she could pull her glasses.

They contained a coconut honey filling that was so good. I called a lady to regular office. I tried the morning and I have been baking all day. I tried this delicious and economical filling. We have come up with some candies. I wait here for tea!

Tasting and tasting today has spoiled. With one luscious and suppers. But we sacrifice for our readers.

COCOA-NUT HONEY FILLING: (A multipurpose filling for cookies, tarts, bars, etc.)

3 cups natural coconut (drain but unsweetened - see list below); 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup salt, 1/2 cup vanilla and 2 tps. baking powder.

Mix all ingredients together in saucepan over medium heat, stirring until coconut absorbs moisture - about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and cool.

Note: If you cannot buy unsweetened coconut and have to use sweetened, reduce amount of sugar in filling above to 1/4 cup or have not even cut.

VARIOUS FILLED PASTRIES:

Kick Pastry: 3 cups unsifted all-purpose flour, 1 cup vegetable shortening, 3/4 cup butter, 1/2 cup salt, 1/2 cup water.

Hot shortening and butter: 2 cups flour and salt with pastry (knead until size of pea). Knead until water over. Roll out. Cut into circles. Fill with fork as you drizzle into.

Hong Kong Customs

Tip at CGIT Meet

"Ways and Customs of Hong Kong" were interestingly explained by word and souvenir on Thursday evening by a young girl, formerly of Hong Kong, to a crowded meeting of the Canadian Girls in Training from St. Columba, Tabernacle United, Centre Street United and St. Andrew's churches.

Besides the talk, a film entitled "On the Rim of Tomorrow" dealing with the life of the people of Taiwan, country known as Formosa. This film was presented by the girls of the Workboard.

A worship period was held under the leadership of the president, with all the groups taking part, including a singing.

Approximately 50 Canadian Girls in Training attended.

Women's Institutes

WALLBRIDGE W.I.

WALLBRIDGE - Mrs. Arthur Carleton was hostess for the January meeting of the Wallbridge Women's Institute, with a large number of members present. Mrs. Arthur Phillips, president, opened the meeting.

Several business matters were discussed and dealt with. The leaders for next summer's garden club were appointed, they are: Mrs. Oscar Chisholm and Mrs. Griffith Carleton for club 1; and Mrs. Wilbur Sherry and Mrs. Archie Carleton for club 2.

Mrs. B. Nicholson gave the top of a "Resolution" saying in part: there are two kinds, personal and legal. Personal resolutions are "to make and to break" and legal resolutions are "to maintain or put aside".

Mrs. Anna Spencer reported on the area convention for the first day and Mrs. Douglas Thompson for the second day. Mrs. Ray Sherry was with the group.

A donation of $48.15 was collected and sent to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Mrs. Bonnie Carleton conducted a contest on "Nursery Rhymes".

Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Congregational Meetings

WHITES UNITED CHURCH

WHITES DISTRICT - A hearty word of thanks was extended to all officers to all who assisted in the work of the church and the Sunday school, with special thanks to the pianist, Mrs. W. Jeffery, assisted by Mrs. C. J. Jones, and the choir leader, Mrs. G. Williams, and to all who assisted in cleaning the church and lighting the stove and in all who kept the lawn in perfect condition in summer and winter.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. Cotten and Mrs. W. Jeffery, and a social time was enjoyed.

DANGEROUS ETON TOWNS

LONDON (CP) - The massive Industrial Safety says that dangerous. It published a picture of children wearing the traditional ill-fitting work clothes in the college workshop and says such dress would be illegal under the Factories Act.

Club Activities

at SOFAPARTY

Belleville - The "Happy Solopars" held their sixth meeting on January 26th at Zion Hill school with eight members and both leaders present.

Mrs. Tufts was in charge of the hostess. The next meeting will be on February 2nd, and will constitute a work meeting. Collection amounted to 30 cents.

The group held a discussion on the color for book covers with pale blue being chosen to contrast with the different materials. Paper consisted of working on skirts; home sewing by machine; and the putting in of hems. The home assignment was to continue on the Garment cut.

Y.P.U. Softball Team Honored At Banquet

RAWDON — On Thursday evening the ladies of Mount Pleasant U.C.W. prepared and served a banquet to support the members of Mount Pleasant-Howard Young People's Union with 28 of the group in attendance.

Among the several couples and dining were several others were unable to attend. The three guests were the pastor, the Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Miss Valerie Williamson of Stirling, and Mr. Ralph Townsend of Halloway.

Immediately after the banquet Ralph Townsend presented life Coach with the fourth league softball trophy as a reward circuit players were the 1963 winners.

Miss Mary Ellen David voiced thanks to the U.C.W. group for the delicious meal in their honor, and Mrs. Robert H. Howard, 2nd Vice-president, replied.

A diagnosis of old favorites was enjoyed by all.

Miss Bonnie Dracy introduced Miss Valerie Williamson of Stirling, who gave a travelogue with pictures of her world tour when she visited British Columbia, various points of Europe, New Zealand, Australia, Honolulu, Hollywood and California and also to the British Isles where her parents reside.

Miss Carl Sharpe, president voiced thanks for the entertainment. Miss Janet Ann Fletcher presented Miss Williamson with a small gift and the recipient graciously replied.

Club Activities

4-H HOME-MAKING CLUB

The Sister South 1 4-H Home-making Club held its last regular meeting on January 24 at 6:45 p.m. at Mrs. Moore's.

The club decided to have a "work meeting" on Saturday, February 2 at 4:30 p.m. at Mrs. Moore's at which time the girls will make book covers.

Following this, they discussed plans for "Achievement Day". It was decided that each girl would explain an alteration which she had made on her pattern.

Mrs. Sargent demonstrated how to judge garments.

The members practiced modifying the garments they had made.

Successful Living

(A Canadian Social Worker Helps with Human Problems)
Daughter Quit School, Left Home

DEAR DORIS—My daughter of 17 handed in her books at school last week and quit. The packed car and I had a boy friend drive her to a home where she has accepted a job at home work. I said I would call the police so he had her phone then first to say she was going off her own two feet.

She has not been deprived of anything and should be able to see what future she will have without an education. "The only thing she has to say is she is sick and the look on my face and the home is getting out."

I understand that we are still responsible for her until she is eighteen years of age. Just what can I do? —ANXIOUS MOTHER.

DEAR ANXIOUS—After sixteen she can leave home and earn her own way if she wishes. But what happened there? Have your concerns about money and little ones kept you from making friends with your oldest girl?

Wait a few days, then call her to have tea with you on her day off. Perhaps a period of housework will rekindle her thinking and you'll have another chance to show her a face she'll want to look at.

DEAR DORIS—I did tell my husband that I'd live with his mother, but there was always some confusion, argument, and I was very unhappy. My husband and I didn't have any time to ourselves. If we did have a little argument, his mother and mother would always both in and take up for him whether I was right or not.

Before our baby was born, I wanted to leave and move into a home by ourselves, where we could try and be husband and wife, and a father and mother for our wanted baby, that my husband didn't want to hear of. He said we couldn't afford it.

My husband has had a good job for seven years, and has made enough money for us to have our own home. But he never could see it.

I believe two women cannot live together, especially when they have the same money. And if I beat my husband, she grows, and if we let him get away without a beating, she grows. I'm afraid to do anything, go anywhere.

If I told my husband that if he wouldn't get a place for us, I was leaving. This living with my mother-in-law is really breaking up our marriage. I know if I still go on living like this, I'm not going to love my husband or anyone. Please help me.—UNHAPPY.

DEAR UNHAPPY—Then move out. He'll follow. He has had such a soft berth for so long he resists. His mother doesn't get in his hair, just save him from having to pay rent. But you and the boys deserve a better break.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "QUIET"—There is nothing new about a girl getting home-tied with the boys. Remember that the boys may be disappointed too. They may be able to say something, but they often feel anything but about their interests. So you must help them. Ask them about their interests—their books, their cars or their girls.

(Looking for help in choosing a career? Ask Doris about it. Write to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

SMALL TALK

Whals' In A Name

By KENA CHERRY

Too bad they don't have double features of plays, like movies. Think of the riveting combination Hamlet—Ole for Murder; Two On A Matinee—Anything Goes; Calcuttated Risk — The Affair; Can Get It For You Wholesale — The Gay Life; What A Droll of Virginia Woolf — Little Me. How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying — The President.

These things I also sometimes wonder in my wondering moments — who is Tom of Tondolero, and who is Jim-dandy?

Why wouldn't I know him from Adam? Adam Who? Is the life of Riley so livable — with a Charlie Horse — and for the love of Pete or for Pete's sake, how did the John become the John rather than Jonathan?

Is there a Hell on earth? At last, there is. Hell is Michigan, it's a community of about 800 near Detroit, and it is recently put on the official state map by the Michigan Highway Department. There's quite a lot going on there, too — a motel, a Chamber of Commerce and a few Post-Offices. But the natives have a big complaint, not enough road signs telling people how to get to Hell. LETTERS FOR ARCHIVES — Mrs. Charles Edward Desnoes, of Cheltenham, Ont., gets a letter of nomination for the annual Canadian Mother of the Year contest after winning the Canadian Mother of 1962 for use in studies of community life in Canada. (CP Photo)

Letters to Nominate Mother of Year May Be Placed in Archives

By JACK VAN DUZEN

OTTAWA (CP) — Nominating letters for the annual Canadian Mother of the Year contest may go into the archives of one university.

The idea was suggested by one of the judges of last year's contest, Mrs. Richard Michener, wife of the then Speaker of the Commons. She said the letters there were 700 in 1962 — revealed such interesting material about Canadian community service and family life that they should be kept.

She suggested French — language entries be sent to Laval University in Quebec City and the others to the University of Toronto. A sociology student says they could use them as source material for a thesis on Canadian mothers. Mrs. Michener said a letter to the contest books.

Officials here say a selection of letters is being compiled and will be offered to the universities.

The letters, many of them moving, some humorous, afford a revealing glimpse of Canadian life. There's one from a 16-year-old Saskatchewan girl telling her mother not to let her community two opera risks, a new high school and a weekly story hour for children at the library.

CURED SICK COW

Another tells how a woman cured a sick cow by applying a mustard plaster and covering the animal with her coat, the last remnant of the city attire she left behind when she moved to a Northern Ontario farm.

"She couldn't afford a veterinarian and the cow had to get better because her children needed the milk."

The search now is going on for the 1963 Mother of the Year and letters are already flowing into Post Office Box 4064 in Ottawa. New judges will soon be named and the 1963 mother will be chosen in April.

Anyone may be nominated but the winner, judging from previous title holders, will be an exceptional woman who some how has found time to raise a family and be a leader in her community.

The 1962 mother was Mrs. Charles-Edward Desnoes of Cheltenham, Ont., mother of 18 and grandmother of 18, who was nominated by half a dozen local charitable and cultural groups who knew her as a tireless worker, and also by her children.

STARTED PLAYBOUS

Mrs. Dorothy Gentleman of Lethbridge, Alta., 1961 mother, was left a widow with four children when her youngest was three. She started Aunt Dorothy's Playbous in her home, gaining income to put her children through university while becoming known as "aunt" through the years to 2,000 youngsters.

Mrs. H. B. DeGroot of Regina was honored in 1960 for her work with retarded children. Mrs. Lilian Spies of Toronto was the first winner in 1958 for year-round work with her husband to make toys for needy children to be distributed at Christmas.

Sponsor of the contest, Flu-

Club Activities ROSLIN Y. P.

At the home of Miss Judy Whitehead on January 19th, the Roslin Presbyterian Young People gathered for their regular meeting. The singing of favorite choruses opened the meeting followed by prayer led by Sarah Cross.

Scripture was continued from the last meeting Psalm 4: 3 reading to Psalm 7: 10. Roll call showed 18 members present.

Program consisted of reading by Eleanor Hart and Brenda Sherwin and quizes led by Sarah Cross and Gary McGlashan.

The Young People extended thanks to Mr. Irvn Pad for a pleasant time on January 19th for the slide he had at his home. Also they would like to thank Miss Diane Green for inviting the Y.P. to a skating party at her home on January 19th.

Mr. Wasmann closed the meeting.

A sleigh riding party followed the meeting.

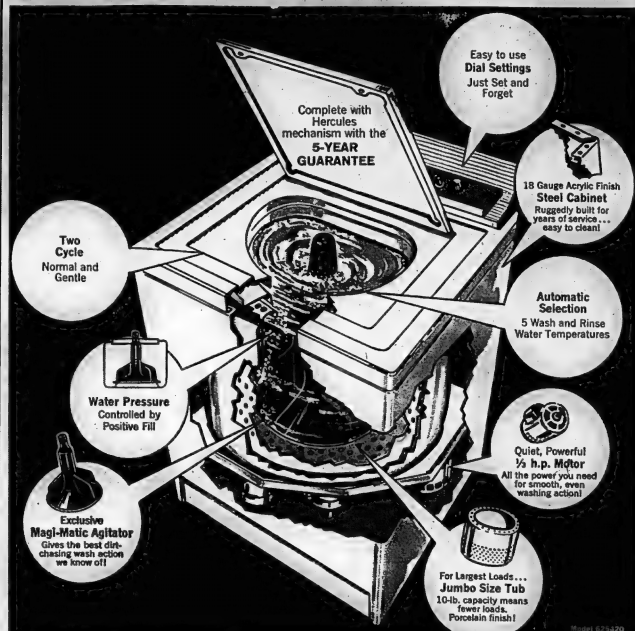

Lunch was served and a vote of thanks extended to Mrs. Daniels for opening her home.

Wife Banned From Visiting Jailed Spouse

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters) — Mrs. Winnie Mandela has been served with an order that will prevent her from seeing her husband, jailed Negro leader Nelson Mandela, dubbed the Black Pimpernick, by his followers.

The order confines her to the Johannesburg area and bans her for five years from attending meetings or gatherings and from communicating with other banned persons.

This stops her visiting her husband whom she also is a banned person.

Mandela is in a Pretoria prison serving a three-year sentence for organizing demonstrations against the declaration of South Africa as a republic in May, 1961.

RESTORE STREETCAR

EDMONTON (CP) — The city's first streetcar will be rehabilitated and put on display at the city's historical exhibition building. The $2,000 project will be undertaken by the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Railroad Historical Association. The streetcar made its last trip in 1971.

LABOR LEADER A SUICIDE
HAVANA (AP)—Miguel Baez Carrero, 34, one of Cuba's major labor leaders, has committed suicide, newspapers said Monday.

North Viet Nam Backs Russia Against China

HANOI (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam supported today to have thrown its support to the Soviet Union in Moscow's cold war with Peking.

Radio Hanoi said the North Vietnamese president, Ho Chi Minh, and President Antonio Viorney of Czechoslovakia in a joint communique declared that "the most correct policy is that of peaceful coexistence among countries with different social systems."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence has been at the basis of the bitter dispute with the Chinese Communists. The Chinese contend that world revolution can only be achieved through war.

They accuse Khrushchev's cowardice and "revision" of Communist orthodoxy for his insistence on victory through peaceful competition.

INCOME HITS HIGH
E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., Inc. reports a record high income of $43,000,000 for 1962. The report issued in Philadelphia Monday said this was eight per cent higher than the record of $41,000,000 in 1961 and equal to $4.6 a share compared with $4.6 in 1961.

PRODUCE MORE DRINKS
Production of carbonated beverages in 1962 rose 4.3 per cent to 1,362,828 gallons from 1,304,791 in 1961.

GIFT TO CHURCH
The Canadian College of Organists presented the organ to the new Coventry Cathedral, built after destruction in the Second World War.

Business Briefs

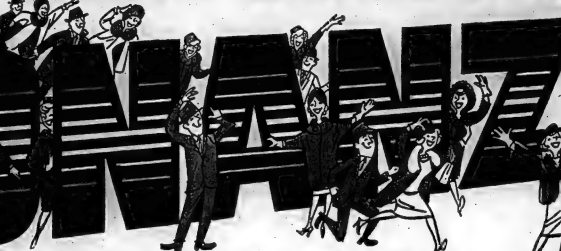

TV SALES RISE
Sales of radios, television sets and record players were larger in the first 11 months of 1962 than in the corresponding period of 1961. The bureau of statistics said Monday that radio sales advanced to $70.54 from $65.32, television sets to $30.12 from $25.92 and record players to $14.37 from $14.14.

District Pee wee Tourneys

Plans have been announced this week for the Ontario Minor Hockey Association's Eastern Ontario Pee wee tournaments, to be held at Marmora and Trenton on the next two Saturdays.

The first of the two tournaments will be for "C" and "D" teams and will be held in Marmora this Saturday, February 2, starting at 10:00 a.m. The winner of the Marmora tourney will receive the Tip Top Tanners Trophy and arrangements are being made to secure a runner-up trophy. Due to the time problem, only eight entries were acceptable for this tourney and 11 were received, forcing preliminary playoffs between certain teams. The clubs entered are: Tweed, Madoc, Norwood, Havelock, Stirling, Marmora, Hastings, Cooper, Bazaroff, Brighton and Trenton.

Following is the schedule for Saturday: Tweed or Madoc vs. Norwood or Havelock (10:00 a.m.); Hiding vs. Marmora (11:00 a.m.); Hastings vs. Cooper (12:00 noon); Bazaroff vs. Brighton or Frankford (1:00 p.m.); winner of "A" vs. winner of "C" (2:00 p.m.); winner of "B" vs. winner of "D" in finals (4:00 p.m.).

The second tournament, for the larger centres, including "A", "A-minor" and "B" teams, will be held in Trenton on Saturday, February 9.

Winner of this tournament will receive the Outboard Marine Trophy and the runner-up will receive the Town of Trenton Trophy.

ton Trophy.

Nine entries were received for the tourney and once again time permitted only eight, so a playoff will be held between Napanee and Picton. Teams entered are Napanee, Picton, Campbellford, Belleville, Trenton, Gananoque, Kingston, Peterborough and Ottawa.

Following is the schedule: Napanee or Picton vs. Campbellford (6:45 a.m.); Belleville vs. Trenton (10:45 a.m.); Gananoque vs. Kingston (11:00 a.m.); Peterborough vs. Ottawa (12:00 p.m.); winner of "A" vs. winner of "C" (1:00 p.m.); winner of "B" vs. winner of "D" (4:00 p.m.).

Both the tournaments were very successful last year and it is expected that large crowds will attend again this season.

Temperance St. Does Not Want Liquor Outlet

TORONTO (CP) — Liquor on Temperance Street? That's the way it appears, but there may be a fight before the first siphon of rum desecrates the shrine of abstinence.

The Liquor Licence Board of Ontario granted a dining-room licence Monday to the Panola Restaurant, 11 Temperance Street.

That brought out the story of Jess Keitchum, a millionaire tannery owner and Presbyterian teetotaler who opened a street through his downtown property in 1860, named it Temperance Street and subsequently decided it to the city. It has been dry along its two-block length from Yonge to Sheppard Streets ever since.

DEED BANS LIQUOR

Although the city has sold the property along the street to private interests, the deed stipulates that no liquor outlet was ever to be allowed to abut on the street.

Jess Keitchum, 77-year-old first grandson of the city's benefactor, reacted angrily. They can't get away with that.

The Liquor Licence Board would be willing to . . . put a liquor outlet in every church in town if they thought they could get away with it, but they don't make the law.

Board Chairman Judge W. T. Hobbs said he knew nothing about the original arrangements and no one had brought the subject up at the board's hearings.

Your family's silent partner

Lying there on the doorstep, it can't speak. Or Move. Or Hear. But open it in your hands and it becomes a living, powerful partner in daily living. In the decisions you make, the opinions you form.

It takes you to the highest chambers of government. It takes you to the bloodiest streets of warring countries. It takes you to the heart of history in the making. In short, it tells you what in the world is happening and why.

But people depend on it for needs beyond the need to know. It's where families turn when something's to be bought or sold. It's where hints on health, cooking, religion, amusements, dressmaking, etiquette, marriage are found.

It's where charities first turn for help, and a place where a letter to the editor is published. It's where campaigns are fought and lost dogs are found. It's where criminals are exposed and newlyweds applauded. Where birth and death meet on the same page.

It's your newspaper, silent partner of the family, yet one that says so much, does so much for so many people — every day without fail.

accused of murdering prices. He was caught with the razor sharp prints are being checked to prove his guilt.

The upper lip of "hardballed" parently the horror of his crime was beginning to prey

David's Have Notorious Record

Reporters today uncovered many facts concerning David's unusual record in the Belleville area. They have consistently brought in quality and sold at low, low prices. They are noted for their fair dealings and their desire to serve the public well.
In the past David's have pulled some widely talked-about stunts, but this murder of prices will doubtless go down in Belleville's history. No passion was shown, all prices were slashed to the bone. Blood-shot eyes were much in evidence and the management and employees alike were herded into detention at 312 Front St. for the remainder of the month to serve their time and permit the public to see such destruction of prices.

Eyewitness Report Implicates Entire Staff

One witness to the crime of murdering prices made the following statement:
Date: Wed., Jan. 30; time: 2:30 p.m.: "I was summoned to appear before the gung leader. I know it must have been a big job
by the sound of his voice.
His first words on arrival were: 'I want this to be the greatest thing we've ever offered our customers and I don't care what I have to do to prices to achieve my goal.' At this point the wholesale slaughter of prices began."

Leroy "The Knife" Bower Doug "Butcher Boy" Ellis Ronald "Muscle Man" Hamber
A new slant on the crime came to light this morning when these men confessed to their part in the slaughtering of prices. They further assert that they intended giving bigger trade-in allowances on all types of appliances than ever offered in this area.

As new evidence in the case of murdering prices is uncovered, it becomes more and more evident that they had a big part to play in this gigantic slashing.

Quiet appearing, they had been gambling heavily with big trade-in prices recently. They had been attaining the reputation that they will trade a sparkling new appliance for a "white elephant" any day in the week with only a few dollars difference and perhaps a few cents.

They were in their glory when David's brought the gross of red pencils and began the price slashing process. An inside spokesman reported that they stood right behind David's throughout the crime, shouting, "THIS ONE TOO - DON'T FORGET THIS ONE. Make this one lower still. Slash the heart out of this one, etc., etc."

When approached and charged with this part of the crime, they managed only a dry cackle.

A lock on every door
But a single light burned brightly
In David's Furniture Store.

There were no shots, no cries of pain,
No blood was spilled at all,
Yet Doug, stood calmly slashing,
You could see the prices fall.

A silly smile was on his face,
As he looked at the knife at his side,
Then sharpened another pencil and Threw the old stub aside.

His eye fell on a freezer
So firm and fully packed,
So he grabbed it by its price tag,
And once again he hacked.

This massacre went on all night,
Till the sun came up at dawn,
But the slasher he had done his job
And like the high price—was gone.

Must Be A League, Says Molson

Clubs Not Expansion Answer

Will Probe 'Tigers' Complaint

GAIT (CP) — A sub-committee of the Ontario Hockey Association will investigate complaints that Kitchener-Waterloo Tigers of the Senior A division may have signed too many players lately, C. G. Patterson of Guelph, OHA vice-president, announced Tuesday.

The Tigers' playing roster will be studied today at a meeting in Toronto.

Both Galt Terris and Woodstock Athletics have questioned whether Kitchener-Waterloo has signed and used more than the maximum of 19 players since the Jan. 1 roster declaration.

Galt and the Tigers are involved in a dual fourth play-off spot, with Kitchener-Waterloo ahead four points but with two fewer games in hand. Woodstock is a comfortable third.

Western Hockey

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Grey's Fielders, 2, and some of the top five of the Western Hockey League scored, but the team didn't win in Vancouver.

Three teams in Seattle Tuesday night won the Canada cup Fielders' professional scoring to total 1,601 points.

Only two active players Gordie Howe in the National League and Fred Glover in the American League, had broken the 1,000-point barrier before him.

The victory snapped a first-place Vancouver-Seattle tie in the Northern Division. The third-place Edmonton Flyers slipped from a winter road trip and lost again on their own ice, 7-1 to San Francisco Seals.

Frieder and Jim Powers assisted on a Bob Barlow goal midway in the second period to make the score 2-1, and Barlow set up goals in the second and third periods to make it 6-2.

Other Ontario goals were scored by Bill MacFarland, Gerry Leach and Gordie Sunday. Vancouver scored were Jim Baird, Bob Kabsy, Howie Hughes and Buddy Bowers.

Wayne Belisle and Len Hawley scored two goals apiece for San Francisco and singles went to Duke Edmondson, Tom Thurlby, Duke Edmondson, Jack McIntyre and the Edmonton Oilers' goaltender.

Argos Sign Lyn Amedeo

TORONTO (CP) — Quarterback Lyn Amedeo of Louisiana State University, who spent time in prominence with the Toronto Argonauts, signed a contract Tuesday with the Toronto Football Club of the Eastern Football Conference.

His decision to play with the Argos this season was made public several weeks ago, but he was believed to be in the would sign until after the college football season.

Amedeo was injured in the 1962 season and he decided to pass up baseball to get in shape earlier for football.

Amedeo was in the line of the American Football League drafts, but they were held before he was named the only standing player in the Cotton and Crusade Bowl games.

St. Louis Defeats Wolves 5-2

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

St. Louis Blues, who spent most of Monday night trying to find playing help, spent Tuesday night proving they need it.

The Wolves, in third place in the Eastern Professional Hockey League, were drubbed 5-2 at St. Louis by the hapless St. Louis Blues.

St. Louis was sponsored by New York Rangers of the National League and has a working agreement with Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Wolves, weakened by injuries, tried desperately to get Bruce Draper, a forward with Rochester Americans of the American League, from the Toronto system.

However, Draper was sent to Toronto to practice with Leafs and won't be assigned to a team for a few days.

After Tuesday night's show, the Wolves' manager George Chamberlain will likely double the effort to get the senior junior star with Toronto St. Louis Blues.

It hadn't been for goal-ender Gerry Cheevers Tuesday night, the Wolves would have taken an even worse beating.

Cheevers made saves and the final two St. Louis goals were scored by him.

Al Caron scored twice for the Wolves and Dennis Kavanagh, Duke Harty and Bud Olinde added singles. St. Louis scorers were Gord Labossiere and Taylor.

He and eight other representatives from all Canadian provinces competed in the first stage of competition held by Hockey Canada, official publication of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Gary and his father will be sent to Sweden to see Trail Smoke Eaters as they enter into the world amateur title for this country.

The original six provincial winners were selected by draw from hundreds of entries. An independent panel of four judges agreed on "hey hockey" as a good name for Canadian hockey in considering the final winner.

Mac and Rangers failed to gain any ground in their quarter-playoff tilt, playing to a 3-3 draw with H. Hurley, B. Coombs and B. Meagher scored for Rangers. T. Doran, A. Wilson and T. Prallie scored for the Macs.

Barnes blanked the Royals 4-0 with three players sharing the glory. M. Gogan and D. Berridge triggered two goals apiece and Ricky Meen scored the shunt.

Canadians also won by a shut-out, stopping Red Wings 5-0. Laughed first both goals and Bill Burnett got the gooseneck in the winner's net.

Maple Leafs defeated the Bruins 3-1 on goals by R. McDonald, D. Pascoe and B. Crehan. D. Lortie scored the lone Bruins goal.

Black Hawks downed the Bruins 5-3, sparked by two-goal efforts from M. Smith and J. Mulvihill. G. Doyle also scored for Hawks. G. Morton, J. Gill and D. Conley scored for the Bruins.

Frontenac took a 5-2 win over the Flyers. D. Hunt scored twice for the Frontenacs with singles going to R. Adamson, J. Goyer and S. Marzolo. J. Wilson and L. Malcolm scored for the Flyers.

Liston Worry, Get Glove Out Of Clay Mouth

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston said Tuesday night his only worry about contender Cassius Clay is that "they can find a doctor who can get my glove out of his mouth without cutting my ear."

Liston, here to referee preliminary bouts to an annual Golden Gloves tournament, said more people are "heating about Clay's shot" than he.

Asked if he thought Clay was a good fighter, Liston said: "Yeah, football players and grandfathers." The champion said he was worried about the recent victories over ex-pro wrestler Chas. Powell and Archie Moore.

The champion also said he was giving some thought to meeting Canadian champion Bob Clement of Montreal in a title defense here next summer. He said his share of the purse would be donated to the Buffalo Boys' Town building fund, sponsor of the Golden Gloves show.

ALL CUBS SHOWN CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Cubs Tuesday became the first major league baseball team to sign all of their players for the 1963 campaign when they re-signed the contracts of pitcher Don Price and catcher Coo Haragan. It was the fourth straight season the Cubs have signed first in the signing period and the fifth successive season in which they had all players signed before any other National League club.

Britain Moves After Wreckage Common Market

Seeks Free Outlets For Country's Trade

LONDON (CP)—Britain took the first tentative step today in a drive to strengthen her world trade and rebuild her flagging economy out of the wreckage of her Common Market hopes.

The first top-level move in the British offensive was a meeting today between Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Jean Monnet of the European Community.

King of Denmark, one of Britain's partners in the European Free Trade Association.

King said after his arrival London Wednesday he wanted to hear more of British views on the EFTA, "the association trading group created in 1959 after the breakdown of the Common Market."

King's political circles have engaged strengthening and even enlarging EFTA might help make up for what Britain has lost through being excluded from the Common Community.

King was expected to give Macmillan a first-hand view of the Common Market without Britain.

King expressed concern over the growth of Britain's trade with the European Free Trade Association. He said he was reaching a point where he had to choose between loyalty to the EFTA partners and the attraction of Common Market membership.

The situation did not, he said, "I think EFTA will consider Denmark's position and help us."

House of Commons Assails Formal House Opening

Louis Fourteenth
Custom Said Waste

OTTAWA (CP)—As angry pro-CP MP John Giesbrecht praised the Commons Wednesday by describing the traditional opening of Parliament as a childish throwback to King Louis XIV that should be abolished.

Gerard Chaplaine, 27-year-old lawyer and freshman Socialist (Credit MP for Sherbrooke), made the comments in support of his motion for a constitutional study of House rules leading to a streamlining of procedure.

Speaker Mackenzie Bowden cautioned the member against making a case for a new House, but he was not objecting to the Government-General's presence at the opening of the session, but to "a certain degree of pomp and circumstance and the cost to the taxpayers."

May Enlarge EFTA

State Dept. Takes Issue With Almost Every Point Of Diefenbaker's Address

Uncle Sam Jumps Feet First Into Heated Nuclear Arms Debate

By DAVE MCINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—The United States has jumped feet first into the Canadian nuclear debate with scathing criticism of Canadian government defence policy.

The U.S. state department issued a statement Wednesday night which took issue with almost every point made by Prime Minister Diefenbaker in the Commons defence debate Friday.

There was widespread speculation here that the statement would provide the flashpoint for a general election call and a campaign fought on the issue of nuclear weapons.

The state department said that the Canadian crisis last night had the Canadian government proposed a "dilemma" in its defence policy.

Health Board to Request Council to Build Sewer

TRENTON—The heads of a local canning factory, Stokely Van Camp Ltd., will soon have to make an important decision. Should they install expensive equipment in their plant to treat waste products before releasing it into a planned sewer main on Dufferin street, or should they close the plant? At the present time, waste water from the canning plant is piped into the Bay of Quinte and this practice doesn't meet with the approval of the Ontario Water Resources Commission, according to Trenton health board members. In fact, if the M.O.H. will be continued, soon can't see a way clear for installing a $250,000 sewer system with the main crossing the river from Dufferin St. to hook up with the main crossing the river to the sewage treatment plant in Trenton, this year. Stokely's equipment may, however, or more if company heads consider this too costly. The O.W.R.C. is reported to take a stern view of raw sewage pouring into the bay from the mill and so the local health board.

With a view to clearing up this situation, health board members voted yesterday to request council to construct sewer on Dufferin St. "Immediately, if possible." This sewer would handle refuse (garbage) from the canning factory and the sewage from the residential area in the immediate vicinity. A large public school, too, would be served.

The board is open for an opinion on the sewer project. The Trenton engineer, Eric Alderson, has been asked to decide between installing the sewer on Dufferin street, extending to the Front St. sewer, installed last year up adding to the Bay Street sewer in a southerly direction. Projected cost of the Front St. extension is $140,000; of the Bay St. extension, $180,000. Added to current financial headache is the possibility that the sewer treatment plant may have to be extended within the next five years, at a estimated cost of $275,000. Council spent close to $200,000 building the Sidney St. and Front St. sewer last year.

The Front Street sewer was installed from the government dock area, (where it joins up with the main crossing the river to the treatment plant) to Middle Street. Up above Middle Street, residents are making use of septic tanks and sewage is running into the river, via storm sewers. Some with septic tanks, others with septic tanks hooked up without permission, haunter Mr. Alderson.

Yesterday, H. S. Paine, chairman of the health board for the past few years, was reinstated with the council that he had "done an excellent job."

"Excellent" too, was appended to a resolution approving Dr. E. W. Dow's report, by board member Mrs. Marjorie Gotard.

VITAL STATISTICS

Dr. Dow, M.O.H. and a member of the board in an advisory capacity, in a report for the past year, stated there had been 418 births and 71 deaths in town last year. Of the deaths, 52.3 per cent were caused by cardiovascular diseases; 9.9 per cent from cancer; 8.5 per cent from respiratory diseases; 2.8 per cent from accidental causes and 1.4 per cent from other diseases. Other causes were listed as accounting for 2.9 per cent of the total.

RCAF Women's Auxiliary Members Taught Crafts

TRENTON—Many happy days for future builders have reason to thank the Arts and Crafts committee of the RCAF Women's Auxiliary when it comes to the month. Recent Millinery and dressmakers' bills are almost a novelty. Auxiliary members make their own hats and dresses under expert instruction.

Will Call M.P. To Testify At Inquest

TORONTO (CP)—Arlo P. Peters, federal member of Parliament, was called after he was subpoenaed to testify at an inquest into the death last fall of a young man from the island of Manitoulin.

The inquest was called after the New Democratic Party member asked for an investigation into the death and into the local high school. Mr. Peters also said the inquest would be quite possible.

Winter recreational facilities to accommodate outdoor skating, tobogganing and skiing are now under consideration. The plan is to develop the island as a country park and sports place, concentrating on providing facilities for outdoor recreation, have taken shape. The plans are to be submitted to the city council for approval.

Expect Large Auto Sales In Coming Year

TORONTO—"Most economic indicators point to continued prosperity in the coming twelve months," stated E. H. Walker, newly elected President of the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in his review of the prospects for 1963, at the association's annual meeting and Wednesday.

"We are confident that new motor vehicle sales in 1963 will come close to the 1962 record total of 380,000 units," Walker said.

Walker, who is president of the Ontario Automobile Chamber of Commerce, stated that production and parity of the industry in 1962 were higher than in any year previous. Production in 1962 was 380,000 units, a record for the industry. The industry's sales in 1962 were 380,000 units, a record for the industry.

"We are confident that new motor vehicle sales in 1963 will come close to the 1962 record total of 380,000 units," Walker said.

Reading Between the Lines
 Hon. Douglas Harkness, Canada's Minister of National Defence, has explained Canada's policy on nuclear arms.

Anybody who believes he understands more about this policy as the result of the remarks of Mr. Harkness has earned congratulations or a shock, as events may indicate.

Mr. Harkness made three points.

First was that Canada has obligations to equip "certain weapon systems" with nuclear arms and that these obligations will be honored.

That seems plain enough. But the second point was that the strike-reconnaissance role of the RCAF aircraft had been placed in doubt and a clarification of Canada's role in NATO defense plans would be sought at the NATO meeting in May. The wording suggests that the armaments of RCAF missiles will also be affected by the decision at this parley.

The third point was that negotiations are underway seeking an agreement with the U.S. to make nuclear warheads for Canada in case of need, for Bomarcas and ROCAF Voodoo squadrons.

Points two and three appear to cover all the "certain weapon systems" which Mr. Harkness said in point one, Canada has obligations to equip with nuclear arms.

We thus come out of the same door we went in. But the added knowledge that talks are underway with the U.S. regarding nuclear warheads for Canadian forces in Canada. Those who have followed this controversy closely will find that the problem that the Diefenbaker Government balked at the arrangement under which the U.S. has supplied nuclear arms to Canadian forces in Germany, the Diefenbaker Government balked at the arrangement under which the U.S. has supplied nuclear arms to Canadian forces in Germany, the Diefenbaker Government balked at the arrangement under which the U.S. has supplied nuclear arms to Canadian forces in Germany.

Yet Mr. Harkness says he believes a "satisfactory agreement" can be reached. Does this mean that the U.S. Government will seek an agreement to exchange nuclear warheads for Canadian forces in Germany, the Diefenbaker Government balked at the arrangement under which the U.S. has supplied nuclear arms to Canadian forces in Germany, the Diefenbaker Government balked at the arrangement under which the U.S. has supplied nuclear arms to Canadian forces in Germany.

Does it mean, then, the Canadian Government is weakening in its insistence on at least sharing nuclear warheads with the U.S. possibly, but probably not to the extent that some might suspect. The key to the puzzle might well lie in four short, easily-overlooked words. Mr. Harkness said "certain weapon systems" to make nuclear warheads available "in case of need." What this could mean would be that nuclear warheads would be available in the U.S. near the Canadian border, ready to be rushed to Bomarcas or Voodoos or Voodoo interceptor squadrons if war appeared imminent.

Such an arrangement would enable the Government to maintain that it was keeping its pledge to equip "certain weapon systems" with nuclear arms, while at the same time leaving it able to continue its role as a non-member of the nuclear club.

It makes sound political sense.

It would be military madness to expose the country to one thing—there is grave doubt whether the U.S. would permit the use of any real value anyway in a nuclear war, since they would be helpless against ballistic missiles.

It is the sense that the some so-called experts who maintain that the bomber would play a major role in any nuclear war launched within the next few years. But their capacity to see the future is limited. The Harkness-Jupiter missiles in Turkey and Italy will be dismantled because it is said these missiles are out-dated and are to be destroyed by surprise attack when they could be fired. But surely they would have been left, to draw fire if not nothing else, if the U.S. did not believe that the Russians have enough nuclear capacity to destroy them without reducing their ability to devastate the U.S. And, vulnerable or not, these missile bases would be maintained. The U.S. would not let its role in did not require them to devastate Russia. In other words, both the U.S. and Russia possess "over-kill" capacity. "Over-kill" capacity, by the very meaning of the term, means involving methods of attack and that would appear to exclude bombers.

So our Canadian nuclear "crisis" is probably nothing more than a tempest in a political teacup, the outcome of which may decide an election, but definitely not any thermodynamic war.

We now live in a world in which we are literally all at each other's mercy. One would think that, in these circumstances, more would be talked seriously and studied, but this is the last thing that anyone seems to want to do—Prof. Kenneth E. Boulding, of the University of Michigan.

Canadians Spared Anxiety

By Clamp-Down on OBS

By RICHARD JACKSON
 (From The Ontario Independent's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is all set for what the Federal Government in its high-flying "Officialdom" chooses to call "an establishment explosion."

Not the boom of an explosion in the usual sense—for the kind they were knocking off in the Bureau was a boom in the sudden great expansion of work and staff—rather the kind of boom that "Anxiety" lowered on almost all Federal operations, and which is putting on the weight of greatly added responsibility and staff, the Bureau had to pull in its belt.

As it operates today, they might almost think that the Bureau kept track and count just about everything that Canada said and the economy that could be maintained by the statistics.

But the statistical experts say it is just not so, indicating that they have hardly begun to make use of the count, on more accurately, the picture of numbers.

The bright young men at Trade Minister George Hees' spectacular "go go" department have had confidence that Canada is a great export of statistics, and that the electronic "brain" machinery could be a valuable help to business and industry.

COULD BE LUCKY
 But the young men at the U.S. military command could chart the future of the country's economic and industrial, factory production, costs, markets, national income, and the like. The electronic "brain" machinery could be a valuable help to business and industry.

Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Harkness. Mr. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, said this reaction was "one of shock." He said he expected an attempt would be made for an emergency Commons debate on the matter.

Harkness declined comment Wednesday night. Last week he did indicate acceptance or rejection of nuclear warheads. Mr. Harkness said Mr. Diefenbaker had stated "a definite position on the acquisition of nuclear warheads" in certain terms. He said statements on the Canada-U.S. discussions "are not the U.S. Air Force's Strategic Air Command the West's defense."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the Bomarc was "not to defend Canada." He said the Canadian government adopted the Bomarc in 1960 and that the weapon was "not designed to carry any conventional warhead."

The U.S. statement said: "A flexible and balanced defense requires increased conventional forces, but conventional forces are not an alternative to effective NATO or NORAD defense arrangements using nuclear-capable weapons systems."

"NORAD is designed to defend the North American continent against air attack. The Soviet bomber fleet will remain at least throughout this decade a significant element in the Soviet strike force. An effective continental defense against this common threat is necessary."

Mr. Diefenbaker said Friday: "More and more there is a growing rift in connection with the bomber threat..."

The state department said provision of nuclear weapons to Canadian forces would not involve "expansion of independent nuclear capability, or an increase in the nuclear risk."

Mr. Diefenbaker had said: "We will do nothing to extend the nuclear family" and "the nuclear deterrent will not be strengthened by the expansion of the nuclear family."

REMARKS WITH U.S. The U.S. statement concluded: "As in the case of other allies, only the U.S. and Canadian weapons would remain in the U.S. Joint command authority with national sovereignty can be worked out to cover the use of such weapons by Canadian forces."

Mr. Diefenbaker had said: "We will maintain Canadian control."

Successful Living

(A Canadian Secret Worker Deals with Human Problems)

Should Stems Go up or Down?

DEAR DORIS—I believe that a girl should wear her flowers with the stems down. The girls in my class claim the stems of a flower should be worn up wards. But flowers do not grow upside down, so why wear them that way?

Should a girl wear a necklace, say with three strands of big brightly colored beads, and a corsage at the same time, please? What about wearing them with a low cut neckline instead?

I'm also wondering if a girl should wear a necklace and a brooch at the same time—W. J. S.

DEAR W. J. S.—Flowers are worn faces up, like they grow. As for blossoming out with corsage, necklace, brooch, earrings, in any immediate combination, I'd say don't, unless you want to give a Christmas tree effect. In that case, be prepared to be plugged in at the nearest outlet.

DEAR DORIS—My girl friend and I have been going around with this other girl we like a lot. We have found out that all the things she's been telling us are false. She tells us that she's going out with this guy and he doesn't even know her. She tells us she's going to parties and we find out she's baby sitting.

Doris, what is making her do this? How can we explain to her she doesn't have to have a lot of boy friends and be popular just to be friends with us? We don't want to hurt her feelings, but my girl friend and I think she is calling "wolf" too often—TWO WHO ARE WORRIED.

DEAR TWO—You've guessed it. The wants to impress you. She longs to be the picture she paints. She loafs for dates and parties and has no let for baby sitting. Put her on the back for baby sitting. Confide in her when your own dates don't come off. Then greatly let her know when you learn something is different from what she has told. But that it makes no never mind to you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AROUND"—I will print the letter if you identify yourself. Otherwise—no sin.

CONFIDENTIAL TO U7—You are good at algebra; as you are capable of good sound reasoning. Which indicates intelligence. But other things are holding you back; carries spelling, grammar, words confused. A secretary who doesn't take care with detail loses her job. With study you can improve. Will you?

(What's your special dilemma? Put it on paper to Doris. She can help you as she has thousands of others.)

WHY TAKE CHANCES? The matter of making available a nuclear warhead for it (the Bomarc) and for other nuclear-capable weapons systems acquired by Canada has been the subject of inconclusive discussions between the two governments.

Mr. Diefenbaker declared warheads, he said, the Bomarc and Voodoo jet interceptor—there are five RCAP Voodoo squadrons in Canada—operate at far less than their full potential effectiveness."

Mr. Pearson said Friday Canada should honor its nuclear commitment at a time of peace and ahead and then try to negotiate out of a nuclear role.

In last week's debate, Mr. Douglas and Earl Cawston, former Social Credit leader, both rejected any nuclear weapons for Canadian forces at home or abroad.

Mr. Diefenbaker has not yet made any comment on the American statement, issued by the U.S. embassy here and by the U.S. embassy news and by the state department in Washington.

Informants said Defence Minister Harkness has been pressing strongly for the prime minister to back up a statement he issued Saturday and Monday outlining Mr. Harkness' views on the acquisition of nuclear arms.

The opposition has attempted for several days since to get Mr. Diefenbaker to indicate whether he supports Mr. Harkness' contention that the prime minister last Friday was stating a "definite policy for the acquisition of nuclear arms" for Canada's NORAD and NATO forces.

Mr. Diefenbaker has met this pressure with the statement that the Friday speech represents the Canadian government's policy. The opposition contends it is in conflict with the Harkness statement.
